Nixon Draws Vietnam Favor From Humphrey

Presidential Foes Hold Friendly Chat

WASHINGTON (AP)—In diplomatic and military conferences under way here, President Richard M. Nixon is reported searching urgently for new ways to dramatize—and perhaps speed up—U.S. disengagement from the war in Vietnam. (See related stories, page 8.)

Faced with the prospect of massive antiwar demonstrations next week, Nixon drew timely support from his old political foe, former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a White House meeting today.

Humphrey also hinted at possible new moves by Nixon.

"I think what he has done has been good," Humphrey told newsmen. "He thinks he can do more. I hope he can."

Humphrey said he would support systematic withdrawal of all combat forces from Vietnam but did not explain what he meant by systematic. Nixon has so far flatly rejected efforts to impose any kind of deadline on troop removals, insisting they must be determined step by step.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge flew back from Paris. After a weekend stop in Boston, Nixon's chief representative at the Paris peace talks is due here for consultation and instructions.

The reference to instructions indicated that Nixon is planning some new move in the stalemated Paris discussions.

Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, who conferred with the President yesterday, wound up his Washington consultations in a meeting with State Department officials today and headed for his post in Saigon and new discussions with President Nguyen Van Thieu on U.S. troop withdrawal pluns.

Tomorrow Nixon is due to get a report from Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on the state of the war in South Vietnam—combat and casualties are at a very low point—and progress in preparing South Vietnamese forces to relieve U.S. troops progressively of the fighting.

Current evidence indicates that Nixon is building a public base for a new announcement of U.S. troop withdrawals from 50,000 men to the 60,000 total already announced. But whether Nixon would feel justified in projecting a further pullout at this time was questioned by some responsible officials. Sec-

Proud Father Belatedly Learns Of Little Girl's Cool Pool Act

For the past week-and-a-half James E. Harrend of Terra Linda has been the father of a heroine. But he didn't know it until the other day.

His 7-year-old daughter, Gigi, is a very modest young lady and, consequently, she neglected to tell her father that she saved a woman's life about 10 days ago. Her mother found out when the woman telephoned to thank the little girl and passed the word on to Harrend.

It happened while Gigi was swimming in the pool of the apartment building where the family lives at 125 Nova Albion Way.

The woman, who asked not to be identified, told Mrs. Harrend she is a nonswimmer and had accidentally ventured into the deep part of the pool. She said she began to go under and started calling for help. The dozen other swimmers ignored her cries or didn't hear them. she went on, but Gigi heard and came to her rescue.

GIGI HARREND
Cared enough to help

The woman told Mrs. Harrend that Gigi, a third grader at Nova Albion School, grabbed the pool ladder, put her free arm around the woman and assisted her to shallow water.

According to her father, Gigi wishes "everyone would stop making such a fuss" about what she did.

But James Harrend can't help being a very proud man.

Fairfax Again In Congress Spotlight

The future of Fairfax will be discussed by three panels tomorrow in the city's second annual Congress for Community Progress.

Topics for the town meeting, developed from responses to questionnaires, will be: future development of downtown Fairfax; problems of Fairfax in maintaining a small-town atmosphere, and human needs of the community.

The congress will begin at noon at Manor School with a talk by Peter H. Behr, former Marin County supervisor.

A triple-screen slide and film documentary on Fairfax, prepared by Pacific Gas and Electric Co., will follow.

The three panel discussions will be held simultaneously during the afternoon, with results to be presented in a general session moderated by Peter Arrigoni, Marin supervisor and former mayor of Fairfax.

The panel on downtown Fairfax, which will discuss the city's appearance, the kind of business to attract and the possibility of forming a chamber of commerce, includes Al McPherson of the Small Business Administration; Jerry Hymanson and Frank Beaulieu, local businessmen, and Carroll A. Snyker of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce.

The panel on maintaining a small-town atmosphere will cover such topics as merger, combining and improving services. Members are John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator; Kenneth L. Anderson, San Anselmo councilman; Fairfax Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton, and Daniel Allen, former mayor of Larkspur.

The third panel, on human needs, will discuss the Fairfax festival, youth, senior citizens and peaceful coexistence between hip and straight members of the community. On the panel are Glenn Gasaway, Albert Garvey, John C. Uhte and Priscilla C. Gray, all of Fairfax, and Thomas E. Cordill, county zoning administrator.

VIETNAM MORATORIUM

Marin, Sonoma To Join

Strong support for the aims of the national Vietnam War protest Wednesday has emerged among students in Marin and Southern Sonoma and most have scheduled activities with the blessing and cooperation of school authorities.

The national Vietnam Moratorium Committee, organizers of the movement to swing public opinion to bringing the troops home, has suggested activities such as boycotts and leaflet distribution but emphasizes it is up to the local people.

Several Marin laymen and clergy will participate in a "vigil for peace" Wednesday from noon to 2 p.m. at the Marin County Courthouse in San Rafael, according to Rev. James E. Symons of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Marchers will meet at 10:30 a.m. across the street from the administration building at the San Francsco Theological Seminary and march to courthouse Square.

Most schools have chosen alternatives to the boycott proposal and a series of speeches and discussions are planned.

Only Sonoma State College predicts a major unauthorized boycott, with student body president James Gillette estimating as many as 65 per cent of the 3,000 may stay away from classes Wednesday.

Gillette last month urged students not to attend classes, but the student government has not taken a stand, saying the decision should be left up to the individual.

He reported the Associated Studenst is taking a poll to determine how many instructors would hold class but devote the period to discussion of the war policy. Such classes probably would be attended, he indicated.

College of Marin students on the other hand will be free to skip classes if teachers dismiss them.

Acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff said in a memo to the faculty this week that teachers will be free to dismiss classes, but the college cannot officially cancel classes.

The college's educational mission, Herkenhoff wrote, "should not be defined so narrowly that it precludes concern for contemporary issues and problems. At the same time that mission should not include indoctrination one way or another on a political issue."

Scheduled events at College of Marin include a 10 a.m. convocation in the Fine Arts Building and free lunch at noon with a theater group to perform. Afternoon programs are still taking shape, student body president Kimo Campbell said.

An educational symposium on the war is planned at San Rafael High School, with an average of three periods per student to be devoted to participation.

Public Figures Swell War Protest

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public officials are joining the snowballing support for the moratorium Wednesday on work and studies to seek peace in Vietnam. Demonstrations are expected in every state.

Governors, congressmen and senators, city councilman and mayors, state legislators and former government officials will join businessmen, teachers and most of all students in what organizers say will be the largest series of nationwide antiwar protests ever held.

War critics in Congress say they have enough support to keep the House of Representatives in all-night session Tuesday to support Moratorium Day, with the American flag flying over a lighted Capitol dome as symbolic backing for the protests.

Seventeen senators and 47 House members pledged to support the moratorium as long as it is "peaceful, lawful and nonviolent."

Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said speakers had been lined up for an all-night session and predicted, "I think this is going to be the largest citizen participation of its kind in the history of this country."

President Richard M. Nixon said last week the moratorium would not affect his plans. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said yesterday, "Certainly citizens have a right to protest this war. But they have picked the wrong target."

Agnew told a Republican fund-raising dinner in Dallas, Tex., that the moratorium is "ironic and absurd." He suggested that protests should be directed at the North Vietnamese for their refusal to accept American terms for peace at the Paris peace conference.

Agnew canceled a campaign appearance in New Jersey next Wednesday at the request of Republican gubernatorial candidate William T. Cahill, who said he thought Agnew would be the target of antiwar demonstrators.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston urged all churches to conduct special services Wednesday and the Archdiocese of Detroit called for a day of fasting and prayer.

The executive board of the Central Council of American Rabbis, representing 1,100 Reform rabbis, endorsed the protest and urged Nixon to head the protesters.

Some universities and colleges canceled classes, while others refused to stop normal activities. Many schools followed the example of the nation's largest public school system, in New York City, where 1.1 million pupils and their teachers were told they might skip classes to protest.

The New York school board urged all schools to hold discussions on the war. Baltimore Schools Supt. Thomas D. Sheldon advised school principals that such discussions would be "appropriate" if they were "impartial and objective."

Whittier College in California and Duke University Law School in Durham, N.C., President Nixon's alma maters, are holding demonstrations. Dub Gulley, chairman of the moratorium committee at Duke, said Nixon would be sent a telegram expressing "disappointment and disgust" with his policies.

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of the 19 California State Colleges prohibited teachers to dismiss classes and ordered disciplinary action for those who disobey.

Gov. Kenneth Curtis of Maine, Frank Licht of Rhode Island and Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts endorsed the protest. So did Mayors John V. Lindsay of New York, Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit and Richard C. Lee of New Haven, Conn.

The Boston City Council called on Mayor Kevin White to

Red China, France Add To Nuclear Fallout Level

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP) — Atmospheric nuclear tests since 1966 contributed substantially to the amount of long-lived radioactive nuclides deposited on the earth's surface.

This was the conclusion of the U.N. Scientific Committee on the effects of atomic radiation in its latest report made public today.

Communist China and France have conducted atmospheric tests. They have not signed the 1963 treaty banning such tests, as have the other three world nuclear powers—the United States, the Soviet Union, and Britain.

The report said that debris from atmospheric tests continue to be the most important manmade radioactive contaminant in the environment.

Such tests carried out since the committee's 1966 report have added only about 2 per cent to the amounts of long-lived radioative nuclides still in the environment as a result of tests carried out in the early 1960s—when the Soviet Union and the United States were conducting major tests.

But the report added that the tests since 1966 "have about doubled the current low content of the atmosphere and have thus contributed substantially to the deposition observed since the middle of 1967."

The report added that only small amounts of radioactive material have leaked from a few underground tests and they have contributed only minutely to the global inventory.

The report said that most of the long-lived nuclides injected into the atmosphere by the earlier tests had been deposited by the middle of 1967, but the danger to foodstuffs was not past.

Principal Says Locker Search Is 'Miserable'

By DAVID DIETZ

Ten of the 11 public high school principals or their aides in Marin and Southern Sonoma have expressed opposition to a proposal by the state Board of Education for periodic narcotics checks of student lockers.

The reaction — some mild and some bitter — was obtained yesterday and today by the Independent-Journal.

Of the 11, only Robert Reeder, principal at Tomales High School, could not be reached for comment.

The locker inspections, under a program called "Project Turnoff," were urged by the state board yesterday on the recommendation of Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction. The unanimous board action was purely advisory in nature, leaving the decision on whether to conduct searches up to local officials.

Rafferty advised that school officials call in nonuniformed officers to help in searches.

"I think it's miserable," said Dr. Alan Ellsberg, principal of San Rafael High School. "We are not running a police state here and as far as searching youngsters or their belongings are concerned, there is no end to where this kind of thing can lead.

"This may be great for a proletarian state, but miserable in a democracy. As chairman of the Marin County Interagency Council on Smoking and Health, I am concerned as much as anybody about narcotics and the tobacco problem, but the methods by which you attack the problem are tremendously important.

"In my opinion, this is working toward a fascist state and I want no part of it. We have regulations in the district against student possession of alcohol and narcotics and we have turned many youngsters over to the police when we have discovered them with drugs, but, by gosh, I'll be darned if I'm going to enforce these regulations by stripping sown every person or his locker. We'd have to set up as more of a San Quentin than a public learning institution."

Several principals said they had received a letter from Raf-

Nixon Likes His Portrait

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon accepted a portrait of himself Friday and commented that the 17-year-old artist had done "remarkably well regardless of the subject."

The portrait, in oils, was the work of Larry Craig Akers of Bluefield, Va. The youth was accompanied to the White House for the presentation by Rep. William C. Wampler, R-Va., and his teacher, James Mullins.

"How fine it is," Nixon told Wampler, "that this young man represents serious youth now when we have too much emphasis on radicals."

Mill Valley Arts Festival On Tomorrow

The 13th annual Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival will get underway at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Old Mill Park with more than 289 artists exhibiting and selling their works. (For review of art show, see page 7).

In the show, which is nearly three times the size of last year's, will be exhibits of paintings, seriographs, ceramics, jewelry, leather work, stained glass, sculpture, weaving, graphics, photography and stitchery.

Entertainment planned for the two-day show includes the Hamilton Air Force band, the Minerva Dancers, the Kopachka Dancers, the Guckenheim Sauerkraut band, Roger Griffith and his strolling musicians and the Prince Charles Junior Bagpipe Band.

Food for sale will include baked goods, chow mein, tea and fortune cookies, lasagne, homemade root beer and the usual hot dogs, cones, cotton candy, popcorn and soft drinks.

A pancake and sausage breakfast will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the park for festival exhibitors and early visitors and a spaghetti, salad and French bread dinner will be offered tomorrow evening.

Winners in the juried art show will be on display in the library gallery from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday.

Also on both days, the Mill Valley Library Association will hold a used book sale on the library steps featuring some first editions and autographed books.

Militants' Chicago Gathering Fizzles

CHICAGO (AP) — Young radicals from the Students for a Democratic Society moved into a suburban seminary last night after plans for a mass rock concert and threats of continued disturbances fizzled.

The Weatherman, most militant faction of the SDS, appeared to be nursing its wounds after violent street battles with police Wednesday night and yesterday morning.

With 2,000 National Guardsmen on alert in armories around the city, almost 1,000 persons assembled in Lincoln Park for the rock concert. Police swept through the park early in the evening and announced it was closed.

hen Tthey withdrew to the edge of the park, and nearly everyone had gone by the regular closing hours of 11 p.m. There were no violent incidents and only a handful of arrests on disorderly conduct charges.

The SDS had said its four-day "national action" in Chicago would consist of the most "militant demonstrations in the history of the New Left." Spokesmen for the group predicted 5,000 to 15,000 persons would demonstrate in Chicago over the four days.

Of the 1,000 persons in the park yesterday, most appeared to be curiosity-seekers and passers-by.

The Weatherman faction, seeking recruits in its battle with the Revolutionary Youth Movement II faction of SDS, called the demonstrations to coincide with the trial in U.S. District Court of eight men charged with conspiracy to incite riots at the 1968 Democratic Convention.

RYM II disavowed the Weatherman disruptions and called its own demonstrations. At one, about 150 persons appeared yesterday in the plaza of the Federal Building where the trial is being held. RYM II held another rally later at a West Side factory. There were no incidents or arrests at either.

Some 150 of the Weathermen moved into Garrett Theological Seminary on the campus of Northwestern University in Evanston. About midnight, however, they agreed to limit their number staying overnight to 30, and seminary officials agreed to try to find housing elsewhere for the others.

Taylor McConnel, a seminary dean, said individuals enrolled in the school had been given permission to lodge SDS members in their dormitory rooms if they wished.

At a news conference last night, two women SDS members said the demonstrations would continue.

Ammunition Backers In Senate Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of stringent limits on weapons use, with a crushing Senate victory behind them, have made an apparently successful move to bypass a major House obstacle and rip some key provisions from the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Concentrated opposition from Northeast senators failed yesterday to halt the effort, sponsored by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, to eliminate registration provisions for purchasers of shotgun and rifle ammunition. The Utah Republican temporarily abandoned a bid to also revoke controls on .22-caliber ammunition.

Bennett's legislation, supported by the Nixon administration, goes to the House—which last year voted against including shotgun, rifle or .22-caliber ammunition in the bill.

Through Bennett's parliamentary maneuvering, the legislation will go through the congressional tax and finance committee pipeline—rather than the normal judiciary arrangement.

Rep. Emanuel E. Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a longtime advocate of gun registration, told a reporter yesterday he sees nothing he could do to block the Bennett proposal.

In the House, the Senate bill now falls under the jurisdiction of the ways and means committee headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., who voted against the 1968 Gun Control Act.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Bullet Nicking

NEW YORK (AP) — Miles Davis, the jazz trumpeter, was nicked by a bullet he said was fired at him yesterday as he sat in his parked car on a Manhattan street.

Davis, 42, told police the gunman was one of three men who jumped out of a taxicab and that five shots were fired, several striking his automobile. A companion, Margarette Eskridge, escaped injury.

Yoko In Hospital

LONDON (AP) — Yoko Ono, wife of Beatle John Lennon, has been admitted to a hospital for treatment of an illness connected with pregnancy. She expects a child in December.

Miss Ono, a 34-year-old Japanese artist, and Lennon were married in 1968. She had a miscarriage last November.

Barmen Strike

ROME (AP) — A thousand barmen and waiters paraded through Rome today, hurling eggs and tomatoes at bars and restaurants that did not close in a nationwide strike.

Some windows were shattered, but owners of other bars that were open got their shutters down in time.

It was the second 48-hour nationwide walkout of bartenders, waiters and cashiers this month. They demand higher pay and fringe benefits.

Synogogue Bombed

ISTANBUL (AP) — A small dynamite charge exploded early today at the entrance to the Neve Shalom Synagogue in downtown Istanbul, shattering several windows of the synagogue and adjoining buildings. No one was hurt.

Police said they had no clues to the identity of the bomber. As in other Moslem countries, there was strong reaction here to the burning of the El Aksah Mosque in Jeruslaem in August, but the explosion today was the first anti-Jewish act of violence.

Mexico's Version

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tourists crossing all of Mexico's international borders will be subjected to spot health checks effective Nov. 1 in that country's version of Operation Intercept, says Mexicali Consul Edward perez Camera.

He emphasized yesterday that the move is not retaliation for the U.S. Operation Intercept against drugs smuggled into the United States from Mexico.

Dr. Hector Cortes Apuente, chief health officer for Tijuana, a main border crossing from California, said, "this effort . . . goes hand-in-hand with Operation Intercept."

Details of the nature of the health checks have not been made public.

Indians Not Very Happy With Promises Of Study

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Indian Commissioner Louis R. Bruce has promised a broad study of federal trusteeship "to make it a more flexible instrument for Indian development while fully protecting Indian resources."

In a speech which aroused little enthusiasm from delegates to the National Congress of American Indians yesterday, Bruce — himself a Sioux-Mohawk—said he would "maintain and continue an open dialogue" with members of his race.

Within an hour, Wendell Chino, president of the congress, told a news conference: "If he doesn't fulfill his responsibilities to the Indian people, then I don't mind calling for a mandate against the commissioner."

Chino said Bruce's talk "didn't have any substance," and that "another study is not going to accomplish anything for the Indian people."

The week-long convention ends today with election of new officers and selection of a 1970 meeting site.

Kennedy For Pressure On Curbing Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, and particularly Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, appears more and more willing to put pressure on the groups it thinks are crimping its fight against inflation.

But "it's far from coercion," one Treasury Department official said yesterday after Kennedy issued a strong appeal, coupled with a warning, to heavy-buying businessmen, demanding unions and spendthrift consumers.

Nevertheless, Kennedy's speech to the Economic Club of Chicago was a major departure from the mild approach he has taken before in the eight-plus months he has held office.

The speech spelled out in more detail what President Richard M. Nixon and his chief economist, Paul W. McCracken, have said before: Those who gamble that inflation will continue will be the final losers.

Kennedy told the club's businessmen and bankers the administration had worked hard to chill four years of inflation and was beginning to get results. Then he added:

"The businessman who undertakes an unnecessary capital expansion or inventory accumulation today in the expectation of higher prices or higher interest rates tomorrow is betting that we are going to lose this fight.

"So is the union leader who demands wage increases that far outrun productivity gains. And so is the consumer who plunges headlong into debt on the theory that his dollars will be worth less tomorrow.

"I believe they are seriously mistaken."

Knowledgeable Treasury officials said Kennedy's determined speech resulted from his decision, made before Nixon spoke out Sept. 26, to become more emphatic and positive—in other words, tougher.

It is still a long way from the "jawbone" technique of tough personal persuasion practiced during Lyndon Johnson's time and rejected as ineffective by Nixon.

The closest Kennedy had ever come to personal salesmanship —a quality he can use well when he wants—was when he summoned executives of 49 leading banks last summer to talk about rising interest rates. But those were gentle sessions, Treasury sources say, and Kennedy spent most of the time listening.

Major Tax Slice Talk In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long, chairman of the powerful finance committee, predicts the Senate will vote even bigger relief for the U.S. taxpayer than provided in a House measure already criticized by President Richard M. Nixon as too costly.

Nixon has indicated he might veto a tax reform bill that wasn't trimmed below what the House provided.

Long's forecast was backed up somewhat by the senior Republican on the committee, Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who told a reporter he would not be surprised if the Senate goes beyond the House measure.

Several senators of both parties are urging the committee to increase the present $600 personal income tax exemption by at least $100. A few have asked that it be raised to $1,000 or $1,200.

Transplants May Save Diabetics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Transplant specialists see hope that the world's millions of diabetics—who can be helped for a time with insulin but not cured—eventually may be made well with organs from cadavers of animals.

The hope is based on advances in surpressing natural rejection of foreign tissue, expected some day to open a vast and inexpensive supply of storable organs to replace those damaged by disease or injury.

The American College of Surgeons heard a panel of experts yesterday on progress in transplanting pancreas glands, whose functions include producing insulin, a hormone needed in the utilization of sugar.

Insufficient insulin can cause blood vessel diseases and fatal kidney failure.

Dr. William D. Kelly of the University of Minnesota reported encouraging studies in transplanting pancreas glands and kidneys at the same time in humans who because of advanced diabetes had been rejected for kidney transplants.

He said two patients who would have died quickly were still alive months after double-transplants from dead persons. Six others have died of various complications but their pancreas glands were working well, he said.

Dr. John J. Bergan of Northwestern University, director of the National Organ Transplant Registry, said administration of insulin by pill or injection "just isn't adequate in many cases. A better source is needed."

Insulin is made by tiny bodies called Islets of Langerhans scattered throughout the pancreas, the main portion of which produces digestive enzymes.

PITCH FOR WINE

A Sip Of The Grape Banishes Pot Peril?

NEW YORK (AP) — Close the generation gap with a bottle of burgundy.

That's the advice of a Detroit psychologist who contends: The family that shares a bottle of wine won't have to worry about the youngsters switching to marijuana.

Dr. Robert Kastenbaum, professor at Wayne State University, spoke yesterday at a day-long "Symposium on Wine in American Life" sponsored by the Wine Institute.

Kastenbaum said that "wine is a good symbol of togetherness" for the family. "You don't draw meaning out of smoking a cigarette or watching a television program," he said, but sharing a bottle of wine offers "symbolic relatedness to past generations, to tradition."

He explained, "Wine links people to each other; drugs tend to increase the user's alienation from the community in general."

The psychologist added, "Part of the appeal in drugs to the young is the opportunity to be 'in' on something. But the wine-lover is 'in' on an exceedingly rich lode of potential knowledge and experience . . .

"This potential seems much greater than merely trying to discover whether or not one has purchased an authentic 'joint' (marijuana cigarette)."

Kastenbaum is married and has two children, a son, David, 5, and a daughter, Cynthia, 1. He said his daughter "loves little sips of wine."

Generally, Kastenbaum suggested, children should be introduced to wine "at the bginning of school age." He said, "Wine in water is very acceptable to a lot of kids."

Dr. Angelo Pellegrini, an Italian-born professor of English at the University of Washington in Seattle, said he encourages his children to learn about wine, adding: "My cellar adjoins my children's playroom so they may go from the one to the other. My study is directly in front of both so I can keep an eye on both."

David George Russek, 21, of 63 Hermit Lane, Kentfield, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possessing marijuana and a device for smoking it. A preliminary hearing was set for Oct. 20. He was arrested Oct. 1 in Sausalito.

Reed Transfer Report In Error

The Independent-Journal Wednesday erroneously reported that the Reed School District board agreed to deny interedistrict transfer requests denied by the home district unless the denial was overruled by the Marin ounty Board of Education.

Supt. Robert B. Gaw said today the board declined to take any action on that part of his recommendation for board policy on interedistrict transfers. The board's action had been reported incorrectly to the I-J, Gaw said.

Instead, the board moved to review all interedistrict transfer applications itself rather than leaving it to the staff to act upon them, Gaw said.

Saw Accident

Robert Lebakas, 47, of 257 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael, suffered a slashed right leg yesterday while working with a power saw on the roof of the Mayfair Market under construction at Fourth and H streets, San Rafael. He was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Singer Guthrie Has Real Folksy Wedding

WASHINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Folk singer Arlo Guthrie got married yesterday in ceremonies attended by 125 guests and about 16 dogs and preceded by a wedding supper of shrimp curry in 10 gallon pots.

Guthrie, star of the film "Alice's Restaurant," married Jackie Hyde against a backdrop of brilliant foliage on his 250-acre farm.

Judy Collins sang folk songs. Guthrie and his mother, Marjorie, read a poem written by his late father, Woody, about peace and love.

Among the wedding guests was Obie Obenheimer, the policeman who arrested Arlo for littering in real life, in a song and again playing himself in a movie.

Obie kissed the bride, then turned to Arlo and said:

"Congratulations, my friend, but I'm not going to kiss you."

The wedding supper was cattered by Alice Brock, proprietress of Alice's Restaurant. It was served before the wedding instead of after because the guests got hungry waiting for Arlo's mother to arrive from New York City with a busload of friends and relatives.

Dogs romped about as wedding guests toasted the bride and groom with champagne right from the bottle. Arlo's records were played over a loudspeaker.

Correct Time

The 40th anniversary meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce will be at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the Tiburon Lodge, not 8 p.m. as reported in Wednesday's Independent-Journal.

The U.S. Post Office Department issues about 15 new commemorative stamps a year.

Fingerprints Lead To Suspect

A Petaluma man was arrested at 6 a.m. today on suspicion of the burglary of Mr. McGoo's Restaurant, 1375 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Tommie Don Smart, 28, of 131 Sunnyslope Road, was booked into the city jail after fingerprints taken at the scene implicated him in the crime. He was scheduled for arraignement today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

A window at the restaurant had been pried open Monday night and a cash box containing $100 stolen.

Mental Health Chief Under Fire On Bills

County funds spent by Dr. Clyde G. Miller, suspended director of community mental health services, in printing and circulating documents in his own defense drew criticism from several quarters today.

Sally Ryan, vice president of Marinites Interested in Mental Illness and a director of Marin Aid to Retarded Children, questioned the legality of expenses incurred by Miller in reproducing and mailing the documents.

She said she would write to the board of supervisors protesting such use of taxpayers' funds.

Before his suspension on Sept. 30, Miller mailed a letter entitled "Trouble in Mental Health Land" to 48 organizations, and individual directors of several organizations. Mrs. Ryan said she also received a bulky 30-page document this week from Miller's office, with postage costing 30 cents. This one is entitled "Trouble in Mental Health Land, Detailed Examples," and is a reproduction of the detailed document Miller presented at the time of his Sept. 30 hearing.

"I don't know how many of these went out, and whether the county paid for the 30-cent postage," said Mrs. Ryan.

Two county officials also questioned the expenses.

"I'm holding up payment of $271.37 for copy service work ordered by Dr. Miller at the Marin Copy Center in San Rafael," said Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell. He said he just received a bill for work asked for Miller at the copy center in August and September.

Mitchell said county Purchasing Agent Doug Edelen questioned the bill because there was no purchase order for the work.

Under county regulations, a department head may take advantage of a "limited use purchase order," bypassing the county purchasing agent on emergency or minor purchases under $20.

Dr. Miller apparently used a series of the limited use purchase orders to support the $271 bill at the copy center, said Mitchell.

Mitchell said he has not determined whether the 30-cent postage was paid by county funds or by Dr. Miller.

efforts are being made to present a balanced picture of the war, with speakers representing various points of view scheduled.

The day will begin with a speech by Orville Schell of the World Affairs Council of Northern California, a San Francisco-based study group which will provide many of the speakers. The talk will be in a general assembly at 9 a.m. in the gymnasium.

Other speakers will be from Hamilton Air Force Base and the Presidio of San Francisco and from veterans groups. Extreme left views, such as the Students for a Democratic Society are not being included, Ellsberg said.

The student executive board at Dominican College of San Rafael has voted against a class boycott, but students will be free to participate as they wish during nonclass hours.

Tentatively scheduled is an informational panel on the war in the evening and students are also seeking speakers for the day.

At Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, students are planning a vigil during the lunch hour. It will include student speeches on the war and songs, but firm plans have not been completed, according to Thomas E. McEntee, dean of student activities.

Redwood High School will hold classes as usual, with a suggestion to teachers in appropriate classes that it might be a good day to discuss American foreign policy, Principal Donald Kreps said.

Terra Linda High School students are also planning a noon activity, possibly a speaker, but exact plans are not complete, according to Principal Frank Stocking.

There are no plans for observances at Tomales, Tamalpais, Novato, or Marin Catholic high schools, or at high schools in Southern Sonoma.

No official observances are planned in any cities, but there has been a request that it be on the agenda for the meeting of the San Anselmo City Council at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the city hall.

Changing Times

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — An elderly woman told Mrs. J. O. Harper, a department store clerk, that she wanted a new dress. She tried on a dozen or more, then remarked: "They used to make dresses long enough to cover a body's instep. Now they make 'em so they just barely cover the stepins."

Computer To Aid Boarder Search

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Computers will be put to work to speed Operation Intercept drug and narcotics searches at the Mexican border, Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke announced today.

Under the program, U.S. customs officials will teletype to Sacramento the license number of every car stopped at the border.

The license number will be fed into the Motor Vehicle Department computer, which will answer whether the auto is on a state list of vehicles suspected of being involved in the narcotics trade.

Within 10 seconds, Reinecke said, the customs officer will get a "yes" or "no" answer.

If the answer is "yes," then the vehicle will get an intensive search. If the answer is "no," said Reinecke, there will be "a less intensive investigation."

ferty outlining the program.

"We don't intend to do it," said Francis P. Shafer, assistant principal at Sir Francis Drake High School. "I have the letter here and Mr. Allison (principal Harold Allison) wrote on it, 'For your information and not for action.' I guess we'll have to leave it at that."

Shafer said Drake officials would open a school locker only for compelling reasons.

Donald Kreps, principal at Redwood High School, said he had not discussed the proposal with his staff, but his opinion is that such a practice would "offend students who are not involved in drugs. . . . it would be sort of accusing the student body en masse of being guilty."

"Whether we'll do it or not is problematical because I haven't discussed it with the staff, but my recommendation will be that we should continue with the present process, which is to work in cooperation with local law enforcement. If the law enforcement people notify us that they suspect a student, we'll go to the locker and inspect it."

Principal Stanley Onderdonk of Novato High School said, "I'm just not in the mood to go out and inspect lockers. I prefer spending time on educational endeavors. I don't want to be a full-time sleuth . . . I just got through reading the letter and it appears to me to be something I don't want to do."

"We haven't followed a policy of going around searching lockers," said Frank Stocking, principal of Terra Linda High School. "We're interested in doing anything we can, but I tend to believe more in educational procedures than in other types. It's slower sometimes, but I think it's more effective."

Robert E. Daggett, principal of Rancho Cotate High School in Rohnert Park, said he had no plan to carry out Project Turnoff unless ordered to.

"We now check certain lockers if we suspect an individual student may have drugs, but a mass check wouldn't be worth it," he said.

Dr. Dan E. Montgomery, principal at Petaluma Senior High School, said that although he had not received any communication on the Rafferty proposal, he did not plan to start a regular locker checking program.

"The courts have always ruled that we have the right to check a student's locker and we have when we've suspected he might have drugs, stolen items or contraband, but a mass check wouldn't serve any purpose," Montgomery said.

Henry Moroski, principal at San Marin High School in Novato, said a large scale inspection "smacks of infringement upon the individual rights of students." He said his district office probably would seek an opinion on the legality of such searches from the Marin County counsel's office.

Raymond J. Bell, principal at Tamalpais High School, said it was doubtful that Tam would adopt a locker search as general policy but added, "We have never hesitated to search the lockers, which are school property, if there was an evidence — or even suspicion — of narcotics being on board . . . or any other illegal thing."

Said Henry A. Marshall, dean of boys at Tam, "Personally, I'm not interested in playing that game."

Sgt. Louis Foster, juvenile officer with the San Rafael Police Department, said he thought such searches would yield little or no contraband, that cases would be impossible to prosecute because of widespread multiple use of lockers by students and that such searches would probably "stir up the students."

A United Press International survey of educators throughout the state produced reaction similar to that in Marin and Southern Sonoma.

Harold Zimmerman, principal of Balboa High School in San Francisco, scene of recent racial fighting blamed on drugs, called the state board's proposal "ridiculous."

"This man (Rafferty) doesn't know what a locker check would entail," he said. "We have 2,600 lockers. It would take eight men three or four hours to go through all of them."

In San Diego, however, Supt. of Schools Jack Hornback said high school officials have inspected student lockers for some time and may step up the searches.

set up appropriate moratorium observances and asked Nixon to end the war. The New York City Council declined to take a stand on the protest, but 39 New York state legislators backed it.

Many protesters around the country will wear black armbands to note the more than 40,000 Americans killed in Vietnam, and lists of the war dead will be read at memorial services. One such service will be held in the Wall Street financial district in New York.

Candlight marches will be held in many cities. Coretta King, widow of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., will lead a march in Washington.

But in Charleston, W.Va., Police Chief Dallas Bias refused a parade permit to the Charleston Coalition for Peace.

"Anti-Vietnam War marches and demonstrations tend to give aid and comfort to the common enemy of the United States in this conflict," Bias said.

Woody Allen, the comedian-writer-actor, announced he would not perform in his starring role in "Play It Again, Sam" on Broadway next Wednesday to support the moratorium. He called on other Broadway casts to stop work for the day.

The idea for a moratorium day began with Jerome Grossman, a Boston businessman who wanted a general strike against the war. This was modified by former backers of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., to a general moratorium.

The Vietnam Moratorium Committee is headed by Sam Brown, a former Harvard divinity student, who led Students for McCarthy; David Mixner and David Hawk, working out of a Washington, D.C., office with a staff of about 50.

'Hunger Show' Without Pillow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A weeklong "Hunger Show on Liferaft Earth"—a bunch of people simulating crowded starvation inside a big plastic pillow —will be staged Saturday, except there won't be a pillow.

Instead, the "show," a dramatization of overpopulation and food shortage, will be held in the open air behind a symbolic barrier.

The site will be a parking lot in Hayward across the bay from San Francisco.

The Hayward fire department declared the plastic pillow a fire hazard because it would "melt" if ignited.

President Summons Hershey For Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon summons Hershey to the White House today, sparking renewed speculation that Hershey's retirement was imminent.

NIXON

retary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is known to favor a periodic review and possible new announcement at intervals of two or three months.

Administration officials said privately the President intends to counter the antiwar maneuvers focused on Wednesday's moratorium from study and work initiated nationwide by college students.

At a minimum that meant that Nixon is looking for ways to dramatize his commitment to bring the war to an end by negotiation or to disengage the United States as rapidly as possible by turning the fighting over to the South Vietnamese.

But it also opened the possibility that Nixon would decide the best way to counter the pressures for bringing the U.S. part in the war to a quick end would be by some substantial new move in the policy field—or by some such action as calling for a bi-partisan group to study the situation and come up with recommendation apart from an accelerated announcement of a new troop removal decision, Nixon could consider—and some officials believe he definitely will consider—a bid for a cease-fire to put an end to the killing in the shortest possible time.

Interest was focused on a cease-fire most recently by President Thieu's announcement to the National Assembly in Saigon last Monday that he would be willing to discuss a cease-fire with the enemy if the Communists would accept talks. His action has already been denounced by Communist spokesmen in Paris.

Earlier, on Oct. 2, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called for a cease-fire and standfast in Vietnam, saying one way to get it would be for the United States to announce that it would fire only if fired upon.

Both the Lyndon B. Johnson and the Nixon administrations have in the past turned down cease-fire proposals except in the limited circumstance that a cease-fire would be an initial step in a peace settlement providing for mutual withdrawal of troops by both sides.

A U.S. bid for a cease-fire under other conditions and as a means of stopping the fighting short of a peace settlement would mean a change in policy.

Laird reported yesterday that U.S. commanders in South Vietnam have new orders which would appear to result in reducing the fighting if the other side cooperated. Instead of concentrating on killing enemy troops, their orders now emphasize preparing South Vietnamese forces to take over the war, and of progress in this endeavor Laird spoke encouragingly.

In a related development, Newsday today reported a White House source has acknowledged that Hanoi has reduced its strength by about 30 per cent.

In a copyrighted story from Washington, the Long Island newspaper reported that despite the fact that North Vietnamese reduction is proportionately greater than America's scheduled cut, the White House source said it was not a response to American withdrawals but a deliberate enemy military strategy. The United States has scheduled a 20 per cent cut in its troop strength in Vietnam.

Smuggling Attack

CUTTACK, India (AP) — The Orissa Philosophy Association has opened a campaign to half the smuggling of valuable palm leaf manuscripts on philosophical treatises to foreign countries. OBITUARIES

Ethel M. Brown Dies At 87

Ethel M. Brown of Ross, daughter of a former California secretary of state and granddaughter of a San Francisco pioneer, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness. She would have been 88 tomorrow.

Mrs. Brown's father was Drury Melone, who served as secretary of state from 1871 to 1875.

Her grandfather, R. B. Woodward, built one of San Francisco's first hotels, the What Cheer House on Sacramento Street, in the early Gold Rush days.

He later developed a public area in the Mission District of San Francisco with a lake, deer park, zoo, aquarium and classical statuary called it Woodward Gardens.

He later bought 3,000 acres in the Napa Valley from Gen. Guadalupe Vallejo and developed the Oak Knoll Ranch.

Mrs. Brown was born in the old Palace Hotel in San Francisco and was a graduate of Miss Hamlin's School in San Francisco

She was the widow of Caspar M. Brown, who was in the life insurance business.

Mrs. Brown had lived in Marin for 22 years, the last 10 on Fernhill Drive, Ross.

Survivors are two daughters, Ethel B. Ingham and Sally B. Lane, both of Ross; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Memorial contributions may be made to the donor's favorite charity.

JOSEPH BAROZZI

Joseph Barozzi, a retired San Anselmo stone mason, died today at a local hospital following a short illness. He was 80.

Born in Italy, Barozzi moved to San Francisco with his family when he was 5. He and his wife, Louise, whom he married 60 years ago, moved to their present home at 47 Elm Avenue in San Anselmo in 1920.

He was a member of the Club Italia of San Rafael.

He is survived by his wife; a son, William Barozzi of San Francisco; three daughters, Rosalie Barozzi and Evelyn DaCastello, both of San Anselmo, and Marie Simontacchi of San Rafael; seven grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral is pending at Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

HORACE HAYES

Private funeral for Horace H. Hayes of San Francisco, father of Horace Osgood Hayes of Mill Valley, was today at N. Gray and Co. Mortuary, San Francisco. Burial was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Hayes, 75, died on Wednesday in a local convalescent hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Visalia, Tulare County, he had lived most of his life in San Francisco. He was a retired Southern Pacific Railroad employee.

He was a member of the Calvary Presbyterian Church and of Forest Hill Lodge No. 534, Free and Accepted Masons, both in San Francisco.

He also is survived by his wife, Consuelo; a second son, Timothy of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Shepherd M. Jenks of Connecticut.

His family asked that memorial contributions go to the San Francisco Heart Association.

ALBA LAFRANCONI

Alba P. Lafranconi, 82, of San Rafael, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

A native of San Francisco, she had lived in Marin for 12 years with her daughter, Elsie Introini, at 319 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

She was the widow of Eucherio Lafranconi, who had owned the Falstaff Hotel and Restaurant in the San Francisco produce district.

She was a member of the Marin Orchid Society.

Her daughter is her only survivor.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Sylvester's Church, San Rafael, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Council for Retarded Children, Petaluma, or the Tom Cincotta Memorial Fund, Marin Catholic High School, or the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, San Francisco.

ANNE S. KILGORE

Private funeral for Anne S. Kilgore of Belvedere was held today at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial followed at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Mrs. Kilgore, 84, died Wednesday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Gloucester, Mass., she moved to San Francisco in 1920 and to Belvedere in 1953. Her husband, Dr. Alson R. Kilgore, a San Francisco surgeon, died in 1959.

Mrs. Kilgore was a graduate of Boston Childrens Hospital School of Nursing where she met her husband who was studying at the Harvard School of Medicine. After their marriage, the young couple traveled to China in 1915 to help found the Harvard Medical School in Shanghai.

For the last 14 years Mrs. Kilgore resided at 314 San Rafael Avenue.

She is survived by two daughters, Mary S. McKinnon of San Rafael, Margaret K. Brinckerhoff of Novato; two sisters, Alice P. Johnson and Hester N. Johnson, both of Boston, Mass., and eight grandchildren.

The family has requested memorial contributions to Marin Audubon Society, Marin Symphony Guild or Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society.

NETTIE LUXTON

Funeral for Nettie D. Luxton of Hayward, mother of Harold (Hal) J. Luxton of Petaluma and owner of Lexton Optical in Greenbrae, will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorenson Funeral Home in Hayward. Burial will be in Pottsville, Pa.

Mrs. Luxton, 74, died Wednesday in an east bay hospital after a long illness.

A native of Minersville, Pa., she moved to Hayward in 1960 with her husband, John Arthur Luxton, a retired mine supervisor who died three years ago.

She is also survived by two daughters, Aimee West and Gwendolyn Hendel, both of Hayward, a sister, Martha Hassler of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., a brother, Edgar Dietz of New Milford, N.J., 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Family Housing Held Big Worry

Too much attention is focused on housing for the elderly at the expense of families with children, who face the biggest housing squeeze in Marin County.

This opinion was expressed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the housing committee of the Human Rights Commission prior to last night's commission session, at the Civic Center.

Niney per cent of the housing problem in Marin is with families with children, said Wallace K. Shepherd, assistant director of the Marin Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency. "When we focus too much on the elderly, it's a copout," declared Shepherd.

Chairman Richard Harding and other committee members agreed that the future for low income housing is discouraging, and every avenue must be sought to provide such housing.

Albert Solnit, chief of advance planning for the county planning department described children as "the one big minority group being pushed around." In San Francisco, only one family out of four has any children, said Solnit. "It's getting to be a place for the very rich and very poor, and I'm not sure we're not going in the same direction."

Willie Mae Howard of Marin City and Mary Brooks, a human rights commissioner, complained that whites seem to be getting most of the leased housing (government subsidized housing for low income families). "If Mr. Little (Neil Little, director of leased housing) can find housing for whites, he can find them for blacks," declared Mrs. Brooks. "We want to get out of Marin City."

Mrs. Howard, who lives in one of the highrise buildings in Marin City, charged that the design and upkeep of the buildings are poor. For example, she said, front windows look out into the rear of other buildings, and a resident of one unit can walk right into the next unit. "Not a coat of paint in nine years," she complained.

"There were roaches and rats in the play areas, but they're taking care of it now," reported Mrs. Brooks.

They agreed with Shepherd that marked improvement is being made on grounds and building maintenance.

"We're painting every unit (in Marin City) now and hope to finish by the end of this year," said Shepherd.

Martin Mackey, director of the Ecumenical Housing Association, reported that 61 units of federally aided housing have been approved on the property of the First Congregational Church at Merrydale Road and North San Pedro Road, San Rafael. He said 20 per cent of those units will be set aside for low income families.

Mackey announced that similar projects are planned at Hilarita and on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael.

Marin needs 1,000 low cost units right now, said Shepherd. Cutbacks in federal spending have added to the problem by chopping allocations for housing, he said.

Change In Housing Law Is Sought

Marin County Human Rights commissioners last night passed a resolution asking for a change in the federal housing law so that a new resident in a community woul not be barred from a leased housing project in that community.

The motion, by Rev. Francis Geddes, asks Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, and Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, to seek an amendment to the Housing Act of 1937 to prohibit residence requirements in leased housing.

Under the federal leased housing program, the government pays part of the rent for low income families. However, when a leased housing project is located within a city, the city can impose a residency requirement, the Reverend Geddes pointed out. For example, San Rafael requires two years' residence in the city before a person is eligible for leased housing. Several other cities in Marin require one-year residence.

"A system like this discriminates against black ghetto families and violates the Civil Rights Act of 1964," said Geddes. "Cities are, let us say, not anxious to welcome people who have not lived there for some time. It's used as a way to exclude blacks. No one is really fooling anyone, but it's sort of a game being played."

The four other commissioners present, who supported the motion, were chairman James Quiett, Richard Harding, Anthony Medrano, and Harry D. Williams.

Hub Man Treated For Auto Injuries

Frank J. Mathieson, 35, of 55 Foothill Road, San Anselmo, was treated for a bruised forehead at Marin General Hospital yesterday after his car was struck by another at 7 a.m. at San Anselmo and Tunstead Avenues.

Phillip J. Agard of 8 Locke Lane, Mill Valley, said he swerved his car to avoid a collision with a third vehicle and struck Mathieson's car, police reported.

Housing Fund Guide Faces Rough Going

A formal document prepared each year by the Marin County planning director to qualify the county for federal housing and redevelopment funds may be headed for some rough sailing this year.

The document, titled "Workable Program for Community Development," drew a round of criticism at last night's meeting of the Human Rights Commission.

FUND THREAT

W. Robert Lomax Jr., executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, declared flatly that he would ask that Housing and Urban Development funds for Marin County be stopped "if the 'workable program' is sent in that form."

Lomax referred to a draft of the 1969-70 workable program prepared by Planning Director Paul C. Zucker. Last year, Zucker himself acknowledged that the annual "Workable Program" was a meaningless document prepared only to meet federal requirements for funding.

Lomax declared that the document, outlining the goals and achievements toward improving living condition, "does not realistically reflect the real needs of the community."

Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Human Rights Commission, agreed. He said the document paints a beautiful picture of Marin without pointing out problems in housing and proverty that exist in the county.

AID GUIDE

Alan Mills, a graduate student from Sacramento State College who is assigned to the county planning staff to work in social planning, pointed out that the purpose of the document is to meet requirements for federal aid. "It doesn't really provide any significant data," said Mills. He said no specific methods are outlined to close the gap between needs and services in such fields as housing and pverty.

The "workable program" for 1969-70 will get a public hearing before the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 3 p.m. on Oct. 21.

Collision Injures Motorcycle Woman

Janice Mary Kelly, 22, of 3 Lincoln Road, Sausalito, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for pains in the right arm and right leg after her motorcycle hit a car driven by Michael Hart McGinnis, 31, of 625 Adrian Way, Novato.

The California Highway Patrol said the 3:20 p.m. mishap occurred when Miss Kelly failed to stop her motorcycle at Pine Street and Shoreline Highway and went into the path of McGinnis' car.

Rights Panel Says Hair Length Personal

Length and style of an athlete's hair should be left to the athlete himself, to decide, the Marin Human Rights Commission decided by unanimous 5-0 vote last night.

The motion, by Rev. Francis Geddes, referred to the current controversy over hair length at Redwood High School, where the athletic director quit when his short-hair rule was suspended by the school superintendent.

Last Monday night, a crowd of 700 jammed the Redwood High School gymnasium to discuss hair length. The Tamalpais High School District board ordered a 30-day continuance and asked committees to study the school's grooming rules and report back on Nov. 3.

"I'm shocked that 700 people would gather to talk about the length of hair," said Geddes. "There's also the issue of individual rights here." He moved that "individual athletes be free to determine the style and length of his own hair."

Commissioner Anthony Medrano seconded the motion and asked that the commission statement be sent to the Tamalpais High School District trustees.

"Of all the things facing us today such as drugs and the moratorium on war," snapped Medrano in disgust. "To talk about long hair — that gets me."

The Marin Human Rights Commission also:

EOC CENTER — Passed a resolution supporting an application by the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council for a multiservice center at 875 Grant Avenue in Novato. W. Robert Lomax Jr., executive director of EOC, said the multiservice center will serve those who need help in such areas as employment, welfare, legal aid, and youth activities.

FAIR EMPLOYMENT — Heard Ronald Foster, field representative for the Bay Area Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, report on his efforts to get Marin employers to comply voluntarily with the equal employment provisions of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Of five large employers in Marin he will meet, Foster said he has already visited the Independent-Journal and McGraw Hill Book Co.

CONSTRUCTION TRADES — Assured Rev. Samuel L. Banks of the Marin City Council that efforts are being made to coordinate the work of two organizations which are trying to get minorities into the various building trades. One is the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program and the other is North Bay Human Development Corp.

MARIN CITY PLANNING — Heard from Banks that Marin City is just about ready to start a survey of the future physical needs of the community under a $51,500 federal grant. Banks said Marin City is determined to "establish our own sense of direction."

NEWS SHEET — Heard a report from field representative Joyce Bailey that a houseporgan newsletter will be published to keep commissioners informed about activities of the human rights department staff.

Canoe Class Sponsor A Private Individual

Canoe lessons at the Mill Valley small boat dock, scheduled to be held from 9 to 11 a.m. each Saturday in October are now not sponsored by the Marin Canoe Club as stated by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department in Monday's Independent-Journal, according to Mrs. Paul Hewitt, canoe club member.

The classes are taught and sponsored by A.C. Allen, who is not affiliated with the club nor with the parks and recreation department, Mrs. Hewitt said.

Marines, Rock Band To Serenade Prison

An Establishment and a non-Establishment band will perform for inmates of San Quentin prison tomorrow.

The Fleet Marin Forces Pacific, Drum and Bugle Corps will play in the lower recreation yard starting at 10 a.m. and the rock bands Sons of Champlin and Country Joe and the Fish will play starting at 12:30 p.m.

Ordered To Pay

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP) — Nobel Peace Prize winner Linus Pauling has been ordered to pay a businessman $1,750 to settle a breach of contract suit stemming from the proposed sale of a gas station and home.

Superior Court Judge Robert Harris said yesterday Pauling showed "bad faith" when he backed out of selling the property to Howard M. O'Daniels in 1966.

POSTERS PREEMPT POTS

Old Cotati Hardware Store Leaps The Generation Gap

By BONNIE BARD

An unorthodox series of shops — conceived and operated by Sonoma State College students — has opened in Cotati and, though breaking most business dogma, appears headed for success.

Initiated by senior Liza Straus the shops are collectively called Cotati Company No. 2 and have moved into the building at 8240 Old Redwood Highway that was formerly occupied by the more conventional Lipton's Hardware store.

Some vestiges of the old establishment remain, but candles, art goods and psychedelic posters now preempt pots and pans.

While Miss Straus leases the building in her name, she sublets display spaces for shops to fellow students and young people on a per-square-foot basis.

"In addition to paying rent, the shopkeepers pay their share of the utility bills and everybody carts his own garbage," the 24-year-old businesswoman said.

A casual atmosphere, in which it is difficult ot tell shopkeepers from shoppers, prevails. Many sales are conducted on credit or in exchange for other items. Few price tags are in evidence and little old-fashioned haggling over purchase price is not uncommon. A basket of free apples allows shoppers to munch while browsing.

Shops include an art area that displays all types of paintings that range from the work of art graduate students to that of 5-year-old Sylvia Mitchell of Cotati, who won first place in a coloring contest to start her art career.

Handmade and imported clothing appreciated mainly by college students is featured in two shops while posters, records, beads and photography supplies are sold in others.

"We hope to draw trade from the community as well as the student population," Miss Straus said. Shopkeepers agreed that the store would be popular for local residents and reported that psychedelic posters are the most in demand item for straights.

Operated on a democratic basis, the shopkeepers hold weekly meetings to review problems and set policy.

"The biggest collective decision we've made so far is to bar dogs from the store," she said. Weel-mannered dogs owned by shopkeepers, however, will be tolerated, they decided.

Admitting the operating procedure is a bit unorthodox, Miss Straus said, "If we had read a book on how to operate a store, we probably wouldn't have taken the chance," she said. "Maybe we're crazy, but we think it will work."

Cotati Company No. 2 is not the first business venture for Miss Straus who opened a bookstore across the street last year with fellow student Sandy Neal.

"We started out on $100, but now have assets over $3,000," she said, adding that debts had increased proportionately.

"There's no logical explanation on why it's a success. According to the Small Business Administration handbook we received, we're doing everything wrong," she said.

The name for the store was selected because it would continue the traditions of Cotati. Shopkeepers, in researching the city's history, found that when the Page brothers developed the area, it was known as the Cotati Land Co.

The store reflects the rural atmosphere of Cotati with individual shops divided by rough planks of wood salvaged from demolished chicken houses.

"It lends a relaxed atmosphere and also met our decorating budget which was minimal," Miss Straus said.

An alley beside the store will blossom into a park area with benches for picnicing and meditating when full plans are carried out. Miss Straus said a shop selling plants is expected to be included soon and landscape the park as part of its sales program.

Miss Straus, whose home is in Boston, Mass., is technically in her third year as a senior at Sonoma State having transferred there from Cornell Univeristy.

A full-time philosophy major, she plans to graduate in June, but doubts that it will be the end of her schooling. "I think I'll be a student for the rest of my life." She may also be in business for the rest of her life.

Judge Again Denies Lifting Lid On Jury

CHICAGO (AP) —Judge Julius J. Hoffman refused today a defense motion that he vacate his order sequestering the jury in the trial of eight men charged with conspiring to promote violence during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

William M. Kunstler, chief defense counsel, called the sequestering of the jury "inhumane and unnecessary.

This was the second time that Judge Hoffman denied a motion to end sequestering of the jurors.

Kunstler also contended that the constant contact of the jurors with U.S. marshals would tend to make the jury favorable toward the prosecutions. Marshals accompany the jurors to and from their hotel and are with them most of the day.

Kunstler also charged that Judge Hoffman allowed his personal friends to attend the trial while "persons friendly to the defense are not getting in."

Judge Hoffman rejected a motion that an evidentiary hearing be held to determine who was being seated in the courtroom. He said the seating was in the hands of the U.S. marshal.

Kunstler said: "It wasn't the marshal who ordered Mr. Seale's family removed yesterday. It was your honor."

Yesterday, Judge Hoffman questioned the presence at the rear of the courtroom of five persons sitting in the press section. They were relatives of Bobby G. Seale, of Oakland, the Black Panther party chairman who is one of the eight defendents.

After the series of motions, the defense continued its cross-examination of Robert Pierson, a prosecution witness who has been on the stand since Wednesday.

Pierson posed as a motorcycle gang member during the convention and was assigned as a body guard for defendant Jerry Rubin, a leader of the Youth International Party (Yippies). He told defense attorney William M. Kunstler that a magazine article on convention week attributed to him was full of errors.

Pierson said the article, under his byline in the December 1968 issue of Official Detective magazine, was based on his answers to a list of about 24 questions sent him by the magazine.

"I found many things in it I had not told them," he said.

Students Cancel Food Boycott

A threatened boycott of the cafeteria at Novato High School which was scheduled to start with the lunch period today was called off because the complaints had been settled, according to student body vice president Bradford Vaughan.

The complaints were against the quality of food in the cafeteria and the prices of food in the machines. The quality of food was improved today, he said.

"We have real hamburgers cooking now and not the stuff cut with oatmeal," he said.

The students still have to work out with the school administration the prices charged in the food vending machines, he said.

Students must pay 15 cents in the machines for 10 cent soft drinks, ice cream bars and cupcakes, he said.

Principal Stanley Onderdonk could not be reached for comment.

Cars Mean Litter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The more motorists, the more litter along roads, according to Keep America Beautiful, Inc. The national litter fighting organization reports that Alaska spends barely $35,000 a year to clean up its highways, but California, with more cars than any other state, has to spend nearly $4 million.

Rural Murders

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An authority on African customs, Dr. Peter Becker, said ritual murder by Africans cannot be stamped out but "must burn itself out like a veld (grass) fire. In education and religion lie the most powerful antidotes." During a period of six months in 1968, six whites and Africans were murdered in Sough Africa so that parts of their bodies could be used for "muti" (witchcraft medicine).

State Asks Marin To Join Auto Suit

The County of Marin has been asked to join the state's proposed antitrust suit against major automobile manufacturers for allegedly dragging their feet on development of auto smog devices, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said today.

Maloney said he would recommend to the board of supervisors Tuesday that the county join the suit. He said Marin would pay no court expenses unless damages were recovered.

ART REVIEW

Juried Festival Show Survives Crowding

By LAURA DEVENDORF

As fair shows go, the juried section of this weekend's Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival is a cut above the usual. And that is in spite of being a crowded conglomeration of styles and purposes.

The juried show, a traditional part of the even busier outdoor activities, is open in the downstairs board room and gallery of the city library during the festival hours.

For people who like winners, the show has 25, too many to list, much less discuss. Citing a few of the most interesting crafts would include mention of Richard Abrahamson's hunky, multifaceted phyrite ring and Janet Van Evera's tapestry and stitchery forms carved and protruding through several spatial levels.

In sculpture there is Ralph O'Neill's twice-opened cool undulation of gray marble and Steve Williams exploded ceramic bulb.

In graphics, a category unusually dominated by photographs, there is Henry Bruer's shot of a slit in a wall plus an absorbing etching by Arid Olson. While paintings, as usual, are the most numerous. There are several nice ones such as William Walker's very detailed tenement room complete and exact to cracking paint depicting cracking paint.

For humor, there's Missy Camp Dizick's "Kitty Heaven," where winged purple, red, yellow and tan cats drift over a cross-topped, templed landscape. And for brilliant color Henry Rasmusen's symbolic writings in orange, blues, green and pink vibrate lushly under the lights.

From here interest goes up and down according to taste and the room to enjoy each piece individually. Many things are dwarfed by their neighbors or otherwise shown to disadvantage in the sardine can conditions. The work that manages to survive obviously must have something.

Several things in the Mill Valley juried show do manage and the rest provides the variety a festival public requires.

In Fair Condition

Sandra Lynn Herdershot, 20, of 7 Merrydale Road, Los Ranchitos, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, where she was taken last night for treatment for an overdose of pills.

California Earnings Up By 9.1 Per Cent

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians earned $82.5 billion in personal income from April through June, an increase of almost 10 per cent over the same period last year, the state said today.

The Department of Finance reported that the sum was a gain of 2.9 per cent over the preceding three months. It reflected an increase of 9.1 per cent over the second quarter in 1968.

LSD King Is Convicted Of Production

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Augustus Owsley Stanley III, who is said to have become a millionaire by manufacturing LSD before it became illegal, was convicted yesterday of operating a drug factory in a quiet suburban neighborhood.

Federal Judge William Sweigert returned the verdict against Stanley, 34, grandson of Augustus Owsley Stanley, governor of Kentucky from 1915 to 1918. He could get one year in prison on the conviction for manufacturing an illegal drug.

Also found guilty were three Californians, Robert W. Massey, 30, Concord; William A. Spires, 26, Oakland, and Robert D. Thomas, 31, Berkeley.

Charges against the four stemmed from a raid Dec. 21, 1967, on a plush home in Orinda. Narcotics agents said they found an elaborate laboratory and a half pound of pure LSD — enough for more than two million trips and worth almost $11 million on the drug market.

The haul, which included other illegal drugs, was described by Pat Fuller of the Federal Narcotic Bureau as the largest seizure in the history of the bureau.

It was the first conviction for Stanley, who dropped out of the University of California in 1964 and operated an LSD laboratory in Berkeley with a woman chemistry major.

The place was raided but charges were later dropped. Other arrests occurred in New York and Los Angeles. Stanley was acquitted last December of charges he sold LSD to an agent at the Los Angeles Airport.

Sewage Plant Experts To Meet In Tiburon

More than 250 Northern California sewage treatment plant operators and maintenance personnel will meet tomorrow in Tiburon for an all-day conference to discuss methods of sewage treatment and water quality control according to John McFarlane, treatment plant manager for the Tiburon Sanitary District.

Principal speakers at the northern regional conference of the Water Quality Control Association of California will be San Quentin Warden Louis J. Nelson and Franklin G. Agardy, president of the California Water Pollution Control Association.

Nelson will speak at the noon smorgasboard luncheon at the Corinthian Yacht Club and Agardy at the 7 p.m. dinner at the yacht club.

The morning session of the conference will begin at 7 o'clock at the Tiburon Lodge with such topics as "Problems with Aerobic Digestion," "Disinfection by Radioactivity" and "Two Viewpoints on Records and Reporting."

Maintenance operators will discuss "Sewer Line Maintenance and Cleaning," "Automotive Equipment Maintenance" and automotive and plant equipment maintenance and view equipment demonstrations.

The afternoon program will touch upon "Math for sludge Residual Time," "Centrifuges by an Operator" and "Polymers, Their Many Uses." Maintenance operators will view laboratory, sewer cleaning and pulp and controler demonstrations.

Wives of those attending the conference will be treated to a morning boat trip and tour of Angel Island and shopping in downtown Tiburon in the afternoon.

The conference is hosted by the Redwood Section of the water quality control association and planned by Roy C. Kelly, superintendent of the Petaluma Public Works Department.

Antiwar Vigil Set In Capital

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A three-day, around-the-clock vigil in front of Gov. Ronald Reagan's private residence to protest the war in Vietnam has been scheduled for next week.

Sacramento representatives of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee said yesterday Democratic Sen. Alan Cranston is scheduled to address the group from the Capitol steps on Wednesday, at the close of the vigil.

Paul Schrade, the United Auto Workers Union executive who was shot when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was fatally wounded in June, 1968, also is on the agenda.

Parents To Get Hero's Medal

A posthumous Silver Star, the third highest military award of the United States, will be awarded later this month to San Rafael Marine Pfc. Thomas Cincotta, killed in action in Vietnam on June 28, Marine Corps officials said today.

The medal for herosim will be given to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Serge L. Cincotta of 531 Fairhills Drive. The date and location of the award cermony have not been set.

Cincotta, a 1968 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, was killed in action near Quan Tri shortly before his 19th birthday.

SENATE WITNESS — Australian booking agent June Collins finds something to laugh about as she testifies to a Senate investigations subcommittee in Washington about graft enjoyed by noncom bosses of GI clubs in Vietnam. (AP Wirephoto)

Dancer Claims GI Club Bosses Lived High On Graft, Sex Bribes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Mafia-like syndicate of sergeants demanded girls as well as money in kickbacks for booking entertainers, buying food and liquor for the Army night clubs they ran for troops in Vietnam, senators have been told.

A curvaceous Australian dancer who was a show business booking agent told a Senate subcommittee yesterday virtually all custodians of Army club systems in Vietnam demanded a percentage from those selling supplies to the clubs.

In a war where most soldiers count the days until they can go home, these sergeants—confident of making at least $150,000 a year in graft—extended their tours as long as possible, she said.

The witness, June I. Skewes, 34, of Sydney, Australia, her long, ash-blonde hair tied back with a tangerine-colored ribbon, told the Senate's rackets subcommittee she was blacklisted and squeezed out of business after word leaked she had complained to military authorities.

The sergeants who ran the clubs, which do hundreds of millions of dollars in business a year, were "for sale to the highest bidder," said Miss Skewes, who is known professionaly as June Collins.

She said the bids came in the form of rolls of American money, villas in Saigon, liquor, long and expensive trips, free entertainment and women.

"In my experience in Vietnam, going back to 1967, I do not know of a single (Army) club custodian who does not receive kickbacks," Miss Skewes said.

"It's also as filthy a racket as I've ever heard of," she told a hearing room in which all seats were filled and spectators stood in every vacant space. "The profits come from the pockets of American GIs," she said.

"It becomes obvious that those who are sacrificing and dying are paying a very deep penalty," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn. "For generally this dirty little war seems to be conducted in an atmosphere of corruption."

Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., a veteran of the 9th Infantry Division, one of the units whose club custodians are accused of taking kickbacks said: "Those responsible for the deterioration of a proud division should be brought to justice and properly punished."

She said kickback demands came from club custodians in regular Army units. Never, she said, was she asked for a kickback from Marine or Green Beret units.

U.S. Goes Step Further On Saigon War Controls

SAIGON (AP) — Acting Ambassador Samuel D. Berger today renewed the U.S. pledge to assist the South Vietnamese government to wage the war on its own.

Speaking at the transfer of 80 U.S. river patrol boats to the Vietnamese navy, Berger said much progress has been made toward the American goal recently stated by President Nixon—"the opportunity for the South Vietnamese people to determine their own political future without outside interference."

"A larger, stronger and effective Vietnamese navy is being built week by week and month by month," Berger continued. "Your success in improving the ability of your sailors to fight, and your craftsmen to build, is a tribute to your leaders. We shall continue to assist you in your great task."

Berger said the transfer gives the South Vietnamese navy responsibility for nearly half the river patrolling in the Allied war effort.

A U.S. spokesman said the Navy now has turned over 229 river craft to the Vietnamese since June 1968, and the remaining 321 are to be referred in the next nine months.

The U.S. Air Force also announced that another South Vietnamese helicopter squadron has become fully operational with jet-powered helicopters. It is the fourth such squadron to join the war, and its pilots received their basic training in the United States.

The, war, meanwhile continued in the general lull that has persisted for more than a month.

U.S. troops fought only small clashes, and casualties on both sides were light.

A U.S. Air Force jet fighter-bomber making an emergency landing at Nha Trang overshot the runway, hit a truck and a bicycle on a highway along the seacoast, and killed two Vietnamese civilians on the road and a third person believed to be an American soldier.

The plane stopped about 20 yards from the South China Sea. The pilot was injured, but not seriously.

A spokesman said the F100 Super Sabre was running out of fuel and the only alternate approach was toward a cluster of houses. He said the 6,000-foot runway at Nha Trang is considered short for jets, that an F100 "could make it okay with ideal conditions, but it would be tight."

Humane Society Ruffled Over Birds For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pentagon project to find out if birds can replace humans in some essential jobs of war has ruffled the feathers of the Humane Society of the United States.

In a letter yesterday, the society described the plan as "the work of birdbrains, a crowning idiocy of our time."

The Pentagon has signed a $600,000 contract with the University of Mississippi to study whether birds could take over such facets of war as aerial photography, gunnery, steering of missiles, detection of mines and search of mines and search and destroy missions.

The project would concentrate on the adaptabioity to war of crows, ravens, jays, hawks, vultures, doves, parrots, mynahs, chickens and pigeons.

Humane Society vice president Patrick Parkes, calling the project "a cruel, grotesque and ridiculous farce," urged immediate cancellation of the three-year study.

Peking Says Boats Fired On In Gulf

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged today that U.S. warships opened fire on a Chinese fishing fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin in September and that two U.S. warplanes strafed four other Chinese fishing boats in the gulf on Oct. 4.

The Chinese did not say whether there were any casualties or damage to the boats.

Peking's official Hsinhua (New China) News Agency, said a spokesman for the Chinese Foreign Ministry "lodged a serious protest with U.S. imperialism against this piracy threatening the security of the lives and property of Chinese fishermen."

"This was a most serious crime committed by U.S. military aircraft and warships in their continuous, unbridled provocations against Chinese fishing fleets on the high seas since the U.S. imperialist ringleader Nixon came to power," the Peking broadcast said.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said: "This is the first I've heard" of the Chinese report. He said he had no statement at this time.

In Saigon, a U.S. Command spokesman said of the charges: "We have no knowledge and no reports of them."

The report said, "Between Sept. 19 and 24, when 24 Chinese fishing vessels flying Chinese national flags ... were fishing on the high seas in the Tonkin gulf, a U.S. guided-missile cruiser and a U.S. destroyer kept following in their wake and made provocations against them.

Much Less Troop Chasing Seen From Pentagon Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect new formal instructions given American commanders in Vietnam will result in much less chasing of enemy troops.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said yesterday U.S. commanders have been told to follow new tactics of "protective reaction" and to emphasize Vietnamization of the war.

Officials said the instructions leave U.S. commanders free to strike out at enemy forces that threaten their troops. And the orders do not tell American commanders to avoid contact with the enemy, nor to fire only if fired on.

But, the officials said, the practical effect should mean less pursuit of the enemy.

Instead, U.S. field commanders will be expected to devote much of their effort to shaping up the South Vietnamese forces to replace American troops.

These orders, making it unmistakably clear that "Vietnamization" of the war has the highest priority, replace three-year-old formal instructions asserting the primary objective to be military victory.

The formal instructions really reflect what top U.S. commanders already knew to be the Nixon administration's goal in Vietnam. Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, got the word from the President and Laird early in the new administration.

Laird said yesterday the orders were issued in early August to commanders in Vietnam.

Pentagon sources said "it took some doing" to convince U.S. commanders that Vietnamization must lead all the rest in U.S. objectives in Vietnam.

Laird's news conference was part of a Nixon administration campaign to sell the American people on its Vietnamization approach. At the same time, the administration is trying to counter rising pressures in Congress and on campus for faster withdrawals from Vietnam.

The number of Cuban exiles now living in the U.S. is estimated at 200,000.

Span Toll Takers Focus Of Union Jurisdiction

Golden Gate Bridge toll takers, reputedly the highest paid in the world, have become the focus of a jurisdictional dispute between two labor unions.

The Teamsters have represented the toll takers for 20 years, but their representation was challenged yesterday by Transport Workers Local 250 A.

But the challenge, which came before the bridge board's rules and policy committee, quickly was ducked by the seven directors present. The committee agreed it could not consider the Transport union's request for recognition by the district in the absence of the two directors representing labor on the bridge board, Daniel F. Del Carlo, secretary-treasurer of the San Francisco Building Trades Council, and Joseph P. Mazzola, secretary - treasurer of Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry Local Union 38.

The quick postponement angered the attorney for the transport union, Irwin Leff of San Francisco, who said his union would "consider the political steps we can take with the San Francisco supervisors on this board to see that we get recognition."

Outside the meeting, Leff told the bridge's general manager, Dale W. Luerhing, "You're going to have a very unhappy labor group on your hands."

But Luehring insisted he could do nothing unless Leff had a signed release of jurisdiction from the Teamsters, and Leff acknowledged he did not have such a release.

Leff told newsmen that all 47 toll takers had signed pledge cards with his union. The toll takers were "dissatisfied" with the Teamsters, he said.

Asked what his union offered the toll takers, Leff said there were "problems of shifts, assignments and a grievance procedure." He also said they deserved higher pay, adding that "working conditions" at the bridge demanded higher pay than on any other bridge.

A somewhat different version of the dispute was given to the Independent-Journal by Raoul Fitzpatrick, recording secretary of Building Material and Construction Teamsters Local Union 216. He termed the Transport union's request for recognition "a raid."

He also declared that the Transport Union was "trying to get a leg up on the bus operation planned out here by the district, but they won't get up on our shoulders to do it."

A majority of the toll takers signed one-year pledge cards with the Teamsters, Fitzpatrick noted, and these cards do not expire until February and March.

The problem arose, he said, "because of a lot of new guys on the toll force — but we're romancing them."

The dispute came as the committee considered, but tabled adding dental and vision benefits for the district's 202 employees and their families, at a cost to the district of $32,568.

Toll takers make $1,082 a month in salary and benefits.

Volpe Sees New Traffic Safety

LONDON (AP) — New safety devices on cars could cut road deaths in the United States by 10,000 a year, Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe said today.

Inflatable restraint cushions and flexible bumpers are "more than within the realm of possibility—they're within the realm of probability," Volpe said, adding that they could be standard equipment on new cars by 1972.

Volpe is in London for talks with British Minister of Transport Fred Mulley and other officials on urban growth and transportation. The talks ranged from highways to rail transport, hovercraft, vertical takeoff passenger planes, and joint research on reducing the noise of supersonic jet transports.

Pope Recalls Own Career

Beginning his remarks by pointing out that he had an intimate knowledge of how the Curia works because he was a member for more than 30 years, the Pope said he had called his audience together to show his paternal benevolence.

He wished to express his "veneration, gratitude and encouragement," he said, and he asked Curia members to give him "the comfort of their constant solidarity, their filial obedience and their valid collaboration."

"The Roman Curia will not be jealous of temporal prerogatives of time long past, nor of interior forms no longer suitable to express and impress true and lofty religious meanings, nor avaricious of its faculties that, without harming the universal ecclesiastical order, the episcopacy can today exercise better locally and by itself," the Pope said.

Referring to the forthcoming inauguration of the Ecumenical Council, Pope Paul said, "The hour is great and sacred." He spoke in terms of the greatest respect and admiration for Pope John.

"This Second Vatican Council," Paul VI said, "was willed by a Pope to whom the spontaneous acclamation of the public voice attributed the evangelic words that were applied to the precursor of Christ: 'There was a man sent by God whose name was John.'

"We believe that history will repeat these words when it recalls the salutary consequences of the sudden and flashing deliberation of him who called the Catholic world to the Council and opened the door and the heart to the seperated brethren for a loyal reconciliation."

Reform Need Stressed

Rome, Sept. 21 (AP) — Discussing his proposal for reform of the Curia, Pope Paul VI said today.

"Various reforms are needed. They certainly will be extensive. They will have no other aim than to let fall whatever is archaic or superfluous in the forms and norms that regulate the Roman Curia and to put into being whatever is vital and healthy."

Step Implied by Pope John

Pope Paul's desire to reform the Roman Curia was implicit in his predecessor's calling of the Vatican Council.

Throughout the first session it was apparent that Pope John wished to decentralize the governing arm of the church and to delegate more power to the bishops rather than to confine church policy to the conservative, Italian-dominated Curia.

As the first session progressed it became increasingly evident that the church hierarchy was overwhelmingly in favor of decentralization. In effect, this would mean that papal infallibility would no longer be extended to involve the Pope and his bishops acting in concert.

The Roman Curia, yet again, will thus feel even more strongly its vocation to give an example to the whole church and to the secular world.

This is the fatherly exhortation we wish to address to you at the conclusion of our simple words, which to us seem to echo the words of the apostle Saint Paul, addressed precisely to the Roman church: "Your faith shows itself in all the world."

Catholic Rome, the Roman Pontificate, the Roman Curia are being looked at from all sides. The duty of being authentic Christians is here highly committing.

We would recall to you this duty if it were not that we ourselves recall it every day.

Everything at Rome is a school: The letter and the spirit. How one thinks, studies, talks, feels, acts, suffers, prays, serves, loves. Every moment, every aspect of our life has a radiation around us, which can be beneficial if faithful to what Christ wants us, of evil effect, if unfaithful.

That is why we wish that, beyond your specific contribution of qualified service, the Roman Curia, all of you, brothers and children, give to us, or better, to the church, to our Lord Christ, that precious offering of your examples of strict selflessness and abnegation, of religious and sincere piety, of loving welcome to those who need your attentive service.

The Roman Curia is not an anonymous body, insensible to the great spiritual problems, that automatically dictates laws, but a live body faithful and docile to the head of the church, a body made of grave responsibilities and functions, and imbued with reverence and solicitude to those prelates who "spiritus sanctus posuit episcopos regere ecclesiam dei."

Therefore let the Roman Curia not be a bureaucracy, as some have wrongly judged it, pretentious and apathetic, legalistic and ritualistic, a fighting ground of hidden ambitions and deaf antagonisms, as others accuse it of being.

But let it be a true community of faith and charity, of prayer and action, of brothers and sons of the Pope, who do all to serve him, with a sense of collaboration, in his duty to the brothers and sons of the universal church and all the world.

We know that our wish expresses yours, sincere and good, and that it is this wish that in us and in you makes prayer, so that our Lord Christ, with the intercession of the most Holy Mary and the holy apostles Peter and Paul, will cause this old and ever new Roman Curia to shine like a lantern "ut luceat omnibus qui in domo sunt in domo," that is, in the church of god!

And finally you will not be displeased if we ask you all, ecclesiastics and laity of the Roman Curia, to add to your labors another spontaneous task of Ministry and personal apostolate: help the Pope to evangelize not only the world, but also the city, of which you are the first faithful and he is the Bishop!

Trusting in your goodness, and assuring you that you are all present in our prayers, from all the world those who one day will have to judge the whole world?"

Cluster Idea For The North Campus

By THERON A. NEWELL

The North Marin campus of the College of Marin will probably be an autonomous campus of small "cluster colleges" if the ideas presented last night by the planning committee and citizens advisory committee materialize.

The two groups met with 26 members present, at the Marin County Schools office in Corte Madera.

Most of the discussion centered on the cluster college concept with only a short discussion of finances.

As was generally agreed last night, the new campus would be served by Kentfield campus computer facilities and data processing, and a central administration would oversee general business office operations, academic calendars, and educational programs for both campuses.

Apart from that, the Novato campus would have a high degree of autonomy in its day-to-day operation and programs.

The small cluster colleges would offer more chance of mixing instructors and students so that there would be more student participation in instruction and both could participate in local administration. These were some of the advantages pointed out by Michael Hansen, chairman of the planning committee.

Hansen compared his committee's proposal to the Santa Cruz campus of the University of California and an experiment now being tried by the Contra Costa Junior College District.

Panel member Robert Lee raised the question that such campuses as at Santa Cruz were planned around a residential complex, but was such planned for the North Marin campus? Hansen said that it was not, but that cluster college concept could be made to work because of the interreaction between smaller groups of students and teachers.

Plans for the North Marin campus would call for three cluster colleges to be ready by the fall of 1973, each to accommodate about 700 students, or an enrollment of 2,000 contemplated for that year.

James F. Reed of the advisory panel said that students are "getting a 19th Century education." He said that cluster colleges might not be the answer, but he agreed that the small college concept was the best where students and teachers could talk together.

Hansen said his committee was not talking about a "full blown cluster" concept, but that a student might take classes at several of the cluster colleges.

He said that after one year, "There were very serious shortcomings in the Santa Cruz campus." He pointed out that they were teaching science to the liberal arts students, though some students were not in the central group. They have already taken the science library away from the main library there, he said.

Lee said he found the concept of the smaller student groups and teaching very exciting, but wondered about the cost.

Hansen agreed that it would be more expensive than that of a departmentalized college, but that the study committee must try to make the cost to more equal to the conventional organization.

He also said that the success of the small college concept hinged on finding a staff for such an institution.

Not until the last part of the meeting did the group get down to the essential of financing the new campus. J. E. Phillips, a committee member, said that they should be planning for a promition to sell the idea to the people.

Reed said he was sold on trying for a bond issue, but his committee was not supposed to work on the finances, just the plans.

Hansen explained the Dec. 1 deadline for plans. At that time the Marin Junior College District must submit a plan to the state Department of Education for partial aid from the junior college construction funds. The district will ask for matching funds for planning this year to go into he nex fiscal budget and the following year for construction funds. At that time the district would have to show that it had matching funds, he said.

The discussion turned to trying to operate the two campuses as one school with students enrolled in one or both campuses. The group agreed that all they would have in common would be that they were part of one political organization — the junior college district.

The could not be the same in athletics because one football team for two schools was unthinkable.

Irvin Diamond, dean of students, said that the study committee had agreed that there would not be any attendance boundaries between the two campuses. A student could attend the one of his choice.

Acting Supt-President Louis H. Herkenhoff said that he felt that the North Campus should have it own identity.

Dream And Money

KOKSTAD, South Africa (AP) — Dreams led a detective to the exact spot where a murdered woman storekeeper had hidden Rands 14,937 ($19,902), he told a local judge. Detective-Sgt. Johannes van der Bank, 27, testifying at the trial of an African accused of hacking 56-year-old Mrs. Rachel Feder to death at her store, said he found the money in a special panel under the counter of the shop after having "various dreams about where the money was hidden."

Home Rule On Payment Of Transfers

Costs of educating students from other districts will be charged to the home district, the Larkspur School District board decided last night.

The costs to be billed will be those above what the Larkspur district receives from the state for the child, according to Supt. Milton Cohen.

Cohen said the action was taken because of the higher than usual number of transfers into the district when the Marin County Board of Education overruled district denials.

Formerly, the number of transfers into and out of the district were about equal and districts did not charge one another.

Reed and Mill Valley school district boards have taken similar action, Cohen said.

The board also approved a student dental insurance program offering 24-hour protection for $3. The protection is for such items as accidental tooth breakage.

The Larkspur School District board also:

NEGOTIATION — Accepted a list of members for the teachers negotiating council from the Larkspur Teachers Association and appointed board members John W. Boyd and Howard C. Harvey to represent the board.

POINT REYES — Approved a resolution urging acquisition of Point Reyes National Seashore.

CANDIDATE — Endorsed David D. Ring, Tamalpais High School District trustee, as its candidate for Calirornia School Boards Association delegate.

WORKSHOP — Appointed Boyd to attend the Calirornia School Boards Association workshop in San Francisco, Oct. 24 and 25.

BACK TO SCHOOL — Learned 85 per cent of the parents had attended back to school nights last week.

LEAVE — Heard a report from Toby Rein on her sabbatical leave to England. She compared education in England and the U.S.

Reserve Police

BRONKHORSTSPRUIT, South Africa (AP)—The South African police can supplement its permanent force of 34,000 men by more than 17,000 reservists, Police Minister Lourens Muller said here. Of the 17,480 reservists listed at the end of July 7, 1885 are men who can help the police in their free time in cases of emergency or large scale crime. Reservists paid to do short periods of full time duty number 5,784 and another 3,028 are employees of local authorities required ot guard key industires. The remaining 783 assist police in cases of unrest in country areas.

Homeowners Aid Two Projects

The North Marin Federation (of homeowners associations) last night voted to make two donations to other organizations.

The federation will give $25 to the Novato Creek Study Committee to help meet clerical expenses. It will also give the same amount to help the housing conference on Oct. 25 sponsored by the League of Women Voters and others at Dominican College in San Rafael.

John Schoonover, president of the Gnoss Estates Association, said that there would be a meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday at the Olive School libary to discuss the De Long Street extension from the freeway bypass to Olive Avenue with Clifford Temps, city director of public works.

A Hearty Drink

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Tea is good for the heart says the latest issue of Tea World, a magazine published by the tea board. An article said "unknown constituents" in tea check the hardening of the coronary artery which leads to heart attacks. The magazine said this might explain why there is such a low incidence of heart disease among the Chinese, whose fondness for tea is well known.

Promoters Iron Out Hotel Scheme

Problems with the law have been ironed out, the young man operating a telephone promotional scheme in Marin offering vacations in Reno, Tahoe or Las Vegas hotels, said today.

Lance D. Detrude, 20, who uses the firm name Detrude Promotions and operates out of 1108 Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael, said that he has complied with the district attorney's request to eliminate mention of hotels no longer available.

He also has discontinued the asking of a question in the telephone pitch, which made the promotion appear to be a contest.

Detrude said that three hotels are now available in the offer and prices for the vacations (for four days and three nights) range from $12.99 to $19.99.

Detrude also said that his partner is Ronald D. Friedman, not Ronald C. Friedman as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal. The former man, who was reported to have been arrested for assault with a deadly weapon in Santa Ana, is someone else, he added.

San Rafael police said that Friedman gave only the name "Ron Friedman" when applying for a business license.

Detrude also emphasized that he has no connection with M ard R promotions, a San Francisco firm which has been shut down by police there.

BURGER SI, BEER NO

Ross Council Heeds Alcohol License Foes

By DAVID DIETZ

The operators of a small Ross cafe, who had hoped to sell wine and beer with meals on the premises, were narrowly denied a vote of confidence last night by the Ross Town Council.

In a 3-2 vote the council refused to endorse issuance of an alcoholic beverage license to Marvin and Jean Dobson, proprietors of Jean's Kitchen, across the street from the Ross School grounds on Poplar Road. The couple had sought support of a proposed application to state Alcoholic Beverage Control authorities.

The council rebuff supported by Councilmen Roy Farrington Jones and Natalie G. Lewis and Mayor Frederick S. Allen but opposed by Ralph C. Walker and John H. Chase — went a step further, setting a hearing on a proposal to block similar license applications in the future.

On Nov. 13, the council will sit as a planning commission to consider amending the town zoning code to require use permits for establishments intending to sell alcoholic beverages on premises.

Opponents of the cafe license presented a petition signed by 225 residents who feared increased business at the place would cause traffic congestion, presenting a potential danger to school children. Others worried about a possible law enforcement problem.

Since it was brought out by protestors that opposition by the council, together with announced objection by Police Chief John Harris, would have crippling effect on an application by the Dobsons, the couple's plan appeared doomed.

Dobson later told the Independent-Journal that it was unlikely he would now apply.

"It's a lot of expense," he said, "and with the opposition tonight, I just don't think I'll do it. But I want to think about it."

Harris said he was opposed to issuance of the license because establishments dispensing alcoholic beverages must be 600 feet from a school under state law, but Chase contended that the law merely gave ABC authorities the right to refuse a license to an establishment closer than 600 feet.

Despite Chief Harris' opposition to the license, Harris said he could not predict whether the cafe would cause a law enforcement problem or serious traffic congestion.

The council action contrasted with a recent 3-2 vote of the Ross School District board not to oppose the license application. That action sparked talk of impeachment of the three unopposed board members from at least one parent who attended the board meeting.

In addition to the petition, the council received numerous letters protesting the license and Allen said he had received many phone calls objecting. One letter in favor was from the California Brewers Association.

Walker led support of the Dobsons, saying that he had sampled residents who signed the petition and found that about half had not realized the Dobsons were planning to sell wine and beer with meals only.

He refuted predictions of a traffic problem, indicating that capacity patronage would bring 15 cars at most.

"This is a pretty good little business in town and a license would help these people break even or better," Walker said.

"These people are living in a fish bowl," Chase agreed. "I don't see how a beer and a hamburger would create a police problem."

But Dr. W. James Dawson, a former town councilman, argued that "college kids, people working in the area and construction people would stop for food and a few beers and I don't want to turn the commercial area of town into a cabaret."

Ultimately, the council closely followed recommendations by Dawson in its vote.

"I can't ignore the number of residents who signed this petition," Allen said.

"I can't, either," Jones said.

Kopechnes Lose Again On Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A judge refused again today to dismiss a Massachusetts prosecutor's petition for an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne and said "only a hearing will bring to light facts," on whether exhumation is necessary to determine how she was killed in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car.

Common Pleas Judge Bernard C. Brominski dismissed the plea of Mary Jo's parents to block an autopsy scheduled a hearing for Oct. 20.

REJECTS DELAY

The judge also rejected the request by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N. J. to delay a full hearing on the autopsy petition until after completion of an inquest into Mary Jo's death that already has attracted world-wide interest.

The 28-year-old Miss Kopechne was killed July 18 when Kennedy's car plunged off a narrow bridge into a pond on Chappaquiddick Island, near Cape Cod.

"It is the opinion of this court that the interests of both the public and the Kopechnes would be best served by developing the facts at a hearing to be held without delay," Brominski said in his six-page opinion.

"This would give the court the benefit of all the information available from both parties in arriving at the ultimate disposition of this matter."

FIRST DENIAL

Brominski once before, on Sept. 3, had rejected the Kopechnes' motion to dismiss the petition for exhumation and autopsy originally filed on Aug. 13 by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass. They claimed Dinis was on a fishing expedition and couldn't invade Mary Jo's grave in search of an alleged crime.

Brominski had researched the law exhaustively before rejecting the dismissal motion for the second time.

Brominski also emphasized that a hearing on Dinis' petition would allow the district attorney "the opportunity to prove the allegations . . . that the public interest and proper administration of justice" requires an autopsy to confirm or deny that Miss Kopechne drowned.

Minus Streetsweeper, Ross Wants Bonfires

The Ross Town Council indicated last night it would consider at its Nov. 13 meeting a formal application to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for a variance to the backyard burning ban which goes into effect Jan. 1.

The council has said for months that the effects of the ban would have serious effect on the community because residents no longer would be able to aid the city with street cleanup in front of their homes.

The town has no street sweeping machinery and must rely on residents for help. Street refuse, mostly leaves, is regularly burned in backyards.

Councilman Ralph C. Walker said he had talked to an attorney who represented the City of Brentwood in Contra Costa County in an application for a variance before the air pollution district board. The attorney said he was optimistic of obtaining the variance, Walker said.

The council has studied various plans for pickup of street refuse, including beefing up its streetsweeping crew, but found them too costly.

The Ross Town Council Also:

FLOOD — Formally approved final plans for construction of the first phase of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project into Ross to a point just below the Lagunitas Road bridge.

REPAVING — Heard town engineer Philip B. Lygren report that final funds for repaving of portions of Madrone Avenue, Woodside Way, Upper Road and Redwood Drive until cleanup is completed. A resident complained of several accidents in one location because of sand left in the street.

ANIMALS — Formally approved new provisions of the animal control ordinance.

ABANDONED — Tabled a proposed ordinance regulating abandoned autos after City Atty. Robert W. Elliott reported that present state law covers removal of cars left for long periods of time.

RESUBDIVISION — Conditionally approved resubdivision of property owned by Webster Otis on Glenwood Avenue to provide another home site. Councilman Natalie G. Lewis opposed the action and Ralph C. Walker abstained because his law firm represents Otis.

DIVISION — Conditionally permitted division of 2.1 acres held by Martin V. Skewes-Cox on Monte Alegre Road to enable absorption by neighboring property owners. One of the property owners is Mrs. Lewis, and she abstained from voting, as did Councilman Roy Farrington Jones, who said he advised in the proposed transaction.

SIGNS — Decided to leave street signs on Wellington Avenue up for 30 days despite objections from residents they are ineffective, unsightly and not in keeping with the county character of the area. A report on possible alternate proposals will be submitted in a month.

POINT REYES — Endorsed completion of acquisition of property for the Point Reyes National Seashore.

PARKING — Approved a 48-hour parking limit in the post office parking lot.

PEDESTRIAN — Objected that it had not been considered for a pedestrian safety award from the California State Automobile Association even though it has at least a 25-year record of no deaths.

BUSINESS — Transferred the collection of business license fees from the police department to public works.

Arsenic Search Turns Up No Traces So Far

The mystery surrounding the arsenic poisoning of a Fairfax man deepened today as police learned that the items removed from his home did not contain arsenic in those tested so far.

The man, Charles Austin, 55, of 55 Frustuck Avenue, is a patient at Fort Miley Hospital in San Francisco and expected to recover.

Fairfax Police Chief James R. Orr said most of the items removed from the home in a search Wednesday have been analyzed and all have been negative.

Results of analysis of two other items are expected in about a week, he said.

Police entered the case after Austin's doctor reported the man had so much of the poison in his system that he believed it was taken orally over a period of two years, Orr said. Austin told police he had not been knowingly taking it.

One Driver Fined, Put On Probation

Melvin Chaley Prince, 56, of 521 Jefferson Street, Petaluma, was found guilty yesterday by a jury in Marin Municipal Court of drunken driving Jan. 31, 1968 on Highway 101.

Judge Hadden W. Roth placed Prince on six months probation and fined him $175.

Grubby But Polite Man Pulls Skyjack

MIAMI (AP) — A grubby but polite little gunman pulled the year's 46th airliner hijacking to Cuba yesterday. The passengers included four major league baseball players and a coach.

The hijacker, slightly built and speaking little English, took over the plane—National Airlines Flight 42 from Los Angeles to Miami—as it passed over Texas.

The jetliner carried a crew of seven and 63 passengers, including Roger Craig, pitching coach of the San Diego Padres, Mel Queen of the Cincinnati Reds, Dave Marshall of the San Francisco Giants, Dick Corkins of the Padres and Dennis Paepke of the Kansas City Royals.

Stewardess Ann Baker of Miami said the man grabbed her arm and ordered, "Havana, Cuba! Cockpit!"

"He had a gun, a black gun," Miss Baker told newsmen in Miami when the airliner completed its trip, four hours and six minutes late, after the unscheduled Havana stop.

Miss Baker said she led the man to the cockpit and opened the door.

"I said to the fellows, 'I guess this is it,'" she said.

Capt. George Glasgow of Miami told the hijacker: "Don't point the gun. We'll take you to Cuba."

Craig said he and the four baseball players were headed for Venezuela to participate in Latin-American play during the major league off season.

At National Airlines spokesman said the only listed passenger who failed to return from Cuba was F. Birera, who boarded in Los Angeles.

Camp Hunger Strike Leaders Transferred

Sixty-four inmates of the Susanville Conservation Center were brought to San Quentin prison last night and early today after they reportedly led 1,200 prisioners in a short strike.

Warden Louis Nelson said San Quentin would hold the men until the Department of Corrections decides where they should be sent. He said he did not know what the strike had been about but the men caused no trouble after confinement at San Quentin.

A book no larger than a fingernail is among the volumes in the Library of Congress.

Don Keown, Editor

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Prior to her death earlier this year, Florence Donnelly, long-time Marin resident, Independent-Journal editorial staff member and historian, had completed a number of manuscripts about Marin's early history. One of these will appear in tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine. It tells about the rancho of colorful Don Timeteo Murphy, and what happened to that vast parcel of land after the death of the Irish don. Other articles by Mrs. Donnelly will appear in the near future.

Eric Eikrem is only 6-years-old. Yet he is a veteran hiker and camper who knows the High Sierra far better than most adult Californians. He has been hiking the John Muir Trail and other pathways into the mountain wildernesses since he could toddle. And before that, his parents carried him on their backs. The story of young Eric, his parents and the "togetherness" they find in the outdoors will be a featured article in tomorrow's weekend supplement of the I-J.

Whip With Dagger Enters Mosque Trial

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Arab whip with a hidden dagger was produced today at the Al Aksah arson trial, and its appearance seemed to agitate the young Australian who has admitted setting fire to the ancient mosque in Jerusalem.

The prosecution said the weapon was among defendant Denis Michael Rohan's possessions when he was arrested Aug. 22, the day after the blaze that enraged the Moslem world.

Such whips, for use on camels, are sold in tourist shops throughout the Holy City. Police Cpl. Gabriel Moshetz testified that Rohan told him he bought the whip as a souvenir during the month he spent in Jerusalem before the mosque fire.

The 28-year-old Australian then began tapping on his bulletproof glass booth to catch the attention of his defense attorney, Yitzhak Tunik. Rohan was unusually animated as he talked with Tunik over a special communications line, but their conversation was not heard by anyone else.

Tunik told the court yesterday that Rohan admits starting the mosque fire but contends he cannot be held responsible because he is mentally ill.

Youths Nabbed In Drug Probe

Four Terra Linda youths were booked into Marin Juvenile Hall last night for possession of narcotics and paraphernalia after they were found allegedly smoking marijuana behind the Terra Linda Shopping Center.

Deputies said a passerby reported to the Terra Linda fire department that the youngsters seemed to be drinking. The officers found, however, that the boys had about a lid of marijuana in their car as well as pipes possibly used for hashish.

The boys were 12, 14 and two 16-year-olds.

Haynsworth Outcome Shifts To Cloakroom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over Clement F. Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court shifted today from committee chambers to the Senate cloakroom where the outcome appeared to rest with some two dozen wavering senators.

In the aftermath of judiciary committee approval of the nomination yesterday opponents appeared to have the edge on the floor.

A survey by the Associated Press, combined with positions obtained from Senate sources, showed at least 46 votes against the nomination, 33 for it and 21 undecided.

It was clear, however, the situation could change dramatically for a number of reasons before the nomination comes to the floor, probably not for two weeks.

For one, the American Bar Association leadership decided yesterday to meet sometime in the next few days to review its position on Haynsworth, for the past 12 years a member of the Fourth U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va.

The ABA endorsed the nomination last month during Senate hearings. A change in position could have significant impact.

Floor debate also cannot begin until the judiciary committee files majority and minority reports. Some senators said they would wait for these before making up their minds.

An example of the fluid nature of the situation was Maryland Republican Charles McC. Mathias.

A member of the judiciary committee, Mathias abstained yesterday when the committee climaxed a two-hour closed meeting by voting 10 to 6 to report the nomination to the floor.

Then in late afternoon he sent a letter to judiciary chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., saying he wanted to be recorded against committee approval of the nomination.

"There are grave doubts remaining on the record," Mathias said.

Saying the ABA meeting underlines this uncertainty, Mathias said while the doubts "remain in a question of this kind, they must be resolved in favor of the public."

A Mathias aide said later, however, the senator's committee vote did not mean Mathias would definitely vote against confirmation.

Among other head counts, one reportedly done for the Democratic leadership put the vote at a "rock bottom" 54 against Haynsworth with another nine leaning that way.

Another reportedly done for Philip A. Hart of Michigan, the ranking Democratic opponent of Haynsworth on the judiciary committee, had 45 "hard" votes against, 35 for, 10 leaning against, five leaning for and five undecided.

One midwestern senator, who nobody even bothered contacting because they assumed he was backing the administration, told the Associated Press he was so angry over the nomination he was about ready to speak out and would definitely vote against.

This same senator said still another influential Republican who has been saying he was still uncommitted also was about ready to come out against Haynsworth.

Ulster Police Chief Quits; Reform Feud

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's police chief, Anthony Peacocke, resigned today immediately after an inquiry commission urged drastic police reform. A British police chief from London was named to take his place.

These moves brought the threat of more unrest for Prime Minister James Chicester-Clark's Protestant-based Unionist Party, already disturbed by the increasing British role in Northern Ireland affairs.

Peacocke quit within an hour of publication of a British-backed report urging drastic police reform, including disbandment of the all-protestant reserves whom Roman Catholics blame for most casualties during recent sectarian rioting.

Sir Arthur Young, commissioner of the city of London police was named as his successor. He is already in Ireland.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Grotto Adds A Regular Bar; French Quiche Will Open Soon

A happy man is Stan Valan, owner ot the Grotto seafood restaurant in San Rafael.

He now has his general liquor license and a chance to see what he can do to qualify as a mixologist. If a few of his regular customers make strange requests of him that never appeared in a bartender's guide, they must be forgiven for taking advantage of his good nature. But so far he's taken this leg pulling in his stride.

There will be physical changes, of course — with some loss of table space. But both Stan and his wife, Ursula, like the idea of keeping the restaurant small, rather than expand.

Planned is a cocktail area forward at the port side. This means eliminating a few tables. The new permanent bar installation will be larger than the present portable and do away with the forward starboard booth.

For a treat for four or more, ask for the gourmet combination plate. This is different from most seafood combinations and has not been put on the menu, because it's not practical to serve it to just two people. It's a chance for four people to get together and sample several menu items.

A NEW LITTLE RESTAURANT which may be opened by the first of next month is called French Quiche and located at 256 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley.

Owners are Donovan J. Fandre of Sausalito and York K. Fisher, who has been in Germany for the past six years or more and will be settling in Marin after his forthcoming marriage. Don has been a lecturer with the Space Agency and still does some lecturing. But he's also had restaurant experience and he's anxious to put some new ideas to work.

"Quiche" in french (pronounced something like "kish") has no oneword counterpart in English that I know of. It is a pie dish with a crust and containing ham, cheese, bacon and other ingredients and made with eggs and milk. Exact recipe probably depends on the French province in which it originated. Most popular version hereabouts seems to be quiche Lorraine. I imagine there may be as many varieties as there are of paellas in Spain and Italian pizzas in North Beach.

Anyway, quiche obviously will be a part of the menu, along with fondues, souffles, special sausages and other epicurean selections. Don says he wants to get away from the starches in American cooking.

He and York have taken over the former cleaning establishment next to Sonny's Restaurant and are having it remodeled. There is a fireplace and settee arrangement which can be used to advantage.

French Quiche will be open for lunches and dinners seven days a week. An application has been made for a wine and beer license.

AFTER THIS WEEK, Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant in San Anselmo is closing out its lunches.

Owner Al Barthel, whom you will find dressed as a Mexican charro dandy on Fridays and Saturdays, wants to concentrate more on his dinners. He is planning on adding a steak picado to the dinner menu and may also add filet tips and possibly a New York steak.

Although regular lunches are now out, this place will open for special luncheon parties of 45 or more. And it will also cater for groups of 25 or more.

Al's over-the-counter sales now include some fancy 23 by 29-inch posters of his "little man" logo — the same character you see in his ads.

APPARENTLY there is still some belief that Franchini's Chateau has closed or is closing. This is not so.

The state, although now owner of the property, has agreed to a three-year lease. It may be even longer before work commences on construction of a new 101 Highway-Lucas Valley Road cloverleaf.

Undoubtedly the misunderstanding came about because it was reported here that Roy Franchini will take over Buckingham Lodge in Lake County. Regardless of Roy's absence, his son Niki will still be on the job in Marin. And the rest of the staff continues. Food is still the same.

However, there have been some variations in the menu. A new collection of a la carte items has been added, including several pastes — canneloni, baked lasagna, gnocchi, tortellini, mastaccioli, tagliarini, spaghetti and ravioli — along with Hangtown fry, broiled ham steak, sauted beef tips and lobster and steak combination.

Prime rib is now served all week, instead of just on weekends.

Two things more: Monday is now a day of closing, and Sunday brunch has been cut off for the fall and winter months. Sunday opening time is now 1 p.m.

IF THERE IS ONE DAY of the year that gets celebrated at Nero's Restaurant at Nave Lanes, Ignacio, it is Columbus Day. Last year the restaurant served over 500 dinners.

Usually these celebrations don't fall on Columbus Day itself but on a nearby Monday. The Festivale Italiano, as it is called, is being held again this year and the day is next Monday, the 13.

Bill Nave Sr. takes over as chef, turning out just about everything appearing on a popular Italian menu: chicken cacciatora, turta, stuffed zucchini, sima, risotto, veal scallopini, polenta, ravioli, stuffed veal, salata a la Milanese, and of course tagliarini, spaghetti, lasagna and whatever else may come to his mind.

Tab is $3.75 for all you can eat, with wine and appropriate festivale music. Advance reservations are necessary. Serving times are for three separate periods — starting at 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

FRED CHERRY, who used to get frequent mention in this column because he always had something new going on at his Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo, hasn't been a subject for discussion recently because he no longer has a restaurant to write about.

One reason for closing this operation two months ago was that he had a chance to apply for a different type of wine license (a wine grower's license). This meant giving up his on-sale license used in connection with the restaurant. But the new license would enable him to do many things to promote his Wine Discovery Shop that he couldn't do before.

Word now is that he hopes to get this new license in another week. This will be used in expanding his wine operations, including wine tastings.

He does not plan to offer a regular mealtime menu as before, no longer qualifying as a restaurant. However, he says he will serve groups and organizations wanting a gourmet dinner with their wine instruction.

Girl Scouts Lose Suit On Poster

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has refused to enjoin the distribution of a gag poster depicting a smiling, pregnant girl clad in a Girl Scout uniform beside the motto, "Be Prepared."

"Rational analysis," Judge Morris Lasker said in his opinion yesterday, "does not indicate a likelihood that the public will believe that the Girl Scouts are the author of the poster."

The posters are produced by Personality Posters Manufacturing Co., Inc., The Girl Scouts sued Aug. 4, asking $1 million in damages and an injunction banning the poster.

Ruling only on the request for an injunction, Judge Lasker said that no evidence had been presented to indicate that the Girl Scouts had been damaged by distribution of the poster.

Las Vegas Calm After Judge Acts

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An agreement by a Negro judge to dismiss charges against nearly 200 blacks arrested during four nights of violence has brought peace to this gambling center.

Police reported all quiet in the mainly Negro West Side last night and 350 National Guardsmen alerted for possible duty were dismissed.

The agreement to free those arrested on charges of violating a curfew called in connection with the rioting was made by Municipal Court Judge Robert E. Mullen.

Mullen said yesterday he "made a deal" to dismiss the charges and that he received in return a promise that "there would be no more trouble."

An alleged liquor store looter was shot dead, 50 persons were injured and extensive damage was caused to stores during the disorders, which began Sunday.

WINE DISCOVERIES
Call 456-6660

WHEN? Very soon!
Cooperage, fermenter, lab equipment are in, so our federal license as a Bonded Winery should now be issued quickly. We have in mind the production of an unusual wine rarely found in this country, but more of that later. There will, of course, be all those distinctive "Wine Discoveries" — one or more a month; the best wines of California and the world, selected by a panel of judges headed by Fred Cherry. Memberships in the "Wine Discovery of the Month" Club keep coming in, for delivery after we open. Twelve international adventures in wine drinking, with enlightening descriptions, sent anywhere in the state — $10 per quarter, $35 per year. A great Christmas gift! Better write in for priority; great wines are in short supply, so memberships will be restricted.

HELP WANTED (Wine Lovers)
We will need all kinds of help — part time and full, paid and volunteer — as classroom assistants, tasting room salesmen, sommeliers, order takers, phone advisory service, mail order and shipping, wine making, tasters. The one essential requirement: dedication to and love of wine. Drop me a line or phone 456-6660. Describe your special wine interest and we'll set up a glass of wine and an interview.

A SPECIAL INVITATION
will be sent to you for one of the hour-long lectured tastings of "Wine Discoveries" during our Opening Week. Send name and address and number in your party. Indicate day (Wednesday through Sunday) and whether you prefer an invitation for afternoon or evening.

SCIENTIST AND WIFE TO SPEAK

Dr. Linus Pauling, professor of chemistry at Stanford University and twice winner of the Nobel Prize, and his wife, Ava, will speak at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Olney Hall of the College of Marin on the responsibility of a scientist and the future work of women, respectively. Their appearance is sponsored by the International League for Peace and Freedom.

Marin City Council Seeks More Members

Agreeing that the existence of several separate civic committees serves only to divide the community, the Marin City Council last night gave unofficial approval to expanding its size from nine to 13 members to provide better representation to the low-rent areas

Although they took no vote, council members gave individual support to the idea and the council set Oct. 23 for discussion of how best to expand the board.

Residents of the public housing area of Marin City have complained that they are not represented on the council and have now formed their own committee.

The original council had 13 members, including seven from the public housing, Mrs. Collie Gaines pointed out, but she also noted that all public housing representatives dropped off the council for various reasons.

"We've had trouble enough getting a quorum with the nine members," she said, "so if we add four more, lets do it in a way that we get people who are interested enough to show up."

The council last night could muster only six of the nine members and that included four new councilmen who were elected Tuesday. In the only action item of the evening Terrie Harris, Ruth Hodges, C. J. Williams and Peggy Ann Bullock were officially seated. A fifth newly elected councilman, Royce McLemore, was absent and will be seated at the next meeting if she shows up, the council decided.

The council also agreed to send Mrs. Hodges to next Monday's meeting at Tamalpais High School when parents, teachers and students have slated a discussion on the racial tension at the school.

Automatic Toll Test Repeat Set

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The state Department of Public Works said today automatic toll collection equipment will be experimented with again on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Director James A. Moe said the equipment will be operated initially during offpeak commute hours. During the morning commute rush, manual collection will be continued at all 17 booths.

A similar experiment several years ago failed and was abandoned because it delayed traffic during peak hours. Moe said the proposed system of staggered manual and automatic collection has "proven satisfactory" in the East.

Moe said he expects the state will save more than $100,000 through conversion to automation. Automatic equipment will be installed during the next four months on five traffic lanes.

South Dakota mines gold.

Principal Is Source

A story on Tamalpais High School in yesterday's Independent-Journal erroneously attributed a statement that the school was calm after a series of racial incidents Wednesday to Assistant Principal Henry Marshall. The statement was made by Principal Raymond J. Bell.

Japanese Firm Boasts Record For Elevators

TOKYO (UPI)—Hitachi, Japan's largest manufacturing firm, has built a two-story elevator which will lift 260 persons at a time, with 130 passengers on each deck.

Hitachi says it is the biggest elevator ever built. It will be installed at the 1970 Japan World Exposition (Expo '70). The builders recommend the elevator for department stores and theaters.

San Anselmo Church Sets Campus Crisis Lectures

Persons who are confused about what is happening today in our colleges and universities will have an opportunity to find out in a series of Monday lectures beginning next week.

The series, "Crises and the Campus," will be held at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo and will be presented by those directly involved: students, faculty members and administrators.

The church feels the campus revolution "reflects the crises of our nation and society," according to David Faw, church publicity chairman. Faw said the series is being presented because "we see no one else is filling the need."

The agenda for the series is:

Monday: "The University — What Does it Look Like Today?", Glenn P. Smith, executive vice president of San Francisco State College; Oct. 20: "The American University and the American Empire," Bruce Nelson, director of the Bay Area Racial Education Project; Oct. 27: "The Rights of Student," a student panel; Nov. 3: "The Minority Student — Who is Uptight?," student panel.

Nov. 10: "The Draft and Vietnam — Their Influences on the Campus," Allan Miller, regional secretary for United Ministries of Higher Education; Nov. 17: "Conflict of Values on the College Campus," Dr. Charles McCoy, professor of religion and higher education at Pacific School of Religion; and Nov. 24: "The Church at the University: Failure or Forerunner," Dr. John Hadsell, campus pastor of Unitas at the University of California at Berkeley.

British Experiment With Coal's Shape

LONDON (UPI)—The British Coal Board spent 3 million pounds ($7.2 million) and five years looking for the perfect shape for coal.

Now it figures it has the answer — smokeless "briquettes" that are dimpled and shaped like cushions. "Once these briquettes go on the fire they just won't fall off," says Edward Hawthorne, technical manager of the Board's briquette section.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Even The White Queen Might Not Believe This

"Curiouser and curiouser!" cried Alice.

It is necessary to put oneself in an "Alice in Wonderland" state of mind to follow the recent course of Marin County supervisors and administrator in the suspension-nonsuspension of Dr. Clyde G. Miller, the county's community mental health director. Otherwise, one's own mental health may suffer. The actions and "clarifications" of these officials indeed grow "curiouser and curiouser."

On Sept. 30, the supervisors, in open session, heard various charges against Dr. Miller, and various defenses of him. Then — for reasons hard to understand, since the matter had already been aired so publicly — they went into closed session, in which they spent three hours with Miller and County Administrator Alan Bruce, and from time to time with various Miller supporters.

They emerged from the closed session to announce that Dr. Miller was being suspended for 30 days — but with pay; and to recommend that directors of Marin Hospital District suspend for 30 days Dr. Donald P. Wilson, director of the community mental health center and one of Miller's chief critics. They did not mention whether this should be with pay.

However, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell questioned the legality of paying Miller for 30 days that he was under suspension. Whereupon, Administrator Bruce announced that (the supervisors' minutes to the contrary notwithstanding) Miller was not really suspended but was removed from his administrative duties and would be doing other work for the county.

In other words, he would receive full pay for doing part of what that pay was for, apparently.

"There's no use trying," she said; "one can't believe impossible things."

"I daresay you haven't had much practice," said the Queen. "When I was your age, I always did it for half-an-hour a day. Why, sometimes I've believed as many as six impossible things before breakfast."

Even the White Queen's preparation, however, might not be enough for what follows.

The supervisors on Tuesday went behind closed doors again — not, this time, for the legal purpose of hearing charges against an employee, but to decide what to do about the nonsuspension of the doctor they had suspended but with pay. They emerged again to say that what they really did was what Bruce said they did and not what they said they did during the previous closed session. The minutes were then so amended.

"When I use a word," Humpty Dumpty said, in rather a scornful tone, "it means just what I choose it to mean — neither more nor less."

"The question is," said Alice, "whether you can make words mean so many different things."

"The question is," said Humpty Dumpty, "which is to be master — that's all."

To answer Humpty Dumpty's question as regards Marin County government, we shall have to turn elsewhere than Lewis Carroll, who offers no help. Perhaps the answer can be found in Robert Burns's:

"Scots, wham Bruce has often led, welcome to your gory bed."

Walnut Leaves

For generations, English folk medicine has held the strange notion that rubbing walnut leaves on the skin was a good way to prevent sunburn. An old wives' tale, scoffed the scientists.

But yesterday's old wives' tale often turns out to be tomorrow's miracle discovery. Thus, after analysis by a group of chemists, it was announced that two powerful sunburn preventing chemicals had been found in walnut leaves. What's more, they give protection that lasts for two or three days.

A lotion containing these substances is expected to be marketed next year.

Cooperation In Drug Control At Last Sought With Mexico

By JAMES K. WOODWORTH

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Cooperation can be the key to the solving of many of our statewide and national problems, including drug abuse.

Efforts along this line are under way as Mexican and United States officials have announced a bi-national conference on narcotics and dangerous drugs for Oct. 16 and 17.

The word cooperation, however, is a two-sided thing and the delegates to the conference must go to it with the idea of giving a little and receiving a little.

PRESIDENT Richard M. Nixon has taken an unpopular position by ordering Operation Intercept, which is aimed at curtailing drug traffic across the Mexican border by extensive searches of all persons and vehicles.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has gone on record as praising the program and urging its continuance until either the drug traffic is dried up or the scarcity of the drugs and marijuana has pushed the price up to the point where American youngsters cannot aford it.

Governor Reagan has had to take verbal abuse from numerous members of the opposition party for his backing of Operation Intercept and large numbers of Americans have charged the program is unnecessary and useless.

THE JOINT conference will attempt to set up some controls over the flow of narcotics and marijuana across the border, with Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke to sit as California's top representative. Reinecke was appointed by Reagan to head a special task force on narcotics enforcement.

The kind of "shot in the arm" necessary for such enforcement was illustrated recently when as many as 75,000 young people joined in a rock music festival at Lake Amador, where they slept in the open, cavorted about in the nude, smoked "pot," and many participated in their first drug experience.

This was done, as in New York recently, without a bit of interference by local, county, state or federal law enforcement personnel. Reports claimed that the air around Lake Amador was so heavy with marijuana smoke that no one needed to actually light a butt, because they could get "high" just from the drifting smoke.

Operation Intercept is aimed at stopping the transport of more drugs and marijuana into California. Apparently Reagan, and law enforcement in general, hope the youngsters will burn up what is already here.

CYNIC'S CORNER — BY INTERLANDI

"It has something to do with Operation Intercept and their 'supplies' being cut off!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

No Reason To Drop Policy On Hair

I am a former student of Redwood High School, and I participated in athletics. Reviewing the hair issue which is presently going on, I see no way the athletes should be allowed to keep their hair long. This policy has been in effect for man years, and it would be a crime to change it now. It is one of the best things going.

No student is forced to go out for a sport. It is an extra school activity and a privilege to be on a team. Every boy is told before he goes out about the policy. If a boy wants badly enough to be a part of the team then he will make a few sacrifices. Also this gets the boys who really care to play. In addition every boy signs a contract. Contained in the contract are the rules an athlete must obey. This pertains to drinking alcoholic beverages, smoking, times to be home the night before a game, etc. When an athlete signs this he gives his word to obey the rules. Keeping the hair short enough is just another rule.

When I played I was proud to be part of the team. During my four years I played against many teams and most of them always had guys having trouble with hair in their eyes. The hair policy might also be the answer that Redwood High has won more MCAL championships in the last 11 years than any other Marin County high school. I agree with Mr. (Robert J.) Troppmann and I hope the short hair policy will be reinstated.

Distance Runner Has Own Discipline

For some time my only reaction to Mr. (Jim) Gilmartin's feeble attempts to emulate the clever Jim Murray has been a pained expression. They are such labored efforts. They frequently fail to make his point, and, worse, to amuse. Reallly, must we be afflicted with his gauche writing, his lack of humor, and his heavy-handed efforts lately to bludgeon Mr. (Robert) Torrey into restoring a ridiculous regulation about hair length!

Now, I'm no longer moved only to distaste. I wonder at the venom that this man spits out. . . .

Even more annoying than his clumsy and humorless writing is his biased reporting of the situation. It appears from his column that all the coaches were behind the old rule regulating hair length. The fact is that several coaches considered the matter unimportant. Hair length is a personal matter. Furthermore, a reader gets the distinct impression that the hair of these cross-country runners falls in long locks below their ears. Anyone who has watched them run knows this is not so. . . .

No one slightly connected with sports is unaware of the enormous self-discipline of the cross-country runner. Discipline, I believe, is the matter in question. Surely Mr. Gilmartin (he's a sports writer) knows of the lonely, arduous, gruelling schedule of the boy who wants to be a cross-country runner. Not for him the cheering crowds, yell-leaders, or pom-pom girls! Simply the joy of running and beating back the beast, pain. No, Mr. Gilmartin ought to know (had he not let his judgment outrun his discretion) that discipline could hardly be the problem with cross-country runners. Just being individual!

Soapsuds Ruin Oil Paintings

Wednesday, Oct. 1 issue of the I-J, on page 18, "To brighten an oil painting, sponge gently with mild soapsuds."

Sorry, this is a no, no.

Soapsuds and water ruin oil paintings which are properly dry cleaned and not wet washed. Soap is undoubtedly about the last thing to ever use.

So, unless you want to "antique" a painting, shrink the canvas and add fats, alkalis and scum to the pores and cracks, don't wash a painting.

Modern dry cleaning of paintings generally uses a base of odorless mineral spirits with various alcohols and acetones added, depending on the painting.

Soap was eliminated from good art use in the 1920's. Turpentine was eliminated in the 1940's. Today's art, like today's life, demands a little more science.

Circus That Does Good Two Ways

"Bouquets the the Marin County Deputy Sheriffs' Association."

My children (two years in a row) attended the sheriffs' association-sponsored circus at the Marin Catholic (High) School this summer. They had fun — the price for the family ticket was well spent. If you and yours did not attend, try to next year.

The profits earned by these law enforcement officers were unselfishly shared among groups in the county. Marin Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis was one of the recipients. The chapter is so deeply grateful for our check — we work long hours on a volunteer basis for what we believe in — our hopes are so high to think there are others who care about kids who of necessity spend most of their lives fighting for each breath of air.

TRY AND STOP ME

TWELVE ASPIRING WRITERS in the graduating class of a prominent school of journalism have vowed that, times being what they are, they'll pen nary a discouraging word and confine their literary output to cheerful, heart-warming subjects. What they propose to be, in short, is chipper by the dozen.

A PUN IN mythology? Perish the thought, you say? Well, how about the day the Norse god Thor was galloping along on his favorite steed and exulted, "I'm Thor! I'm Thor!" And the steed snorted, "You muthed have forgotten your thaddle, thilly!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Some Arguments And Answers In The Debate Over Vietnam

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Debate on Vietnam is so distorted that it is urgent to get the facts into the open.

The nation is surfeited with conflicting arguments which neither meet nor answer each other.

The purpose of this column is to bring out the pertinent facts in order to judge better where good sense lies.

ARGUMENT — Many Vietnam critics claim the only thing that counts is for the United States to pull out completely now, certainly far faster than President Nixon is moving. That's easy, isn't it? Why not?

ANSWER — There are two goals, not just one. They are to turn more and more of the fighting over to South Vietnam and to do this in a way and at a pace to bring about serious negotiation and a peaceful settlement of the war. Both are crucial.

If you believe that surrendering the peace in South Vietnam to Hanoi is acceptable, then mass withdrawal, whatever the consequences, is the way to do it.

If you believe that the shape of the peace is vital, then careful, prudent, staged withdrawal is the way to do it.

ARGUMENT — Critics argue that "there can be no fair elections in South Vietnam under the supervision of the South Vietnamese regime."

ANSWER — The free elections proposed by Washington and Saigon would not be under the supervision of the South Vietnamese regime. They would be internationally supervised, and Hanoi has opposed such free elections because it doesn't want international supervision.

ARGUMENT — It is argued that Hanoi and the Viet Cong cannot be assured free elections unless a new "coalition government," including the VC, replaces the present elected government before any new election is held.

ANSWER — If the purpose of Hanoi and the VC in demanding a pre-election coalition is to insure elections fair to all, this condition has already been met.

Presidents Nixon and Thieu have already proposed a "colation commission" on which the NLF and the Saigon government would be equally represented along with international supervisors.

ARGUMENT — It is often argued that the demand of the Communists for participation in the government of South Vietnam prior to elections is a reasonable, innocent precondition to holding elections.

ANSWER — This demand is made to sound innocent and reasonable by not stating what the Communists are really demanding. They are demanding that the elected Thieu government be ousted. They are demanding that the organized non-Communists be removed from office. They are demanding that the Viet Cong through the NLF be allowed to create a new government (without elections) in coalition with unorganized non-Communists who would be without any political structure, without leaders and without any military force.

The objective of such a coalition is a negotiated Communist takeover.

ARGUMENT — It is often argued that the way to get serious peace negotiations moving in Paris is to make more concessions to Hanoi and the VC.

ANSWER — If the critics of careful and staged withdrawal of American troops keep mounting new pressures to force the United States to break every deadlock with new proposals, that is the tactic by which the United States makes all the concessions and the other side none.

The end of that road is to throw away the peace before negotiations are even started.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Old Guard Senators Stiffen End Run Defense

By ROY McGHEE

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A Senate elder interrupted floor debate the other day to sound a note of concern about senators of one committee poking around in the affairs of another committee.

There have been jurisdictional squabbles in the Senate since the very start of the committee system but, generally, they have been of a housekeeping nature, quietly resolved.

What made this incident noteworthy was that the senior member, courtly Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., felt impelled to put the matter on the public record. And the subject was the Selective Service system.

STENNIS IS chairman of one of the most powerful and influential committees of the Senate: armed services.

Last year the Senate passed draft reform legislation to allow the President to fill military manpower needs by a lottery draft if he wished, but the House never acted on the proposal.

Now President Nixon is again asking for congressional authority for a random selection draft system. There are about a dozen bills pending in the Armed Services Committee to reform the draft, but Stennis was tied up for months this year guiding the $20 billion military procurement bill through the Senate.

He has had no time for conscription hearings. He has promised them early next year. But if the House acts first and sends to the Senate a lottery bill, Stennis has promised action.

ENTER SEN. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., impatient for draft reform. He serves on neither the military committee nor the Senate Appropriations Committee but is chairman of a judiciary subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures.

Broadly interpreted, that post gives Kennedy jurisdiction over how the laws of Congress are carried out. He wrote Stennis he planned to investigate the Selective Service.

This was what prompted Stennis to take the subject to the Senate floor. "First, the record should be unmistakably clear that the committee which has jurisdiction over Selective Service legislation is the Committee on Armed Services," he said.

"Second, I would only observe that if caution is not exercised, there could be an erosion of the committee system. I am certain that no one intends this result but I think that all committees and subcommittees must exercise the rule of reason lest there be complete duplication of effort within the committee system."

STENNIS' SPEECH was little noted in news accounts that day. Yet it signaled a stiffening by the Senate elders against youthful incursions against their power that has marked this session of Congress.

Other examples:

—Senate freshmen breaking tradition by making floor speeches and interrogating witnesses at hearings, instead of remaining mute for their first year or two.

—First termers successfully challenging committee chairmen handling legislation on the floor by forcing unwanted and usually liberalizing amendments.

—Young Republicans trying, and almost succeeding, in electing a first termer as floor leader.

COUNTRY PARSON

"Free speech is what folks want to say — not what they want to hear."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

There Are Cops And Cops– Some Good Ones And Bad Ones

This column is about cops and before I begin (not that it will satisfy either the "support your local police" types or the "every cop is a pig" types) let me say I like and support good cops and I don't like or support bad cops.

This is a column about some bad cops. And some good ones.

The last place one would expect a serious police-citizen confrontation is at a '49er football game. The '49ers, Kezar and the fans who go there are so middle class that the only serious violence that is ever done there is that which is done to the fans' livers and the players' egos.

Until last Sunday. Then there was an ugly incident that could have been even uglier. It didn't have to happen, and, in the opinion of many fans at the end of the stadium, it was made ugly by the actions of three San Francisco motorcycle policemen.

WHAT HAPPENED was this: One of those two awful teams on the field somehow kicked a ball through the goal posts. A youth of 11 or 12 caught it, deftly lateraled to a friend across the fence, who broke into an open bleacher run toward the exit. He was blocked and tackled by a helmeted and sun-glassed cop built about like Sam Huff (I'm a Redskin fan). This worthy grabbed the ball from the kid and threw it back to the field (where, incidentally, it was caught by another young man who tossed it back into the stands, but that's not essential to this story).

The burly motorcycle patrolman's action outraged many fans, and many of them who booed and taunted the cop. Then two more of San Francisco's finest (let us hope not) appeared, one brandishing his night stick — that's right, his night stick.

At least two youths were manhandled out of an exit and another was shoved — a plainclothesman who appeared later said he "fell" — down several rows of bleachers.

Sometime during all this, the powder puff game down on the field ended and the three cops (badge numbers 1244, 57 and 413) stood in the bleachers, exchanging taunt for taunt, obscenity for obscenity and yell for yell with fans.

NOW ABOUT some good cops:

First, a California highway patrolman stationed in Marin whose name I unfortunately cannot find out. The other night, this guy was close to quitting time when he saw a young man hitchhiking on the side of Highway 101, which of course is illegal.

He stopped and the kid told him he was a sailor at San Diego, lived in Eureka, his father was on his deathbed, he had lost his wallet at San Francisco International Airport and was trying to hitchhike home because he was out of money.

The patrolman, according to the bus driver who reported it, took the kid into San Rafael, bought him a bus ticket to Eureka and gave him some extra money for food. "The patrolman wouldn't even give the kid his name so he could send the money back," the bus driver said. "He said it was too early for Christmas so he'd just have to chalk it up as his good deed for Halloween."

IN MILL VALLEY, one important factor in cooling things off at Tam High, according to Asst. Principal Henry Marshall, was the cooperation of the Mill Valley Police Department.

Their function has been to unobstrusively keep outsiders from coming in to add to the tension. A top school official says they have been completely cooperative and have done their job "with extreme professionalism."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

More About Miller Fiasco; Supervisors Wade In Tanglefoot

Fusselman

"I am going to run this county and don't you ever forget it."

In spite of the fact that Supervisors Bud Baar, Bill Gnoss and Peter Arrigoni voted to sustain Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell in his contention that Dr. Clyde Miller should not be paid $803 for nine days he overstayed his vacation in England — for which they are to be applauded — the administrator is still coming on strong and getting away with it most of the time.

These are things to wonder you: Bruce (Alan the administrator), Dr. Miller claims, gave him the green light to stay the nine days and attend a conference in England. Now, when Miller put in for a full month's pay, Mike docked him and says that, when he informed Bruce of this, the administrator agreed, then later changed his mind and ordered it paid. The final result was a reversal of his order by the board of supervisors as stated above. But Bruce approved the $92 attendance fee which Dr. Miller allegedly paid. The board, after denying the $803 for the time spent turned around and allowed the payment.

IMMEDIATELY after the closed-door meeting which followed the hearing of the Dr. Miller case (a week ago Tuesday), the board announced," The Board of Supervisors on this date (Sept. 30, 1969) after hearing public testamony and having met in executive session does suspend Dr. Clyde Miller for 30 days with pay, effective immediately."

The I-J report stated that Dr. Miller, talking with a group, said, "They are going to decide whether to fire me."

Neither the board nor the doctor made any reference to the doctor being assigned to any duties during the 30 days. Nevertheless on Oct. 2 Bruce, who it is said wrote the minutes covering the closed meeting, got all excited when the auditor-controller made the point that this would be a gift of public funds and that his constitutional responsibility would not allow the payment. So he claimed that he assigned Dr. Miller to certain duties during the 30-day interval such as working on the budget and plans for mental health and that this was the intent of the board of supervisors. "A temporary change in tasks" said Bruce as he provided supplementary information.

Now comes it another closed session of the supervisors last Tuesday to "clarify" the minutes of Sept. 30. From this meeting emerges the board's statement that Dr. Miller is to be engaged in "non-policy administrative work including the preparation of the budget and related matters."

NOW, ISN'T this cute: Dr. Miller's administrative assistant, Jay J. Shinohara, is in charge of the department during these 30 days and the board has raised his pay from $1,138 a month to $1,385 — an increase of $247. Miller is assisting his assistant with the "budget and related matters" for which he is to receive his usual $2,111 a month.

Now why in all that's reasonable isn't Miller docked $247 for a work he is not doing just as he was docked $803 for the days he was not working while in England, even though Bruce tried to make it appear that he was?

NEWS ITEM — I-J Wed., Oct. 8 — "Marin County Board of Supervisors approved a $3,223,849 County Mental Health Services Budget." — The county will pay about $310,000.

Now that the budget is put to bed, what's for the poor doctor to do now?

BRASILIA: — . . . A place where subterfuge grows like "pot".

Commercials On Cigarettes Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cigarette commercials where references are made to tar and nicotine content should be specific because referring simply to "low" or "less" could create an imprecise picture, says the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC's position was explaned yesterday in a letter to the code authority director for the National Association of Broadcasters.

The letter suggested inaccuracies and imprecise advertising could be avoided if broadcasters provided a "clear and conspicuous disclosure" of the milligrams of tar and nicotine in smoke produced by the advertised cigarette and the same information on the lowest and highest yield domestic cigarettes.

State Farm Leader To Speak At Tomales

The dinner will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the new Tomales High School.

Springs Stilled By 1906 Quake Jolted To Action

SANTA ROSA (AP) — The Kawana Springs, which were plugged by the great 1906 earthquake, are gushing water again, thanks to another tremor.

Before the disastrous quake 63 years ago water from the springs had been used by a resort on the property now owned by Zana Weaver, 82. But there are no plans for resuming that operation despite the flow of fresh water.

Mrs. Barbara Jean Westfall, a housekeeper on the property, noticed the resumption of the springs following a quake a week ago last Wednesday which did damage estimated between $6 and $10 million in this community.

Mrs. Westfall found the springs when she saw fresh water flowing in a usually dry creekbed.

Her husband, John, a caretaker at the property, said yesterday, "I'd say that it's pushing down between 500 and 1,000 gallons a day."

The song, "Dixie," the rallying tune of Confederate soldiers, was written in the North.

Liberian Diplomat Is Liberated Lady

By MORT ROSENBLUM

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Election of Angie Brooks, a Liberian diplomat, as president of the U.N. General Assembly didn't cause much of a stir in her native land.

The feeling was: She's a

ANGIE BROOKS

clever girl and well versed in diplomacy, but what's the fuss? After all, four women were graduated from Liberia College in 1905. Women have had public prominence here ever since Matilda Newport crept up on a loose cannon and dropped embers from her pipe into the ignition hole, scattering a horde of tribesmen about to unsettle Liberia's pioneers in the last century.

THERE ARE women cab-drivers, dentists, policemen, lawyers, government leaders including a senator and four congresswomen, educators, business owners, as well as Miss Brooks.

History can even produce a Susannah Lewis whose team of seamstresses sewed up the horizontal red and white stripes and blue field of the Liberian flag as Betsy Ross did for a remarkably similar banner.

What's amazing, says the collegiate-looking dean of the William V. S. Tubman Institute of Teacher Training, is that women make their mark almost invariably while running a home.

"It is very, very important to be married," Dean Mary Antoinette Brown said. "I doubt if you can find a professional woman that has not been married. Maybe she'll be divorced or widowed, but she will have been married."

WHEN MRS. BROWN'S husband died in 1962 she took her three children to New York so she could add a Cornell University doctorate to her Radcliffe master's.

It has only been in the last 10 or 15 years that American women have found the balance between a career and housewifery, Mrs. Brown says, but Liberian women have always done it.

A system of large families, combined with less expensive servants if necessary, makes it possible.

Most African societies rely heavily on women for work. One market woman in Nigeria who cannot write her name has three girls carry her money to the bank. She can draw a $200,000 letter of credit. But tradition has defined women's limits and the "bride-price" system often has made them too valuable a chattel to waste in school.

IN LIBERIA, independent since 1847, women have had a chance to develop. The original elite came from America as

At World Forestry Congress

By MOLLY MARIN

The Homer J. Hixons have returned from a trip to Sweden. Mr. Hixon represented the United States at an international forestry congress convened at the Royal College of Forestry in Stockholm. After attending sessions of the congress, he and Mrs. Hixon traveled to England and stayed briefly in Washington, D.C. Gladys Hixon returned to Tiburon last Oct. 3. Mr. Hixon, director of Timber Management for the U. S. Forestry Service, will participate in a forestry meeting in Atlanta, Ga. During their stay in Sweden, they particularly enjoyed a boat trip to the Thousand Island Archipelago and an adventurous ride by chair lift to the top of the highest mountain in Sweden at Are.

DR. AND MRS. Frank E. Rossman of Sausalito celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Oct. 4 by going to Mendocino for the weekend, where they first met when she was teaching music and he, athletics and science in the high school. They stayed at the old Mendocino Hotel, which they found still very much the same as it was then. Among the people with whom they renewed acquaintance were some of their former pupils.

NEWLYWEDS, Mr. and Mrs. David Allen Paul, have returned from a wedding trip to Mazatlan, Mexico, and are living in the bride's home in Tiburon. Mrs. Paul is the former Mrs. Bruce H. Keppel.

Sandy Keppel and Paul were married at a small wedding given at the home of close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Billings in Tiburon on Sept. 20, with only family members present.

Sandy is the daughter of Mrs. A. S. Laudermilk of Santa Rosa. She attended St. Catherine's College in St. Paul, Minn., and the University of Minnesota. She is the proprietor of El Borro Restaurant in Tiburon. The bridegroom, a graduate of Oklahoma University, is an engineer and is currently overseeing a project in Redwood City.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Getting A Job Is The Only Way To Fight A Chintzy Husband

DEAR HELEN:

My husband and I went shopping last night. As usual, he headed for the sports department. If I made a move to look at clothes or underwear for me and our baby, he got furious.

It's always like this. He can spend $20 to $50 on sports, but if I need a few dollars for necessary things like shoes, etc., it's "Save it from your grocery money!" I get $25 a week for food and all household bills, and he howls if I scrimp with mixture dishes or hamburger.

It's his money, and I'm supposed to be terribly grateful for any gratuity. When I get sick of doing without and tell him, his temper is something else. He has even got so mad he put his fist through the wall.

He blames me for his ulcers. All I want is things the baby and I need. What to do?—FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUDTRATED:

Why not earn your own money. If you'd rather not work while your baby needs you, then advertise for home jobs. Many young mothers earn $25, $50, even $100 a week ironing, baby-sitting, baking, sewing, right in their own homes. Child care for working mothers is your best bet, and if you offer extra services, such as washing and ironing, you can make it pay pretty well.

At any rate, it's better than fighting with a chintzy husband! —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I direct this note to you and "Not a Fondant Fan" who referred so unkindly to pink and green centered chocolates.

The world has a good many people besides you and Miss Fondant, and a lot of these folks, including myself, search through every candy box eagerly looking for the green and pink creams. The color and the flavor are superb.

I hope your adverse comments won't discourage candy makers to a point where they scratch the pinks and greens, for then I'll stop buying chocolates. — DIXIE

DEAR DIXIE:

I wish one of your breed lived at my house. I get stuck with all the pinks and greens because my family came equipped with X-ray eyes, or maybe ESP, and know how to avoid 'em. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Enclosed is a cloth sample; could you tell me if the stain on it is lipstick? I don't want to accuse my husband unless I'm sure. — SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUS:

Not being a chemist, I have returned your cloth sample with the suggestion that you ask your husband before you cut up any more good shirts. — H.

Stephen Forbes To Wed Miss Wachs

The engagement of their daughter, Deborah, to Stephen Edward Forbes has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wachs of Mill Valley.

Debbie is the sister of Mrs. Alan Nyman, Tom and Rick Wachs, all of Mill Valley and the granddaughter of Mrs. Hyman Rosenthal of San Francisco.

Steve's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Wilfred Forbes of Mill Valley, and his grandmother is Mrs. Edward Forbes of Arlington. His brothers are Dr. Ronald Forbes of Lodi and Michael Forbes of San Francisco.

Both Steve and Debbie were graduated from Tamalpais High School and continued at the University of California at Davis and the College of Marin, respectively.

Steve is a Navy petty officer aboard the USS Oriskany. Deborah is employed at the Homestead School in Mill Valley.

Holidays In Memo Book

Memo date calendar books listing Christian, Jewish and national holidays have been donated to 20 school districts in and near Marin County.

The books are produced by the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith and donated to the schools by TaMar Chapter 1130 of B'nai B'rith Women. The project was initiated three years ago by TaMar's Anti-Defamation League chairman Mrs. Eugene Lee, and carried on by the chairman and co-chairman, Mmes. John Hyams and Gary Rifkind, both of San Rafael.

Individuals may purchase the books at a nominal fee from Mrs. Richard Greenblat of Fairfax, TaMar Chapter president.

The calendars also contain a glossary to define what the various holidays mean.

LIBERIAN LADY

settlers without tribal ties. They set the tone for the rest.

President Tubman got women the vote in 1947 shortly after his first election. It caused a party furor that staggered his position, long since solidified.

"Since then," Tubman recently told one of the many women's organizations, "they have proved that they justly merit the confidence."

Tubman's wife Antoinette heads the legion of women who, by volunteer work, make up virtually all of Liberia's social and welfare services. A gala ball last month netted $45,000.

Mary Fiske, a motherly, convincing woman who is assistant secretary of information and culture and active in church work, has definite views on women's opportunities:

"If you are prepared, nothing will hinder your success."

Prepare For The Baby While You Wait

At one time if a woman was pregnant, the nine-month waiting period was one of leisure — a little knitting, a little walking, a little gossiping. But today, the waiting game is played differently — and a woman should want to know as early as quickly as possible as early and as quickly as possible if she's going to hear the patter of little feet so she can start her pattering around.

Pregnancy sets a lot of things in motion, and the mother-to-be should prepare herself to go at a nice even pace for the full term.

FIRST OF ALL the question of costs springs up. As everything else, having babies costs more now than it did even a few years ago, so a thorough financial review is definitely in order. On a national average the medical expenses involved amount to about $550, which includes both the obstetrical fee (and four post-natal check-ups) and the hospital bill. You should drag out your medical insurance plan contract and read carefully just what is covered, and what length of stay in the hospital and type of accommodations are allowed. Anyone who has full coverage is lucky, but most plans offer only partial payment, so you might want to start a concerted savings program to cover the difference between what the medical expenses will be — and what your insurance plan will take care of.

HOSPITAL rooms and nurses have to be booked in advance. Very often your obstetrician will make the hospital arrangements for you, but it's best to ask him early, especially if you want special rooming in accommodations with your baby. If you want a capable nurse to greet you at the hospital on going home day and give you some blessed relief, aid and comfort during that first hectic week at home, you have to line one up about six months beforehand. Remember that baby nurses, at the whim of mother nature, have to accept far-spaced jobs because even if your doctor promises a Dec. 1 bundle, she will have to free herself two weeks before and two after your expected due date.

The nine-month-waiting-period is the time to choose a pediatrician. If you've already had children, there's no problem, but new mothers will want to find one with whom they have that elusive quality, rapport. Your friends or neighbors will recommend doctors. When you hear of one that sounds right for you make an appointment to meet him during your nine-month wait.

LAYETTE shopping can be a nine-month pleasure, or a last-minute chore. If you're attuned to bargain buying, stock up on the little essentials (only the barest minimum) when the semi-annual sales occur. Little stretch suits and kimonos are regularly marked down; seasonal items like warm sweaters, snow suits, lightweight summery clothes can be real buys if you watch the advertisements and periodically saunter through the baby departments during your nine months.

FURNISHING and decorating a place for the new arrival can be as simple a matter as borrowing a neighbor's crib and dressing table or as involved as financing a home improvement loan to build an additional room. In any case, start this early so you'll have the confidence that when you get home, everything will be completed.

Many women, especially those who are going into a natural childbirth program, will want to sign up and take pre-natal classes. Many hospitals give exercise classes about eight weeks before your due date. In the LaMaze natural childbirth technique, you must sign up with a qualified instructor at least five months in advance though the actual classes are only given the last eight weeks of your pregnancy.

Setting up your diaper arrangements will not take real effort on your part. Professional diaper services will send you literature and use the time of your pregnancy to make a careful comparison of what each service offers, and then decide in favor of one or none if you plan to use your own washing machine and dryer.

The last few restless weeks should be devoted to nothing more strenuous than making telephone arrangements with mother and mother-in-law, visiting with clergymen on special ceremonies connected with the birth of a baby, contacting the printer on your birth announcements, fixing and folding all the pretty little layette items into the baby's dresser and buying the few drug store items you'll be needing.

YOU'LL HAVE to have a small suitcase packed and ready to go for the trip to the hospital. Travel light — a couple of nightgowns, some cologne, a light bathrobe and a good book: one of the many good books on baby care available might make good hospital reading. And remember you're packing for two: the newcomer will need a sweater, hat, undershirt and receiving blanket for the trip home.

There's no getting away from the fact that the nine-months you wait can be very hectic ones, and that's why it's so important to know as soon as possible whether you are or are not pregnant. Not so long ago, it took many weeks, often months of missed periods, pelvic examinations, time consuming lab tests to determine for sure whether you were or were not "in the family way" as they used to euphemistically call it. Today things are very different.

Doctors now can employ an immunological slide test, which provides results in only two minutes. Performed either by a medical laboratory or by the physician in his ofice, this simple technique affords a 99 per cent accurate diagnosis as early as 13 days after the first missed period. The patient and the doctor know the results immediately and both can begin to plan accordingly —the doctor to set you up on a good-health-proper-diet-vitamin-laden program—and you to start on your preparations.

Mrs. B. Sprunner of Richmond.

After a noon luncheon Mrs. Sprunner will install the following officers Mmes. Deneige Murphy, president; Mary Courtney, senior vice president; Anita Munter, junior vice president; Corbett Cowan, financial secretary; and Cornelius Burns, treasurer.

Others are Mmes. Joseph Codoni, recording secretary; Carl O'Brien, corresponding secretary; Carl Bettinger, marshal; and Otto Maysenhalder, guard. The executive board members are Mrs. George Morin, Mrs. John Sanoni and Mrs. Helen Fitzpatrick.

THREE BELVEDERE women are among the sponsors for the antique show and sale of the League for Service of the Episcopal Church of St. Matthew in San Mateo. Participants are Mmes. John Hoefer, Robert Bahnall and John H. Flint. The event will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the church hall.

EARLY SUBSCRIBERS to the San Francisco Sponsors dinner dance to be held Nov. 13 at the Corinthian Yacht Club will not only receive Blue Chip Stamps for the amount of their tickets, they will also be the guests of the Lamplighters, this year's beneficiary drama group, at the preview performance of "The Mikado," Wednesday at Presentation Theater in San Francisco.

Chairmen are Jules Levaggi of San Francisco and the Rev. and Mrs. Angus Dun Jr. of Greenbrae.

THE JOHN Reed P-TA, Rohnert Park, is holding a carnival tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the school grounds. The P-TA membership drive for the school begins Wednesday.

"NOVATO DRUG scene: RX For Parents and Teachers" is the title of the panel discussion to be presented at 8 p.m., Tuesday, at Hill Junior High School in Novato by the Hill Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association.

Participants will be Marin County District Attorney Bruce Bales, John Crowley, pharmacist, Donna Poninski, school psychologist and the Rev. James Purcell.

Arrangements have been made for an extensive display of material dealing with specific areas of drug use and abuse, according to P-TA president, Mrs. Howard Crabtree.

The program is the first in a series dealing with problems faced by parents of Novato teen-agers.

"FALL FESTIVAL" is the theme for the annual Halloween carnival to be held at Cotati School tomorrow from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on the school grounds.

According to Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, chairman, the carnival will feature candy-striped game booths provided by fun enterprises as well as the usual cakewalk, fish pond and Mr. Pick Pockets.

Hot dogs, beans, salad and soft drinks will be available for lunch.

A FOUR part seminar series on World Jewry In Crisis, sponsored by the Marin County Women's Division of the Jewish Welfare Federation, begins Tuesday.

Henry Silver, assistant director of the Jewish Community Relations Council, will moderate. Topics covered will be Oct. 14, Israel's Survival; Oct. 21, The Black Community; Oct. 28, Urban Crisis; Nov. 4, Soviet Jewry.

All meetings will be held from 10 a.m. to noon at the San Rafael home of Mrs. Philip Flax. Mrs. Stephen Barker of Belvedere is reservations chairman. Mmes. Fred Kanter of San Rafael and Leland Mosk of Kentfield, members of the education committee of the women's division, are education co-chairmen for Marin.

THE SAUSALITO Woman's Club will start classes in creative stitchery on Tuesday under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard E. Cruikshank.

Limited to 25 members and guests, classes will meet for six Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Teachers are Mrs. Janet Van Edera and Marge Krijek, who have won two popularity awards at the de Young Museum in San Francisco as well as many others.

THE SAN Jose Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association will hold open house at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, in the multi-purpose room of the school in Novato.

William Welch, principal, will discuss the curriculum and Mrs. Arnold Baptiste, president, will introduce the appointive chairmen of the P-TA.

The Rev. Stanley Gjervik is the spiritual adviser and chairmen are Mmes. Willis Spitzer, founders day and honorary life; Max Settlemyre, membership; Gordon Walker, student activities; Douglas Maloney, ways and means; James Cermak, program; Edward Schulman and Edward Moews, recreation; Woodrow Robarge, health and safety; Joseph Hoag and Jerry Domilise, phone committee; Ray Sisk, hospitality; Victor Udaloff, newsletter; and Officer Ted Hughes, juvenile protection.

Mrs. Richard Garner is the newly elected secretary.

American Singer Is Star Of Vienna Light Opera Company

By ALINE MOSBY

VIENNA (UPI)—It's hard enough for any foreigner to make it in another country, but when you're also a girl, and alone, and a Negro at that.

Miss Olive Moorefield, who landed in Europe fresh from student days in Pittsburgh, Pa., not only made it but today is the toast, if not apple strudel of Vienna.

In a city bursting with talented serious singers, she is a star of the Vienna Volksoper Light Opera Company, and is popular in operettas, musical comedy, radio, records, television and films throughout Austria and Germany.

ONE NIGHT THE singer's throat was scratchy at the Volksoper and the usual call was made for "is there-a-doctor-in-the house."

The doctor not only treated her, but he married her. Now the pretty girl from Pittsburgh is also Frau Kurt Macht, the mistress of a luxurious Viennese apartment in the shadow of the once royal Schwartzenburg palace.

"And when I came to Europe in 1952 I had no intention of making my life over here," said Miss Moorefield in her richly-decorated home.

"I THOUGHT I would stay about one year and then go home."

After her first Broadway musical folded, Miss Moorefield won a job singing American folk songs and Negro spirituals for the U.S. Information Service as public relations for the United States in then occupied Austria.

"At that time in New York the opportunity for Negroes to perform in the classical music field was limited," she said. "But here it was paradise. I could study singing, for around a dollar a lesson. After the Vienna Opera reopened I went to the opera every night, for 25 or 50 cents.

"The USIS opened a theater in Vienna that became the embryo of the American musical in Europe. I did "Carousel" and "Showboat" and I became such a wild success that it led to auditions at the Vienna Volksoper."

AFTER THE four-power occupation ended, Miss Moorefield made her debut at the Volksoper in 1956, singing "Kiss Me Kate" in German. It was the biggest success the light opera house had, she proudly recalled.

Miss Moorefield went on to films, records and singing tours in Austria and Germany. A fluent German speaker, she became one of the first television stars in Germany in 1962. On European television, she starred in a straight drama, "Requiem for a Nun."

Her 1969-70 season includes "Porgy and Bess" and Offenbach and Brecht operas in Vienna, at the Bonn State Opera and Munich Opera in West Germany and on Rome radio. She also will do a dramatic role in a non-musical at the Hamburg Theater in Germany.

Judith Monson Is Wed To Craig Anderson

Judith Monson became the bride of Craig Anderson Saturday in a ceremony at Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church.

Margaret Nicolai of San Anselmo was maid of honor, and Pat Ferguson of San Rafael was best man. Tony Dallara of San Rafael ushered.

A reception was held at the Fairfax home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myrle Monson.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. Mrs. Amy Norton of Fairfax is her grandmother, and she is the sister of Mrs. J. Oren Wikle of Pocatella, Idaho.

Craig is the son of Mrs. George Anderson of San Rafael and the late Mr. Anderson. He is a graduate of Terra Lina High School, attended College of Marin and is employed by J and B Ford in Corte Madera. Susan Anderson of San Rafael is his sister, and his local grandmother is Mrs. Carrie Cannifax of San Rafael.

The couple are living in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Yosemite.

Refrigerators

A survey by a manufacturer of plastic containers shows that the typical refrigerator is such a colossal mess that as much as 50 per cent of usable space goes to waste. Even worse, good food spoils by getting lost or forgotten in the confusion. What homemaker exists who fails to find on cleaning her refrigerator a collection of biological surprises, as a result?

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"I had to pay a big hospital bill for that cousin of Harriet's — I used a three-syllable word in his presence and his brain shorted out."

Well-To-Do May Need Social Work As Well As Poor

Medical social work should not be limited to the poor, according to the Women's Medical News Service.

Well-to-do patients and doctors need it too, says Dr. W. Grayburn Davis of the Denver Clinic. The affluent require it because they can be emotionally prostrated by a serious illness as anyone else and doctors because competent social work can relieve them of much of the burden of helping patients and their families to adjust to new, troubling situations.

"Faced for the first time in his life by a life-threatening or mutilating illness, even a highly successful and heretofore brilliantly self-directed individual can urgently need help beyond the medical care provided by his physician," Dr. Davis points out.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The guide explains policies of coverage, how to prepare news stories and meeting notices, and the special stories and features emphasized by the section.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Film Festival Will Feature Young American Moviemakers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Film Festival will serve up its usual international menu of feature films this season, but the rest of the time will be dominated by young American moviemakers.

The festival opens the night of Wednesday, Oct. 22, with a big studio U.S. film premier before a black-tie audience. Director Stanley Kramer and stars Anthony Quinn and Virni Lisi will attend when "The Secret of Santa Vittoria" is shown.

The full schedule of the 11-day festival was announced yesterday by officials.

In addition to the nightly programs through Nov. 2, there will be afternoon tributes to a variety of film-makers.

Included in a Friday, Oct. 31 tribute to Mike Nichols will be the first public showing of a portion of his eagerly awaited "Catch 22," the filming of the Joseph Heller blackly humerous novel.

There will be a "new directors" series, including the works and appearance of such diverse talents as Haskell Wexler ("Medium Cool"), Gordon Parks ("The Learning Tree"), MacGregor Douglas "Whiskey Flats" and Susan Sontag ("Duet For Cannibals").

Other more established names in the business who will be honored will include John Schlesinger, Sidney Lumet, Frank Petty, Milos Forman, actress Bette Davis and the late Russian director Alexander Dovzhenko, whose window will attend.

The schedule of features following opening night:

Oct. 23 — "Everything for Sale," (Poland) directed by Andrzej Wajda; L'Horizon (French).

Oct. 24 — "Horoscope" Yugoslavia, "More" U.S. directed by Barbet Schroeder.

Oct. 25 — "The Adventures of Goopy and Bagha," India directed by Satyajit Ray; "Z," (France) directed by Costa-Gavras.

Oct. 26 — "Antonio das Mores," (Brazil) directed by Glauber Rochat; "Lions Love," (U.S.) directed by Agnes Varda.

Oct. 27 — "Goto, L'Ile d'Amour," (France); "The Honeycomb," international picture directed by Carlos Saura.

Oct. 28 — "The Red and the White," Hungary directed by Miklos Jansco; "The Deserters and the Nomads," Czechoslovakia.

Oct. 29 — "Hunting Scenes from Bavaria," (Germany); "Boy," (Japan).

Oct. 30 — "Monsieur Hawarden," Netherlands-Belgium; "Death of a Jew," Isreal.

Oct. 31 — "The Bofors Gun," England; "A Nest of Gentry," (USSR).

Nov. 1 — "Ma Nuit Chez Maud," France; "Adalen 31;" (Sweden) directed by Bo Wilderberg.

Nov. 2 — "The Money Order," (Senegal); "Sympathy for the Devil," (France) directed by Jean-Luc Godard.

Next Year's Plays Chosen For Festival

Productions of "The Tempest," "Henry V," and "As You Like It" have been scheduled for the 10th annual Marin Shakespeare Festival to be presented in San Rafael next year.

More than 15,000 persons attended the recently completed 1969 festival season given at Forest Meadows on the Dominican College campus, directors announced yesterday.

Pottery Display Set

Slab pots, urns, bowls, bottles, and platters by Corte Madera potter Eric Norstad will be exhibited from Tuesday through Nov. 4 at Gallery III in the Marin Co-operative Center, 69 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Maders.

Governor's Talk Gets Crowded Out

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A scheduling complication will prevent Gov. Ronald Reagan from addressing the annual Governor's Traffic Safety Conference in Sacramento next week, Reagan's office acknowledged today.

Paul Beck, Reagan's press secretary, said the governor had planned to deliver opening remarks to the conference as he normally does.

He previously had been scheduled to go to Los Angeles to speak to a fund-raising dinner on behalf of Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., Wednesday night.

Then he would have flown to Sacramento and kicked off the conference the next morning.

But it turned out that Reagan would have to go back to Los Angeles Thursday for a meeting of the University of California regents Thursday and Friday, Beck said.

"So it just wouldn't work into the schedule . . . There's just no way he could work it in," Beck said.

The press aide denied any implication that Reagan was putting political chores ahead of his obligation to the state's traffic safety program.

Beck said he didn't think there should be any criticism of the governor, "not if you look at our record in the field of traffic safety and what we've tried to do."

Reagan is scheduled to address a fund-raising dinner in Washington D.C. Tuesday night to benefit a proposed Eisenhower College to be built in honor of the late general and president. He flies directly to Los Angeles on Wednesday from Washington.

Verne Orr, director of the State Motor Vehicles Department, said the main address would be given by Dr. William Haddon Jr., president of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety Bureau in the U.S. Department of Transportation.

In Mexican cities mail is delivered on Sundays and holidays as well as on weekdays.

School buses are not operated in Russia.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the film report of the Film Estimate Board unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY:

"Camelot" — Humor and depth make this lavish screen version of a Broadway musical impressive. Superb songs and music. Love affair delicately portrayed.

"My Side of the Mountain" — The adventures and experiences of a 13-year-old boy who tries to prove he can live alone in the wilderness of Quebec. Excellent script, artistically and sensitively directed.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Barefoot in the Park" — Spicy, well directed situation comedy about a pair of newlyweds. Dialogue is clever and cast delightful.

"Bullitt" — Melodrama involves gangsters, police and an ambitious politician. Violence goes all-out in blood and gore for its shock effect.

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" — With script based on reputedly true story of two bandits, this western is almost farcical in tone and documentary in presentation. The outlaws take their trade to Bolivia with mixed results. Good dialogue, fine music.

"Lion in Winter" — Rich, explosive drama that makes brilliant reality out of history. Excellent production.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Southern Star" — Based on a novel by Jules Verne this complicated but trite melodrama is set in Africa where the world's largest diamond disappears at a party. The chase throught the beautiful wilds is rather routine.

"True Grit" — Amusing satiric western about a determined 14-year-old girl's attempt to track down her father's murderer. Violence and rough language an integral part of story. Grandeur of scenery is memorable.

BORDERLINE:
(Most sources say Adults only)

"Bonnie and Clyde" — Young man teams with pretty waitress on a grand crime spree. Treating armed robbery and cold-blooded murder as comedy will offend some viewers. Sadistic violence and explicit sex shown.

ADULTS ONLY:

"Belle de Jour" — French film about a beautiful woman who leads two lives, one at home with her husband and one in a brothel.

"Castle Keep" — The eve of Battle of the Bulge eight walking wounded Americans occupy an ancient, treasure-filled Belgian castle directly in the path of the offensive. War satire fraught with symbolism, dark humor and graphically bawdy talk.

"Goodbye Columbus" — A rich and spoiled college-age girls' summer love affair with a young man who is not ready for commitment and their dispute about using contraceptives and their choice of values make a very frank and sophisticated film. Acting and photography good.

"Joanna" — This British "La Dolce Vita" describes a world in which personal license is completely accepted, then urges that life has a meaning beyond self gratification. A startlingly bold film.

"Last Summer" — A thought-provoking drama about growing up, stuns as it moves from youthful activity to depravity with a frightening combination of innocence, thwarted sex drives and destructive impulses in the skillful interplay of these groping, growing personalities.

"Man and A Woman" — A minor masterpiece of mood photography. A tender love story of two people who have known sorrow. Love scenes frankly presented.

"Staircase" — A sad, compassionate yet sordid study of the tragedy of two aging homosexual barbers who fight and bicker, yet are utterly dependent on each other after 30 years of living together. Settings are as bleak and ugly as the story.

More than 200,000 American troops are stationed in West Germany.

NEWSPAPERS PUT THE WORLD IN FOCUS

SPEED

Speed — methamphetamine — is a very dangerous drug. Widespread abuse of the amphetamines is destroying more young minds in California than any other drug.

Drastic effects

A "speed binge" is one of the most physically and psychologically damaging experiences anyone can have. Overactivation of the nervous system is folowed by acute depression and exhaustion. Impurities in the drug can kill.

Widely available

Speed is obtained from black market dealers. Often it is of poor quality. Contamination is frequent and produces injurious side effects, such as abscesses, blood poisoning and serum hepatitis from dirty needles.

What to do

According to volunteer clinical teams which include former drug users, there are three basic steps in coping with this dangerous drug situation:

First: Get the facts.
Second: Make a stand based on clinical evidence.
Third: Involve yourself, if the trend is to be reversed.

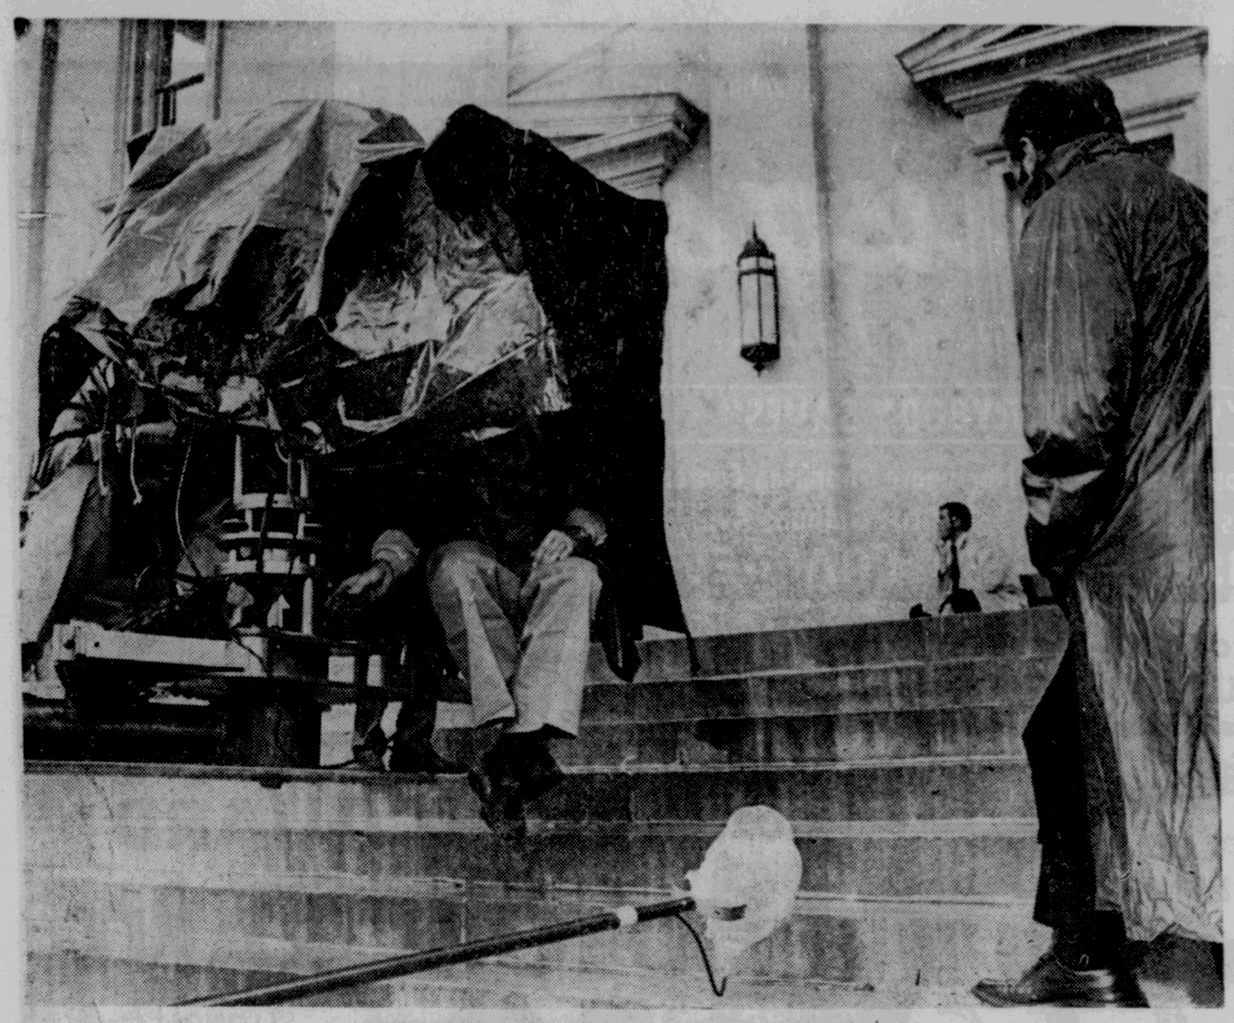
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1969 — 23



RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY

Today's drizzle failed to dampen the determination of this camera crew to continue filming "Doug Selby, D.A." at the Marin County Courthouse in San Rafael. Huddled under plastic covers, they may not see what's going on, but the camera will. Rainfall varied from .10 of an inch in Tamalpais Valley to a thick mist in Petaluma. In between were Sausalito with .08 of an inch; Woodacre, .07; Terra Linda and San Rafael, .05; Bolinas, .04 and Mill Valley, .03. The weatherman predicted it would clear tomorrow. Lucky Drive Corte Madera Annex Liked

Homes along Lucky Drive in Greenbrae should annex to the Town of Corte Madera if they want service from the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

This was the unanimous decision of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night at the Civic Center.

On a motion by Peter Arrigoni Jr. and a second by Jan Paul Dyk, commissioners approved annexation of 15 acres along Lucky Drive to the sanitary district on condition that they annex to Corte Madera.

The area includes 27 parcels along the south bank of Corte Madera Creek. David Jordan of 22 Lucky Drive, representing residents, argued that they should be allowed to join the sanitary district without being forced to join the town.

John F. Barrows, executive officer, recommended approval of the annexation to the sanitary district on condition that the area join either Corte Madera or Larkspur. Mayor Neil R. Brixon of Larkspur said his city has no interest in taking over the Lucky Drive parcel.

The Local Agency Formation Commission also:

DILLON'S BEACH — Set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Oct. 23 at the Civic Center to discuss Benjamin P. Bonelli's request for annexation of Oceana Marin and Dillon's Beach subdivisions to the North Marin County Water District.

HANNSON ANNEX — Approved the annexation of Victor Z. Hanson's property at 5 Las Huertas Court and seven other properties in East San Rafael to the San Rafael Sanitation District on condition that they annex to the City of San Rafael.

NOVATO BOULEVARD — Approved the annexation of a 1.66-acre lot on Novato Boulevard just west of McClay Road to the Novato Sanitary District.

SAN MARIN — Approved the annexation of the country portion of San Marin Drive to the City of Novato so that all of San Marin Drive can get road maintenance from the city.

CHAIRMAN — Reelected by unanimous vote Hugh G. Marchant as chairman for another year.

Gate Span Directors Lash Fellow Members' Truancy

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors, irritated by the persistent absences of at least three of their members, today proposed fining them unless they start showing up at the twice-a-month board meetings.

The issue was raised by Director John E. Dearman, of San Francisco, who ironically was appointed by the same men who are most often absent. The three are San Francisco Supervisors William C. Blake, Ronald Pelosi andr Peter Tamaras.

Dearman, who later told newsmen his remarks were aimed at all 18 directors, said directors who miss meetings "just don't know what's going on."

The district's attorney, Jerome B. White, noted that the board had no power to fire any director since all of them are appointed by other governing bodies. But he said a fine certainly was within the power of the board.

The board however, temporarily postponed imposing fines after President William Moskovitz said he would talk to the primary offenders.

Blake has missed eight of the last nine board meetings. Pelosi has missed the last 11 meetings and Tamaras has nissed seven of the last eight meetings.

In other business the board approved a request by Director Stephen C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco that a junket be made by district officials to Tacoma, Wash., to inspect a new ferryboat. Leonoudakis, Moskovitz, Director Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley and Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring will make the trip on Monday.

The new boat, which Leonoudakis said used the "latest technology," is 160 feet long and can carry 750 passengers at a speed of 25 knots.

It is powered by four 1,175 horsepower gas turbines and draws only six feet. Construction time is only nine months.

The ship is under construction for the Catalina Island service in Southern California, and may be available next month for a brief visit to the Bay Area, Leonoudakis said.

Leonoudakis estimated the cost of the boat, outfitted for commuted service, at $1.2 million to $1.5 million.

Mother Of Marinites, Husband Found Dead

I-J Special Report

SANTA BARBARA — Elizabeth Dakin Erdman, 65, mother of two Marin County men, was shot to death yesterday in her Montecito mansion by the husband she had divorced the day before.

Mrs. Erdman was the mother of Dr. Richard L. Dakin of Greenbrae, plastic surgeon and president of the Marin Museum Association and John Dakin of Kentfield, a San Francisco stockbroker.

Her body was found at 8 a.m. yesterday by a maid who had entered her room to answer a ringing telephone.

Police reported she had been shot in the head by her ex-husband, C. Pardee Erdman, while she slept.

The body of Erdman, 76, wealthy commodities broker, Presbyterian minister and former professor of religion, was found at the bottom of the swimming pool. He had shot himself through the mouth with a .32-caliber pistol found on a path near the pool, police said.

Mrs. Erdman had planned to return to San Francisco yesterday.

Yesterday would have been the Erdmans sixth wedding anniversary. It was the fourth marriage for Erdman and the second for his wife.

Mrs. Erdman was formerly married to John I. Dakin, senior partner of J. Barth and Co., who died in 1962.

Her brother-in-law, Richard Dakin, his wife and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Dakin and four of their children, all of Tiburon, were killed in the crash of a private plane in Baja California in December of 1966.

Idaho Crash Kills Marin Motorist

MARSING, Idaho — A 55-year-old San Rafael man was killed yesterday in a five-car pileup two miles southwest of Marsing, Idaho State Police said today.

The victim was Lewis Staunch of 108 Trellis Drive. He was alone in his car, according to police.

Staunch's car smashed into the back of a logging truck and was struck from behind by a freight truck. A pickup truck pulling a camper then struck the freight truck and a car smashed into the camper, police said.

Four Nabbed In Southern Heights Raid

Narcotics agents and police yesterday found about $2,000 worth of "high quality" Mexican marijuana in a communal residence in the San Rafael hills which they raided after seeing a large pot plant outside.

Four young persons living at 82 Southern Heights Boulevard were arrested on various drug charges, and agents said they "seemed to be pretty big dealers."

Booked into Marin County jail on charges of possessing marijuana for sale were Lawrence David Johnson and Patricia Maryann O'Neill, both 22. They were held for a court appearance today in lieu of $1,875 bail.

Charged with cultivation of marijuana were Catherine Ann Beard, 19, and John Thomas Dervin, 22. They were released on their own recognizance to appear in Marin Municipal Court today. All except Dervin, who told jailers he lived at Gate 5, near Sausalito, gave the Southern Heights Boulevard address.

Agents said that after noticing a "very large marijuana plant" growing near the house, they obtained a search warrant. "We found more than we expected," they added.

Seized in the search were two kilos of the weed in large bags, 19 lids apparently packaged for sale and a number of plants being grown in buckets.

Agents said the young people each had separate bedrooms and the various charges were made because of where the marijuana was found.

Forgetful Bandit

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. (UPI)—A bandit held up a dairy store for about $75, then leaped into a car with three other men. Police later found the getaway car abandoned. They also found a brown paper bag with the stolen money still inside.

10-Year High School Hopes Ride On Ballot

Voters in the 286-square-mile area that encompasses the Petaluma High School District will be asked on Tuesday to approve a $12.7 million bond and loan election to finance a 10-year building program.

Polls in Petaluma, Rohnert Park, Cotati and rural areas will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the voting. Two propositions will appear on the ballot to seek approval of sale of $3.6 million in bonds and $9.1 million in state loans.

A portion of the funds would be used immediately to build additions to Petaluma Senior High School which already has 400 students over its rated capacity, and for other crowded schools.

A portion of the funds would also be used in the near future to buy sites for future schools before it is too late to reserve land in areas of rapid growth.

On a long range basis, a major portion of the funds would be used to build a junior high school in the Rohnert Park-Cotati area, and a junior high and senior high school on the east side of Petaluma as well as to buy furnishing and equipment.

Supervisor George T. de Long of Petaluma, chairman of the citizen's advisory committee on the bond election, has been speaking to large organizations and small coffee gatherings organized by parent-teacher associations.

"I try to impress the fact on them that approval of this bond issue will not increase taxes," De Long said. "The last bonds were approved in 1959 and passage of this issue would merely extend the payments."

"Whether this bond election passes or fails, the taxes we contribute to the state building fund will be the same, but we wouldn't be getting benefits from it if the issue fails," De Long said. Taxes for the state building fund are at a maximum rate of 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

De Long has also been reminding voters that both propositions on the ballot must be approved.

"It wouldn't do any good to approve just the bonds and not the state loans because bonds would not be a large enough amount to do the task," he said. "Conversely, the state would not approve the loans if the district were not bonded to its capacity"

De Long said that the high school district is proportionately the fastest growing district in the state. "We have to start right this second and plan for numbers of people that no one has ever dreamed of," he said.

No arguments against the bond election were submitted for inclusion on the sample ballot.

THE RUSSIANS ARE COMING—WITH WATER

Novato residents who have thought that their water had a bad taste lately, were right.

Eugene Churchill, manager of the North Marin County Water District today reported that the bad taste was traced to Stafford Lake. The district switched entirely over to Russian River water, he said.

The water should steadily improve as Russian River water gets through all of the mains, he said.

The district will continue to use the Russian River water until it finds the cause of the bad taste in Stafford Lake water.

Terra Linda Pool Closing Is Due Soon

The Terra Linda Recreation Center pool may close this weekend if the weather is bad, and will close definitely next Wednesday, the recreation and park district directors announced last night.

Gen. Mgr. Zonwice Mulhaupt announced that the Halloween parade and program for children will be held at the center on the afternoon of Oct. 31.

Free bowling lessons for women will start Oct. 24, at 10 a.m. at Nave Lanes, Ignacio. Nursery care will be provided for children during the lessons, said Mrs. Mulhaupt.

The directors, headed by John A. Colistra, received reports of other activities, and a listing of vandalism during the month of September. Mrs. Mulhaupt said three fires were set in garbage cans during September.

Most Will Bypass Extra Holiday For Columbus Day

Columbus Day, long a well-established holiday, this year will receive only scattered observance Monday in Marin and Southern Sonoma, partly because the day actually falls on Sunday and partly because of a growing tendency to give off the day after Thanksgiving.

Stores will be open, as will banks and post offices in both counties. Parking meters will have to be fed.

Marin and Sonoma courts will be closed. Sonoma County offices will be closed, but Marin County offices will be open.

City offices of Belvedere, Corte Madera, Mill Valley, Rohnert Park, San Anselmo and Tiburon will be closed.

City offices of Cotati, Fairfax, Larkspur, Novato, Petaluma, Ross, San Rafael and Sausalito will be open.

College of Marin will be open but Sonoma State College will be closed.

High shools and elementary schools in Marin and Sonoma will be open.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

Water Safety Booklet Backed

Bel Marin Keys Community Services District Board last night voted to donate $25 toward the printing and distribution of a water safety booklet to all residents of the area, if it is matched by the Bel Marin Keys Yacht Club and homeowners association.

The booklet was written by Anthony Sarganis and Werner Eisen of Bel Marin Keys. It takes in all aspects of water safety from fishing through swimming and boating.

The board also asked the Marin County Board of supervisors to appoint Benjamin F. Kump and Carl W. Wandt to the board. They are running unopposed for two positions on the board and their appointment would avoid the expense of an election.

Edward Vaughn Again Sent To Death Row

Edward Vaugh, sentenced to death for assaulting a correctional officer at Folsom Prison in 1967, has been returned to Death Row at San Quentin after receiving another death penalty at a new trial, prison officials today announced.

Vaughn, who was serving a life sentence for homicide when he attacked the officer, was again given the death penalty by State Superior Court Judge William M. Gallagher. Vaughn will appeal the decision.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

No Definite Proof Uncovered On Resistance To Cold Catching

The average person gets two to three colds a year. We do not know why some have more, others fewer.

There is no definite proof that resistance is influenced by chilling, wet feet, loss of sleep, overwork, improper diet, or vitamin deficiencies. Yet these factors cannot be totally disclaimed.

VAN DELLEN

THERE IS NO DOUBT that some individuals develop respiratory infections when fatigued or chilled. But have they kept a record of how often they did not catch cold in the same circumstances?

Most physicians do not believe that these factors play a role unless the infective agent is present. When colds are rife wear your rubbers, get plenty of sleep, and eat sensibly. These measures should deter the culprits responsible for the common cold.

WOMEN ACQUIRE colds more frequently than men; children are bothered most. Mother may brag about the health of her firstborn until he enters kindergarten, where he is exposed for the first time. The baby of the family is always sniffling because his older sister or brother brings the germs home.

Studies show that susceptibility to colds varied in women with the time of the menstrual cycle. These bouts were more prevalent during the few days before and after the onset of the period. Chilling was a prerequisite and congestion of the nose and other tissues during the height of the cycle may play a role.

WHY DO SO MANY children get fewer colds after the tonsils and adenoids are removed? The improvement may be due to timing.

These youngsters are passing from a period of life in which colds are frequent to one in which the incidence decreases. This is the same age when tonsils and adenoids usually are taken out and the good results may be coincidental.

The exception occurs when tissues harboring the causative agents are eliminated. Allergy also encourages colds.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

HIATUS HERNIA

A. B. R. writes: My doctor tells me that I have a hernia. X-rays show that the upper part of the stomach has pushed its way through the diaphragm and is in the chest. He says surgery is not necessary. Are there any additional recommendations?

REPLY

Eat bland foods, sleep in a semi-recumbent position, and use belladonna after meals. Violent coughing, straining, and tight garments around the abdomen should be avoided because they aggravate hiatus hernia.

INFLAMMATION AFTER SURGERY

M. B. writes: What causes peritonitis after an abdominal operation?

REPLY

The most common cause is the disease for which the operation was performed. If the person had an appendectomy, for example, there is a good possibility that the surgeon found that the appendix had ruptured prior to surgery and pus had escaped into the abdominal cavity.

'CRACKING' DAMAGED KNUCKLES

D. H. writes: If the knuckles are swollen because the person "cracks" them, will they go back to normal if the habit is stopped?

REPLY

Yes, provided the damage is not permanent.

FLOOR PACERS

R. R. F. writes: Does pacing the floor have any exercise value?

REPLY

Yes — same as walking.

Today's Health Hint — Workers should wear protective goggles and safety shoes when needed.

Little Green Book Is Hot Malaysian Seller

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's little green book, which blames Chinese Communists and opposition parties for Malaysia's woes, has kicked up a flurry of controversy and is fast becoming a best-seller.

Critics say the book, titled "May 13—Before and After," is false, tedious and unnecessary. But its publishers say 10,000 copies have been sold since it went on sale last week and that 50,000 have been ordered in English alone. It is to be printed also in Malay, Chinese and Tamil, and Indian dialect.

The book says processions by opposition parties celebrating gains in the May 10 elections sparked the May 13 race riots that lasted a week and caused the deaths of an estimated 1,200 persons. It also says all opposition parties have been influenced by the Communists.

TARGET HITS BACK

The president of the Malaysian People's party, which was singled out by the Rahman for heavy attack, charged the 66-year-old prime minister with "political immaturity or political senility." Prof. Syed Hussein Alatas challenged the Rahman now en route to the United Nations in New York, to ban the party and to arrest its leaders if he believes his own charges.

Dr. Chen Man-hin, president of the left-wing Democratic Action party, also denied that his party's demonstrations helped touch off the Malay-Chinese rioting and challenged Rahman to prove otherwise.

PRO-PEKING PLOT

Rahman levels most of the blame for the riots and the political problems that followed them on an alleged conspiracy of young Communists who owe their allegiance to Peking.

He said these youths, "fanatically Chinese in outlook," can be found in all opposition parties. He said they and the "ambitious and articulate" Chinese in the nation's universities do not accept the doctrine of Malay political dominance and have no faith in the faltering Malaysian Chinese Association, the Chinese branch of the ruling tripartite alliance.

Criticism of the 207-page book has swept Kuala Lumpur since large excerpts began appearing in local newspapers last Wednesday, but not even the most severe critics have implied that Rohman knowingly lied.

OUT OF TOUCH?

"He blames everything on the Communists because he believes they are responsible," said a member of the younger element within the ruling United Malay National Organization, which seeks an end to Rahman's leadership. The spokesman said his sector of the party does not doubt Rahman's sincerity but ascribes his behavior to naivite and to being out of touch with current Malay, as well as Chinese, thinking.

Kaiser Aluminum Profits Rocket

OAKLAND (UPI) Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp., which raised aluminum prices Monday, has announced today third-quarter earnings were up 21 per cent this year.

The earnings amounted to $12,507,000, or 67 cents a common share, on sales of $222,392,000, Kaiser said.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30 Kaiser reported earnings of $42,548,000 or $2.31 a share and sales of $702,883,000.

President T.J. Ready Jr. said the third quarter results were "largely attributable to a high level of aluminum shipments combined with improving prices for aluminum products."

Kaiser raised the price of primary aluminum ingot $20 a ton Monday, citing "an aluminum price level that has consistently failed to keep pace with rising costs. . ."

No Authorization

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Wednesday that the Marin County Board of Supervisors had authorized hiring a consultant on alternate plans for the Corte Madera Creek flood control project through the entire Town of Ross. The study applies only to the portion of the creek from a point just below the Lagunitas Road bridge northward.

Teen Club Alters Rules, Votes Slate

Teen-agers participating in the Petaluma Recreation Department's Roost Club have elected new officers and directors and voted to allow girls to wear slacks to its weekly dances.

New officers chosen were Steve Hing, president; Charmaine Pao vice president; Mary Twieg, secretary and Mary Ann Corda, treasurer.

Named directors were Paul Peterson, Kim Johnson, Bill Barboni, Terra McKenna and Chuck Barbera.

In reviewing rules for the weekly Roost Club dances at the Kenilworth recreation center, the teen-agers voted that girls may wear presentable slacks or capris, but decided that a sign should be posted warning that the group reserves the right to refuse admittance to anyone who is not properly dressed.

Entertaining at the dance at 8 p.m. today will be Tom Altenreuther and the Cultural Complex.

Accused Soldier Denies Charge

Robert Harvey Grimmer, 21, an AWOL soldier from the Presidio of San rancisco pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of marijuana possession, having an open container of liquor in his car and resisting arrest.

A preliminary hearing was set for next Thursday.

Grimmer was arrested Wednesday after his car was observed speeding on Highway 101.

Cross Now

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A local newspaper commentator says "the prophets of gloom forecast that by 1973 there will be so many cars on Johannesburg's streets that pedestrians who want to cross over are advised to do so now."

SUMMONS ON CROSS COMPLAINT TO QUIET TITLE TO REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY
(C.C.P. 738)
No. 53391

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin.

EDWARD WINSMERE JONES, SR., Plaintiff
vs.
MERLE D. ECKHARD, as Executrix of the Will and Estate of Ora Davis, also known as Oro P. Davis; MERLE D. ECKHARD, individually, DOE I, DOE II, DOE III, Defendants
MERLE D. ECKHARD, Cross-complainant.
vs.
EDWARD WINSMERE JONES, SR. and all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real and personal property described in the cross-complaint adverse to cross-complainant's ownership, or any cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto, Cross-defendants.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA:

To EDWARD WINSMERE JONES, SR. and to all persons claiming any right, title, estate or interest in or lien upon the real or personal property, or any part or portion thereof herein described, defendants, greeting:

You are hereby notified to appear and answer the cross-complaint of MERLE D. ECKHARD, cross-complainant, filed with the Clerk of the above entitled Court, within three months after the first publication of this Summons, and to set forth what interest, right, title, estate or lien, if any, you have in or upon the following described real and personal property, or any part thereof, particularly described as follows:

(a) 100 shares of Hollywood Turf Club;

(b) Commercial buildings located at 16912-16920 Ventura Boulevard, and 4840 Paso Robles, Encino, California, described as:
That portion of Lot A, Block A of Encino Tract, City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in Book 61, Pages 82 and 83 of Maps in the office of the County Recorder of said County, bounded Easterly by a line that is parallel with the Westerly line of the land described in the deed to K. V. Clifford and wife, recorded as Instrument No. 1 on June 18, 1940 in Book 17637, Page 37, of Official Records of said County, and that passes through a point in the northeasterly line of said Lot "A", 74° 16' 30" West 111.38 feet from the most easterly corner of said Lot "A".

(c) Cash in the sum of $20,000.00.

which said real and personal property constitutes the real and personal property distributed to cross-complainant, MERLE D. Train Collision Kills 2 Belgians

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—A passenger express from Paris rammed the rear of a freight train in a fog 40 miles southeast of Brussels today and the engine plunged down an embankment into several trackside houses.

The Belgian Railroad said two men were killed and five persons were injured.

The train was bound for Hannover in West Germany, with intervening stops.

The accident occurred near the hamlet of Sclaigneaux between Namur and Huy in the Meuse Valley.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KQED (9), 3:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "Ten Blocks on the Camino Real," Tennessee Williams' one-act allegory on which he based his full-length play "Camino Real." Albert Dekker, Lotte Lenya, Janet Margolin, Patricia Neway and Martin Sheen star.

KGO (7), 10 p.m. — Joey Bishop, Roy Rogers, Dale Evans and O. C. Smith are the guests on "Jimmy Durante Presents the Lennon Sisters Hour."

KQED (9), 10 p.m. — "San Francisco International Film Festival" is a one-hour special offering some of the best of the close to 200 entries in the Short Films Division of the 13th Annual San Francisco International Film Festival. These films will not be shown during the festival.

KPIX (5), 11:30 p.m. — Gregory Peck, Richard Basehart and Leo Genn star in the movie drama, "Moby Dick," based on Herman Melville's novel.

International Protest Threat

DETROIT (AP) — Black militant Robert Williams says he will call for an international protest if he is extradited to North Carolina to face an 8-year-old kidnap charge.

Williams, who returned to the United States last month after a self-imposed exile in Cuba, Red China and Tanzania, said he would appeal for demonstrations "at American embassies abroad by people who believe in justice all over the world."

Williams, 44, is free on $11,000 bail after coming to Detroit aboard a Trans World Airlines flight from London on which he and his lawyers were the only passengers. The special flight was arranged when no airline would agree to carry him on a scheduled trip.

Pier Builders Ask Extensions

The Greenbrae Marina Co. and the Laguna Improvement Co. have applied for a time extension of their permit to build piers and floats in Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur, the Army Corps of Engineers has announced.

The piers and floats all serve lots along Riviera Circle. Fourteen structures have already been built, the Army reported.

Objections to the proposed extension should be written in triplicate and should reach the District Office of the Army Corps of Engineers, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco, not later than Nov. 7, the Army said.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

'Myra' Scores Coup By Signing Up Mae

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—As you may have heard, Mae West is going to appear in the movie version of "Myra Breckenridge." She'll play an agent and get star billing.

It is, of course, a stroke of genius to get Miss West for a movie at this time. Long a favorite of the older generation, she has endeared herself to youngsters and young adults as well through the reruns of her incomparable films on television.

Curiously, and apparently because of video, many young persons somehow think of Miss West and W. C. Fields as a team, which of course wasn't the case at all, and was hardly likely. In his biography of Fields, Robert Lewis Taylor wrote:

SIMPLE DUEL

"'My Little Chickadee,' with Mae West, finally resolved itself into a simple duel of ad libbers. The screen play was credited to 'Mae West and W. C. Fields,' but they mostly made it up as they went along. There was a good deal of professional antagonism between the two authors."

Smart people know Miss West's worth. Jim Aubrey, the ddeposed president of CBS-TV, now working on production deals here, apparently hoped to star her in a movie based on her play "Sextet," but nothing has been heard of that plan recently.

TALK OF FEATURE

There also was talk of a television special featuring her. It seems there is always a plan or so along these lines. Some years ago when I interviewed her, there was an idea of having her do a sort of advice-to-the-lovelorn series on video. I still think it's a smashing idea that was ahead of its time.

At that interview, by the way, I inquired if she could cook, and she replied, "Honey, nobody ever asked me."

The lady is news, plain and simple, whatever she does. Some seasons ago, for instance CBS-TV canceled the video-taped "Person to Person" show when she gave a choice reply to a reporter's questions about all the mirrors in her bedroom.

A WEAKNESS

Also in that interview, the reporter changed the subject to foreign affairs, whereupon she observed: "I always had a weakness for foreign affairs."

It is amazing how much Miss West remains a part of this time and place because of television and her rather universal observations. For example: "Virtue has its own reward but has no sale at the boxoffice."

Court To Study Groppi's Jailing

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court has agreed to hear Rev. James E. Groppi's plea to be freed from imprisonment on a charge of contempt of the state legislature.

The 38-year-old Roman Catholic priest has been in jail since Oct. 2 under a legislative contempt citation stemming from his role in welfare demonstrations that have kept the state Capitol in turmoil for the past two weeks.

Father Groppi's request to the state Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus was turned down Wednesday. The Supreme Court agreed yesterday to assume jurisdiction.

The state Assembly voted the contempt citation after Father Groppi led about 2,000 students and welfare demonstrators into its chambers.

Laird Favors Open Reporting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is on the record favoring talking on the record to reporters and being their "reliable source" at the Pentagon.

The defense chief gave no indication on what prompted his remarks yesterday, at his news conference, concerning being quoted, but some reporters got the impression he may have been irritated by some story quoting unnamed "sources" which did not agree with his thinking.

Laird said he does not like the sometimes-used "backgrounder"—a news meeting in which reporters are free to quote what a man says but not to identify him.

Krips, Baroness Wed In Vienna

VIENNA (UPI) — Austrian conductor Joseph Krips, who heads the San Francisco Symphony, married 29-year-old Baroness Marietta Von Prohaska in Vienna's 15th Century St. Stephens Cathedral yesterday.

Kripps, 68, will spend his honeymoon in Viennna, where he will conduct several times at the state opera.

Krips' wife of 24 years died six months ago.

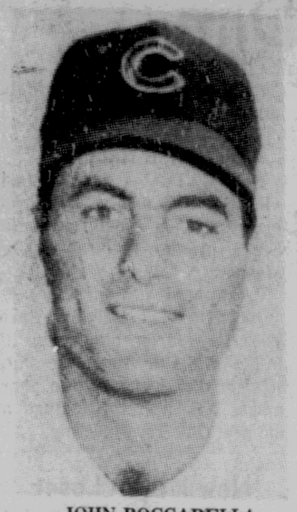
Boccabella, Lee Both Rooting For Mets In 'Series'



JOHN BOCCABELLA

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Two Marin County young men who are playing professional ball in the major leagues — John Boccabella with Montreal and Bill Lee with Boston — have something else in common.

They're both rooting for the Mets in the World Series starting tomorrow.

Boccabella, who has been in professional ball since 1963, played his high school baseball at Marin Catholic, while Lee, signed in 1968 by the Red Sox, did his prep pitching at Terra Linda High.

Boccabella, a graduate of University of Santa Clara, had a bad year this past season, and was No. 3 catcher for the Expos behind John Bateman and Ron Brand. He only had 85 at bats, hit .105 with one homer and six runs batted in, far off his normal long ball batting pace.

The 28-year-old Boccabella didn't play in any of the games against the New York Mets this past season, but did play against the "old" Mets of two years ago when he was with the Chicago Cubs.

"It was a different team then," laughed Johnny, who is staying temporarily at the home of his mother-in-law in San Rafael. "We didn't do too well against the Mets this year. They swept us the last two series, in Montreal and then in New York.

"I didn't think they had a chance earlier this year," Johnny Bocc said about the Mets. "On paper they just don't compare with three or four other teams that are lower than them in the standings. But it's just the year of the Mets."

Continued Boccabella: "Baltimore is really a great club, but I would have to pick the Mets. I don't see how anything can go wrong for them this year. It's just that kind of year for them."

Boccabella is in the process of house hunting for a Marin County home for his wife, Joyce, and one-year-old daughter, Anne. They are temporarily staying at the home of Joyce's parents Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leonardi.

"I had a chance to play early in the season," Boccabella said, "but I wasn't hitting. And then I started pressing. My confidence wasn't there." Because of that bad year, John is leaving Sunday for St. Petersburg, Fla., and two or three weeks play in the Florida Instructional League.

Lee, who make it up to the "bigs" in only a year, was pulled off the Pittsfield, Pa. (Eastern League) roster by the parent Red Sox mid season, last June 24.

"Baltimore was one of the few teams I didn't get to pitch against," Lee said over long distance telephone from Jackson, Miss. He and his wife, Maria, are staying at the home of her mother. They plan to visit his parents in Terra Linda around Oct. 20, for three or four weeks. He then is planning to pick up a needed four units toward his B.A. degree at University of Southern Mississippi. His degree will still be awarded from USC where he spent four years.

Lee said he has more feeling toward the Mets. "I played with (Tom) Seaver at USC and pitched against (Gary) Gentry when he was at University of Arizona, Lee said about two of the Met front line pitchers. "I can associate more with the Mets because it's a young team,

JIM GILMARTIN

Hard Working Man, That Number 66

When I tell you today's subject is a man who plays the bassoon, dabbles spiritedly in volleyball and rides a bicycle you'll say, "Oh, oh, Shamus is off on another non-sporty sports column."

But, hold on, This same man also at times acts as if he eats hot rivets for breakfast, can probably tear a metropolitan phone book in two or chop down a karate expert with his little pinky, has a 48-inch chest without silicone and yes, he does ride a two-wheeler, more than halfway up Mount Tamalpais NON-STOP just to keep his legs in shape!

And on Sundays at this time of year our guest for today can be seen cavorting in the violent and quite physical world of professional football. His name is Charles Elmer Collett. He wears No. 66 and plays offensive left guard for the San Francisco 49ers.

He's Hustling All The Time

In 24 years of following pro football I can't ever remember seeing any player who gives more of himself at all times than Collett (pronounced CAWL-et). At 24 (he'll be 25 Nov. 7) and in this third year of pros, the Mill Valley resident is regarded as one of the most promising young guards in the National Football League. He's been a regular since replacing the injured all-pro John Thomas in mid-1967 and the only way to get him out of there is with a bomb.

Elmer combines the rah-rah enthusiasm he acquired while starring at Tam High and San Francisco State with the hard knocks of a veteran. His speed is amazing for a 6-4, 240-pounder. In training camp he ran the mile faster than any of his teammates and on punt coverage he invariably is the first man downfield. At 40 yards he's a sprinter.

A Big Man On Kicking Unit

"One of the main reasons the stop phase of our kicking game has imporved is Collett," said retired 49er linebacker Matt Hazeltine, another Tam alumnus, the other day. "Did you see him cream that Redskin on that punt Sunday"

Elmer is the shy type in public but his reticence belies his visciousness afield; just watch him pull out on sweeps.

The other day Big Elmer, whose hobbies range from the bassoon (Elmer's Tune) to surfing to fishing, volleyball and weightlifting, told the Marin 49er Boosters Club luncheon that he's looking forward to Sunday's game against the L.A. Rams in Kezar. Odd for a youngster who will play opposite a 280-pound gorilla named Roger Brown, of L.A.'s vaunted Fearsome Foursome, but Elmer explained a pro gridder's approach to such a hazardous challenge:

"It's just like Jerry Kramer (Green Bay) said in his book, (Instant Replay), you 'live' with your opponent all week. This week I'm thinking of nothing but Roger Brown. I eat with him, sleep with him; he is constantly on my mind. I think I got the better of him the last two times we met and I think I'll get the best of him agains Sunday."

Bike Rides Up Mount Tam

Collett, a bachelor who spends much of his time at Stinson Beach where he starts his gosh-awful, leg-building bike rides up the side of Mt. Tam, also explained to the Boosters some of the early season calls in which he was guilty of costly holding penalties. He said he was holding his hands on blocking assignments exactly like he was coached to do, but officials kept flagging him down. "We couldn't see anything illegal about it in the films," said the Big E, "so Coach Nolan phoned the head of the officials to protest. I haven't been called (for holding) the last two games and I've been doing the same thing as I was earlier, so I guess we were right and they were wrong."

The appearance of Collett, Hazeltine and special guest Cliff Hall, sophomore halfback of Tam, at Monday's Boosters luncheon offered quite a past, present and possible future picture of pro sports products of the Mill Valley high school that has produced so many stars.

Another guest was quarterback Tom Jackson of Terra Linda High. The Boosters will host Marin prep stars each week in addition to two 49ers. Next Monday it will be Jimmy Johnson and Stan Hindman of the Niners and young Steve Lambert of San Marin High. The Boosters meet at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael at noon each Monday.

GO METS, GO — New York Mets star Cleon Jones will receive a giant good luck message on the eve of the World Series today from members of the Marin City Boys Club, whom he visited in June while the National League champions-to-be were in San Francisco. Here, club counsellor Paul Austin (left) and other members watch Lawrence Foster join the growing list of well-whishers.

Seaver, Cuellar In Series Opener

BALTIMORE (AP)—The New York Mets have arrived in Baltimore, carrying with them the Tom Seaver-Jerry Koosman pitching payload that will have to stop the Orioles' booming bats when the World Series opens at Memorial Stadium tomorrow.

It'll be Seaver, the Mets' 25-game winner, against Mike Cuellar, the Orioles' 23-game winner, in the opener of the best-of-seven series which carries with it the biggest prize in World Series history—$15,000 to each member of the winning team.

The battle for that prize at the end of baseball's 100th anniversary season commences at 1 p.m. EDT, before an anticipated sellout crowd of 53,000 and a national television audience that will watch the proceedings via NBC.

The proceedings, in the eyes of Koosman, likely will be different than they were in the National League playoffs against Atlanta when neither of the two Met aces were able to finish what they started.

"I see no reason why we should have the same trouble," said Koosman. "We'll probably both go out and throw shutouts."

That, it would seem, would be a difficult task against a line-up that includes the Robinson boys —Frank and Brooks—and big Boog Powell, but the Mets may have a secret weapon in Manager Gil Hodges.

KNOWS TEAM

"Gil knows that team—he managed in that league," Seaver pointed out, noting Hodges' years at Washington. "He knows the hitters and their strengths and we'll rely on his judgement at least until we feel we have enough knowledge to do anything different."

Some of his knowledge was imparted by Hodges today after the Mets' first workout at Memorial Stadium. The Mets flew in last night, then got their first look at the field after the Orioles had concluded their morning workout.

The Orioles, who whipped Minnesota in three straight to move through the American League playoffs and into the Series, will go with the same line-up they used against the Twins. But the Mets are changing to their right-handed hitting line-up with Cuellar pitching.

That batting order puts Ron

TELEVISION TIME: 9:30

Littler, Charles In Lead

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Gene Littler and Bob Charles captured the lead at the 18-hole mark today as all four semifinalists played brilliantly in the fog-delayed Picadilly world match-play golf tournament.

Littler, of La Jolla, fired a sensational 9-under-par 33-32—65 for a two-hole advantage over defending champion Gary Player of South Africa. Player had a 35-33—68.

Charles, of New Zeland, shot an 8-under-par 31-35—66 but only led Tommy Aaron of Callo

Charles, of New Zeland, shot an 8-under-par 31-35—66 but only led Tommy Aaron of Calloway Gardens, Ga., by one hole.

Fog held up play for three hours over Wentworth's par 36-38—74, 6,997-yard layout. Because of the delayed start there was a strong possibility that the 36-hole semifinals would not be completed today.

If that should happen, players will finish the semi tomorrow and immediately go into the 36-hole final.

Littler piled up his margin on the first nine with five straight threes, including four birdies. Then he bagged two more threes on the 10th and 11th holes. Player, despite his fine performance, could only shake his head over the American's fine shots, including a series of long putts.

Popular Don Hoak Is Dead

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Don Hoak, an immensely popular man in Pittsburgh, hoped to return here to manage the Pirates.

A star on Pittsburgh's last World Series winner in 1960, and later a broadcaster of Pirate games, Hoak was a frequent visitor to Forbes Field in the closing days of the baseball season last month.

Today, Hoak is dead, the victim of a heart attack at the age of 41 and, perhaps also a victim of the heartache that came when he didn't get the job he so coveted.

Danny Murtaugh, the manager of the 1960 championship team who ironically stepped down in 1964 for health reasons and later returned for a half-season in 1967, was named yesterday as the Pirates' manager for 1970.

About two hours later, Hoak's body was found slumped over the steering wheel of his auto in which he had been chasing his brother-in-law's stolen car.

Dr. Ralph J. Stalter, the Allegheny County coroner, said Hoak died of an "acute coronary occlusion." He said there was "strong clinical evidence" of prior heart trouble, although Pirate General Manager Joe Brown said he did not know Hoak was ill.

Hoak is survived by his widow, Jill Corey, a well-known singer, and their 5-year-old daughter.

Tar Harriers Win

College of Marin won its Camino Norte Conference cross-country opener, downing West Valley, 21-34 at College of Marin, behind Don Makela's winning 23:22 effort over a hilly 3.8-mile course.

KEY GRID CLASH

Terra Linda Vs. Drake

Terra Linda High School puts its Marin County Athletic League title ambitions squarely on the line tonight when it hosts Drake High at San Rafael High School's field at 8 p.m. (Stories of other Marin County games on page 41.)

The Pirates don't appear to be as tough as in the past three seasons, and they are hurting, but the game nevertheless could be a title-decider. Drake coach Bob Franceschini certainly thinks so.

"The team that wins this one," he said, "is going to go on to the title."

Franceschini naturally is hoping it will be the Pirates and a win would certainly be a booster. But injuries have left them a little bare, but still potent.

Bob Sutherland, last year's leading league rusher, is out for the year, and kicker-fullback John Loane is nursing a bruise, but will probably be ready. Mark Silverman, a veteran halfback, quarterback Kevin Peak, and ends Jim Forni and Jim Dominguez give the Pirates plenty of offensive weapons. But the defense, despite a fine showing against San Rafael, is still a questionmark.

Trojan coach Don Lucas has plenty of respect for the Pirates, in particular Silverman.

"No question about it," Lucas said. "I think he's the best running back in the league right now."

Terra Linda's big problem is finding a way to punch some versatility in its attack. Lucas doesn't particularly want to live and die by the pass, but the Trojans may have to. In that department, Tom Jackson is the best tosser in the league and he's proven it with five touchdown passes enroute to leading the Trojans to a 21-0 win over Castlemont and a 25-14 upset of Hogan of Vallejo.

The Trojan defense is traditionally strong, especially in the backfield and linebacking department. And Jackson is expected to unload against Drake, which was burned severely by Petaluma and Vallejo before bouncing back against San Rafael.

New Warrior Gambee To Sit This One Out

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Everyone except newcomer Dave Gambee and forward Clyde Lee will see action tonight for the San Francisco Warriors against the Los Angeles Lakers at the Cow Palace.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego and Connie Hawkins of Phoenix will match baskets for their teams in the 7 o'clock opener of the Golden Gate Classic exhibition tournament. The winners and losers will play each other tomorrow night at the Oakland Coliseum Arena to wind up the event.

SIX CLUBS

Gambee, who has played with six clubs during his 11 years in the National Basketball Association, ended a brief retirement yesterday to sign with the Warriors. He had decided to run a lumber business in Portland, Ore., rather than report to the Detroit Pistons.

In return, the Pistons will receive a draft choice of the Warriors.

An Oregon State graduate, Gambee, 32, topped the 1,000 point mark four times in his career while playing with the Pistons, St. Louis Hawks, Cincinnati, the 76ers in Syracuse and Philadelphia, San Diego and Milwaukee. Gambee stands 6-6 and weighs 215.

Lee is nursing an injured ankle but is expected to be ready for the Warriors NBA opener Oct. 18 with San Diego.

JIM MURRAY

The Mystical Mets: Are They Human?

If I were the Baltimore Orioles today, I would not go on and play the World Series against the New York Mets until and unless certain investigations were made and certain specifications met.

I think we're on the trail of the biggest story since Faust.

The first thing I would do, if I were the Orioles, is refuse to play the Mets until everyone of them had been stood in front of a mirror and proved to have a reflection in it.

NEXT, I would make the whole team remove its shoes and stockings. Anyone with a cloven hoof would immediately be barred from the Series.

If even one the the Mets was seen flying over the Empire State Building on a broom, I would disqualify the whole team at once and substitute Atlanta.

I WOULD have a team of doctors taking skin and blood samples. Any one of the Mets not having a pulse would have to turn in his suit and go back to haunting houses or trading in souls. I would check their foreheads for horns. I would shadow the whole infield. If any one of them turned into a bat the minute the sun went down — the kind that flies in your hair, not hits a ball — I would get a net over it and put it in a bottle.

If the Mets won the first three games of the World Series, I would refuse to field a team against them unless they transferred the games to Lourdes.

THE LAST time a championship team had the terrible thing happen to it that happened to Atlanta this past weekend, Arnold Rothstein was still alive.

You all saw waht happened to Atlanta. Guys hit line shots down the third-base line — then fell face down in the batter's box and got thrown out at first from short left field. Pitchers one-handed into the centerfield seats by fooled batters. Even Henry Aaron, who makes one every eclipse of the sun, made a throwing error when he found the cutoff man mysteriously missing from the relay pattern. Even then, I could swear something reached down and throughtfully picked his arm just as he let go of the ball.

ON THE Mets, .218 hitters who were drafted off the Atlanta roster hit game-winning home runs. Exactly doubling their season total in the process. One banjo hitter who had hit two homers all year and had hit only seven in his three years in the big leagues hit two home runs in two days!

IT WAS not only the playoff. The Mets won a game this year in which 19 of their 27 outs were strikeouts, an all-time record for one pitcher. Usually, when only eight batters get a piece of the ball, you expect at least a shutout. Steve Carlton didn't even get a win. Tell HIM the Mets were human!

The Cubs thought they had the Mets safely locked in a closet, 9½ games in front with only a little more than a month to go. But the Mets walked through doors.

METS — or Mephistopheles? I would put a tail on Gil Hodges and make sure he still goes to mass every morning. I would watch those Mets on and off the field, and the first one who lit a cigarette by snapping his fingers would get reported. I would scan the stands with binoculars for a girl named Lola. And if we can just find one who gave a cemetery as his home address!

YOU SEE, all those years, we thought the Devil was a Yankee fan . . .

Anderson New Reds' Manager

CINCINNATI (UPI)—George "Sparky" Anderson is a young man on the move. In a 26-hour period this week he held three different jobs.

The job that mattered, managing the Cincinnati Reds, came as a surprise and he snapped it up.

"I was contacted by the Reds last night (Wednesday)," he said. "And naturally I accepted. But I never even thought about getting the job."

Anderson, who at 35 will be the youngest manager in the majors, replaces Dave Bristol, fired by the Reds front office the day before after two and a half years of guiding the National League team.

Anderson, who lives in Thousand Oaks in Southern California, coached the San Diego Padres the past season and was named just Wednesday as a coach for the California Angels.

Bristol ,who took his firing as no surprise, has been offered a job in the Reds' front office as a special assistant to General Manager Bob Howsam. He has not yet announced his plans. Bristol came to the Reds in the middle of the 1966 season after manging the team's Macon, Ga., farm club.

Smith Stuns Rod Laver; Pancho Wins

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Stan Smith, the steady, hard-serving Davis Cup star, faced aging but still tough Pancho Gonzales today after both scored upsets in the $50,000 Howard Hughes Open Tennis Tournament.

Smith, of Pasadena, played brilliantly in beating the world's No. 1 player, Rod Laver of Australia, 6-2, 6-4, in yesterday's quarterfinals. Gonzales, 41, dropped Ken Rosewall 6-4, 1-6, 6-3 to earn a semifinal berth.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va. beat Cliff Richey, San Angelo, Tex., 6-2, 6-3 without losing his serve and Roy Emerson, Australia, beat Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-3 in other men's singles play. Ahse was to play Emerson today.

Gonzales, at 6-foot-3, used a bouncing service and the 5-7 Rosewall was hitting his return shots from head height.

Smith lost the first two games of the first set against his formidable foe, then won six straight games and roared on the back of a powerful serve to the straight-set victory.

In ladies' play, top-seeded Billie Jean King, Long Beach, Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex., Ann Haydon Jones, England, and Margaret Smith Court, England, all moved into the semifinals.

Mrs. Bailey In Lead At Sonoma

Mrs. Tony Bailey of Boyes Hot Springs, wife of the College of Marin track coach, opened defense of her Sonoma National Golf Club women's championship yesterday with a first roud of 80.

In winning medalist honors, Mrs. Bailey took a one-stroke lead in the 54-hole medal competition over Mrs. Milton Stone of San Francisco while Mrs. Roy Sayles is third with a 90. The tournament continues the next two Thursdays.

Yesterday's madel handicap results (championships determined by gross scores):

Championship Flight — Mesdames Bailey, 80-5 — 75; Stone, 81-8 — 73; Sayles, 90-15 — 75.

First Flight — Mmes. Harry Thomey, 92-90 — 72; Dario Marioni, 93-21 — 72; Charles Vincent, 93-20 — 73.

Second Flight — Mmes. Roland Kruger, 100-25 — 75; B. L. Marsh, 106-27 — 79; Mike Gitti, 105-25—80.

LAS GALLINAS (Championship Qualifying)

Class C — Mmes. Edgar Stewart, 94-20-74; Robert Sims, 99-24-75; R. E. Bond, 95-20-75.

Drake Cagers In First Loss

And then there were none.

The last of the Marin County Athletic League Class C basketball unbeatens fell yesterday when Redwood High knocked off Drake, 35-32, at Redwood High in Larkspur.

Drake's loss, after three straight wins, created a two-way tie for first in the loop race.

Marin Catholic, which had lost to Drake a week ago, tied for first place by whipping San Rafael, 40-18, at Kentfield, with Tom Fredericks leading a balanced scoring attack with 11 points.

Cal Bears To Host Huskies

Jim Fraser and Jerome Champion have won starting berths on the California Bears football team for the first time this season.

Fraser will start ahead of Stan Murphy at wingback and Champion has nudged Dave Seppi at defensive tackle against the University of Washington tomorrow in their Pacific 8 Conference openers at Berkeley.

Coach Ray Willsey also said defensive guard John Medaris will miss the contest with a knee injured in last Saturday's win over Rice. Starting defensive tackle Steve Schulz will move inside to guard, if necessary, to bolster the interior line.

Biggest Pacific-8 battle of the weekend will be Stanford vs. USC at Los Angeles Coliseum, the winner getting the inside track to the championship. That game is tomorrow night.

In Another Pacific 8 battle, UCLA takes on Washington State at Spokane. Oregon hosts San Jose State, while Oregon State draws a bye.

Another Try For Danny; Cousy's Prospects Dim

COMBINED AP & UPI

PITTSBURGH — Danny Murtaugh, who could not resist the call to compete again, will do a replay as manager of the Pettsburgh Pirates in 1970.

The surprise announcement was made yesterday by General Manager Joe Brown at a news conference on the upper deck of a cruider liner on the Allegheny River.

Murtaugh who led the Pirates in 1960 to their first world championship in 33 years.

BASKETBALL

CINCINNATI — Coach Bob Cousy's prospects of playing for Cincinnati appear even dimmer now as the Royals and Boston Celtics have broken off negotiations concerning his rights.

General manager Joe Axelson traveled to Hartford, Conn., last night to meet with Boston general manager Red Auerbach about a possible deal for Cousy. The session lasted one minute.

GENERAL

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. — Some of the great nemes in professional golf were on hand yesterday as Walter Hagen, one of the pioneers of the sport, was laid to rest in a suburban Detroit cemetery.

"The Haig" died late Sunday at his retirement home in Traverse City, Mich. at the age of 76.

SPORTS SHORTS

AUTO RACING

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Cale Yarborough won the pole position for Sunday's $116,000 National 500 stock car race with a qualifying time of 162.162 miles per hour in a Mercury at the Charlotte Speedway.

GOLF

VIRGINIA WATER, England —Tommy Aaron of Calloway Garden, Ga., upset Tony Jacklin, the British Open champion, 6 and 4 to reach the semifinals in the Piccadilly World Match Play Championship.

HORSE RACING

SAN MATEO — Snappy Nashville, $6, scored by three-quarters of a length over Soy Sauce in the feature at Bay Meadows.

ARCADIA — Talking Barb, $2.60, scored in the Lucky B. Purse at Santa Anita, the third straight day jockey Willie Shoemaker has won the feature at the new Oak Tree meeting.

Now He's A Loser

DENVER (AP) — The basketball team at the University of Denver won only two games against 24 loses in the 1968-69 season. This gave the Pioneers' new coach, Stan Albeck, his first losing season in 13 years of college coaching. He had 11 winning seasons at Northern Michigan and one successful season at Adrian, Mich., College.

It's A Glittering Field For Monterey Races

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Three world driving champions and this year's Indianapolis 500 winner headline a glittering international field as the $80,000 Monterey Grand Prix got under way today at Laguna Seca Raceway.

Former world champions Denis Hulme of New Zealand and Jack Brabham of Australia are on the Bruce McLaren team that has dominated the Canadian-American Challenge Cup race series this year.

Brabham was a late addition to the team. Hulme and McLaren have scored one-two finishes in seven of the eight events on the Can-Am tour and the team shared first place in all eight contests.

England's John Surtees is the other former world titleholder in the event, driving Jim Hall's Chaparral Chevy in the 152-mile race Sunday.

Indy winner Mario Andretti will be in a McLaren Ford for the race. In the most recent Can-Am race, the Road American, Andretti was roaring along until he developed problems.

"We are worried about Mario." McLaren admits. "It was his car, not the engine, that broke down." In trials this week, Andretti was turning in times under McLaren's 112.2 mile an hour track record.

Drivers from Italy, Switzerland, Mexico, Canada and the United States will challenge for the title.

Major foreign competition is expected to come from England's Jack Oliver in a Titanium Special and New Zealand's Chris Amon in a Ferrari. Other top U.S. hopefuls are Chuck Parsons, Lothar Motschenbacher, Dan Gurney and Andretti.

About 35 cars are expected to vie for the prize money Sunday over the tricky 1.9-mile Laguna Seca course. Today and tomorrow are given over to practice and trials.

Sets ABA Record

DENVER (AP) — Larry Jones this season set a record in the American Basketball Association by scoring 30 points or more a game in 23 consecutive contests. The previous high was 16 straight games.

Redwood Meets Tamalpais; Novato Hosts San Rafael

Big And Brawny Giants Vs. Fast, Young Tamites

Big, brawny Redwood High School and young, fast Tamalpais collide in a Marin County Athletic League football battle at Tam's gridiron in Mill Valley tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

It should be a meeting of basically similar offenses — lots of running, weak passing.

Young, untried backs will carry the load for both sides. They're all talented, but making their first go this season.

Redwood's crunching ground game is led by the blocking of Phil Simon and big 245-pound tackle Tom Wickert and the running of Mike Farley, quarterback Pete Cooney, halfback Bob Piper and soph flash Jay Lehman, a big (190 pounds) hard-to-bring-down bruiser.

The Indians also have plenty of big guns in the running department, beginning with juniors Billy Washington and Mark Costello, and aided and abetted by sometimes sensational sophomore Clifford Hall.

BIG GUNS

The Tamalpais passing game is practically non-existent, while Cooney, a rollout specialist, is just a shade better.

"We've been working on our passing all week," Redwood coach Bob Troppmann said. "We'll try to do a little more there."

The Giants are pretty secure defensively, with the likes of Wickert, Simon, Ross Gondak and linebacker Rick Puccinelli going for them. Big defensive man for the Indians is linebakcer Bill Rudolph.

REDWOOD (2-1)
Ends — Ross Gondak, Steve Fleishman
Tackles — Tom Wickert, Chris Chapman
Guards — Rick Puccinelli, Brad Belden
Center — Phil Simon
Quarterback — Pete Cooney
Halfbacks — Bob Piper, Mike Farley
Fullback — Bob Fox

TAMALPAIS (1-2)
Ends — Jim Nelson, Steve Miles
Tackles — Bill Rudolph, Rocky Penka
Guards — Bob Clements, Mike Johnson
Center — Paul Ringelman
Quarterback — Mike Brennan
Halfbacks — Clifford Hall, Mark Costell
Fullback — Billy Washington

with young players."

Although the Red Sox southpaw didn't pitch against the Orioles, he saw them in action from the bullpen. "It's a tough team to pitch against. And defensively, Baltimore doesn't make mistakes."

He said he'd have to pick Baltimore because of the overall strength of the team, but said he'll still be rooting for the Mets.

About Frank Robinson, slugging Orioles' outfielder, Lee said "I think he's the best hitter in the league, especially the breaking pitch." About O's pitcher Mike Cuellar: "He's the best pitcher in the American League. He's got a great screwball."

Lee says Seaver, who has developed a great fast ball, "has all the confidence in the world. Bill was a sophomore for USC's Trojans when Seaver was a senior. "If the Mets' pitching is on, they might sweep it. But I think the series will go seven games," Lee said.

Lee ended up the season with a 1-3 record for the Red Sox, and had an earned run average of 4.50 for 52 innings. His one win was against Detroit.

"I feel I was really throwing good the last three weeks of the season. I think I'll even have a good chance to get in the starting rotation next year."

Yanks 15, USC 1

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — In the long history of the New York Yankees, only once did they play against a collegiate team — the University of Southern California in 1951. With such sluggers as Mickey Mantle, Johnny Mize and Joe Di Maggio the Yanks walloped the Trojans 15-1.

Marin High To Host Salesian 11

Marin Catholic High School's Wildcats, who have tasted victory, defeat and a tie in three previous football outings, hope to swing the pendelum in the positive direction tomorrow when they host winless Salesian High at Kentfield starting at 2 p.m.

One of Salesian's three losses was an 18-14 count to Tamalpais so this will be the Richmond school team's second visit to Marin. Marin Catholic had beaten Albany and lost to Piner of Santa Rosa prior to last week's 20-20 tie with Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park.

SERIES

Swoboda in right field in place of Art Shamsky, who hit .538 against the Braves; sends Al Weis to second base to replace Ken Boswell, who hit two homers in the playoffs; substitutes veteran Ed Charles for rookie Wayne Garrett at third base, and puts Donn Clendenon on first instead of Ed Kranepool.

Hodges said he might leave Boswell in against the Orioles' scheduled second starter, Dave McNally. Baltimore's third game pitcher against Gary Gentry likely will be Jim Palmer when the team's shift to New York and resume action Tuesday.

Monday will be an off day for travel. All games will start at 1 p.m., EDT, except for Sunday's second game at Baltimore, which has a 2 p.m. start.

While the Mets are undoubtedly the sentimental favorites throughout most of the country because of their sudden rise after so many years of ineptitude, the Orioles have been installed 7-5 favorites for their first World Series since 1966.

In that one, the Orioles were the underdogs, but went on to whip the Los Angeles Dodgers in four straight with many of the same stars who this season helped produce 109 victories as Baltimore raced to the American League East title.

BIG GUNS

The biggest guns are mounted by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell. Robinson hit .308 during the regular season with 32 homers and 100 runs batted in. Powell lashed 37 homers and drove in 121 runs while hitting .304.

Over-all, the Orioles hit .265 as a team compared to .242 for the Mets and out-homered them, 175-109. At the same time, the Orioles' pitching staff, which has not received publicity equal to the Mets', put together a 2.83 earned run average by comparison with New York's 2.99.

Robinson has noted those figures and says, "I think it will be a good Series." Then he adds pointedly, "But no more than five or six games.

Some Questions May Be Answered In Novato Tilt

A few questions may be answered tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when San Rafael and Novato high schools tangle in a Marin County Athletic League football game at Novato High.

Both teams, at least so far, have come up losers. Novato coach Al Scott knows why his Hornets have lost — no offense. But San Rafael is just a bit of a puzzle. Even despite injuries the Bulldogs have the makings of a fine club that may one day jell. So far, they haven't.

The Bulldogs, small as they are, have trouble once they get inside the 10 yard line. The Hornets have trouble getting that far.

Cocah Bob Muster received more bad news this week when he lost top receiver Bruce D'Ambra for the season, out with a torn ligament. He's already lost center Dan Coleman.

GREAT RUNNING

Still, the Bulldogs could be awesome, offensively, with two fine quarterbacks in Lowell Widmer and soph Kirk Gonsloser, great running from Scott Duncan, Bruce Maglione, Leroy Leonhart and Bob Peterson and still good receiving from Peterson and Tom McGrath.

The Hornets have a great defense, mainly linebacker Dave Perron, good passing from soph quarterback Marty Moroski and only fair running.

Both teams lost their league openers last week, the Bulldogs bowing to Drake, 17-7, and the Hornets losing to Redwood, 12-7. They'll have their backs against the wall in this one.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

The position of the arm during the delivery is not stressed as much as it should be. To develop a more powerful ball, keep the swinging arm so close that not even a sheet of paper can be slipped between your upper arm and your body. The purpose not only is accuracy but a more effective strike ball.

Two Defenses For Raiders

SAN LEANDRO (AP)—Oakland's Raiders are preparing two kinds of defenses as they get ready for Sunday's American Football League game against the Denver Broncos.

Denver's No. 1 quarterback is Steve Tensi, who throws the long bomb. The Broncos' No. 2 quarterback is Pete Liske, who likes to run more with the ball and who pitches shorter passes.

Just which man the Raiders will see the most of depends on injuries Tensi suffered while the Broncs were trimming the New York Jets.

Redwood Runners Pass Biggest Test

Redwood High School has probably wrapped up the Marin County Athletic League cross-country crown, even though the season is not even half over.

The Giants topped Tamalpais High School in a showdown meet at Redwood's Phoenix Lake Course yesterday, 22-33, as Kevin Pusser and Jay Neuhaus of Redwood tied for first place in 16:05.8.

Vian Collier of Tamalpais Finished third, Tim Taylor of Redwood fourth and Mike Arago of Tamalpais, hampered by a leg injury that has already kept him out of one meet, finished fifth.

The Gianrs, unbeaten in varsity competition, have a 6-0 season mark and a 3-0 league record while the Indians dropped to 2-1. Redwood also won the frosh-soph meet, 25-30, with unbeaten freshman Eric Moller taking first place.

In other meets yesterday, San Marin upped its record to 2-1, topping Marin Catholic in Novato, 22-35; Novato whipped Terra Linda, 19-40, at Novato and San Rafael downed Drake, 15-45, in the equivelant of a shutout.

Chakra Chappell remained unbeaten in MCAL competition, winning for the Mustangs in 15:23. Creighton Byer of San Marin was second followed by Marin Catholic's Joe Moulle.

Veteran Ron Elijah led Novato to its second win of the season while brothers Frank and Steve Elias led the San Rafael sweep of Drake, finishing one-two.

Battle With A Trout

DENVER (AP) — It took Gino DiSalle of Denver 15 minutes to subdue a 5½-pound trout in a lake near Kremmling, Colo., but he finally netted his prize. Gino is 6 years old.

Additional Roadholding when cornering

SUPER SPORT IS ORIGINAL EQUIPMENT ON PORSCHE

DO YOU DRIVE A FAST CAR?
Do You Drive For long Distances—at High Speeds up to 135 m.p.h.?
If Your Answer is "YES"
Our Answer is SUPER SPORT! This tire, the latest and greatest by SEMPERIT will give you . . .

FULL SAFETY
Wide Belt tires, made with fast, hard driving in mind—This robust tire is constructed to meet the most severe conditions.

EXTRA-WIDE "HIGH PERFORMANCE" TREAD
Nine "staggered" block bands ensure maximum roadholding when cornering. This profile, with its many angled tread-blocks prevents the collection of water and subsequent aquaplaning when driving on wet roads.

STEPPED SHOULDER
The tread design is extended over the shoulder of the tire thus providing an additional 10% roadholding surface when cornering.

BELTED CONSTRUCTION
The stabilization of the tread results in reduced rolling resistance, permanent road holding at all speeds, cooler running, and higher mileage.

RADIAL CASING
The radial cords in the casing provide for high flexibility in the side walls, giving comfortable driving plus "Sports" performance!

Today is Friday, Oct. 10, the 283rd day of 1969 with 82 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Saturn and Jupiter. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1845 the U.S. Naval Academy was formally opened at Fort Severen, Annapolis.

In 1911 Chinese revolutionaries overthrew the Manchu dynasty.

In 1913 President Woodrow Wilson pressed a button in Washington and blew up the last obstruction in the construction of the Panama Canal.

In 1963 an estimated 3,000 persons drowned when a dam burst in Northern Italy.

A thought for the day—Wilhelm Nietzche said—"In revenge and in love woman is more barbarous than man."

Prolific Finnish Sheep Enter U.S.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—A breed of sheep from Finland, noted for producing multiple births, has been imported by the United States on an experimental basis.

The Finnish Landrace sheep usually produces an average of two to four lambs per lambing in contrast to the one or two born to American domestic sheep.

Dutch Births Off

THE HAGUE (UPI)—The birth rate in Holland has been going down since 1964, and in 1968 it reached 18.6 births per 1,000 persons, compared with 18.9 in 1967. The surplus of births over deaths last year was 132,300, about 6,500 less than in 1967.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes The Ability To Count Not Needed To Score

The ability to count is not limited to bridge players who speak the English language (and in fact may quite possibly be enjoyed by people who have never played bridge). Oddly enough, however, only very good bridge players seem to make use of this ability.

ACTION FAVORED

When Hans Kreyns, of the Netherlands, played today's hand in the 1968 Olympics, he won the first trick in dummy with the ace of clubs and ran three top hearts to get rid of his losing club. Kreyns knew that the odds favored his play about 3 to 2, but the hearts broke unfavorably, and West ruffed with the four of spades.

The best defense was a club return, forcing South to ruff. Now a low spade from the South hand would force West to take the ace of spades and get out safely with a spade to avoid helping declarer.

CLEAR SITUATION

The situation would nevertheless be clear to South. West had clearly started with three spades, two hearts and not more than four clubs. Hence West surely had four or five diamonds to hold his full complement of 13 cards.

On the basis of this count South would take the ace of diamonds and then lead a low diamond with the intention of playing dummy's nine if West played low. The finesse would win, and South would make his contract.

NOT NECESSARY

As it happened, none of this fine counting was necessary. When West ruffed the third round of hearts, he saw that the situation was hopeless unless his partner had the ten of diamonds or a high trump. West therefore returned a low diamond rather than a club.

Declarer won with the ten of diamonds and then had an easy time. "You lost nothing by leading diamonds," Kreyns reassured West. "You were marked with length in diamonds."

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 10 4
♦ Q J 4 3
♣ Q 5 3 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three-no-trump.

Your own nine points make the partnership count 25 to 27 points, probably enough for game. Some conservative players would bid only two-no-trump with this hand, allowing partner to pass if he has the bare minimum of 16 points.

Charter Service Switch Is Near

Negotiations are going on between Intermark Investing, Inc. of La Jolla and North Bay Charter Service of Petaluma for the purchase of all assets of North Bay Charter in exhcange for Intermark common stock.

North Bay's operations, which are concentrated in Sonoma and Marin counties, will be integrated with Intermark's Community Enterprises group which now has over 650 school buses in operation in addition to charter and tour services throughout the state.

Keith L. Grimm, owner of North Bay, will join Community's management team.

PACIFIC COAST HOLDINGS, INC. has reported a 36 per cent increase in net income to $109,608 for the six months ended June 30. Earnings per share amounted to 24 cents compared to 18 cents for the comparable period in 1968. Pacific Coast Holdings is the parent company of San Mateo Mutual Savings and Loan Association, with which it is proposed to merge Marin County Savings and Loan Association. Approval from regulatory agencies is pending.

HYATT CORP., Burlingame, has acquired the 350-room Riviera Hotel in Atlanta and has acquired a long-term lease to operate the 310-room Seven Seas (Hyatt) Lodge in San Diego.

PACIFIC INTERMOUNTAIN EXPRESS CO., Oakland, and American Express Co. of New York have agreed in principle to the acquisition of PIE of the international and domestic freight business of American Express and its subsidiaries. Consummation is subject to approval by U. S. regulatory agencies and directors of PIE.

THE RUCKER CO. and Federal Pacific Electric Co. proposed merger has been approved by directors of both companies. Further approval is required by stockholders, along with a review by the Securities and Exchnage Commission. Each shareholder of Federal Pacific will receive one share of Rucker common and one-half of a share of a new series of Rucker convertible preferred.

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS directors have voted to omit the regular dividend for the fourth quarter as a result of low earnings for the first eight months of 1969. Most recent quarterly dividend was 10 cents a share paid in May. Pan Am has paid dividends each year since 1941.

FAIRCHILD CAMERA AND INSTRUMENT CORP., parent company of Fairchild Semiconductor, has reached an agreement in principle for the placement of $30 million in 20-year convertible subordinated notes to retire its currently outstanding bank debt and for investment in capital equipment.

KAISER ALUMINUM AND CHEMICAL CORP. has formed a new exploration company to specialize on finding and developing metals and mineral resources. The new company, Kaiser Exploration and Mining Co., will operate internationally as a wholly owned subsidiary of Kaiser Aluminum.

WESTERN LEAD PRODUCTS, Los Angeles, has completed the acquisition of the Pacific division of the Bunker Hill Co., a subsidiary of Gulf Resources and Chemical Corp. of Houston.

NEW MERCEDES-BENZ MODEL

Biggest change in the 1970 Mercedes-Benz line is the addition of this two-door hardtop, called the 250 Coupe. It is powered by a 157-horsepower overhead camshaft engine and has a top speed of 115 miles per hour. The engine normally is installed only in larger models. Cars are on sale in Marin at Mercedes-Benz (Rossi Motors), San Rafael.

Shortage Of Compact Hornets Is Reported

DETROIT (UPI) — American Motors Corp. has said buyer response to its new compact Hornet has caused shortages in some parts of the country.

William S. Pickett, vice president of sales, said, "These shortages exist despite the fact dealer inventories in advance of public announcement Sept. 25 were higher than for any new car introduced by our company."

The U.S. has a 99 year lease on a naval and air base in the Island of Jamaica.

New Portable

NEW YORK (UPI) — Royal Typewriter Co. has said it will market a new low-priced portable typewriter through its dealer network and department, discount and appliance stores. The model will cost around $100, making it the lowest priced electric portable on the market, the company said.

Weapons Pact

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (UPI) — National Presto Industries Inc., has obtained a $5.326 million order for 8-inch artillery projectiles.

Expensive Jade Taken By Thief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A window-smashing burglar took $80,000 to $100,000 in jade from a Chinatown art shop today, police report.

Although the burglar had only a few moments because of an alarm tripped as he entered the City of Shanghai shop, he still managed to pick 294 of the best pieces of jade from two showcases and vanish before the first officer arrived, police said.

Check System

NEW YORK (UPI) — GBC Closed Circuit TV Corp. has said it has developed a new method for remotely verifying check signatures and balances. The system, Cheque-Vision, provides banks with two-way audio communication between the teller and the accounting department, signal lights and a remote verification stamp, the company said.

Sets Dividend

ATLANTA (UPI) — Cagle's, Inc., a poultry producer and marketer, announced a 50 per cent stock dividend payable Nov. 3, record date Oct. 17, and said the quarterly dividend would be raised to the equivalent of 12 cents a share on present stock from 11 cents. The first payment at the new rate will be 8 cents a share on Dec. 9 record date Nov. 25.

Naptha Plant

MIDLAND, Mich. (UPI) — Dow Chemical Co. will build a second major naphtha cracking plant to make ethylene and other olefins at an undertermined location in Europe. Capacity will be about 400,000 metric tons of ethylene yearly. Dow's first European naptha cracker of about the same size will go into production at Terneuzen in Holland in a few weeks.

Renewed Peace Hopes Helps Boost Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Renewed Vietnam peace hopes and carryover demand from the previous session helped bolster stocks today in stepped up trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 blue chips industrials was up 2.44 at 806.23 near the close.

Turnover of around 11.5 million shares was well ahead of yesterday.

Among the most active issues were CNA Financial, which traded an early block of 58,000 shares at 26¼; Trans-Union, with a block of 149,100 shares at 30; Capital Cities Broadcasting, and City Investmenting.

Electronics generally forged ahead, although softness cropped up in a few instances. IBM closed at 346½ off ½.

Rails attracted some demand.

The nation's railroads are seeking a 6 per cent freight rate hike. Southern Pacific closed at 36⅝ up ⅜.

Conglomerates and chemicals showed scattered strength, while steels and motors traded narrowly. Airlines and aircrafts moved in mixed fashion. U.S. Steel closed 36⅜ off ⅛. Bethlehem was off ¼ at 28⅛.

Gold mining shares, meantime, were on the weak side which is generally the case in a firm market.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active tradlng.

Camping Fees

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP — The Kentucky Parks Department has increased fees charged to campers from $2 to $3 a day. Commissioner Robert Cabl said the agency does not want to undercut private rates.

Diversification Adds To Macke Co. Appeal

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I understand that Macke Co. recently took over Bagwell-Neal, a painting specialist. What will this mean to Macke? What does the company's future look like? — R. F.

A. In terms of sales dollars this acquisition is relatively insignificant, adding about $5 million annually to sales that are currently running at a rate in excess of $100 million a year. Of much greater significance is the nature of Bagwell-Neal's business. Offering as it does a maintenance service to industry — contract painting of buildings — the newly acquired company symbolizes the growing emphasis Macke is placing on nonfood services. Inflated food prices and labor costs have created a profit squeeze that Macke is finding difficult to resolve.

Attempts to raise vending machine prices for snack foods and coffee — traditionally 10 cents per item — to 15 cents has met considerable customer resistance. There is little doubt that the 15-year-old 10 cents price will continue to be "selectively" upgraded. Growth of the vending industry — particularly in food items — has far outpaced the economy in the Sixties and Macke has grown at a rate even faster than both. With future expansion aimed toward services such as plant maintenance and protection, uniform rental, laundry and temporary help, Macke should continue to outpace the economy.

Q. I bought 125 shares of Landa Industries at 10¾. It is now under 4. I have no other losses this year. Would you recommend taking the loss? — M. S.

A. Landa Industries, formerly Landa Oil, sold its petroleum properties and is now active in several areas as a result of acquisitions. Its most recent operating report as of Nov. 30, 1968, showed a loss of 69 cents a share, the sixth year of deficit operations. Volume was reported at $8.5 million. In September Landa announced a pending acquisition of Inland Systems for $10 million. At the fiscal year end total current liabilities exceeded total current assets by 1.5 to 1 and long-term debt stood at $7.3 million. Take advantage of the selling opportunity afforded by recent strength in the shares.

OLD FOES CONFER—President Richard M. Nixon appears to be giving the peace signal as he holds a congenial chat with his presidential race foe, former Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The two conferred this morning on the situation in Southeast Asia. (AP Wirephoto)

Nixon Draws Vietnam Favor From Humphrey

Presidential Foes Hold Friendly Chat

WASHINGTON (AP)—In diplomatic and military conferences under way here, President Richard M. Nixon is reported searching urgently for new ways to dramatize—and perhaps speed up—U.S. disengagement from the war in Vietnam. (See related stories, page 8.)

Faced with the prospect of massive antiwar demonstrations next week, Nixon drew timely support from his old political foe, former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a White House meeting today.

Humphrey also hinted at possible new moves by Nixon.

"I think what he has done has been good," Humphrey told newsmen. "He thinks he can do more. I hope he can."

Humphrey said he would support systematic withdrawal of all combat forces from Vietnam but did not explain what he meant by systematic. Nixon has so far flatly rejected efforts to impose any kind of deadline on troop removals, insisting they must be determined step by step.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge flew back from Paris. After a weekend stop in Boston, Nixon's chief representative at the Paris peace talks is due here for consultation and instructions.

The reference to instructions indicated that Nixon is planning some new move in the stalemated Paris discussions.

Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, who conferred with the President yesterday, wound up his Washington consultations in a meeting with State Department officials today and headed for his post in Saigon and new discussions with President Nguyen Van Thieu on U.S. troop withdrawal pluns.

Tomorrow Nixon is due to get a report from Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on the state of the war in South Vietnam—combat and casualties are at a very low point—and progress in preparing South Vietnamese forces to relieve U.S. troops progressively of the fighting.

Current evidence indicates that Nixon is building a public base for a new announcement of U.S. troop withdrawals from 50,000 men to the 60,000 total already announced. But whether Nixon would feel justified in projecting a further pullout at this time was questioned by some responsible officials. Sec-

HEROINE AT 7

Proud Father Belatedly Learns Of Little Girl's Cool Pool Act

For the past week-and-a-half James E. Harrend of Terra Linda has been the father of a heroine. But he didn't know it until the other day.

His 7-year-old daughter, Gigi, is a very modest young lady and, consequently, she neglected to tell her father that she saved a woman's life about 10 days ago. Her mother found out when the woman telephoned to thank the little girl and passed the word on to Harrend.

It happened while Gigi was swimming in the pool of the apartment building where the family lives at 125 Nova Albion Way.

The woman, who asked not to be identified, told Mrs. Harrend she is a nonswimmer and had accidentally ventured into the deep part of the pool. She said she began to go under and started calling for help. The dozen other swimmers ignored her cries or didn't hear them, she went on, but Gigi heard and came to her rescue.

GIGI HARREND
Cared enough to help

The woman told Mrs. Harrend that Gigi, a third grader at Nova Albion School, grabbed the pool ladder, put her free arm around the woman and assisted her to shallow water.

According to her father, Gigi wishes "everyone would stop making such a fuss" about what she did.

But James Harrend can't help being a very proud man.

Fairfax Again In Congress Spotlight

The future of Fairfax will be discussed by three panels tomorrow in the city's second annual Congress for Community Progress.

Topics for the town meeting, developed from responses to questionnaires, will be: future development of downtown Fairfax; problems of Fairfax in maintaining a small-town atmosphere, and human needs of the community.

The congress will begin at noon at Manor School with a talk by Peter H. Behr, former Marin County supervisor.

A triple-screen slide and film documentary on Fairfax, prepared by Pacific Gas and Electric Co., will follow.

The three panel discussions will be held simultaneously during the afternoon, with results to be presented in a general session moderated by Peter Arrigoni, Marin supervisor and former mayor of Fairfax.

The panel on downtown Fairfax, which will discuss the city's appearance, the kind of business to attract and the possibility of forming a chamber of commerce, includes Al McPherson of the Small Business Administration; Jerry Hymanson and Frank Beaulieu, local businessmen, and Carroll A. Snyker of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce.

The panel on maintaining a small-town atmosphere will cover such topics as merger, combining and improving services. Members are John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator; Kenneth L. Anderson, San Anselmo councilman; Fairfax Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton, and Daniel Allen, former mayor of Larkspur.

The third panel, on human needs, will discuss the Fairfax festival, youth, senior citizens and peaceful coexistence between hip and straight members of the community. On the panel are Glenn Gasaway, Albert Garvey, Jonn C. Uhte and Priscilla C. Gray, all of Fairfax, and Thomas E. Cordill, county zoning administrator.

VIETNAM MORATORIUM

Marin, Sonoma To Join

Strong support for the aims of the national Vietnam War protest Wednesday has emerged among students in Marin and Southern Sonoma and most have scheduled activities with the blessing and cooperation of school authorities.

The national Vietnam Moratorium Committee, organizers of the movement to swing public opinion to bringing the troops home, has suggested activities such as boycotts and leaflet distribution but emphasizes it is up to the local people.

Several Marin laymen and clergy will participate in a "vigil for peace" Wednesday from noon to 2 p.m. at the Marin County Courthouse in San Rafael, according to Rev. James E. Symons of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Marchers will meet at 10:30 a.m. across the street from the administration building at the San Francsco Theological Seminary and march to courthouse Square.

Most schools have chosen alternatives to the boycott proposal and a series of speeches and discussions are planned.

Only Sonoma State College predicts a major unauthorized boycott, with student body president James Gillette estimating as many as 65 per cent of the 3,000 may stay away from classes Wednesday.

Gillette last month urged students not to attend classes, but the student government has not taken a stand, saying the decision should be left up to the individual.

He reported the Associated Studenst is taking a poll to determine how many instructors would hold class but devote the period to discussion of the war policy. Such classes probably would be attended, he indicated.

College of Marin students on the other hand will be free to skip classes if teachers dismiss them.

Acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff said in a memo to the faculty this week that teachers will be free to dismiss classes, but the college cannot officially cancel classes.

The college's educational mission, Herkenhoff wrote, "should not be defined so narrowly that it precludes concern for contemporary issues and problems. At the same time that mission should not include indoctrination one way or another on a political issue."

Scheduled events at College of Marin include a 10 a.m. convocation in the Fine Arts Building and free lunch at noon with a theater group to perform. Afternoon programs are still taking shape, student body president Kimo Campbell said.

An educational symposium on the war is planned at San Rafael High School, with an average of three periods per student to be devoted to participation.

Principal Says Locker Search Is 'Miserable'

By DAVID DIETZ

Ten of the 11 public high school principals or their aides in Marin and Southern Sonoma have expressed opposition to a proposal by the state Board of Education for periodic narcotics checks of student lockers.

The reaction — some mild and some bitter — was obtained yesterday and today by the Independent-Journal.

Of the 11, only Robert Reeder, principal at Tomales High School, could not be reached for comment.

The locker inspections, under a program called "Project Turnoff," were urged by the state board yesterday on the recommendation of Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction. The unanimous board action was purely advisory in nature, leaving the decision on whether to conduct searches up to local officials.

Rafferty advised that school officials call in nonuniformed officers to help in searches.

"I think it's miserable," said Dr. Alan Ellsberg, principal of San Rafael High School. "We are not running a police state here and as far as searching youngsters or their belongings are concerned, there is no end to where this kind of thing can lead.

"This may be great for a proletarian state, but miserable in a democracy. As chairman of the Marin County Interagency Council on Smoking and Health, I am concerned as much as anybody about narcotics and the tobacco problem, but the methods by which you attack the problem are tremendously important.

"In my opinion, this is working toward a fascist state and I want no part of it. We have regulations in the district against student possession of alcohol and narcotics and we have turned many youngsters over to the police when we have discovered them with drugs, but, by gosh, I'll be darned if I'm going to enforce these regulations by stripping sown every person or his locker. We'd have to set up as more of a San Quentin than a public learning institution."

Nixon Likes His Portrait

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon accepted a portrait of himself Friday and commented that the 17-year-old artist had done "remarkably well regardless of the subject."

The portrait, in oils, was the work of Larry Craig Akers of Bluefield, Va. The youth was accompanied to the White House for the presentation by Rep. William C. Wampler, R-Va., and his teacher, James Mullins.

"How fine it is," Nixon told Wampler, "that this young man represents serious youth now when we have too much emphasis on radicals."

Mill Valley Arts Festival On Tomorrow

The 13th annual Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival will get underway at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Old Mill Park with more than 289 artists exhibiting and selling their works. (For review of art show, see page 7).

In the show, which is nearly three times the size of last year's, will be exhibits of paintings, seriographs, ceramics, jewelry, leather work, stained glass, sculpture, weaving, graphics, photography and stitchery.

Entertainment planned for the two-day show includes the Hamilton Air Force band, the Minerva Dancers, the Kopachka Dancers, the Guckenheim Sauerkraut band, Roger Griffith and his strolling musicians and the Prince Charles Junior Bagpipe Band.

Food for sale will include baked goods, chow mein, tea and fortune cookies, lasagne, homemade root beer and the usual hot dogs, cones, cotton candy, popcorn and soft drinks.

A pancake and sausage breakfast will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the park for festival exhibitors and early visitors and a spaghetti, salad and French bread dinner will be offered tomorrow evening.

Winners in the juried art show will be on display in the library gallery from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday.

Also on both days, the Mill Valley Library Association will hold a used book sale on the library steps featuring some first editions and autographed books.

Public Figures Swell War Protest

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public officials are joining the snowballing support for the moratorium Wednesday on work and studies to seek peace in Vietnam. Demonstrations are expected in every state.

Governors, congressmen and senators, city councilman and mayors, state legislators and former government officials will join businessmen, teachers and most of all students in what organizers say will be the largest series of nationwide antiwar protests ever held.

War critics in Congress say they have enough support to keep the House of Representatives in all-night session Tuesday to support Moratorium Day, with the American flag flying over a lighted Capitol dome as symbolic backing for the protests.

Seventeen senators and 47 House members pledged to support the moratorium as long as it is "peaceful, lawful and nonviolent."

Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said speakers had been lined up for an all-night session and predicted, "I think this is going to be the largest citizen participation of its kind in the history of this country."

President Richard M. Nixon said last week the moratorium would not affect his plans. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said yesterday, "Certainly citizens have a right to protest this war. But they have picked the wrong target."

Agnew told a Republican fund-raising dinner in Dallas, Tex., that the moratorium is "ironic and absurd." He suggested that protests should be directed at the North Vietnamese for their refusal to accept American terms for peace at the Paris peace conference.

Agnew canceled a campaign appearance in New Jersey next Wednesday at the request of Republican gubernatorial candidate William T. Cahill, who said he thought Agnew would be the target of antiwar demonstrators.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston urged all churches to conduct special services Wednesday and the Archdiocese of Detroit called for a day of fasting and prayer.

The executive board of the Central Council of American Rabbis, representing 1,100 Reform rabbis, endorsed the protest and urged Nixon to head the protesters.

Some universities and colleges canceled classes, while others refused to stop normal activities. Many schools followed the example of the nation's largest public school system, in New York City, where 1.1 million pupils and their teachers were told they might skip classes to protest.

The New York school board urged all schools to hold discussions on the war. Baltimore Schools Supt. Thomas D. Sheldon advised school principals that such discussions would be "appropriate" if they were "impartial and objective."

Whittier College in California and Duke University Law School in Durham, N.C., President Nixon's alma maters, are holding demonstrations. Dub Gulley, chairman of the moratorium committee at Duke, said Nixon would be sent a telegram expressing "disappointment and disgust" with his policies.

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of the 19 California State Colleges prohibited teachers to dismiss classes and ordered disciplinary action for those who disobey.

Gov. Kenneth Curtis of Maine, Frank Licht of Rhode Island and Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts endorsed the protest. So did Mayors John V. Lindsay of New York, Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit and Richard C. Lee of New Haven, Conn.

The Boston City Council called on Mayor Kevin White to

Red China, France Add To Nuclear Fallout Level

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP) — Atmospheric nuclear tests since 1966 contributed substantially to the amount of long-lived radioactive nuclides deposited on the earth's surface.

This was the conclusion of the U.N. Scientific Committee on the effects of atomic radiation in its latest report made public today.

Communist China and France have conducted atmospheric tests. They have not signed the 1963 treaty banning such tests, as have the other three world nuclear powers—the United States, the Soviet Union, and Britain.

The report said that debris from atmospheric tests continue to be the most important manmade radioactive contaminant in the environment.

Such tests carried out since the committee's 1966 report have added only about 2 per cent to the amounts of long-lived radioative nuclides still in the environment as a result of tests carried out in the early 1960s—when the Soviet Union and the United States were conducting major tests.

But the report added that the tests since 1966 "have about doubled the current low content of the atmosphere and have thus contributed substantially to the deposition observed since the middle of 1967."

The report added that only small amounts of radioactive material have leaked from a few underground tests and they have contributed only minutely to the global inventory.

The report said that most of the long-lived nuclides injected into the atmosphere by the earlier tests had been deposited by the middle of 1967, but the danger to foodstuffs was not past.

Militants' Chicago Gathering Fizzles

CHICAGO (AP) — Young radicals from the Students for a Democratic Society moved into a suburban seminary last night after plans for a mass rock concert and threats of continued disturbances fizzled.

The Weatherman, most militant faction of the SDS, appeared to be nursing its wounds after violent street battles with police Wednesday night and yesterday morning.

With 2,000 National Guardsmen on alert in armories around the city, almost 1,000 persons assembled in Lincoln Park for the rock concert. Police swept through the park early in the evening and announced it was closed.

hen Tthey withdrew to the edge of the park, and nearly everyone had gone by the regular closing hours of 11 p.m. There were no violent incidents and only a handful of arrests on disorderly conduct charges.

The SDS had said its four-day "national action" in Chicago would consist of the most "militant demonstrations in the history of the New Left." Spokesmen for the group predicted 5,000 to 15,000 persons would demonstrate in Chicago over the four days.

Of the 1,000 persons in the park yesterday, most appeared to be curiosity-seekers and passers-by.

The Weatherman faction, seeking recruits in its battle with the Revolutionary Youth Movement II faction of SDS, called the demonstrations to coincide with the trial in U.S. District Court of eight men charged with conspiracy to incite riots at the 1968 Democratic Convention.

RYM II disavowed the Weatherman disruptions and called its own demonstrations. At one, about 150 persons appeared yesterday in the plaza of the Federal Building where the trial is being held. RYM II held another rally later at a West Side factory. There were no incidents or arrests at either.

Some 150 of the Weathermen moved into Garrett Theological Seminary on the campus of Northwestern University in Evanston. About midnight, however, they agreed to limit their number staying overnight to 30, and seminary officials agreed to try to find housing elsewhere for the others.

Taylor McConnel, a seminary dean, said individuals enrolled in the school had been given permission to lodge SDS members in their dormitory rooms if they wished.

At a news conference last night, two women SDS members said the demonstrations would continue.

Ammunition Backers In Senate Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of stringent limits on weapons use, with a crushing Senate victory behind them, have made an apparently successful move to bypass a major House obstacle and rip some key provisions from the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Concentrated opposition from Northeast senators failed yesterday to halt the effort, sponsored by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, to eliminate registration provisions for purchasers of shotgun and rifle ammunition. The Utah Republican temporarily abandoned a bid to also revoke controls on .22-caliber ammunition.

Bennett's legislation, supported by the Nixon administration, goes to the House—which last year voted against including shotgun, rifle or .22-caliber ammunition in the bill.

Through Bennett's parliamentary maneuvering, the legislation will go through the congressional tax and finance committee pipeline—rather than the normal judiciary arrangement.

Rep. Emanuel E. Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a longtime advocate of gun registration, told a reporter yesterday he sees nothing he could do to block the Bennett proposal.

In the House, the Senate bill now falls under the jurisdiction of the ways and means committee headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., who voted against the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Bullet Nicking

NEW YORK (AP) — Miles Davis, the jazz trumpeter, was nicked by a bullet he said was fired at him yesterday as he sat in his parked car on a Manhattan street.

Davis, 42, told police the gunman was one of three men who jumped out of a taxicab and that five shots were fired, several striking his automobile. A companion, Margarette Eskridge, escaped injury.

Yoko In Hospital

LONDON (AP) — Yoko Ono, wife of Beatle John Lennon, has been admited to a hospital for treatment of an illness connected with pregnancy. She expects a child in December.

Miss Ono, a 34-year-old Japanese artist, and Lennon were married in 1968. She had a miscarriage last November.

Barmen Strike

ROME (AP) — A thousand barmen and waiters paraded through Rome today, hurling eggs and tomatoes at bars and restaurants that did not close in a nationwide strike.

Some windows were shattered, but owners of other bars that were open got their shutters down in time.

It was the second 48-hour nationwide walkout of bartenders, waiters and cashiers this month. They demand higher pay and fringe benefits.

Synogogue Bombed

ISTANBUL (AP) — A small dynamite charge exploded early today at the entrance to the Neve Shalom Synagogue in downtown Istanbul, shattering several windows of the synagogue and adjoining buildings. No one was hurt.

Police said they had no clues to the identity of the bomber. As in other Moslem countries, there was strong reaction here to the burning of the El Aksah Mosque in Jeruslaem in August, but the explosion today was the first anti-Jewish act of violence.

Mexico's Version

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tourists crossing all of Mexico's international borders will be subjected to spot health checks effective Nov. 1 in that country's version of Operation Intercept, says Mexicali Consul Edward perez Camera.

He emphasized yesterday that the move is not retaliation for the U.S. Operation Intercept against drugs smuggled into the United States from Mexico.

Dr. Hector Cortes Apuente, chief health officer for Tijuana, a main border crossing from California, said, "this effort . . . goes hand-in-hand with Operation Intercept."

Details of the nature of the health checks have not been made public.

Indians Not Very Happy With Promises Of Study

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Indian Commissioner Louis R. Bruce has promised a broad study of federal trusteeship "to make it a more flexible instrument for Indian development while fully protecting Indian resources."

In a speech which aroused little enthusiasm from delegates to the National Congress of American Indians yesterday, Bruce — himself a Sioux-Mohawk—said he would "maintain and continue an open dialogue" with members of his race.

Within an hour, Wendell Chino, president of the congress, told a news conference: "If he doesn't fulfill his responsibilities to the Indian people, then I don't mind calling for a mandate against the commissioner."

Chino said Bruce's talk "didn't have any substance," and that "another study is not going to accomplish anything for the Indian people."

The week-long convention ends today with election of new officers and selection of a 1970 meeting site.

Kennedy For Pressure On Curbing Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, and particularly Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, appears more and more willing to put pressure on the groups it thinks are crimping its fight against inflation.

But "it's far from coercion," one Treasury Department official said yesterday after Kennedy issued a strong appeal, coupled with a warning, to heavy-buying businessmen, demanding unions and spendthrift consumers.

Nevertheless, Kennedy's speech to the Economic Club of Chicago was a major departure from the mild approach he has taken before in the eight-plus months he has held office.

The speech spelled out in more detail what President Richard M. Nixon and his chief economist, Paul W. McCracken, have said before: Those who gamble that inflation will continue will be the final losers.

Kennedy told the club's businessmen and bankers the administration had worked hard to chill four years of inflation and was beginning to get results. Then he added:

"The businessman who undertakes an unnecessary capital expansion or inventory accumulation today in the expectation of higher prices or higher interest rates tomorrow is betting that we are going to lose this fight.

"So is the union leader who demands wage increases that far outrun productivity gains. And so is the consumer who plunges headlong into debt on the theory that his dollars will be worth less tomorrow.

"I believe they are seriously mistaken."

Knowledgeable Treasury officials said Kennedy's determined speech resulted from his decision, made before Nixon spoke out Sept. 26, to become more emphatic and positive—in other words, tougher.

It is still a long way from the "jawbone" technique of tough personal persuasion practiced during Lyndon Johnson's time and rejected as ineffective by Nixon.

The closest Kennedy had ever come to personal salesmanship—a quality he can use well when he wants—was when he summoned executives of 49 leading banks last summer to talk about rising interest rates. But those were gentle sessions, Treasury sources say, and Kennedy spent most of the time listening.

Major Tax Slice Talk In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long, chairman of the powerful finance committee, predicts the Senate will vote even bigger relief for the U.S. taxpayer than provided in a House measure already criticized by President Richard M. Nixon as too costly.

Nixon has indicated he might veto a tax reform bill that wasn't trimmed below what the House provided.

Long's forecast was backed up somewhat by the senior Republican on the committee, Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who told a reporter he would not be surprised if the Senate goes beyond the House measure.

Several senators of both parties are urging the committee to increase the present $600 personal income tax exemption by at least $100. A few have asked that it be raised to $1,000 or $1,200.

Transplants May Save Diabetics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Transplant specialists see hope that the world's millions of diabetics—who can be helped for a time with insulin but not cured—eventually may be made well with organs from cadavers of animals.

The hope is based on advances in surpressing natural rejection of foreign tissue, expected some day to open a vast and inexpensive supply of storable organs to replace those damaged by disease or injury.

The American College of Surgeons heard a panel of experts yesterday on progress in transplanting pancreas glands, whose functions include producing insulin, a hormone needed in the utilization of sugar.

Insufficient insulin can cause blood vessel diseases and fatal kidney failure.

Dr. William D. Kelly of the University of Minnesota reported encouraging studies in transplanting pancreas glands and kidneys at the same time in humans who because of advanced diabetes had been rejected for kidney transplants.

He said two patients who would have died quickly were still alive months after double-transplants from dead persons. Six others have died of various complications but their pancreas glands were working well, he said.

Dr. John J. Bergan of Northwestern University, director of the National Organ Transplant Registry, said administration of insulin by pill or injection "just isn't adequate in many cases. A better source is needed."

Insulin is made by tiny bodies called Islets of Langerhans scattered throughout the pancreas, the main portion of which produces digestive enzymes.

PITCH FOR WINE

A Sip Of The Grape Banishes Pot Peril?

NEW YORK (AP) — Close the generation gap with a bottle of burgundy.

That's the advice of a Detroit psychologist who contends: The family that shares a bottle of wine won't have to worry about the youngsters switching to marijuana.

Dr. Robert Kastenbaum, professor at Wayne State University, spoke yesterday at a day-long "Symposium on Wine in American Life" sponsored by the Wine Institute.

Kastenbaum said that "wine is a good symbol of togetherness" for the famiiy. "You don't draw meaning out of smoking a cigarette or watching a television program," he said, but sharing a bottle of wine offers "symbolic relatedness to past generations, to tradition."

He explained, "Wine links people to each other; drugs tend to increase the user's alienation from the community in general."

The psychologist added, "Part of the appeal in drugs to the young is the opportunity to be 'in' on something. But the wine-lover is 'in' on an exceedingly rich lode of potential knowledge and experience . . .

"This potential seems much greater than merely trying to discover whether or not one has purchased an authentic 'joint' (marijuana cigarette)."

Kastenbaum is married and has two children, a son, David, 5, and a daughter, Cynthia, 1. He said his daughter "loves little sips of wine."

Generally, Kastenbaum suggested, children should be introduced to wine "at the bginning of school age." He said, "Wine in water is very acceptable to a lot of kids."

Dr. Angelo Pellegrini, an Italian-born professor of English at the University of Washington in Seattle, said he encourages his children to learn about wine, adding: "My cellar adjoins my children's playroom so they may go from the one to the other. My study is directly in front of both so I can keep an eye on both."

Innocent Plea

David George Russek, 21, of 63 Hermit Lane, Kentfield, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possessing marijuana and a device for smoking it. A preliminary hearing was set for Oct. 20. He was arrested Oct. 1 in Sausalito.

Reed Transfer Report In Error

The Independent-Journal Wednesday erroneously reported that the Reed School District board agreed to deny interedistrict transfer requests denied by the home district unless the denial was overruled by the Marin ounty Board of Education.

Supt. Robert B. Gaw said today the board declined to take any action on that part of his recommendation for board policy on interedistrict transfers. The board's action had been reported incorrectly to the I-J, Gaw said.

Instead, the board moved to review all interedistrict transfer applications itself rather than leaving it to the staff to act upon them, Gaw said.

Singer Guthrie Has Real Folksy Wedding

WASHINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Folk singer Arlo Guthrie got married yesterday in ceremonies attended by 125 guests and about 16 dogs and preceded by a wedding supper of shrimp curry in 10 gallon pots.

Guthrie, star of the film "Alice's Restaurant," married Jackie Hyde against a backdrop of brilliant foliage on his 250-acre farm.

Judy Collins sang folk songs. Guthrie and his mother, Marjorie, read a poem written by his late father, Woody, about peace and love.

Among the wedding guests was Obie Obenheimer, the policeman who arrested Arlo for littering in real life, in a song and again playing himself in a movie.

Obie kissed the bride, then turned to Arlo and said:

"Congratulations, my friend, but I'm not going to kiss you."

The wedding supper was cattered by Alice Brock, proprietress of Alice's Restaurant. It was served before the wedding instead of after because the guests got hungry waiting for Arlo's mother to arrive from New York City with a busload of friends and relatives.

Dogs romped about as wedding guests toasted the bride and groom with champagne right from the bottle. Arlo's records were played over a loudspeaker.

Mental Health Chief Under Fire On Bills

County funds spent by Dr. Clyde G. Miller, suspended director of community mental health services, in printing and circulating documents in his own defense drew criticism from several quarters today.

Sally Ryan, vice president of Marinites Interested in Mental Illness and a director of Marin Aid to Retarded Children, questioned the legality of expenses incurred by Miller in reproducing and mailing the documents.

She said she would write to the board of supervisors protesting such use of taxpayers' funds.

Before his suspension on Sept. 30, Miller mailed a letter entitled "Trouble in Mental Health Land" to 48 organizations, and individual directors of several organizations. Mrs. Ryan said she also received a bulky 30-page document this week from Miller's office, with postage costing 30 cents. This one is entitled "Trouble in Mental Health Land, Detailed Examples," and is a reproduction of the detailed document Miller presented at the time of his Sept. 30 hearing.

"I don't know how many of these went out, and whether the county paid for the 30-cent postage," said Mrs. Ryan.

Two county officials also questioned the expenses.

"I'm holding up payment of $271.37 for copy service work ordered by Dr. Miller at the Marin Copy Center in San Rafael," said Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell. He said he just received a bill for work asked for Miller at the copy center in August and September.

Mitchell said county Purchasing Agent Doug Edelen questioned the bill because there was no purchase order for the work.

Under county regulations, a department head may take advantage of a "limited use purchase order," bypassing the county purchasing agent on emergency or minor purchases under $20.

Dr. Miller apparently used a series of the limited use purchase orders to support the $271 bill at the copy center, said Mitchell.

Mitchell said he has not determined whether the 30-cent postage was paid by county funds or by Dr. Miller.

efforts are being made to present a balanced picture of the war, with speakers representing various points of view scheduled.

The day will begin with a speech by Orville Schell of the World Affairs Council of Northern California, a San Francisco-based study group which will provide many of the speakers. The talk will be in a general assembly at 9 a.m. in the gymnasium.

Other speakers will be from Hamilton Air Force Base and the Presidio of San Francisco and from veterans groups. Extreme left views, such as the Students for a Democratic Society are not being included, Ellsberg said.

The student executive board at Dominican College of San Rafael has voted against a class boycott, but students will be free to participate as they wish during nonclass hours.

Tentatively scheduled is an informational panel on the war in the evening and students are also seeking speakers for the day.

At Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, students are planning a vigil during the lunch hour. It will include student speeches on the war and songs, but firm plans have not been completed, according to Thomas E. McEntee, dean of student activities.

Redwood High School will hold classes as usual, with a suggestion to teachers in appropriate classes that it might be a good day to discuss American foreign policy, Principal Donald Kreps said.

Terra Linda High School students are also planning a noon activity, possibly a speaker, but exact plans are not complete, according to Principal Frank Stocking.

There are no plans for observances at Tomales, Tamalpais, Novato, or Marin Catholic high schools, or at high schools in Southern Sonoma.

No official observances are planned in any cities, but there has been a request that it be on the agenda for the meeting of the San Anselmo City Council at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the city hall.

Must Refrain From Unflattering Names

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Johannesburg motorists must resist the urge to use unflattering names for the city's newly established squad of female traffic policeman, insists Traffic Chief Saville Dorfman.

"Meter maids" is out. So is "boetebessie" and Afrikaans nickname derived from the word "boetebossie" — a noxious weed carrying a mandatory fine if found growing on municipal house-holders' property.

Changing Times

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — An elderly woman told Mrs. J. O. Harper, a department store clerk, that she wanted a new dress. She tried on a dozen or more, then remarked: "They used to make dresses long enough to cover a body's instep. Now they make 'em so they just barely cover the stepins."

Two Firsts

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan College, a Catholic institution, has named its first woman theologian and first Protestant minister — Dr. Letty Mandeville Russell, a Presbyterian — to its religious studies faculty.

"Substantial fractions of the total doses to which the population is committed remain to be received from the present body burdens and from the deposit in soil which will continue to be transferred to foodstuffs," the report added.

"This is particularly true in the case of strontium-90, which remains available for absorption by plant roots and is retained for long periods in the human skeleton."

The U.N. committee was established by the General Assembly in 1955, and its task has been to keep the world organization advised of dangers to mankind from atomic radiation.

Computer To Aid Boarder Search

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Computers will be put to work to speed Operation Intercept drug and narcotics searches at the Mexican border, Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke announced today.

Under the program, U.S. customs officials will teletype to Sacramento the license number of every car stopped at the border.

The license number will be fed into the Motor Vehicle Department computer, which will answer whether the auto is on a state list of vehicles suspected of being involved in the narcotics trade.

Within 10 seconds, Reinecke said, the customs officer will get a "yes" or "no" answer.

If the answer is "yes," then the vehicle will get an intensive search. If the answer is "no," said Reinecke, there will be "a less intensive investigation."

Frauds

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Two men charged in the local magistrate's court on 83 counts of fraud allegedly posed as university students and sold the public season tickets for a series of plays which were never performed. One of the plays was "Trouble With My Creditors."

ferty outlining the program.

"We don't intend to do it," said Francis P. Shafer, assistant principal at Sir Francis Drake High School. "I have the letter here and Mr. Allison (principal Harold Allison) wrote on it, 'For your information and not for action.' I guess we'll have to leave it at that."

Shafer said Drake officials would open a school locker only for compelling reasons.

Donald Kreps, principal at Redwood High School, said he had not discussed the proposal with his staff, but his opinion is that such a practice would "offend students who are not involved in drugs. . . . it would be sort of accusing the student body en masse of being guilty."

"Whether we'll do it or not is problematical because I haven't discussed it with the staff, but my recommendation will be that we should continue with the present process, which is to work in cooperation with local law enforcement. If the law enforcement people notify us that they suspect a student, we'll go to the locker and inspect it."

Principal Stanley Onderdonk of Novato High School said, "I'm just not in the mood to go out and inspect lockers. I prefer spending time on educational endeavors. I don't want to be a full-time sleuth . . . I just got through reading the letter and it appears to me to be something I don't want to do."

"We haven't followed a policy of going around searching lockers," said Frank Stocking, principal of Terra Linda High School. "We're interested in doing anything we can, but I tend to believe more in educational procedures than in other types. It's slower sometimes, but I think it's more effective."

Robert E. Daggett, principal of Rancho Cotate High School in Rohnert Park, said he had no plan to carry out Project Turnoff unless ordered to.

"We now check certain lockers if we suspect an individual student may have drugs, but a mass check wouldn't be worth it," he said.

Dr. Dan E. Montgomery, principal at Petaluma Senior High School, said that although he had not received any communication on the Rafferty proposal, he did not plan to start a regular locker checking program.

"The courts have always ruled that we have the right to check a student's locker and we have when we've suspected he might have drugs, stolen items or contraband, but a mass check wouldn't serve any purpose," Montgomery said.

Henry Moroski, principal at San Marin High School in Novato, said a large scale inspection "smacks of infringement upon the individual rights of students." He said his district office probably would seek an opinion on the legality of such searches from the Marin County counsel's office.

Raymond J. Bell, principal at Tamalpais High School, said it was doubtful that Tam would adopt a locker search as general policy but added, "We have never hesitated to search the lockers, which are school property, if there was an evidence — or even suspicion — of narcotics being on board . . . or any other illegal thing."

Said Henry A. Marshall, dean of boys at Tam, "Personally, I'm not interested in playing that game."

Sgt. Louis Foster, juvenile officer with the San Rafael Police Department, said he thought such searches would yield little or no contraband, that cases would be impossible to prosecute because of widespread multiple use of lockers by students and that such searches would probably "stir up the students."

A United Press International survey of educators throughout the state produced reaction similar to that in Marin and Southern Sonoma.

Harold Zimmerman, principal of Balboa High School in San Francisco, scene of recent racial fighting blamed on drugs, called the state board's proposal "ridiculous."

"This man (Rafferty) doesn't know what a locker check would entail," he said. "We have 2,600 lockers. It would take eight men three or four hours to go through all of them."

In San Diego, however, Supt. of Schools Jack Hornback said high school officials have inspected student lockers for some time and may step up the searches.

set up appropriate moratorium observances and asked Nixon to end the war. The New York City Council declined to take a stand on the protest, but 39 New York state legislators backed it.

Many protesters around the country will wear black armbands to note the more than 40,000 Americans killed in Vietnam, and lists of the war dead will be read at memorial services. One such service will be held in the Wall Street financial district in New York.

Candlight marches will be held in many cities. Coretta King, widow of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., will lead a march in Washington.

But in Charleston, W.Va., Police Chief Dallas Bias refused a parade permit to the Charleston Coalition for Peace.

"Anti-Vietnam War marches and demonstrations tend to give aid and comfort to the common enemy of the United States in this conflict," Bias said.

Woody Allen, the comedian-writer-actor, announced he would not perform in his starring role in "Play It Again, Sam" on Broadway next Wednesday to support the moratorium. He called on other Broadway casts to stop work for the day.

The idea for a moratorium day began with Jerome Grossman, a Boston businessman who wanted a general strike against the war. This was modified by former backers of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., to a general moratorium.

The Vietnam Moratorium Committee is headed by Sam Brown, a former Harvard divinity student, who led Students for McCarthy; David Mixner and David Hawk, working out of a Washington, D.C., office with a staff of about 50.

'Hunger Show' Without Pillow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A weeklong "Hunger Show on Liferaft Earth"—a bunch of people simulating crowded starvation inside a big plastic pillow—will be staged Saturday, except there won't be a pillow.

Instead, the "show," a dramatization of overpopulation and food shortage, will be held in the open air behind a symbolic barrier.

The site will be a parking lot in Hayward across the bay from San Francisco.

The Hayward fire department declared the plastic pillow a fire hazard because it would "melt" if ignited.

retary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is known to favor a periodic review and possible new announcement at intervals of two or three months.

Administration officials said privately the President intends to counter the antiwar maneuvers focused on Wednesday's moratorium from study and work initiated nationwide by college students.

At a minimum that meant that Nixon is looking for ways to dramatize his commitment to bring the war to an end by negotiation or to disengage the United States as rapidly as possible by turning the fighting over to the South Vietnamese.

But it also opened the possibility that Nixon would decide the best way to counter the pressures for bringing the U.S. part in the war to a quick end would be by some substantial new move in the policy field—or by some such action as calling for a bi-partisan group to study the situation and come up with recommendation apart from an accelerated announcement of a new troop removal decision, Nixon could consider—and some officials believe he definitely will consider—a bid for a cease-fire to put an end to the killing in the shortest possible time.

Interest was focused on a cease-fire most recently by President Thieu's announcement to the National Assembly in Saigon last Monday that he would be willing to discuss a cease-fire with the enemy if the Communists would accept talks. His action has already been denounced by Communist spokesmen in Paris.

Earlier, on Oct. 2, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called for a cease-fire and standfast in Vietnam, saying one way to get it would be for the United States to announce that it would fire only if fired upon.

Both the Lyndon B. Johnson and the Nixon administrations have in the past turned down cease-fire proposals except in the limited circumstance that a cease-fire would be an initial step in a peace settlement providing for mutual withdrawal of troops by both sides.

A U.S. bid for a cease-fire under other conditions and as a means of stopping the fighting short of a peace settlement would mean a change in policy.

Laird reported yesterday that U.S. commanders in South Vietnam have new orders which would appear to result in reducing the fighting if the other side cooperated. Instead of concentrating on killing enemy troops, their orders now emphasize preparing South Vietnamese forces to take over the war, and of progress in this endeavor Laird spoke encouragingly.

In a related development, Newsday today reported a White House source has acknowledged that Hanoi has reduced its strength by about 30 per cent.

In a copyrighted story from Washington, the Long Island newspaper reported that despite the fact that North Vietnamese reduction is proportionately greater than America's scheduled cut, the White House source said it was not a response to American withdrawals but a deliberate enemy military strategy. The United States has scheduled a 20 per cent cut in its troop strength in Vietnam.

OBITUARIES

Ethel M. Brown Dies At 87

Ethel M. Brown of Ross, daughter of a former California secretary of state and granddaughter of a San Francisco pioneer, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness. She would have been 88 tomorrow.

Mrs. Brown's father was Drury Melone, who served as secretary of state from 1871 to 1875.

Her grandfather, R. B. Woodward, built one of San Francisco's first hotels, the What Cheer House on Sacramento Street, in the early Gold Rush days.

He later developed a public area in the Mission District of San Francisco with a lake, deer park, zoo, aquarium and classical statuary called it Woodward Gardens.

He later bought 3,000 acres in the Napa Valley from Gen. Guadalupe Vallejo and developed the Oak Knoll Ranch.

Mrs. Brown was born in the old Palace Hotel in San Francisco and was a graduate of Miss Hamlin's School in San Francisco

She was the widow of Caspar M. Brown, who was in the life insurance business.

Mrs. Brown had lived in Marin for 22 years, the last 10 on Fernhill Drive, Ross.

Survivors are two daughters, Ethel B. Ingham and Sally B. Lane, both of Ross; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Memorial contributions may be made to the donor's favorite charity.

JOSEPH BAROZZI

Joseph Barozzi, a retired San Anselmo stone mason, died today at a local hospital following a short illness. He was 80.

Born in Italy, Barozzi moved to San Francisco with his family when he was 5. He and his wife, Louise, whom he married 60 years ago, moved to their present home at 47 Elm Avenue in San Anselmo in 1920.

He was a member of the Club Italia of San Rafael.

He is survived by his wife; a son, William Barozzi of San Francisco; three daughters, Rosalie Barozzi and Evelyn DaCastello, both of San Anselmo, and Marie Simontacchi of San Rafael; seven grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral is pending at Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

HORACE HAYES

Private funeral for Horace H. Hayes of San Francisco, father of Horace Osgood Hayes of Mill Valley, was today at N. Gray and Co. Mortuary, San Francisco. Burial was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Hayes, 75, died on Wednesday in a local convalescent hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Visalia, Tulare County, he had lived most of his life in San Francisco. He was a retired Southern Pacific Railroad employee.

He was a member of the Calvary Presbyterian Church and of Forest Hill Lodge No. 534, Free and Accepted Masons, both in San Francisco.

He also is survived by his wife, Consuelo; a second son, Timothy of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Shepherd M. Jenks of Connecticut.

His family asked that memorial contributions go to the San Francisco Heart Association.

ALBA LAFRANCONI

Alba P. Lafranconi, 82, of San Rafael, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

A native of San Francisco, she had lived in Marin for 12 years with her daughter, Elsie Introini, at 319 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

She was the widow of Eucherio Lafranconi, who had owned the Falstaff Hotel and Restaurant in the San Francisco produce district.

She was a member of the Marin Orchid Society.

Her daughter is her only survivor.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Sylvester's Church, San Rafael, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Council for Retarded Children, Petaluma, or the Tom Cincotta Memorial Fund, Marin Catholic High School, or the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, San Francisco.

ANNE S. KILGORE

Private funeral for Anne S. Kilgore of Belvedere was held today at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial followed at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Mrs. Kilgore, 84, died Wednesday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Gloucester, Mass., she moved to San Francisco in 1920 and to Belvedere in 1953. Her husband, Dr. Alson R. Kilgore, a San Francisco surgeon, died in 1959.

Mrs. Kilgore was a graduate of Boston Childrens Hospital School of Nursing where she met her husband who was studying at the Harvard School of Medicine. After their marriage, the young couple traveled to China in 1915 to help found the Harvard Medical School in Shanghai.

For the last 14 years Mrs. Kilgore resided at 314 San Rafael Avenue.

She is survived by two daughters, Mary S. McKinnon of San Rafael, Margaret K. Brinckerhoff of Novato; two sisters, Alice P. Johnson and Hester N. Johnson, both of Boston, Mass., and eight grandchildren.

The family has requested memorial contributions to Marin Audubon Society, Marin Symphony Guild or Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society.

NETTIE LUXTON

Funeral for Nettie D. Luxton of Hayward, mother of Harold (Hal) J. Luxton of Petaluma and owner of Lexton Optical in Greenbrae, will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorenson Funeral Home in Hayward. Burial will be in Pottsville, Pa.

Mrs. Luxton, 74, died Wednesday in an east bay hospital after a long illness.

A native of Minersville, Pa., she moved to Hayward in 1960 with her husband, John Arthur Luxton, a retired mine supervisor who died three years ago.

She is also survived by two daughters, Aimee West and Gwendolyn Hendel, both of Hayward, a sister, Martha Hassler of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., a brother, Edgar Dietz of New Milford, N.J., 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Family Housing Held Big Worry

Too much attention is focused on housing for the elderly at the expense of families with children, who face the biggest housing squeeze in Marin County.

This opinion was expressed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the housing committee of the Human Rights Commission prior to last night's commission session, at the Civic Center.

Niney per cent of the housing problem in Marin is with families with children, said Wallace K. Shepherd, assistant director of the Marin Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency. "When we focus too much on the elderly, it's a copout," declared Shepherd.

Chairman Richard Harding and other committee members agreed that the future for low income housing is discouraging, and every avenue must be sought to provide such housing.

Albert Solnit, chief of advance planning for the county planning department described children as "the one big minority group being pushed around." In San Francisco, only one family out of four has any children, said Solnit. "It's getting to be a place for the very rich and very poor, and I'm not sure we're not going in the same direction."

Willie Mae Howard of Marin City and Mary Brooks, a human rights commissioner, complained that whites seem to be getting most of the leased housing (government subsidized housing for low income families). "If Mr. Little (Neil Little, director of leased housing) can find housing for whites, he can find them for blacks," declared Mrs. Brooks. "We want to get out of Marin City."

Mrs. Howard, who lives in one of the highrise buildings in Marin City, charged that the design and upkeep of the buildings are poor. For example, she said, front windows look out into the rear of other buildings, and a resident of one unit can walk right into the next unit. "Not a coat of paint in nine years," she complained.

"There were roaches and rats in the play areas, but they're taking care of it now," reported Mrs. Brooks.

They agreed with Shepherd that marked improvement is being made on grounds and building maintenance.

"We're painting every unit (in Marin City) now and hope to finish by the end of this year," said Shepherd.

Martin Mackey, director of the Ecumenical Housing Association, reported that 61 units of federally aided housing have been approved on the property of the First Congregational Church at Merrydale Road and North San Pedro Road, San Rafael. He said 20 per cent of those units will be set aside for low income families.

Mackey announced that similar projects are planned at Hilarita and on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael.

Marin needs 1,000 low cost units right now, said Shepherd. Cutbacks in federal spending have added to the problem by chopping allocations for housing, he said.

Change In Housing Law Is Sought

Marin County Human Rights commissioners last night passed a resolution asking for a change in the federal housing law so that a new resident in a community woul not be barred from a leased housing project in that community.

The motion, by Rev. Francis Geddes, asks Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, and Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, to seek an amendment to the Housing Act of 1937 to prohibit residence requirements in leased housing.

Under the federal leased housing program, the government pays part of the rent for low income families. However, when a leased housing project is located within a city, the city can impose a residency requirement, the Reverend Geddes pointed out. For example, San Rafael requires two years' residence in the city before a person is eligible for leased housing. Several other cities in Marin require one-year residence.

"A system like this discriminates against black ghetto families and violates the Civil Rights Act of 1964," said Geddes. "Cities are, let us say, not anxious to welcome people who have not lived there for some time. It's used as a way to exclude blacks. No one is really fooling anyone, but it's sort of a game being played."

The four other commissioners present, who supported the motion, were chairman James Quiett, Richard Harding, Anthony Medrano, and Harry D. Williams.

Hub Man Treated For Auto Injuries

Frank J. Mathieson, 35, of 55 Foothill Road, San Anselmo, was treated for a bruised forehead at Marin General Hospital yesterday after his car was struck by another at 7 a.m. at San Anselmo and Tunstead Avenues.

Phillip J. Agard of 8 Locke Lane, Mill Valley, said he swerved his car to avoid a collision with a third vehicle and struck Mathieson's car, police reported.

Housing Fund Guide Faces Rough Going

A formal document prepared each year by the Marin County planning director to qualify the county for federal housing and redevelopment funds may be headed for some rough sailing this year.

The document, titled "Workable Program for Community Development," drew a round of criticism at last night's meeting of the Human Rights Commission.

FUND THREAT

W. Robert Lomax Jr., executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, declared flatly that he would ask that Housing and Urban Development funds for Marin County be stopped "if the 'workable program' is sent in that form."

Lomax referred to a draft of the 1969-70 workable program prepared by Planning Director Paul C. Zucker. Last year, Zucker himself acknowledged that the annual "Workable Program" was a meaningless document prepared only to meet federal requirements for funding.

Lomax declared that the document, outlining the goals and achievements toward improving living condition, "does not realistically reflect the real needs of the community."

Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Human Rights Commission, agreed. He said the document paints a beautiful picture of Marin without pointing out problems in housing and proverty that exist in the county.

AID GUIDE

Alan Mills, a graduate student from Sacramento State College who is assigned to the county planning staff to work in social planning, pointed out that the purpose of the document is to meet requirements for federal aid. "It doesn't really provide any significant data," said Mills. He said no specific methods are outlined to close the gap between needs and services in such fields as housing and pverty.

The "workable program" for 1969-70 will get a public hearing before the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 3 p.m. on Oct. 21.

Collision Injures Motorcycle Woman

Janice Mary Kelly, 22, of 3 Lincoln Road, Sausalito, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for pains in the right arm and right leg after her motorcycle hit a car driven by Michael Hart McGinnis, 31, of 625 Adrian Way, Novato.

The California Highway Patrol said the 3:20 p.m. mishap occurred when Miss Kelly failed to stop her motorcycle at Pine Street and Shoreline Highway and went into the path of McGinnis' car.

Rights Panel Says Hair Length Personal

Length and style of an athlete's hair should be left to the athlete himself, to decide, the Marin Human Rights Commission decided by unanimous 5-0 vote last night.

The motion, by Rev. Francis Geddes, referred to the current controversy over hair length at Redwood High School, where the athletic director quit when his short-hair rule was suspended by the school superintendent.

Last Monday night, a crowd of 700 jammed the Redwood High School gymnasium to discuss hair length. The Tamalpais High School District board ordered a 30-day continuance and asked committees to study the school's grooming rules and report back on Nov. 3.

"I'm shocked that 700 people would gather to talk about the length of hair," said Geddes. "There's also the issue of individual rights here." He moved that "individual athletes be free to determine the style and length of his own hair."

Commissioner Anthony Medrano seconded the motion and asked that the commission statement be sent to the Tamalpais High School District trustees.

"Of all the things facing us today such as drugs and the moratorium on war," snapped Medrano in disgust. "To talk about long hair — that gets me."

The Marin Human Rights Commission also:

EOC CENTER — Passed a resolution supporting an application by the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council for a multiservice center at 875 Grant Avenue in Novato. W. Robert Lomax Jr., executive director of EOC, said the multiservice center will serve those who need help in such areas as employment, welfare, legal aid, and youth activities.

FAIR EMPLOYMENT — Heard Ronald Foster, field representative for the Bay Area Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, report on his efforts to get Marin employers to comply voluntarily with the equal employment provisions of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Of five large employers in Marin he will meet, Foster said he has already visited the Independent-Journal and McGraw Hill Book Co.

CONSTRUCTION TRADES — Assured Rev. Samuel L. Banks of the Marin City Council that efforts are being made to coordinate the work of two organizations which are trying to get minorities into the various building trades. One is the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program and the other is North Bay Human Development Corp.

MARIN CITY PLANNING — Heard from Banks that Marin City is just about ready to start a survey of the future physical needs of the community under a $51,500 federal grant. Banks said Marin City is determined to "establish our own sense of direction."

NEWS SHEET — Heard a report from field representative Joyce Bailey that a housepergan newsletter will be published to keep commissioners informed about activities of the human rights department staff.

Canoe Class Sponsor A Private Individual

Canoe lessons at the Mill Valley small boat dock, scheduled to be held from 9 to 11 a.m. each Saturday in October are now not sponsored by the Marin Canoe Club as stated by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department in Monday's Independent-Journal, according to Mrs. Paul Hewitt, canoe club member.

The classes are taught and sponsored by A.C. Allen, who is not affiliated with the club nor with the parks and recreation department, Mrs. Hewitt said.

Marines, Rock Band To Serenade Prison

An Establishment and a non-Establishment band will perform for inmates of San Quentin prison tomorrow.

The Fleet Marin Forces Pacific, Drum and Bugle Corps will play in the lower recreation yard starting at 10 a.m. and the rock bands Sons of Champlin and Country Joe and the Fish will play starting at 12:30 p.m.

Ordered To Pay

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP) — Nobel Peace Prize winner Linus Pauling has been ordered to pay a businessman $1,750 to settle a breach of contract suit stemming from the proposed sale of a gas station and home.

Superior Court Judge Robert Harris said yesterday Pauling showed "bad faith" when he backed out of selling the property to Howard M. O'Daniels in 1966.

POSTERS PREEMPT POTS

Old Cotati Hardware Store Leaps The Generation Gap

By BONNIE BARD

An unorthodox series of shops — conceived and operated by Sonoma State College students — has opened in Cotati and, though breaking most business dogma, appears headed for success.

Initiated by senior Liza Straus the shops are collectively called Cotati Company No. 2 and have moved into the building at 8240 Old Redwood Highway that was formerly occupied by the more conventional Lipton's Hardware store.

Some vestiges of the old establishment remain, but candles, art goods and psychedelic posters now preempt pots and pans.

While Miss Straus leases the building in her name, she sublets display spaces for shops to fellow students and young people on a per-square-foot basis.

"In addition to paying rent, the shopkeepers pay their share of the utility bills and everybody carts his own garbage," the 24-year-old businesswoman said.

A casual atmosphere, in which it is difficult ot tell shopkeepers from shoppers, prevails. Many sales are conducted on credit or in exchange for other items. Few price tags are in evidence and little old-fashioned haggling over purchase price is not uncommon. A basket of free apples allows shoppers to munch while browsing.

Shops include an art area that displays all types of paintings that range from the work of art graduate students to that of 5-year-old Sylvia Mitchell of Cotati, who won first place in a coloring contest to start her art career.

Handmade and imported clothing appreciated mainly by college students is featured in two shops while posters, records, beads and photography supplies are sold in others.

"We hope to draw trade from the community as well as the student population," Miss Straus said. Shopkeepers agreed that the store would be popular for local residents and reported that psychedelic posters are the most in demand item for straights.

Operated on a democratic basis, the shopkeepers hold weekly meetings to review problems and set policy.

"The biggest collective decision we've made so far is to bar dogs from the store," she said. Weel-mannered dogs owned by shopkeepers, however, will be tolerated, they decided.

Admitting the operating procedure is a bit unorthodox, Miss Straus said, "If we had read a book on how to operate a store, we probably wouldn't have taken the chance," she said. "Maybe we're crazy, but we think it will work."

Cotati Company No. 2 is not the first business venture for Miss Straus who opened a bookstore across the street last year with fellow student Sandy Neal.

"We started out on $100, but now have assets over $3,000," she said, adding that debts had increased proportionately.

"There's no logical explanation on why it's a success. According to the Small Business Administration handbook we received, we're doing everything wrong," she said.

The name for the store was selected because it would continue the traditions of Cotati. Shopkeepers, in researching the city's history, found that when the Page brothers developed the area, it was known as the Cotati Land Co.

The store reflects the rural atmosphere of Cotati with individual shops divided by rough planks of wood salvaged from demolished chicken houses.

"It lends a relaxed atmosphere and also met our decorating budget which was minimal," Miss Straus said.

An alley beside the store will blossom into a park area with benches for picnicing and meditating when full plans are carried out. Miss Straus said a shop selling plants is expected to be included soon and landscape the park as part of its sales program.

Miss Straus, whose home is in Boston, Mass., is technically in her third year as a senior at Sonoma State having transferred there from Cornell Univeristy.

A full-time philosophy major, she plans to graduate in June, but doubts that it will be the end of her schooling. "I think I'll be a student for the rest of my life." She may also be in business for the rest of her life.

Judge Again Denies Lifting Lid On Jury

CHICAGO (AP) —Judge Julius J. Hoffman refused today a defense motion that he vacate his order sequestering the jury in the trial of eight men charged with conspiring to promote violence during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

William M. Kunstler, chief defense counsel, called the sequestering of the jury "inhumane and unnecessary.

This was the second time that Judge Hoffman denied a motion to end sequestering of the jurors.

Kunstler also contended that the constant contact of the jurors with U.S. marshals would tend to make the jury favorable toward the prosecutions. Marshals accompany the jurors to and from their hotel and are with them most of the day.

Kunstler also charged that Judge Hoffman allowed his personal friends to attend the trial while "persons friendly to the defense are not getting in."

Judge Hoffman rejected a motion that an evidentiary hearing be held to determine who was being seated in the courtroom. He said the seating was in the hands of the U.S. marshal.

Kunstler said: "It wasn't the marshal who ordered Mr. Seale's family removed yesterday. It was your honor."

Yesterday, Judge Hoffman questioned the presence at the rear of the courtroom of five persons sitting in the press section. They were relatives of Bobby G. Seale, of Oakland, the Black Panther party chairman who is one of the eight defendents.

After the series of motions, the defense continued its cross-examination of Robert Pierson, a prosecution witness who has been on the stand since Wednesday.

Pierson posed as a motorcycle gang member during the convention and was assigned as a body guard for defendant Jerry Rubin, a leader of the Youth International Party (Yippies). He told defense attorney William M. Kunstler that a magazine article on convention week attributed to him was full of errors.

Pierson said the article, under his byline in the December 1968 issue of Official Detective magazine, was based on his answers to a list of about 24 questions sent him by the magazine.

"I found many things in it I had not told them," he said.

Students Cancel Food Boycott

A threatened boycott of the cafeteria at Novato High School which was scheduled to start with the lunch period today was called off because the complaints had been settled, according to student body vice president Bradford Vaughan.

The complaints were against the quality of food in the cafeteria and the prices of food in the machines. The quality of food was improved today, he said.

"We have real hamburgers cooking now and not the stuff cut with oatmeal," he said.

The students still have to work out with the school administration the prices charged in the food vending machines, he said.

Students must pay 15 cents in the machines for 10 cent soft drinks, ice cream bars and cupcakes, he said.

Principal Stanley Onderdonk could not be reached for comment.

Cars Mean Litter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The more motorists, the more litter along roads, according to Keep America Beautiful, Inc. The national litter fighting organization reports that Alaska spends barely $35,000 a year to clean up its highways, but California, with more cars than any other state, has to spend nearly $4 million.

Rural Murders

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An authority on African customs, Dr. Peter Becker, said ritual murder by Africans cannot be stamped out but "must burn itself out like a veld (grass) fire. In education and religion lie the most powerful antidotes." During a period of six months in 1968, six whites and Africans were murdered in Sough Africa so that parts of their bodies could be used for "muti" (witchcraft medicine).

State Asks Marin To Join Auto Suit

The County of Marin has been asked to join the state's proposed antitrust suit against major automobile manufacturers for allegedly dragging their feet on development of auto smog devices, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said today.

Maloney said he would recommend to the board of supervisors Tuesday that the county join the suit. He said Marin would pay no court expenses unless damages were recovered.

ART REVIEW

Juried Festival Show Survives Crowding

By LAURA DEVENDORF

As fair shows go, the juried section of this weekend's Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival is a cut above the usual. And that is in spite of being a crowded conglomeration of styles and purposes.

The juried show, a traditional part of the even busier outdoor activities, is open in the downstairs board room and gallery of the city library during the festival hours.

For people who like winners, the show has 25, too many to list, much less discuss. Citing a few of the most interesting crafts would include mention of Richard Abrahamson's hunky, multifaceted phyrite ring and Janet Van Evera's tapestry and stitchery forms carved and protruding through several spatial levels.

In sculpture there is Ralph O'Neill's twice-opened cool undulation of gray marble and Steve Williams exploded ceramic bulb.

In graphics, a category unusually dominated by photographs, there is Henry Bruer's shot of a slit in a wall plus an absorbing etching by Arid Olson. While paintings, as usual, are the most numerous. There are several nice ones such as William Walker's very detailed tenement room complete and exact to cracking paint depicting cracking paint.

For humor, there's Missy Camp Dizick's "Kitty Heaven," where winged purple, red, yellow and tan cats drift over a cross-topped, templed landscape. And for brilliant color Henry Rasmusen's symbolic writings in orange, blues, green and pink vibrate lushly under the lights.

From here interest goes up and down according to taste and the room to enjoy each piece individually. Many things are dwarfed by their neighbors or otherwise shown to disadvantage in the sardine can conditions. The work that manages to survive obviously must have something.

Several things in the Mill Valley juried show do manage and the rest provides the variety a festival public requires.

In Fair Condition

Sandra Lynn Herdershot, 20, of 7 Merrydale Road, Los Ranchitos, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, where she was taken last night for treatment for an overdose of pills.

California Earnings Up By 9.1 Per Cent

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians earned $82.5 billion in personal income from April through June, an increase of almost 10 per cent over the same period last year, the state said today.

The Department of Finance reported that the sum was a gain of 2.9 per cent over the preceding three months. It reflected an increase of 9.1 per cent over the second quarter in 1968.

LSD King Is Convicted Of Production

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Augustus Owsley Stanley III, who is said to have become a millionaire by manufacturing LSD before it became illegal, was convicted yesterday of operating a drug factory in a quiet suburban neighborhood.

Federal Judge William Sweigert returned the verdict against Stanley, 34, grandson of Augustus Owsley Stanley, governor of Kentucky from 1915 to 1918. He could get one year in prison on the conviction for manufacturing an illegal drug.

Also found guilty were three Californians, Robert W. Massey, 30, Concord; William A. Spires, 26, Oakland, and Robert D. Thomas, 31, Berkeley.

Charges against the four stemmed from a raid Dec. 21, 1967, on a plush home in Orinda. Narcotics agents said they found an elaborate laboratory and a half pound of pure LSD — enough for more than two million trips and worth almost $11 million on the drug market.

The haul, which included other illegal drugs, was described by Pat Fuller of the Federal Narcotic Bureau as the largest seizure in the history of the bureau.

It was the first conviction for Stanley, who dropped out of the University of California in 1964 and operated an LSD laboratory in Berkeley with a woman chemistry major.

The place was raided but charges were later dropped. Other arrests occurred in New York and Los Angeles. Stanley was acquitted last December of charges he sold LSD to an agent at the Los Angeles Airport.

South America is the fourth largest continent.

Sewage Plant Experts To Meet In Tiburon

More than 250 Northern California sewage treatment plant operators and maintenance personnel will meet tomorrow in Tiburon for an all-day conference to discuss methods of sewage treatment and water quality control according to John McFarlane, treatment plant manager for the Tiburon Sanitary District.

Principal speakers at the northern regional conference of the Water Quality Control Association of California will be San Quentin Warden Louis J. Nelson and Franklin G. Agardy, president of the California Water Pollution Control Association.

Nelson will speak at the noon smorgasboard luncheon at the Corinthian Yacht Club and Agardy at the 7 p.m. dinner at the yacht club.

The morning session of the conference will begin at 7 o'clock at the Tiburon Lodge with such topics as "Problems with Aerobic Digestion," "Disinfection by Radioactivity" and "Two Viewpoints on Records and Reporting."

Maintenance operators will discuss "Sewer Line Maintenance and Cleaning," "Automotive Equipment Maintenance" and automotive and plant equipment maintenance and view equipment demonstrations.

The afternoon program will touch upon "Math for sludge Residual Time," "Centrifuges by an Operator" and "Polymers, Their Many Uses." Maintenance operators will view laboratory, sewer cleaning and pulp and controler demonstrations.

Wives of those attending the conference will be treated to a morning boat trip and tour of Angel Island and shopping in downtown Tiburon in the afternoon.

The conference is hosted by the Redwood Section of the water quality control association and planned by Roy C. Kelly, superintendent of the Petaluma Public Works Department.

Antiwar Vigil Set In Capital

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A three-day, around-the-clock vigil in front of Gov. Ronald Reagan's private residence to protest the war in Vietnam has been scheduled for next week.

Sacramento representatives of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee said yesterday Democratic Sen. Alan Cranston is scheduled to address the group from the Capitol steps on Wednesday, at the close of the vigil.

Paul Schrade, the United Auto Workers Union executive who was shot when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was fatally wounded in June, 1968, also is on the agenda.

Parents To Get Hero's Medal

A posthumous Silver Star, the third highest military award of the United States, will be awarded later this month to San Rafael Marine Pfc. Thomas Cincotta, killed in action in Vietnam on June 28, Marine Corps officials said today.

The medal for herosim will be given to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Serge L. Cincotta of 531 Fairhills Drive. The date and location of the award cermony have not been set.

Cincotta, a 1968 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, was killed in action near Quan Tri shortly before his 19th birthday.

U.S. Goes Step Further On Saigon War Controls

SAIGON (AP) — Acting Ambassador Samuel D. Berger today renewed the U.S. pledge to assist the South Vietnamese government to wage the war on its own.

Speaking at the transfer of 80 U.S. river patrol boats to the Vietnamese navy, Berger said much progress has been made toward the American goal recently stated by President Nixon—"the opportunity for the South Vietnamese people to determine their own political future without outside interference."

"A larger, stronger and effective Vietnamese navy is being built week by week and month by month," Berger continued. "Your success in improving the ability of your sailors to fight, and your craftsmen to build, is a tribute to your leaders. We shall continue to assist you in your great task."

Berger said the transfer gives the South Vietnamese navy responsibility for nearly half the river patrolling in the Allied war effort.

A U.S. spokesman said the Navy now has turned over 229 river craft to the Vietnamese since June 1968, and the remaining 321 are to be referred in the next nine months.

The U.S. Air Force also announced that another South Vietnamese helicopter squadron has become fully operational with jet-powered helicopters. It is the fourth such squadron to join the war, and its pilots received their basic training in the United States.

The, war, meanwhile continued in the general lull that has persisted for more than a month.

U.S. troops fought only small clashes, and casualties on both sides were light.

A U.S. Air Force jet fighter-bomber making an emergency landing at Nha Trang overshot the runway, hit a truck and a bicycle on a highway along the seacoast, and killed two Vietnamese civilians on the road and a third person believed to be an American soldier.

The plane stopped about 20 yards from the South China Sea. The pilot was injured, but not seriously.

A spokesman said the F100 Super Sabre was running out of fuel and the only alternate approach was toward a cluster of houses. He said the 6,000-foot runway at Nha Trang is considered short for jets, that an F100 "could make it okay with ideal conditions, but it would be tight."

Humane Society Ruffled Over Birds For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pentagon project to find out if birds can replace humans in some essential jobs of war has ruffled the feathers of the Humane Society of the United States.

In a letter yesterday, the society described the plan as "the work of birdbrains, a crowning idiocy of our time."

The Pentagon has signed a $600,000 contract with the University of Mississippi to study whether birds could take over such facets of war as aerial photography, gunnery, steering of missiles, detection of mines and search of mines and search and destroy missions.

The project would concentrate on the adaptabioity to war of crows, ravens, jays, hawks, vultures, doves, parrots, mynahs, chickens and pigeons.

Humane Society vice president Patrick Parkes, calling the project "a cruel, grotesque and ridiculous farce," urged immediate cancellation of the three-year study.

Dancer Claims GI Club Bosses Lived High On Graft, Sex Bribes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Mafia-like syndicate of sergeants demanded girls as well as money in kickbacks for booking entertainers, buying food and liquor for the Army night clubs they ran for troops in Vietnam, senators have been told.

A curvaceous Australian dancer who was a show business booking agent told a Senate subcommittee yesterday virtually all custodians of Army club systems in Vietnam demanded a percentage from those selling supplies to the clubs.

In a war where most soldiers count the days until they can go home, these sergeants—confident of making at least $150,000 a year in graft—extended their tours as long as possible, she said.

The witness, June I. Skewes, 34, of Sydney, Australia, her long, ash-blonde hair tied back with a tangerine-colored ribbon, told the Senate's rackets subcommittee she was blacklisted and squeezed out of business after word leaked she had complained to military authorities.

The sergeants who ran the clubs, which do hundreds of millions of dollars in business a year, were "for sale to the highest bidder," said Miss Skewes, who is known professionaly as June Collins.

She said the bids came in the form of rolls of American money, villas in Saigon, liquor, long and expensive trips, free entertainment and women.

"In my experience in Vietnam, going back to 1967, I do not know of a single (Army) club custodian who does not receive kickbacks," Miss Skewes said.

"It's also as filthy a racket as I've ever heard of," she told a hearing room in which all seats were filled and spectators stood in every vacant space. "The profits come from the pockets of American GIs," she said.

"It becomes obvious that those who are sacrificing and dying are paying a very deep penalty," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn. "For generally this dirty little war seems to be conducted in an atmosphere of corruption."

Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., a veteran of the 9th Infantry Division, one of the units whose club custodians are accused of taking kickbacks said: "Those responsible for the deterioration of a proud division should be brought to justice and properly punished."

She said kickback demands came from club custodians in regular Army units. Never, she said, was she asked for a kickback from Marine or Green Beret units.

Span Toll Takers Focus Of Union Jurisdiction

Golden Gate Bridge toll takers, reputedly the highest paid in the world, have become the focus of a jurisdictional dispute between two labor unions.

The Teamsters have represented the toll takers for 20 years, but their representation was challenged yesterday by Transport Workers Local 250 A.

But the challenge, which came before the bridge board's rules and policy committee, quickly was ducked by the seven directors present. The committee agreed it could not consider the Transport union's request for recognition by the district in the absence of the two directors representing labor on the bridge board, Daniel F. Del Carlo, secretary-treasurer of the San Francisco Building Trades Council, and Joseph P. Mazzola, secretary-treasurer of Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry Local Union 38.

The quick postponement angered the attorney for the transport union, Irwin Leff of San Francisco, who said his union would "consider the political steps we can take with the San Francisco supervisors on this board to see that we get recognition."

Outside the meeting, Leff told the bridge's general manager, Dale W. Luerhing, "You're going to have a very unhappy labor group on your hands."

But Luehring insisted he could do nothing unless Leff had a signed release of jurisdiction from the Teamsters, and Leff acknowledged he did not have such a release.

Leff told newsmen that all 47 toll takers had signed pledge cards with his union. The toll takers were "dissatisfied" with the Teamsters, he said.

Asked what his union offered the toll takers, Leff said there were "problems of shifts, assignments and a grievance procedure." He also said they deserved higher pay, adding that "working conditions" at the bridge demanded higher pay than on any other bridge.

A somewhat different version of the dispute was given to the Independent-Journal by Raoul Fitzpatrick, recording secretary of Building Material and Construction Teamsters Local Union 216. He termed the Transport union's request for recognition "a raid."

He also declared that the Transport Union was "trying to get a leg up on the bus operation planned out here by the district, but they won't get up on our shoulders to do it."

A majority of the toll takers signed one-year pledge cards with the Teamsters, Fitzpatrick noted, and these cards do not expire until February and March.

The problem arose, he said, "because of a lot of new guys on the toll force — but we're romancing them."

The dispute came as the committee considered, but tabled adding dental and vision benefits for the district's 202 employees and their families, at a cost to the district of $32,568.

Toll takers make $1,082 a month in salary and benefits.

Volpe Sees New Traffic Safety

LONDON (AP) — New safety devices on cars could cut road deaths in the United States by 10,000 a year, Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe said today.

Inflatable restraint cushions and flexible bumpers are "more than within the realm of possibility—they're within the realm of probability," Volpe said, adding that they could be standard equipment on new cars by 1972.

Volpe is in London for talks with British Minister of Transport Fred Mulley and other officials on urban growth and transportation. The talks ranged from highways to rail transport, hovercraft, vertical takeoff passenger planes, and joint research on reducing the noise of supersonic jet transports.

Peking Says Boats Fired On In Gulf

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged today that U.S. warships opened fire on a Chinese fishing fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin in September and that two U.S. warplanes strafed four other Chinese fishing boats in the gulf on Oct. 4.

The Chinese did not say whether there were any casualties or damage to the boats.

Peking's official Hsinhua (New China) News Agency, said a spokesman for the Chinese Foreign Ministry "lodged a serious protest with U.S. imperialism against this piracy threatening the security of the lives and property of Chinese fishermen."

"This was a most serious crime committed by U.S. military aircraft and warships in their continuous, unbridled provacations against Chinese fishing fleets on the high seas since the U.S. imperialist ringleader Nixon came to power," the Peking broadcast said.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said: "This is the first I've heard" of the Chinese report. He said he had no statement at this time.

In Saigon, a U.S. Command spokesman said of the charges: "We have no knowledge and no reports of them."

The report said, "Between Sept. 19 and 24, when 24 Chinese fishing vessels flying Chinese national flags ... were fishing on the high seas in the Tonkin gulf, a U.S. guided-missile cruiser and a U.S. destroyer kept following in their wake and made provocations against them.

Much Less Troop Chasing Seen From Pentagon Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect new formal instructions given American commanders in Vietnam will result in much less chasing of enemy troops.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said yesterday U.S. commanders have been told to follow new tactics of "protective reaction" and to emphasize Vietnamization of the war.

Officials said the instructions leave U.S. commanders free to strike out at enemy forces that threaten their troops. And the orders do not tell American commanders to avoid contact with the enemy, nor to fire only if fired on.

But, the officials said, the practical effect should mean less pursuit of the enemy.

Instead, U.S. field commanders will be expected to devote much of their effort to shaping up the South Vietnamese forces to replace American troops.

These orders, making it unmistakably clear that "Vietnamization" of the war has the highest priority, replace three-year-old formal instructions asserting the primary objective to be military victory.

The formal instructions really reflect what top U.S. commanders already knew to be the Nixon administration's goal in Vietnam. Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, got the word from the President and Laird early in the new administration.

Laird said yesterday the orders were issued in early August to commanders in Vietnam.

Pentagon sources said "it took some doing" to convince U.S. commanders that Vietnamization must lead all the rest in U.S. objectives in Vietnam.

Laird's news conference was part of a Nixon administration campaign to sell the American people on its Vietnamization approach. At the same time, the administration is trying to counter rising pressures in Congress and on campus for faster withdrawals from Vietnam.

The number of Cuban exiles now living in the U.S. is estimated at 200,000.

Pope Recalls Own Career

Beginning his remarks by pointing out that he had an intimate knowledge of how the Curia works because he was a member for more than 30 years, the Pope said he had called his audience together to show his paternal benevolence.

He wished to express his "veneration, gratitude and encouragement," he said, and he asked Curia members to give him "the comfort of their constant solidarity, their filial obedience and their valid collaboration."

"The Roman Curia will not be jealous of temporal prerogatives of time long past, nor of interior forms no longer suitable to express and impress true and lofty religious meanings, nor avaricious of its faculties that, without harming the universal ecclesiastical order, the episcopacy can today exercise better locally and by itself," the Pope said.

Referring to the forthcoming inauguration of the Ecumenical Council, Pope Paul said, "The hour is great and sacred." He spoke in terms of the greatest respect and admiration for Pope John.

"This Second Vatican Council," Paul VI said, "was willed by a Pope to whom the spontaneous acclamation of the public voice attributed the evangelic words that were applied to the precursor of Christ: 'There was a man sent by God whose name was John.'

"We believe that history will repeat these words when it recalls the salutary consequences of the sudden and flashing deliberation of him who called the Catholic world to the Council and opened the door and the heart to the seperated brethren for a loyal reconciliation."

Reform Need Stressed

Rome, Sept. 21 (AP) — Discussing his proposal for reform of the Curia, Pope Paul VI said today.

"Various reforms are needed. They certainly will be extensive. They will have no other aim than to let fall whatever is archaic or superfluous in the forms and norms that regulate the Roman Curia and to put into being whatever is vital and healthy."

Step Implied by Pope John

Pope Paul's desire to reform the Roman Curia was implicit in his predecessor's calling of the Vatican Council.

Throughout the first session it was apparent that Pope John wished to decentralize the governing arm of the church and to delegate more power to the bishops rather than to confine church policy to the conservative, Italian-dominated Curia.

As the first session progressed it became increasingly evident that the church hierarchy was overwhelmingly in favor of decentralization. In effect, this would mean that papal infallibility would no longer be extended to involve the Pope and his bishops acting in concert.

You owe it to your organization to come and learn what Community Club Awards can do for your group. This program, national in scope, is now successfully functioning in many of the major cities in the country. If you can't attend, send your Ways and Means Chairman or another representative. Your club can share in 80 Cash Awards which will be given over a period of 16 weeks and in the 10 Grand Cash Awards presented at the finale. In addition, every club participating will receive a cash amount for its effort. Every club is a winner of cash awards!

There is no cost to enter Community Club Awards, nothing to sell, nothing to endorse. Your members can put dollars in your treasury by saving various proofs of purchase (receipts, labels, etc.). This is the surest, easiest, most dignified way to earn money for your worthwhile purposes.

Learn the complete details of how your club can win its share of $2,500.00 by coming to our Coffee Party.

Participation in the Community Club Awards will be limited to the first 50 clubs to enroll. Be sure to have your club represented. Your club will be under no obligation by your attendance.

If for some reason your Club did not receive the above invitation or could not make the above meetings, contact Roberta Thorsen at KTIM, 456-1510. All clubs and non-profit organizations are cordially invited to participate.

of the perennial reforms of which the church herself, in so far as she is a human institution working on this earth, has perpetual need.

It is from Rome that the invitation goes today to the bringing up to date—using the expression of our venerated predecessor—that is, to reflecting all things, internal and external, of the church.

And from Rome went the announcement of the reform of the code of canon law, of the law that solemnly rules ecclesiastical city and world. And from Rome in the last hundred years has come a regular, undeflected, constant and stimulating government that has put the church in the position of external expansion which all must recognize also of interior sense and vitality of the church and mysteries with which Christ has enriched it. Fortunately, St. Bernard could not be able to find burning pages about the ecclesiastical life of theirs the reformers of the 12th century.

Christ today is quite unfair, and, by the world, so much worthy and holier, so much more of its evangelical and much more combative Christian mission and more desirous of more susceptible of renewal.

This, venerable and dear children of the Curia, with a sentiment to your tranquillity and relation.

Is due for the present and devotion you render to the Pope, to the entire body of the wish and responsibility of shepherd the Roman Church he esteem, of the Curia if it merits

We wish to you Curia, on the possibility have regard. It must be Roman to foresee desired. This old is most back famous veterans X council" of tance. It which led is to of

The Roman Curia, yet again, will thus feel even more strongly its vocation to give an example to the whole church and to the secular world.

This is the fatherly exhortation we wish to address to you at the conclusion of our simple words, which to us seem to echo the words of the apostle Saint Paul, addressed precisely to the Roman church: "Your faith shows itself in all the world."

Catholic Rome, the Roman Pontificate, the Roman Curia are being looked at from all sides. The duty of being authentic Christians is here highly committing.

We would recall to you this duty if it were not that we ourselves recall it every day.

Everything at Rome is a school: The letter and the spirit. How one thinks, studies, talks, feels, acts, suffers, prays, serves, loves. Every moment, every aspect of our life has a radiation around us, which can be beneficial if faithful to what Christ wants us, of evil effect, if unfaithful.

That is why we wish that, beyond your specific contribution of qualified service, the Roman Curia, all of you, brothers and children, give to us, or better, to the church, to our Lord Christ, that precious offering of your example: of strict selflessness and abnegation, of religious and sincere piety, of loving welcome to those who need your attentive service.

The Roman Curia is not an anonymous body, insensible to the great spiritual problems, that automatically dictates laws, but a live body faithful and docile to the head of the church, a body made of grave responsibilities and functions, and imbued with reverence and solicitude to those prelates who "spiritus sanctus posuit episcopos regere ecclesiam dei."

Therefore let the Roman Curia not be a bureaucracy, as some have wrongly judged it, pretentious and apathetic, legalistic and ritualistic, a fighting ground of hidden ambitions and deaf antagonisms, as others accuse it of being.

But let it be a true community of faith and charity, of prayer and action, of brothers and sons of the Pope, who do all to serve him, with a sense of collaboration, in his duty to the brothers and sons of the universal church and all the world.

We know that our wish expresses yours, sincere and good, and that it is this wish that in us and in you makes prayer, so that our Lord Christ, with the intercession of the most Holy Mary and the holy aposties Peter and Paul, will cause this old and ever new Roman Curia to shine like a lantern "ut luceat omnibus qui in domo sunt in domo," that is, in the church of god!

And finally you will not be displeased if we ask you all, ecclesiastics and laity of the Roman Curia, to add to your labors another spontaneous task of Ministry and personal apostolate: help the Pope to evangelize not only the world, but also the city, of which you are the first faithful and he is the Bishop!

Trusting in your goodness, and assuring you that you are all present in our prayers,

Cluster Idea For The North Campus

By THERON A. NEWELL

The North Marin campus of the College of Marin will probably be an autonomous campus of small "cluster colleges" if the ideas presented last night by the planning committee and citizens advisory committee materialize.

The two groups met with 26 members present, at the Marin County Schools office in Corte Madera.

Most of the discussion centered on the cluster college concept with only a short discussion of finances.

As was generally agreed last night, the new campus would be served by Kentfield campus computer facilities and data processing, and a central administration would oversee general business office operations, academic calendars, and educational programs for both campuses.

Apart from that, the Novato campus would have a high degree of autonomy in its day-to-day operation and programs.

The small cluster colleges would offer more chance of mixing instructors and students so that there would be more student participation in instruction and both could participate in local administration. These were some of the advantages pointed out by Michael Hansen, chairman of the planning committee.

Hansen compared his committee's proposal to the Santa Cruz campus of the University of California and an experiment now being tried by the Contra Costa Junior College District.

Panel member Robert Lee raised the question that such campuses as at Santa Cruz were planned around a residential complex, but was such planned for the North Marin campus? Hansen said that it was not, but that cluster college concept could be made to work because of the interreaction between smaller groups of students and teachers.

Plans for the North Marin campus would call for three cluster colleges to be ready by the fall of 1973, each to accommodate about 700 students, or an enrollment of 2,000 contemplated for that year.

James F. Reed of the advisory panel said that students are "getting a 19th Century education." He said that cluster colleges might not be the answer, but he agreed that the small college concept was the best where students and teachers could talk together.

Hansen said his committee was not talking about a "full blown cluster" concept, but that a student might take classes at several of the cluster colleges.

He said that after one year, "There were very serious shortcomings in the Santa Cruz campus." He pointed out that they were teaching science to the liberal arts students, though some students were not in the central group. They have already taken the science library away from the main library there, he said.

Lee said he found the concept of the smaller student groups and teaching very exciting, but wondered about the cost.

Hansen agreed that it would be more expensive than that of a departmentalized college, but that the study committee must try to make the cost to more equal to the conventional organization.

He also said that the success of the small college concept hinged on finding a staff for such an institution.

Not until the last part of the meeting did the group get down to the essential of financing the new campus. J. E. Phillips, a committee member, said that they should be planning for a promition to sell the idea to the people.

Reed said he was sold on trying for a bond issue, but his committee was not supposed to work on the finances, just the plans.

Hansen explained the Dec. 1 deadline for plans. At that time the Marin Junior College District must submit a plan to the state Department of Education for partial aid from the junior college construction funds. The district will ask for matching funds for planning this year to go into he nex fiscal budget and the following year for construction funds. At that time the district would have to show that it had matching funds, he said.

The discussion turned to trying to operate the two campuses as one school with students enrolled in one or both campuses. The group agreed that all they would have in common would be that they were part of one political organization — the junior college district.

The could not be the same in athletics because one football team for two schools was unthinkable.

Irvin Diamond, dean of students, said that the study committee had agreed that there would not be any attendance boundaries between the two campuses. A student could attend the one of his choice.

Acting Supt-President Louis H. Herkenhoff said that he felt that the North Campus should have it own identity.

Home Rule On Payment Of Transfers

Costs of educating students from other districts will be charged to the home district, the Larkspur School District board decided last night.

The costs to be billed will be those above what the Larkspur district receives from the state for the child, according to Supt. Milton Cohen.

Cohen said the action was taken because of the higher than usual number of transfers into the district when the Marin County Board of Education overruled district denials.

Formerly, the number of transfers into and out of the district were about equal and districts did not charge one another.

Reed and Mill Valley school district boards have taken similar action, Cohen said.

The board also approved a student dental insurance program offering 24-hour protection for $3. The protection is for such items as accidental tooth breakage.

The Larkspur School District board also:

NEGOTIATION — Accepted a list of members for the teachers negotiating council from the Larkspur Teachers Association and appointed board members John W. Boyd and Howard C. Harvey to represent the board.

POINT REYES — Approved a resolution urging acquisition of Point Reyes National Seashore.

CANDIDATE — Endorsed David D. Ring, Tamalpais High School District trustee, as its candidate for Calirornia School Boards Association delegate.

WORKSHOP — Appointed Boyd to attend the Calirornia School Boards Association workshop in San Francisco, Oct. 24 and 25.

BACK TO SCHOOL — Learned 85 per cent of the parents had attended back to school nights last week.

LEAVE — Heard a report from Toby Rein on her sabbatical leave to England. She compared education in England and the U.S.

Reserve Police

BRONKHORSTSPRUIT, South Africa (AP)—The South African police can supplement its permanent force of 34,000 men by more than 17,000 reservists, Police Minister Lourens Muller said here. Of the 17,480 reservists listed at the end of July 7, 1885 are men who can help the police in their free time in cases of emergency or large scale crime. Reservists paid to do short periods of full time duty number 5,784 and another 3,028 are employees of local authorities required ot guard key industires. The remaining 783 assist police in cases of unrest in country areas.

Dream And Money

KOKSTAD, South Africa (AP) — Dreams led a detective to the exact spot where a murdered woman storekeeper had hidden Rands 14,937 ($19,902), he told a local judge. Detective-Sgt. Johannes van der Bank, 27, testifying at the trial of an African accused of hacking 56-year-old Mrs. Rachel Feder to death at her store, said he found the money in a special panel under the counter of the shop after having "various dreams about where the money was hidden."

Homeowners Aid Two Projects

The North Marin Federation (of homeowners associations) last night voted to make two donations to other organizations.

The federation will give $25 to the Novato Creek Study Committee to help meet clerical expenses. It will also give the same amount to help the housing conference on Oct. 25 sponsored by the League of Women Voters and others at Dominican College in San Rafael.

John Schoonover, president of the Gnoss Estates Association, said that there would be a meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday at the Olive School libary to discuss the De Long Street extension from the freeway bypass to Olive Avenue with Clifford Temps, city director of public works.

A Hearty Drink

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Tea is good for the heart says the latest issue of Tea World, a magazine published by the tea board. An article said "unknown constituents" in tea check the hardening of the coronary artery which leads to heart attacks. The magazine said this might explain why there is such a low incidence of heart disease among the Chinese, whose fondness for tea is well known.

Promoters Iron Out Hotel Scheme

Problems with the law have been ironed out, the young man operating a telephone promotional scheme in Marin offering vacations in Reno, Tahoe or Las Vegas hotels, said today.

Lance D. Detrude, 20, who uses the firm name Detrude Promotions and operates out of 1108 Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael, said that he has complied with the district attorney's request to eliminate mention of hotels no longer available.

He also has discontinued the asking of a question in the telephone pitch, which made the promotion appear to be a contest.

Detrude said that three hotels are now available in the offer and prices for the vacations (for four days and three nights) range from $12.99 to $19.99.

Detrude also said that his partner is Ronald D. Friedman, not Ronald C. Friedman as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal. The former man, who was reported to have been arrested for assault with a deadly weapon in Santa Ana, is someone else, he added.

San Rafael police said that Friedman gave only the name "Ron Friedman" when applying for a business license.

Detrude also emphasized that he has no connection with M ard R promotions, a San Francisco firm which has been shut down by police there.

BURGER SI, BEER NO

Ross Council Heeds Alcohol License Foes

By DAVID DIETZ

The operators of a small Ross cafe, who had hoped to sell wine and beer with meals on the premises, were narrowly denied a vote of confidence last night by the Ross Town Council.

In a 3-2 vote the council refused to endorse issuance of an alcoholic beverage license to Marvin and Jean Dobson, proprietors of Jean's Kitchen, across the street from the Ross School grounds on Poplar Road. The couple had sought support of a proposed application to state Alcoholic Beverage Control authorities.

The council rebuff supported by Councilmen Roy Farrington Jones and Natalie G. Lewis and Mayor Frederick S. Allen but opposed by Ralph C. Walker and John H. Chase — went a step further, setting a hearing on a proposal to block similar license applications in the future.

On Nov. 13, the council will sit as a planning commission to consider amending the town zoning code to require use permits for establishments intending to sell alcoholic beverages on premises.

Opponents of the cafe license presented a petition signed by 225 residents who feared increased business at the place would cause traffic congestion, presenting a potential danger to school children. Others worried about a possible law enforcement problem.

Since it was brought out by protestors that opposition by the council, together with announced objection by Police Chief John Harris, would have crippling effect on an application by the Dobsons, the couple's plan appeared doomed.

Dobson later told the Independent-Journal that it was unlikely he would now apply.

"It's a lot of expense," he said, "and with the opposition tonight, I just don't think I'll do it. But I want to think about it."

Harris said he was opposed to issuance of the license because establishments dispensing alcoholic beverages must be 600 feet from a school under state law, but Chase contended that the law merely gave ABC authorities the right to refuse a license to an establishment closer than 600 feet.

Despite Chief Harris' opposition to the license, Harris said he could not predict whether the cafe would cause a law enforcement problem or serious traffic congestion.

The council action contrasted with a recent 3-2 vote of the Ross School District board not to oppose the license application. That action sparked talk of impeachment of the three unopposed board members from at least one parent who attended the board meeting.

In addition to the petition, the council received numerous letters protesting the license and Allen said he had received many phone calls objecting. One letter in favor was from the California Brewers Association.

Walker led support of the Dobsons, saying that he had sampled residents who signed the petition and found that about half had not realized the Dobsons were planning to sell wine and beer with meals only.

He refuted predictions of a traffic problem, indicating that capacity patronage would bring 15 cars at most.

"This is a pretty good little business in town and a license would help these people break even or better," Walker said.

"These people are living in a fish bowl," Chase agreed. "I don't see how a beer and a hamburger would create a police problem."

But Dr. W. James Dawson, a former town councilman, argued that "college kids, people working in the area and construction people would stop for food and a few beers and I don't want to turn the commercial area of town into a cabaret."

Ultimately, the council closely followed recommendations by Dawson in its vote.

"I can't ignore the number of residents who signed this petition," Allen said.

"I can't, either," Jones said.

Kopechnes Lose Again On Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A judge refused again today to dismiss a Massachusetts prosecutor's petition for an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne and said "only a hearing will bring to light facts," on whether exhumation is necessary to determine how she was killed in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car.

Common Pleas Judge Bernard C. Brominski dismissed the plea of Mary Jo's parents to block an autopsy scheduled a hearing for Oct. 20.

REJECTS DELAY

The judge also rejected the request by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N. J. to delay a full hearing on the autopsy petition until after completion of an inquest into Mary Jo's death that already has attracted world-wide interest.

The 28-year-old Miss Kopechne was killed July 18 when Kennedy's car plunged off a narrow bridge into a pond on Chappaquiddick Island, near Cape Cod.

"It is the opinion of this court that the interests of both the public and the Kopechnes would be best served by developing the facts at a hearing to be held without delay," Brominski said in his six-page opinion.

"This would give the court the benefit of all the information available from both parties in arriving at the ultimate disposition of this matter."

FIRST DENIAL

Brominski once before, on Sept. 3, had rejected the Kopechnes' motion to dismiss the petition for exhumation and autopsy originally filed on Aug. 13 by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass. They claimed Dinis was on a fishing expedition and couldn't invade Mary Jo's grave in search of an alleged crime.

Brominski had researched the law exhaustively before rejecting the dismissal motion for the second time.

Brominski also emphasized that a hearing on Dinis' petition would allow the district attorney "the opportunity to prove the allegations . . . that the public interest and proper administration of justice" requires an autopsy to confirm or deny that Miss Kopechne drowned.

Minus Streetsweeper, Ross Wants Bonfires

The Ross Town Council indicated last night it would consider at its Nov. 13 meeting a formal application to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for a variance to the backyard burning ban which goes into effect Jan. 1.

The council has said for months that the effects of the ban would have serious effect on the community because residents no longer would be able to aid the city with street cleanup in front of their homes.

The town has no street sweeping machinery and must rely on residents for help. Street refuse, mostly leaves, is regularly burned in backyards.

Councilman Ralph C. Walker said he had talked to an attorney who represented the City of Brentwood in Contra Costa County in an application for a variance before the air pollution district board. The attorney said he was optimistic of obtaining the variance, Walker said.

The council has studied various plans for pickup of street refuse, including beefing up its streetsweeping crew, but found them too costly.

The Ross Town Council Also:

FLOOD — Formally approved final plans for construction of the first phase of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project into Ross to a point just below the Lagunitas Road bridge.

REPAVING — Heard town engineer Philip B. Lygren report that final funds for repaving of portions of Madrone Avenue, Woodside Way, Upper Road and Redwood Drive until cleanup is completed. A resident complained of several accidents in one location because of sand left in the street.

ANIMALS — Formally approved new provisions of the animal control ordinance.

ABANDONED — Tabled a proposed ordinance regulating abandoned autos after City Atty. Robert W. Elliott reported that present state law covers removal of cars left for long periods of time.

RESUBDIVISION — Conditionally approved resubdivision of property owned by Webster Otis on Glenwood Avenue to provide another home site. Councilman Natalie G. Lewis opposed the action and Ralph C. Walker abstained because his law firm represents Otis.

DIVISION — Conditionally permitted division of 2.1 acres held by Martin V. Skewes-Cox on Monte Alegre Road to enable absorption by neighboring property owners. One of the property owners is Mrs. Lewis, and she abstained from voting, as did Councilman Roy Farrington Jones, who said he advised in the proposed transaction.

SIGNS — Decided to leave street signs on Wellington Avenue up for 30 days despite objections from residents they are ineffective, unsightly and not in keeping with the county character of the area. A report on possible alternate proposals will be submitted in a month.

POINT REYES — Endorsed completion of acquisition of property for the Point Reyes National Seashore.

PARKING — Approved a 48-hour parking limit in the post office parking lot.

PEDESTRIAN — Objected that it had not been considered for a pedestrian safety award from the California State Automobile Association even though it has at least a 25-year record of no deaths.

BUSINESS — Transferred the collection of business license fees from the police department to public works.

Arsenic Search Turns Up No Traces So Far

The mystery surrounding the arsenic poisoning of a Fairfax man deepened today as police learned that the items removed from his home did not contain arsenic in those tested so far.

The man, Charles Austin, 55, of 55 Frustuck Avenue, is a patient at Fort Miley Hospital in San Francisco and expected to recover.

Fairfax Police Chief James R. Orr said most of the items removed from the home in a search Wednesday have been analyzed and all have been negative.

Results of analysis of two other items are expected in about a week, he said.

Police entered the case after Austin's doctor reported the man had so much of the poison in his system that he believed it was taken orally over a period of two years, Orr said. Austin told police he had not been knowingly taking it.

One Driver Fined, Put On Probation

Melvin Chaley Prince, 56, of 521 Jefferson Street, Petaluma, was found guilty yesterday by a jury in Marin Municipal Court of drunken driving Jan. 31, 1968 on Highway 101.

Judge Hadden W. Roth placed Prince on six months probation and fined him $175.

Grubby But Polite Man Pulls Skyjack

MIAMI (AP) — A grubby but polite little gunman pulled the year's 46th airliner hijacking to Cuba yesterday. The passengers included four major league baseball players and a coach.

The hijacker, slightly built and speaking little English, took over the plane—National Airlines Flight 42 from Los Angeles to Miami—as it passed over Texas.

The jetliner carried a crew of seven and 63 passengers, including Roger Craig, pitching coach of the San Diego Padres, Mel Queen of the Cincinnati Reds, Dave Marshall of the San Francisco Giants, Dick Corkins of the Padres and Dennis Paepke of the Kansas City Royals.

Stewardess Ann Baker of Miami said the man grabbed her arm and ordered, "Havana, Cuba! Cockpit!"

"He had a gun, a black gun," Miss Baker told newsmen in Miami when the airliner completed its trip, four hours and six minutes late, after the unscheduled Havana stop.

Miss Baker said she led the man to the cockpit and opened the door.

"I said to the fellows, 'I guess this is it,' " she said.

Capt. George Glasgow of Miami told the hijacker: "Don't point the gun. We'll take you to Cuba."

Craig said he and the four baseball players were headed for Venezuela to participate in Latin-American play during the major league off season.

At National Airlines spokesman said the only listed passenger who failed to return from Cuba was F. Birera, who boarded in Los Angeles.

Camp Hunger Strike Leaders Transferred

Sixty-four inmates of the Susanville Conservation Center were brought to San Quentin prison last night and early today after they reportedly led 1,200 prisioners in a short strike.

Warden Louis Nelson said San Quentin would hold the men until the Department of Corrections decides where they should be sent. He said he did not know what the strike had been about but the men caused no trouble after confinement at San Quentin.

A book no larger than a fingernail is among the volumes in the Library of Congress.

Whip With Dagger Enters Mosque Trial

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Arab whip with a hidden dagger was produced today at the Al Aksah arson trial, and its appearance seemed to agitate the young Australian who has admitted setting fire to the ancient mosque in Jerusalem.

The prosecution said the weapon was among defendant Denis Michael Rohan's possessions when he was arrested Aug. 22, the day after the blaze that enraged the Moslem world.

Such whips, for use on camels, are sold in tourist shops throughout the Holy City. Police Cpl. Gabriel Moshetz testified that Rohan told him he bought the whip as a souvenir during the month he spent in Jerusalem before the mosque fire.

The 28-year-old Australian then began tapping on his bulletproof glass booth to catch the attention of his defense attorney, Yitzhak Tunik. Rohan was unusually animated as he talked with Tunik over a special communications line, but their conversation was not heard by anyone else.

Tunik told the court yesterday that Rohan admits starting the mosque fire but contends he cannot be held responsible because he is mentally ill.

Youths Nabbed in Drug Probe

Four Terra Linda youths were booked into Marin Juvenile Hall last night for possession of narcotics and paraphernalia after they were found allegedly smoking marijuana behind the Terra Linda Shopping Center.

Deputies said a passerby reported to the Terra Linda fire department that the youngsters seemed to be drinking. The officers found, however, that the boys had about a lid of marijuana in their car as well as pipes possibly used for hashish.

The boys were 12, 14 and two 16-year-olds.

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments yesterday approved the use permit application filed by Roger and Marie Bitton for a single mobile home at 401 Davis Lane, Penngrove.

Haynsworth Outcome Shifts To Cloakroom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over Clement F. Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court shifted today from committee chambers to the Senate cloakroom where the outcome appeared to rest with some two dozen wavering senators.

In the aftermath of judiciary committee approval of the nomination yesterday opponents appeared to have the edge on the floor.

A survey by the Associated Press, combined with positions obtained from Senate sources, showed at least 46 votes against the nomination, 33 for it and 21 undecided.

It was clear, however, the situation could change dramatically for a number of reasons before the nomination comes to the floor, probably not for two weeks.

For one, the American Bar Association leadership decided yesterday to meet sometime in the next few days to review its position on Haynsworth, for the past 12 years a member of the Fourth U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va.

The ABA endorsed the nomination last month during Senate hearings. A change in position could have significant impact.

Floor debate also cannot begin until the judiciary committee files majority and minority reports. Some senators said they would wait for these before making up their minds.

An example of the fluid nature of the situation was Maryland Republican Charles McC. Mathias.

A member of the judiciary committee, Mathias abstained yesterday when the committee climaxed a two-hour closed meeting by voting 10 to 6 to report the nomination to the floor.

Then in late afternoon he sent a letter to judiciary chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., saying he wanted to be recorded against committee approval of the nomination.

"There are grave doubts remaining on the record," Mathias said.

Saying the ABA meeting underlines this uncertainty, Mathias said while the doubts "remain in a question of this kind, they must be resolved in favor of the public."

A Mathias aide said later, however, the senator's committee vote did not mean Mathias would definitely vote against confirmation.

Among other head counts, one reportedly done for the Democratic leadership put the vote at a "rock bottom" 54 against Haynsworth with another nine leaning that way.

Another reportedly done for Philip A. Hart of Michigan, the ranking Democratic opponent of Haynsworth on the judiciary committee, had 45 "hard" votes against, 35 for, 10 leaning against, five leaning for and five undecided.

One midwestern senator, who nobody even bothered contacting because they assumed he was backing the administration, told the Associated Press he was so angry over the nomination he was about ready to speak out and would definitely vote against.

This same senator said still another influential Republican who has been saying he was still uncommitted also was about ready to come out against Haynsworth.

Ulster Police Chief Quits; Reform Feud

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's police chief, Anthony Peacocke, resigned today immediately after an inquiry commission urged drastic police reform. A British police chief from London was named to take his place.

These moves brought the threat of more unrest for Prime Minister James Chicester-Clark's Protestant-based Unionist Party, already disturbed by the increasing British role in Northern Ireland affairs.

Peacocke quit within an hour of publication of a British-backed report urging drastic police reform, including disbandment of the all-protestant reserves whom Roman Catholics blame for most casualties during recent sectarian rioting.

Sir Arthur Young, commissioner of the city of London police was named as his successor. He is already in Ireland.

Grotto Adds A Regular Bar; French Quiche Will Open Soon

A happy man is Stan Valan, owner ot the Grotto seafood restaurant in San Rafael.

He now has his general liquor license and a chance to see what he can do to qualify as a mixologist. If a few of his regular customers make strange requests of him that never appeared in a bartender's guide, they must be forgiven for taking advantage of his good nature. But so far he's taken this leg pulling in his stride.

There will be physical changes, of course — with some loss of table space. But both Stan and his wife, Ursula, like the idea of keeping the restaurant small, rather than expand.

Planned is a cocktail area forward at the port side. This means eliminating a few tables. The new permanent bar installation will be larger than the present portable and do away with the forward starboard booth.

For a treat for four or more, ask for the gourmet combination plate. This is different from most seafood combinations and has not been put on the menu, because it's not practical to serve it to just two people. It's a chance for four people to get together and sample several menu items.

A NEW LITTLE RESTAURANT which may be opened by the first of next month is called French Quiche and located at 256 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley.

Owners are Donovan J. Fandre of Sausalito and York K. Fisher, who has been in Germany for the past six years or more and will be settling in Marin after his forthcoming marriage. Don has been a lecturer with the Space Agency and still does some lecturing. But he's also had restaurant experience and he's anxious to put some new ideas to work.

"Quiche" in french (pronounced something like "kish") has no oneword counterpart in English that I know of. It is a pie dish with a crust and containing ham, cheese, bacon and other ingredients and made with eggs and milk. Exact recipe probably depends on the French province in which it originated. Most popular version hereabouts seems to be quiche Lorraine. I imagine there may be as many varieties as there are of paellas in Spain and Italian pizzas in North Beach.

Anyway, quiche obviously will be a part of the menu, along with fondues, souffles, special sausages and other epicurean selections. Don says he wants to get away from the starches in American cooking.

He and York have taken over the former cleaning establishment next to Sonny's Restaurant and are having it remodeled. There is a fireplace and settee arrangement which can be used to advantage.

French Quiche will be open for lunches and dinners seven days a week. An application has been made for a wine and beer license.

AFTER THIS WEEK, Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant in San Anselmo is closing out its lunches.

Owner Al Barthel, whom you will find dressed as a Mexican charro dandy on Fridays and Saturdays, wants to concentrate more on his dinners. He is planning on adding a steak picado to the dinner menu and may also add filet tips and possibly a New York steak.

Although regular lunches are now out, this place will open for special luncheon parties of 45 or more. And it will also cater for groups of 25 or more.

Al's over-the-counter sales now include some fancy 23 by 29-inch posters of his "little man" logo — the same character you see in his ads.

APPARENTLY there is still some belief that Franchini's Chateau has closed or is closing. This is not so.

The state, although now owner of the property, has agreed to a three-year lease. It may be even longer before work commences on construction of a new 101 Highway-Lucas Valley Road cloverleaf.

Undoubtedly the misunderstanding came about because it was reported here that Roy Franchini will take over Buckingham Lodge in Lake County. Regardless of Roy's absence, his son Niki will still be on the job in Marin. And the rest of the staff continues. Food is still the same.

However, there have been some variations in the menu. A new collection of a la carte items has been added, including several pastes — canneloni, baked lasagna, gnocchi, tortellini, mastaccioli, tagliarini, spaghetti and ravioli — along with Hangtown fry, broiled ham steak, sauted beef tips and lobster and steak combination.

Prime rib is now served all week, instead of just on weekends.

Two things more: Monday is now a day of closing, and Sunday brunch has been cut off for the fall and winter months. Sunday opening time is now 1 p.m.

IF THERE IS ONE DAY of the year that gets celebrated at Nero's Restaurant at Nave Lanes, Ignacio, it is Columbus Day. Last year the restaurant served over 500 dinners.

Usually these celebrations don't fall on Columbus Day itself but on a nearby Monday. The Festivale Italiano, as it is called, is being held again this year and the day is next Monday, the 13.

Bill Nave Sr. takes over as chef, turning out just about everything appearing on a popular Italian menu: chicken cacciatora, turta, stuffed zucchini, sima, risotto, veal scallopini, polenta, ravioli, stuffed veal, salata a la Milanese, and of course tagliarini, spaghetti, lasagna and whatever else may come to his mind.

Tab is $3.75 for all you can eat, with wine and appropriate festivale music. Advance reservations are necessary. Serving times are for three separate periods — starting at 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

FRED CHERRY, who used to get frequent mention in this column because he always had something new going on at his Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo, hasn't been a subject for discussion recently because he no longer has a restaurant to write about.

One reason for closing this operation two months ago was that he had a chance to apply for a different type of wine license (a wine grower's license). This meant giving up his on-sale license used in connection with the restaurant. But the new license would enable him to do many things to promote his Wine Discovery Shop that he couldn't do before.

Word now is that he hopes to get this new license in another week. This will be used in expanding his wine operations, including wine tastings.

He does not plan to offer a regular mealtime menu as before, no longer qualifying as a restaurant. However, he says he will serve groups and organizations wanting a gourmet dinner with their wine instruction.

Girl Scouts Lose Suit On Poster

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has refused to enjoin the distribution of a gag poster depicting a smiling, pregnant girl clad in a Girl Scout uniform beside the motto, "Be Prepared."

"Rational analysis," Judge Morris Lasker said in his opinion yesterday, "does not indicate a likelihood that the public will believe that the Girl Scouts are the author of the poster."

The posters are produced by Personality Posters Manufacturing Co., Inc., The Girl Scouts sued Aug. 4, asking $1 million in damages and an injunction banning the poster.

Ruling only on the request for an injunction, Judge Lasker said that no evidence had been presented to indicate that the Girl Scouts had been damaged by distribution of the poster.

Las Vegas Calm After Judge Acts

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An agreement by a Negro judge to dismiss charges against nearly 200 blacks arrested during four nights of violence has brought peace to this gambling center.

Police reported all quiet in the mainly Negro West Side last night and 350 National Guardsmen alerted for possible duty were dismissed.

The agreement to free those arrested on charges of violating a curfew called in connection with the rioting was made by Municipal Court Judge Robert E. Mullen.

Mullen said yesterday he "made a deal" to dismiss the charges and that he received in return a promise that "there would be no more trouble."

An alleged liquor store looter was shot dead, 50 persons were injured and extensive damage was caused to stores during the disorders, which began Sunday.

WINE DISCOVERIES
Call 456-6660

WHEN? Very soon!
Cooperage, fermenter, lab equipment are in, so our federal license as a Bonded Winery should now be issued quickly. We have in mind the production of an unusual wine rarely found in this country, but more of that later. There will, of course, be all those distinctive "Wine Discoveries" — one or more a month; the best wines of California and the world, selected by a panel of judges headed by Fred Cherry. Memberships in the "Wine Discovery of the Month" Club keep coming in, for delivery after we open. Twelve international adventures in wine drinking, with enlightening descriptions, sent anywhere in the state — $10 per quarter, $35 per year. A great Christmas gift! Better write in for priority; great wines are in short supply, so memberships will be restricted.

HELP WANTED (Wine Lovers)
We will need all kinds of help — part time and full, paid and volunteer — as classroom assistants, tasting room salesmen, sommeliers, order takers, phone advisory service, mail order and shipping, wine making, tasters. The one essential requirement: dedication to and love of wine. Drop me a line or phone 456-6660. Describe your special wine interest and we'll set up a glass of wine and an interview.

A SPECIAL INVITATION
will be sent to you for one of the hour-long lectured tastings of "Wine Discoveries" during our Opening Week. Send name and address and number in your party. Indicate day (Wednesday through Sunday) and whether you prefer an invitation for afternoon or evening.

SCIENTIST AND WIFE TO SPEAK

Dr. Linus Pauling, professor of chemistry at Stanford University and twice winner of the Nobel Prize, and his wife, Ava, will speak at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Olney Hall of the College of Marin on the responsibility of a scientist and the future work of women, respectively. Their appearance is sponsored by the International League for Peace and Freedom.

San Anselmo Church Sets Campus Crisis Lectures

Persons who are confused about what is happening today in our colleges and universities will have an opportunity to find out in a series of Monday lectures beginning next week.

The series, "Crises and the Campus," will be held at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo and will be presented by those directly involved: students, faculty members and administrators.

The church feels the campus revolution "reflects the crises of our nation and society," according to David Faw, church publicity chairman. Faw said the series is being presented because "we see no one else is filling the need."

The agenda for the series is:

Monday: "The University — What Does it Look Like Today?", Glenn P. Smith, executive vice president of San Francisco State College; Oct. 20: "The American University and the American Empire," Bruce Nelson, director of the Bay Area Racial Education Project; Oct. 27: "The Rights of Student," a student panel; Nov. 3: "The Minority Student — Who is Uptight?," student panel.

Nov. 10: "The Draft and Vietnam — Their Influences on the Campus," Allan Miller, regional secretary for United Ministries of Higher Education; Nov. 17: "Conflict of Values on the College Campus," Dr. Charles McCoy, professor of religion and higher education at Pacific School of Religion; and Nov. 24: "The Church at the University: Failure or Forerunner," Dr. John Hadsell, campus pastor of Unitas at the University of California at Berkeley.

British Experiment With Coal's Shape

LONDON (UPI)—The British Coal Board spent 3 million pounds ($7.2 million) and five years looking for the perfect shape for coal.

Now it figures it has the answer — smokeless "briquettes" that are dimpled and shaped like cushions. "Once these briquettes go on the fire they just won't fall off," says Edward Hawthorne, technical manager of the Board's briquette section.

Marin City Council Seeks More Members

Agreeing that the existence of several separate civic committees serves only to divide the community, the Marin City Council last night gave unofficial approval to expanding its size from nine to 13 members to provide better representation to the low-rent areas

Although they took no vote, council members gave individual support to the idea and the council set Oct. 23 for discussion of how best to expand the board.

Residents of the public housing area of Marin City have complained that they are not represented on the council and have now formed their own committee.

The original council had 13 members, including seven from the public housing, Mrs. Collie Gaines pointed out, but she also noted that all public housing representatives dropped off the council for various reasons.

"We've had trouble enough getting a quorum with the nine members," she said, "so if we add four more, lets do it in a way that we get people who are interested enough to show up."

The council last night could muster only six of the nine members and that included four new councilmen who were elected Tuesday. In the only action item of the evening Terrie Harris, Ruth Hodges, C. J. Williams and Peggy Ann Bullock were officially seated. A fifth newly elected councilman, Royce McLemore, was absent and will be seated at the next meeting if she shows up, the council decided.

The council also agreed to send Mrs. Hodges to next Monday's meeting at Tamalpais High School when parents, teachers and students have slated a discussion on the racial tension at the school.

FIRE CALLS

Japanese Firm Boasts Record For Elevators

TOKYO (UPI)—Hitachi, Japan's largest manufacturing firm, has built a two-story elevator which will lift 260 persons at a time, with 130 passengers on each deck.

Hitachi says it is the biggest elevator ever built. It will be installed at the 1970 Japan World Exposition (Expo '70). The builders recommend the elevator for department stores and theaters.

Automatic Toll Test Repeat Set

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The state Department of Public Works said today automatic toll collection equipment will be experimented with again on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Director James A. Moe said the equipment will be operated initially during offpeak commute hours. During the morning commute rush, manual collection will be continued at all 17 booths.

A similar experiment several years ago failed and was abandoned because it delayed traffic during peak hours. Moe said the proposed system of staggered manual and automatic collection has "proven satisfactory" in the East.

Moe said he expects the state will save more than $100,000 through conversion to automation. Automatic equipment will be installed during the next four months on five traffic lanes.

Principal Is Source

A story on Tamalpais High School in yesterday's Independent-Journal erroneously attributed a statement that the school was calm after a series of racial incidents Wednesday to Assistant Principal Henry Marshall. The statement was made by Principal Raymond J. Bell.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Even The White Queen Might Not Believe This

"Curiouser and curiouser!" cried Alice.

It is necessary to put oneself in an "Alice in Wonderland" state of mind to follow the recent course of Marin County supervisors and administrator in the suspension-nonsuspension of Dr. Clyde G. Miller, the county's community mental health director. Otherwise, one's own mental health may suffer. The actions and "clarifications" of these officials indeed grow "curiouser and curiouser."

On Sept. 30, the supervisors, in open session, heard various charges against Dr. Miller, and various defenses of him. Then — for reasons hard to understand, since the matter had already been aired so publicly — they went into closed session, in which they spent three hours with Miller and County Administrator Alan Bruce, and from time to time with various Miller supporters.

They emerged from the closed session to announce that Dr. Miller was being suspended for 30 days — but with pay; and to recommend that directors of Marin Hospital District suspend for 30 days Dr. Donald P. Wilson, director of the community mental health center and one of Miller's chief critics. They did not mention whether this should be with pay.

However, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell questioned the legality of paying Miller for 30 days that he was under suspension. Whereupon, Administrator Bruce announced that (the supervisors' minutes to the contrary notwithstanding) Miller was not really suspended but was removed from his administrative duties and would be doing other work for the county.

In other words, he would receive full pay for doing part of what that pay was for, apparently.

"There's no use trying," she said; "one can't believe impossible things."

"I daresay you haven't had much practice," said the Queen. "When I was your age, I always did it for half-an-hour a day. Why, sometimes I've believed as many as six impossible things before breakfast."

Even the White Queen's preparation, however, might not be enough for what follows.

The supervisors on Tuesday went behind closed doors again — not, this time, for the legal purpose of hearing charges against an employee, but to decide what to do about the nonsuspension of the doctor they had suspended but with pay. They emerged again to say that what they really did was what Bruce said they did and not what they said they did during the previous closed session. The minutes were then so amended.

"When I use a word," Humpty Dumpty said, in rather a scornful tone, "it means just what I choose it to mean — neither more nor less."

"The question is," said Alice, "whether you can make words mean so many different things."

"The question is," said Humpty Dumpty, "which is to be master — that's all."

To answer Humpty Dumpty's question as regards Marin County government, we shall have to turn elsewhere than Lewis Carroll, who offers no help. Perhaps the answer can be found in Robert Burns's:

"Scots, wham Bruce has often led, welcome to your gory bed."

Walnut Leaves

For generations, English folk medicine has held the strange notion that rubbing walnut leaves on the skin was a good way to prevent sunburn. An old wives' tale, scoffed the scientists.

But yesterday's old wives' tale often turns out to be tomorrow's miracle discovery. Thus, after analysis by a group of chemists, it was announced that two powerful sunburn preventing chemicals had been found in walnut leaves. What's more, they give protection that lasts for two or three days.

A lotion containing these substances is expected to be marketed next year.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Cooperation In Drug Control At Last Sought With Mexico

By JAMES K. WOODWORTH

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Cooperation can be the key to the solving of many of our statewide and national problems, including drug abuse.

Efforts along this line are under way as Mexican and United States officials have announced a bi-national conference on narcotics and dangerous drugs for Oct. 16 and 17.

The word cooperation, however, is a two-sided thing and the delegates to the conference must go to it with the idea of giving a little and receiving a little.

PRESIDENT Richard M. Nixon has taken an unpopular position by ordering Operation Intercept, which is aimed at curtailing drug traffic across the Mexican border by extensive searches of all persons and vehicles.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has gone on record as praising the program and urging its continuance until either the drug traffic is dried up or the scarcity of the drugs and marijuana has pushed the price up to the point where American youngsters cannot aford it.

Governor Reagan has had to take verbal abuse from numerous members of the opposition party for his backing of Operation Intercept and large numbers of Americans have charged the program is unnecessary and useless.

THE JOINT conference will attempt to set up some controls over the flow of narcotics and marijuana across the border, with Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke to sit as California's top representative. Reinecke was appointed by Reagan to head a special task force on narcotics enforcement.

The kind of "shot in the arm" necessary for such enforcement was illustrated recently when as many as 75,000 young people joined in a rock music festival at Lake Amador, where they slept in the open, cavorted about in the nude, smoked "pot," and many participated in their first drug experience.

This was done, as in New York recently, without a bit of interference by local, county, state or federal law enforcement personnel. Reports claimed that the air around Lake Amador was so heavy with marijuana smoke that no one needed to actually light a butt, because they could get "high" just from the drifting smoke.

Operation Intercept is aimed at stopping the transport of more drugs and marijuana into California. Apparently Reagan, and law enforcement in general, hope the youngsters will burn up what is already here.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

No Reason To Drop Policy On Hair

I am a former student of Redwood High School, and I participated in athletics. Reviewing the hair issue which is presently going on, I see no way the athletes should be allowed to keep their hair long. This policy has been in effect for man years, and it would be a crime to change it now. It is one of the best things going.

No student is forced to go out for a sport. It is an extra school activity and a privilege to be on a team. Every boy is told before he goes out about the policy. If a boy wants badly enough to be a part of the team then he will make a few sacrifices. Also this gets the boys who really care to play. In addition every boy signs a contract. Contained in the contract are the rules an athlete must obey. This pertains to drinking alcoholic beverages, smoking, times to be home the night before a game, etc. When an athlete signs this he gives his word to obey the rules. Keeping the hair short enough is just another rule.

When I played I was proud to be part of the team. During my four years I played against many teams and most of them always had guys having trouble with hair in their eyes. The hair policy might also be the answer that Redwood High has won more MCAL championships in the last 11 years than any other Marin County high school. I agree with Mr. (Robert J.) Troppmann and I hope the short hair policy will be reinstated.

Distance Runner Has Own Discipline

For some time my only reaction to Mr. (Jim) Gilmartin's feeble attempts to emulate the clever Jim Murray has been a pained expression. They are such labored efforts. They frequently fail to make his point, and, worse, to amuse. Reallly, must we be afflicted with his gauche writing, his lack of humor, and his heavy-handed efforts lately to bludgeon Mr. (Robert) Torrey into restoring a ridiculous regulation about hair length!

Now, I'm no longer moved only to distaste. I wonder at the venom that this man spits out. . . .

Even more annoying than his clumsy and humorless writing is his biased reporting of the situation. It appears from his column that all the coaches were behind the old rule regulating hair length. The fact is that several coaches considered the matter unimportant. Hair length is a personal matter. Furthermore, a reader gets the distinct impression that the hair of these cross-country runners falls in long locks below their ears. Anyone who has watched them run knows this is not so. . . .

No one slightly connected with sports is unaware of the enormous self-discipline of the cross-country runner. Discipline, I believe, is the matter in question. Surely Mr. Gilmartin (he's a sports writer) knows of the lonely, arduous, gruelling schedule of the boy who wants to be a cross-country runner. Not for him the cheering crowds, yell-leaders, or pom-pom girls! Simply the joy of running and beating back the beast, pain. No, Mr. Gilmartin ought to know (had he not let his judgment outrun his discretion) that discipline could hardly be the problem with cross-country runners. Just being individual!

Soapsuds Ruin Oil Paintings

Wednesday, Oct. 1 issue of the I-J, on page 18, "To brighten an oil painting, sponge gently with mild soapsuds."

Sorry, this is a no, no.

Soapsuds and water ruin oil paintings which are properly dry cleaned and not wet washed. Soap is undoubtedly about the last thing to ever use.

So, unless you want to "antique" a painting, shrink the canvas and add fats, alkalis and scum to the pores and cracks, don't wash a painting.

Modern dry cleaning of paintings generally uses a base of odorless mineral spirits with various alcohols and acetones added, depending on the painting.

Soap was eliminated from good art use in the 1920's. Turpentine was eliminated in the 1940's. Today's art, like today's life, demands a little more science.

Circus That Does Good Two Ways

"Bouquets the the Marin County Deputy Sheriffs' Association."

My children (two years in a row) attended the sheriffs' association-sponsored circus at the Marin Catholic (High) School this summer. They had fun — the price for the family ticket was well spent. If you and yours did not attend, try to next year.

The profits earned by these law enforcement officers were unselfishly shared among groups in the county. Marin Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis was one of the recipients. The chapter is so deeply grateful for our check — we work long hours on a volunteer basis for what we believe in — our hopes are so high to think there are others who care about kids who of necessity spend most of their lives fighting for each breath of air.

TWELVE ASPIRING WRITERS in the graduating class of a prominent school of journalism have vowed that, times being what they are, they'll pen nary a discouraging word and confine their literary output to cheerful, heart-warming subjects. What they propose to be, in short, is chipper by the dozen.

A PUN IN mythology? Perish the thought, you say? Well, how about the day the Norse god Thor was galloping along on his favorite steed and exulted, "I'm Thor! I'm Thor!" And the steed snorted, "You muthed have forgotten your thaddle, thilly!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Some Arguments And Answers In The Debate Over Vietnam

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Debate on Vietnam is so distorted that it is urgent to get the facts into the open.

The nation is surfeited with conflicting arguments which neither meet nor answer each other.

The purpose of this column is to bring out the pertinent facts in order to judge better where good sense lies.

ARGUMENT — Many Vietnam critics claim the only thing that counts is for the United States to pull out completely now, certainly far faster than President Nixon is moving. That's easy, isn't it? Why not?

ANSWER — There are two goals, not just one. They are to turn more and more of the fighting over to South Vietnam and to do this in a way and at a pace to bring about serious negotiation and a peaceful settlement of the war. Both are crucial.

If you believe that surrendering the peace in South Vietnam to Hanoi is acceptable, then mass withdrawal, whatever the consequences, is the way to do it.

If you believe that the shape of the peace is vital, then careful, prudent, staged withdrawal is the way to do it.

ARGUMENT — Critics argue that "there can be no fair elections in South Vietnam under the supervision of the South Vietnamese regime."

ANSWER — The free elections proposed by Washington and Saigon would not be under the supervision of the South Vietnamese regime. They would be internationally supervised, and Hanoi has opposed such free elections because it doesn't want international supervision.

ARGUMENT — It is argued that Hanoi and the Viet Cong cannot be assured free elections unless a new "coalition government," including the VC, replaces the present elected government before any new election is held.

ANSWER — If the purpose of Hanoi and the VC in demanding a pre-election coalition is to insure elections fair to all, this condition has already been met.

Presidents Nixon and Thieu have already proposed a "colation commission" on which the NLF and the Saigon government would be equally represented along with international supervisors.

ARGUMENT — It is often argued that the demand of the Communists for participation in the government of South Vietnam prior to elections is a reasonable, innocent precondition to holding elections.

ANSWER — This demand is made to sound innocent and reasonable by not stating what the Communists are really demanding. They are demanding that the elected Thieu government be ousted. They are demanding that the organized non-Communists be removed from office. They are demanding that the Viet Cong through the NLF be allowed to create a new government (without elections) in coalition with unorganized non-Communists who would be without any political structure, without leaders and without any military force.

The objective of such a coalition is a negotiated Communist takeover.

ARGUMENT — It is often argued that the way to get serious peace negotiations moving in Paris is to make more concessions to Hanoi and the VC.

ANSWER — If the critics of careful and staged withdrawal of American troops keep mounting new pressures to force the United States to break every deadlock with new proposals, that is the tactic by which the United States makes all the concessions and the other side none.

The end of that road is to throw away the peace before negotiations are even started.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Old Guard Senators Stiffen End Run Defense

By ROY McGHEE

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A Senate elder interrupted floor debate the other day to sound a note of concern about senators of one committee poking around in the affairs of another committee.

There have been jurisdictional squabbles in the Senate since the very start of the committee system but, generally, they have been of a housekeeping nature, quietly resolved.

What made this incident noteworthy was that the senior member, courtly Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., felt impelled to put the matter on the public record. And the subject was the Selective Service system.

STENNIS IS chairman of one of the most powerful and influential committees of the Senate: armed services.

Last year the Senate passed draft reform legislation to allow the President to fill military manpower needs by a lottery draft if he wished, but the House never acted on the proposal.

Now President Nixon is again asking for congressional authority for a random selection draft system. There are about a dozen bills pending in the Armed Services Committee to reform the draft, but Stennis was tied up for months this year guiding the $20 billion military procurement bill through the Senate.

He has had no time for conscription hearings. He has promised them early next year. But if the House acts first and sends to the Senate a lottery bill, Stennis has promised action.

ENTER SEN. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., impatient for draft reform. He serves on neither the military committee nor the Senate Appropriations Committee but is chairman of a judiciary subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures.

Broadly interpreted, that post gives Kennedy jurisdiction over how the laws of Congress are carried out. He wrote Stennis he planned to investigate the Selective Service.

This was what prompted Stennis to take the subject to the Senate floor. "First, the record should be unmistakably clear that the committee which has jurisdiction over Selective Service legislation is the Committee on Armed Services," he said.

"Second, I would only observe that if caution is not exercised, there could be an erosion of the committee system. I am certain that no one intends this result but I think that all committees and subcommittees must exercise the rule of reason lest there be complete duplication of effort within the committee system."

STENNIS' SPEECH was little noted in news accounts that day. Yet it signaled a stiffening by the Senate elders against youthful incursions against their power that has marked this session of Congress.

Other examples:

—Senate freshmen breaking tradition by making floor speeches and interrogating witnesses at hearings, instead of remaining mute for their first year or two.

—First termers successfully challenging committee chairmen handling legislation on the floor by forcing unwanted and usually liberalizing amendments.

—Young Republicans trying, and almost succeeding, in electing a first termer as floor leader.

There Are Cops And Cops– Some Good Ones And Bad Ones

This column is about cops and before I begin (not that it will satisfy either the "support your local police" types or the "every cop is a pig" types) let me say I like and support good cops and I don't like or support bad cops.

This is a column about some bad cops. And some good ones.

The last place one would expect a serious police-citizen confrontation is at a '49er football game. The '49ers, Kezar and the fans who go there are so middle class that the only serious violence that is ever done there is that which is done to the fans' livers and the players' egos.

Until last Sunday. Then there was an ugly incident that could have been even uglier. It didn't have to happen, and, in the opinion of many fans at the end of the stadium, it was made ugly by the actions of three San Francisco motorcycle policemen.

WHAT HAPPENED was this: One of those two awful teams on the field somehow kicked a ball through the goal posts. A youth of 11 or 12 caught it, deftly lateraled to a friend across the fence, who broke into an open bleacher run toward the exit. He was blocked and tackled by a helmeted and sun-glassed cop built about like Sam Huff (I'm a Redskin fan). This worthy grabbed the ball from the kid and threw it back to the field (where, incidentally, it was caught by another young man who tossed it back into the stands, but that's not essential to this story).

The burly motorcycle patrolman's action outraged many fans, and many of them who booed and taunted the cop. Then two more of San Francisco's finest (let us hope not) appeared, one brandishing his night stick — that's right, his night stick.

At least two youths were manhandled out of an exit and another was shoved — a plainclothesman who appeared later said he "fell" — down several rows of bleachers.

Sometime during all this, the powder puff game down on the field ended and the three cops (badge numbers 1244, 57 and 413) stood in the bleachers, exchanging taunt for taunt, obscenity for obscenity and yell for yell with fans.

NOW ABOUT some good cops:

First, a California highway patrolman stationed in Marin whose name I unfortunately cannot find out. The other night, this guy was close to quitting time when he saw a young man hitchhiking on the side of Highway 101, which of course is illegal.

He stopped and the kid told him he was a sailor at San Diego, lived in Eureka, his father was on his deathbed, he had lost his wallet at San Francisco International Airport and was trying to hitchhike home because he was out of money.

The patrolman, according to the bus driver who reported it, took the kid into San Rafael, bought him a bus ticket to Eureka and gave him some extra money for food. "The patrolman wouldn't even give the kid his name so he could send the money back," the bus driver said. "He said it was too early for Christmas so he'd just have to chalk it up as his good deed for Halloween."

IN MILL VALLEY, one important factor in cooling things off at Tam High, according to Asst. Principal Henry Marshall, was the cooperation of the Mill Valley Police Department.

Their function has been to unobstrusively keep outsiders from coming in to add to the tension. A top school official says they have been completely cooperative and have done their job "with extreme professionalism."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

More About Miller Fiasco; Supervisors Wade In Tanglefoot

Fusselman

"I am going to run this county and don't you ever forget it."

In spite of the fact that Supervisors Bud Baar, Bill Gnoss and Peter Arrigoni voted to sustain Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell in his contention that Dr. Clyde Miller should not be paid $803 for nine days he overstayed his vacation in England — for which they are to be applauded — the administrator is still coming on strong and getting away with it most of the time.

These are things to wonder you: Bruce (Alan the administrator), Dr. Miller claims, gave him the green light to stay the nine days and attend a conference in England. Now, when Miller put in for a full month's pay, Mike docked him and says that, when he informed Bruce of this, the administrator agreed, then later changed his mind and ordered it paid. The final result was a reversal of his order by the board of supervisors as stated above. But Bruce approved the $92 attendance fee which Dr. Miller allegedly paid. The board, after denying the $803 for the time spent turned around and allowed the payment.

IMMEDIATELY after the closed-door meeting which followed the hearing of the Dr. Miller case (a week ago Tuesday), the board announced," The Board of Supervisors on this date (Sept. 30, 1969) after hearing public testamony and having met in executive session does suspend Dr. Clyde Miller for 30 days with pay, effective immediately."

The I-J report stated that Dr. Miller, talking with a group, said, "They are going to decide whether to fire me."

Neither the board nor the doctor made any reference to the doctor being assigned to any duties during the 30 days. Nevertheless on Oct. 2 Bruce, who it is said wrote the minutes covering the closed meeting, got all excited when the auditor-controller made the point that this would be a gift of public funds and that his constitutional responsibility would not allow the payment. So he claimed that he assigned Dr. Miller to certain duties during the 30-day interval such as working on the budget and plans for mental health and that this was the intent of the board of supervisors. "A temporary change in tasks" said Bruce as he provided supplementary information.

Now comes it another closed session of the supervisors last Tuesday to "clarify" the minutes of Sept. 30. From this meeting emerges the board's statement that Dr. Miller is to be engaged in "non-policy administrative work including the preparation of the budget and related matters."

NOW, ISN'T this cute: Dr. Miller's administrative assistant, Jay J. Shinohara, is in charge of the department during these 30 days and the board has raised his pay from $1,138 a month to $1,385 — an increase of $247. Miller is assisting his assistant with the "budget and related matters" for which he is to receive his usual $2,111 a month.

Now why in all that's reasonable isn't Miller docked $247 for a work he is not doing just as he was docked $803 for the days he was not working while in England, even though Bruce tried to make it appear that he was?

NEWS ITEM — I-J Wed., Oct. 8 — "Marin County Board of Supervisors approved a $3,223,849 County Mental Health Services Budget." — The county will pay about $310,000.

Now that the budget is put to bed, what's for the poor doctor to do now?

BRASILIA: — . . . A place where subterfuge grows like "pot".

Commercials On Cigarettes Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cigarette commercials where references are made to tar and nicotine content should be specific because referring simply to "low" or "less" could create an imprecise picture, says the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC's position was explained yesterday in a letter to the code authority director for the National Association of Broadcasters.

The letter suggested inaccuracies and imprecise advertising could be avoided if broadcasters provided a "clear and conspicuous disclosure" of the milligrams of tar and nicotine in smoke produced by the advertised cigarette and the same information on the lowest and highest yield domestic cigarettes.

State Farm Leader To Speak At Tomales

Springs Stilled By 1906 Quake Jolted To Action

SANTA ROSA (AP) — The Kawana Springs, which were plugged by the great 1906 earthquake, are gushing water again, thanks to another tremor.

Before the disastrous quake 63 years ago water from the springs had been used by a resort on the property now owned by Zana Weaver, 82. But there are no plans for resuming that operation despite the flow of fresh water.

Mrs. Barbara Jean Westfall, a housekeeper on the property, noticed the resumption of the springs following a quake a week ago last Wednesday which did damage estimated between $6 and $10 million in this community.

Mrs. Westfall found the springs when she saw fresh water flowing in a usually dry creekbed.

Her husband, John, a caretaker at the property, said yesterday, "I'd say that it's pushing down between 500 and 1,000 gallons a day."

The song, "Dixie," the rallying tune of Confederate soldiers, was written in the North.

Liberian Diplomat Is Liberated Lady

By MORT ROSENBLUM

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Election of Angie Brooks, a Liberian diplomat, as president of the U.N. General Assembly didn't cause much of a stir in her native land.

The feeling was: She's a

ANGIE BROOKS

clever girl and well versed in diplomacy, but what's the fuss? After all, four women were graduated from Liberia College in 1905. Women have had public prominence here ever since Matilda Newport crept up on a loose cannon and dropped embers from her pipe into the ignition hole, scattering a horde of tribesmen about to unsettle Liberia's pioneers in the last century.

THERE ARE women cabdrivers, dentists, policemen, lawyers, government leaders including a senator and four congresswomen, educators, business owners, as well as Miss Brooks.

History can even produce a Susannah Lewis whose team of seamstresses sewed up the horizontal red and white stripes and blue field of the Liberian flag as Betsy Ross did for a remarkably similar banner.

What's amazing, says the collegiate-looking dean of the William V. S. Tubman Institute of Teacher Training, is that women make their mark almost invariably while running a home.

"It is very, very important to be married," Dean Mary Antoinette Brown said. "I doubt if you can find a professional woman that has not been married. Maybe she'll be divorced or widowed, but she will have been married."

WHEN MRS. BROWN'S husband died in 1962 she took her three children to New York so she could add a Cornell University doctorate to her Radcliffe master's.

It has only been in the last 10 or 15 years that American women have found the balance between a career and housewifery, Mrs. Brown says, but Liberian women have always done it.

A system of large families, combined with less expensive servants if necessary, makes it possible.

Most African societies rely heavily on women for work. One market woman in Nigeria who cannot write her name has three girls carry her money to the bank. She can draw a $200,000 letter of credit. But tradition has defined women's limits and the "bride-price" system often has made them too valuable a chattel to waste in school.

IN LIBERIA, independent since 1847, women have had a chance to develop. The original elite came from America as

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

At World Forestry Congress

By MOLLY MARIN

The Homer J. Hixons have returned from a trip to Sweden. Mr. Hixon represented the United States at an international forestry congress convened at the Royal College of Forestry in Stockholm. After attending sessions of the congress, he and Mrs. Hixon traveled to England and stayed briefly in Washington, D.C. Gladys Hixon returned to Tiburon last Oct. 3. Mr. Hixon, director of Timber Management for the U. S. Forestry Service, will participate in a forestry meeting in Atlanta, Ga. During their stay in Sweden, they particularly enjoyed a boat trip to the Thousand Island Archipelago and an adventurous ride by chair lift to the top of the highest mountain in Sweden at Are.

DR. AND MRS. Frank E. Rossman of Sausalito celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Oct. 4 by going to Mendocino for the weekend, where they first met when she was teaching music and he, athletics and science in the high school. They stayed at the old Mendocino Hotel, which they found still very much the same as it was then. Among the people with whom they renewed acquaintance were some of their former pupils.

NEWLYWEDS. Mr. and Mrs. David Allen Paul, have returned from a wedding trip to Mazatlan, Mexico, and are living in the bride's home in Tiburon. Mrs. Paul is the former Mrs. Bruce H. Keppel.

Sandy Keppel and Paul were married at a small wedding given at the home of close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Billings in Tiburon on Sept. 20, with only family members present.

Sandy is the daughter of Mrs. A. S. Laudermilk of Santa Rosa. She attended St. Catherine's College in St. Paul, Minn., and the University of Minnesota. She is the proprietor of El Borro Restaurant in Tiburon. The bridegroom, a graduate of Oklahoma University, is an engineer and is currently overseeing a project in Redwood City.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Getting A Job Is The Only Way To Fight A Chintzy Husband

DEAR HELEN:

My husband and I went shopping last night. As usual, he headed for the sports department. If I made a move to look at clothes or underwear for me and our baby, he got furious.

It's always like this. He can spend $20 to $50 on sports, but if I need a few dollars for necessary things like shoes, etc., it's "Save it from your grocery money!" I get $25 a week for food and all household bills, and he howls if I scrimp with mixture dishes or hamburger.

It's his money, and I'm supposed to be terribly grateful for any gratuity. When I get sick of doing without and tell him, his temper is something else. He has even got so mad he put his fist through the wall.

He blames me for his ulcers. All I want is things the baby and I need. What to do?—FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUDTRATED:

Why not earn your own money. If you'd rather not work while your baby needs you, then advertise for home jobs. Many young mothers earn $25, $50, even $100 a week ironing, baby-sitting, baking, sewing, right in their own homes. Child care for working mothers is your best bet, and if you offer extra services, such as washing and ironing, you can make it pay pretty well.

At any rate, it's better than fighting with a chintzy husband! —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I direct this note to you and "Not a Fondant Fan" who referred so unkindly to pink and green centered chocolates.

The world has a good many people besides you and Miss Fondant, and a lot of these folks, including myself, search through every candy box eagerly looking for the green and pink creams. The color and the flavor are superb.

I hope your adverse comments won't discourage candy makers to a point where they scratch the pinks and greens, for then I'll stop buying chocolates. — DIXIE

DEAR DIXIE:

I wish one of your breed lived at my house. I get stuck with all the pinks and greens because my family came equipped with X-ray eyes, or maybe ESP, and know how to avoid 'em. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Enclosed is a cloth sample; could you tell me if the stain on it is lipstick? I don't want to accuse my husband unless I'm sure. — SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUS:

Not being a chemist, I have returned your cloth sample with the suggestion that you ask your husband before you cut up any more good shirts. — H.

Stephen Forbes To Wed Miss Wachs

The engagement of their daughter, Deborah, to Stephen Edward Forbes has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wachs of Mill Valley.

Debbie is the sister of Mrs. Alan Nyman, Tom and Rick Wachs, all of Mill Valley and the granddaughter of Mrs. Hyman Rosenthal of San Francisco.

Steve's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Wilfred Forbes of Mill Valley, and his grandmother is Mrs. Edward Forbes of Arlington. His brothers are Dr. Ronald Forbes of Lodi and Michael Forbes of San Francisco.

Both Steve and Debbie were graduated from Tamalpais High School and continued at the University of California at Davis and the College of Marin, respectively.

Steve is a Navy petty officer aboard the USS Oriskany. Deborah is employed at the Homestead School in Mill Valley.

Holidays In Memo Book

Memo date calendar books listing Christian, Jewish and national holidays have been donated to 20 school districts in and near Marin County.

The books are produced by the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith and donated to the schools by TaMar Chapter 1130 of B'nai B'rith Women. The project was initiated three years ago by TaMar's Anti-Defamation League chairman Mrs. Eugene Lee, and carried on by the chairman and co-chairman, Mmes. John Hyams and Gary Rifkind, both of San Rafael.

Individuals may purchase the books at a nominal fee from Mrs. Richard Greenblat of Fairfax, TaMar Chapter president.

The calendars also contain a glossary to define what the various holidays mean.

settlers without tribal ties. They set the tone for the rest.

President Tubman got women the vote in 1947 shortly after his first election. It caused a party furor that staggered his position, long since solidified.

"Since then," Tubman recently told one of the many women's organizations, "they have proved that they justly merit the confidence."

Tubman's wife Antoinette heads the legion of women who, by volunteer work, make up virtually all of Liberia's social and welfare services. A gala ball last month netted $45,000.

Mary Fiske, a motherly, convincing woman who is assistant secretary of information and culture and active in church work, has definite views on women's opportunities:

"If you are prepared, nothing will hinder your success."

Prepare For The Baby While You Wait

At one time if a woman was pregnant, the nine-month waiting period was one of leisure — a little knitting, a little walking, a little gossiping. But today, the waiting game is played differently — and a woman should want to know as early as quickly as possible as early and as quickly as possible if she's going to hear the patter of little feet so she can start her pattering around.

Pregnancy sets a lot of things in motion, and the mother-to-be should prepare herself to go at a nice even pace for the full term.

FIRST OF ALL the question of costs springs up. As everything else, having babies costs more now than it did even a few years ago, so a thorough financial review is definitely in order. On a national average the medical expenses involved amount to about $550, which includes both the obstetrical fee (and four post-natal check-ups) and the hospital bill. You should drag out your medical insurance plan contract and read carefully just what is covered, and what length of stay in the hospital and type of accommodations are allowed. Anyone who has full coverage is lucky, but most plans offer only partial payment, so you might want to start a concerted savings program to cover the difference between what the medical expenses will be — and what your insurance plan will take care of.

HOSPITAL rooms and nurses have to be booked in advance. Very often your obstetrician will make the hospital arrangements for you, but it's best to ask him early, especially if you want special rooming in accommodations with your baby. If you want a capable nurse to greet you at the hospital on going home day and give you some blessed relief, aid and comfort during that first hectic week at home, you have to line one up about six months beforehand. Remember that baby nurses, at the whim of mother nature, have to accept far-spaced jobs because even if your doctor promises a Dec. 1 bundle, she will have to free herself two weeks before and two after your expected due date.

The nine-month-waiting-period is the time to choose a pediatrician. If you've already had children, there's no problem, but new mothers will want to find one with whom they have that elusive quality, rapport. Your friends or neighbors will recommend doctors. When you hear of one that sounds right for you make an appointment to meet him during your nine-month wait.

LAYETTE shopping can be a nine-month pleasure, or a last-minute chore. If you're attuned to bargain buying, stock up on the little essentials (only the barest minimum) when the semi-annual sales occur. Little stretch suits and kimonos are regularly marked down; seasonal items like warm sweaters, snow suits, lightweight summery clothes can be real buys if you watch the advertisements and periodically saunter through the baby departments during your nine months.

FURNISHING and decorating a place for the new arrival can be as simple a matter as borrowing a neighbor's crib and dressing table or as involved as financing a home improvement loan to build an additional room. In any case, start this early so you'll have the confidence that when you get home, everything will be completed.

Many women, especially those who are going into a natural childbirth program, will want to sign up and take pre-natal classes. Many hospitals give exercise classes about eight weeks before your due date. In the LaMaze natural childbirth technique, you must sign up with a qualified instructor at least five months in advance though the actual classes are only given the last eight weeks of your pregnancy.

Setting up your diaper arrangements will not take real effort on your part. Professional diaper services will send you literature and use the time of your pregnancy to make a careful comparison of what each service offers, and then decide in favor of one or none if you plan to use your own washing machine and dryer.

The last few restless weeks should be devoted to nothing more strenuous than making telephone arrangements with mother and mother-in-law, visiting with clergymen on special ceremonies connected with the birth of a baby, contacting the printer on your birth announcements, fixing and folding all the pretty little layette items into the baby's dresser and buying the few drug store items you'll be needing.

YOU'LL HAVE to have a small suitcase packed and ready to go for the trip to the hospital. Travel light — a couple of nightgowns, some cologne, a light bathrobe and a good book: one of the many good books on baby care available might make good hospital reading. And remember you're packing for two: the newcomer will need a sweater, hat, undershirt and receiving blanket for the trip home.

There's no getting away from the fact that the nine-months you wait can be very hectic ones, and that's why it's so important to know as soon as possible whether you are or are not pregnant. Not so long ago, it took many weeks, often months of missed periods, pelvic examinations, time consuming lab tests to determine for sure whether you were or were not "in the family way" as they used to euphemistically call it. Today things are very different.

Doctors now can employ an immunological slide test, which provides results in only two minutes. Performed either by a medical laboratory or by the physician in his ofice, this simple technique affords a 99 per cent accurate diagnosis as early as 13 days after the first missed period. The patient and the doctor know the results immediately and both can begin to plan accordingly —the doctor to set you up on a good-health-proper-diet-vitamin-laden program—and you to start on your preparations.

Mrs. B. Sprunner of Richmond.

After a noon luncheon Mrs. Sprunner will install the following officers Mmes. Deneige Murphy, president; Mary Courtney, senior vice president; Anita Munter, junior vice president; Corbett Cowan, financial secretary; and Cornelius Burns, treasurer.

Others are Mmes. Joseph Codoni, recording secretary; Carl O'Brien, corresponding secretary; Carl Bettinger, marshal; and Otto Maysenhalder, guard. The executive board members are Mrs. George Morin, Mrs. John Sanoni and Mrs. Helen Fitzpatrick.

THREE BELVEDERE women are among the sponsors for the antique show and sale of the League for Service of the Episcopal Church of St. Matthew in San Mateo. Participants are Mmes. John Hoefer, Robert Bahnall and John H. Flint. The event will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the church hall.

EARLY SUBSCRIBERS to the San Francisco Sponsors dinner dance to be held Nov. 13 at the Corinthian Yacht Club will not only receive Blue Chip Stamps for the amount of their tickets, they will also be the guests of the Lamplighters, this year's beneficiary drama group, at the preview performance of "The Mikado," Wednesday at Presentation Theater in San Francisco.

Chairmen are Jules Levaggi of San Francisco and the Rev. and Mrs. Angus Dun Jr. of Greenbrae.

THE JOHN Reed P-TA, Rohnert Park, is holding a carnival tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the school grounds. The P-TA membership drive for the school begins Wednesday.

"NOVATO DRUG scene: RX For Parents and Teachers" is the title of the panel discussion to be presented at 8 p.m., Tuesday, at Hill Junior High School in Novato by the Hill Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association.

Participants will be Marin County District Attorney Bruce Bales, John Crowley, pharmacist, Donna Poninski, school psychologist and the Rev. James Purcell.

Arrangements have been made for an extensive display of material dealing with specific areas of drug use and abuse, according to P-TA president, Mrs. Howard Crabtree.

The program is the first in a series dealing with problems faced by parents of Novato teen-agers.

"FALL FESTIVAL" is the theme for the annual Halloween carnival to be held at Cotati School tomorrow from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on the school grounds.

According to Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, chairman, the carnival will feature candy-striped game booths provided by fun enterprises as well as the usual cakewalk, fish pond and Mr. Pick Pockets.

Hot dogs, beans, salad and soft drinks will be available for lunch.

A FOUR part seminar series on World Jewry In Crisis, sponsored by the Marin County Women's Division of the Jewish Welfare Federation, begins Tuesday.

Henry Silver, assistant director of the Jewish Community Relations Council, will moderate. Topics covered will be Oct. 14, Israel's Survival; Oct. 21, The Black Community; Oct. 28, Urban Crisis; Nov. 4, Soviet Jewry.

All meetings will be held from 10 a.m. to noon at the San Rafael home of Mrs. Philip Flax. Mrs. Stephen Barker of Belvedere is reservations chairman. Mmes. Fred Kanter of San Rafael and Leland Mosk of Kentfield, members of the education committee of the women's division, are education co-chairmen for Marin.

THE SAUSALITO Woman's Club will start classes in creative stitchery on Tuesday under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard E. Cruikshank.

Limited to 25 members and guests, classes will meet for six Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Teachers are Mrs. Janet Van Edera and Marge Krijek, who have won two popularity awards at the de Young Museum in San Francisco as well as many others.

THE SAN Jose Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association will hold open house at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, in the multi-purpose room of the school in Novato.

William Welch, principal, will discuss the curriculum and Mrs. Arnold Baptiste, president, will introduce the appointive chairmen of the P-TA.

The Rev. Stanley Gjervik is the spiritual adviser and chairmen are Mmes. Mrs. Richard Garner is the newly elected secretary.

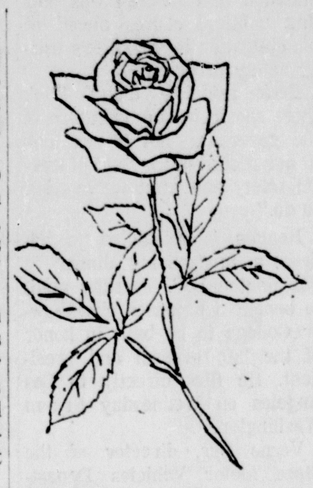
American Singer Is Star Of Vienna Light Opera Company

By ALINE MOSBY



VIENNA (UPI)—It's hard enough for any foreigner to make it in another country, but when you're also a girl, and alone, and a Negro at that.

Miss Olive Moorefield, who landed in Europe fresh from student days in Pittsburgh, Pa., not only made it but today is the toast, if not apple strudel of Vienna.

In a city bursting with talented serious singers, she is a star of the Vienna Volksoper Light Opera Company, and is popular in operettas, musical comedy, radio, records, television and films throughout Austria and Germany.

ONE NIGHT THE singer's throat was scratchy at the Volksoper and the usual call was made for "is there-a-doctor-in-the house."

The doctor not only treated her, but he married her. Now the pretty girl from Pittsburgh is also Frau Kurt Macht, the mistress of a luxurious Viennese apartment in the shadow of the once royal Schwartzenburg palace.

"And when I came to Europe in 1952 I had no intention of making my life over here," said Miss Moorefield in her richly-decorated home.

"I THOUGHT I would stay about one year and then go home."

After her first Broadway musical folded, Miss Moorefield won a job singing American folk songs and Negro spirituals for the U.S. Information Service as public relations for the United States in then occupied Austria.

"At that time in New York the opportunity for Negroes to perform in the classical music field was limited," she said. "But here it was paradise. I could study singing, for around a dollar a lesson. After the Vienna Opera reopened I went to the opera every night, for 25 or 50 cents.

"The USIS opened a theater in Vienna that became the embryo of the American musical in Europe. I did "Carousel" and "Showboat" and I became such a wild success that it led to auditions at the Vienna Volksoper."

AFTER THE four-power occupation ended, Miss Moorefield made her debut at the Volksoper in 1956, singing "Kiss Me Kate" in German. It was the biggest success the light opera house had, she proudly recalled.

Miss Moorefield went on to films, records and singing tours in Austria and Germany. A fluent German speaker, she became one of the first television stars in Germany in 1962. On European television, she starred in a straight drama, "Requiem for a Nun."

Her 1969-70 season includes "Porgy and Bess" and Offenbach and Brecht operas in Vienna, at the Bonn State Opera and Munich Opera in West Germany and on Rome radio. She also will do a dramatic role in a non-musical at the Hamburg Theater in Germany.

Judith Monson Is Wed To Craig Anderson

Judith Monson became the bride of Craig Anderson Saturday in a ceremony at Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church.

Margaret Nicolai of San Anselmo was maid of honor, and Pat Ferguson of San Rafael was best man. Tony Dallara of San Rafael ushered.

A reception was held at the Fairfax home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myrle Monson.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. Mrs. Amy Norton of Fairfax is her grandmother, and she is the sister of Mrs. J. Oren Wikle of Pocatella, Idaho.

Craig is the son of Mrs. George Anderson of San Rafael and the late Mr. Anderson. He is a graduate of Terra Lina High School, attended College of Marin and is employed by J and B Ford in Corte Madera. Susan Anderson of San Rafael is his sister, and his local grandmother is Mrs. Carrie Cannifax of San Rafael.

The couple are living in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Yosemite.

Refrigerators

A survey by a manufacturer of plastic containers shows that the typical refrigerator is such a colossal mess that as much as 50 per cent of usable space goes to waste. Even worse, good food spoils by getting lost or forgotten in the confusion. What homemaker exists who fails to find on cleaning her refrigerator a collection of biological surprises, as a result?

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"I had to pay a big hospital bill for that cousin of Harriet's -- I used a three-syllable word in his presence and his brain shorted out."

Well-To-Do May Need Social Work As Well As Poor

Medical social work should not be limited to the poor, according to the Women's Medical News Service.

Well-to-do patients and doctors need it too, says Dr. W. Grayburn Davis of the Denver Clinic. The affluent require it because they can be emotionally prostrated by a serious illness as anyone else and doctors because competent social work can relieve them of much of the burden of helping patients and their families to adjust to new, troubling situations.

"Faced for the first time in his life by a life-threatening or mutilating illness, even a highly successful and heretofore brilliantly self-directed individual can urgently need help beyond the medical care provided by his physician," Dr. Davis points out.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The guide explains policies of coverage, how to prepare news stories and meeting notices, and the special stories and features emphasized by the section.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Film Festival Will Feature Young American Moviemakers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Film Festival will serve up its usual international menu of feature films this season, but the rest of the time will be dominated by young American moviemakers.

The festival opens the night of Wednesday, Oct. 22, with a big studio U.S. film premier before a black-tie audience. Director Stanley Kramer and stars Anthony Quinn and Virni Lisi will attend when "The Secret of Santa Vittoria" is shown.

The full schedule of the 11-day festival was announced yesterday by officials.

In addition to the nightly programs through Nov. 2, there will be afternoon tributes to a variety of film-makers.

Included in a Friday, Oct. 31 tribute to Mike Nichols will be the first public showing of a portion of his eagerly awaited "Catch 22," the filming of the Joseph Heller blackly humerous novel.

There will be a "new directors" series, including the works and appearance of such diverse talents as Haskell Wexler ("Medium Cool"), Gordon Parks ("The Learning Tree"), MacGregor Douglas "Whiskey Flats" and Susan Sontag ("Duet For Cannibals").

Other more established names in the business who will be honored will include John Schlesinger, Sidney Lumet, Frank Petty, Milos Forman, actress Bette Davis and the late Russian director Alexander Dovzhenko, whose window will attend.

The schedule of features following opening night:

Oct. 23 — "Everything for Sale," (Poland) directed by Andrzej Wajda; L'Horizon (French).

Oct. 24 — "Horoscope" Yugoslavia, "More" U.S. directed by Barbet Schroeder.

Oct. 25 — "The Adventures of Goopy and Bagha," India directed by Satyajit Ray; "Z," (France) directed by Costa-Gavras.

Oct. 26 — "Antonio das Mores," (Brazil) directed by Glauber Rochat; "Lions Love," (U.S.) directed by Agnes Varda.

Oct. 27 — "Goto, L'Ile d'Amour," (France); "The Honeycomb," international picture directed by Carlos Saura.

Oct. 28 — "The Red and the White," Hungary directed by Miklos Jansco; "The Deserters and the Nomads," Czechoslovakia.

Oct. 29 — "Hunting Scenes from Bavaria," (Germany); "Boy," (Japan).

Oct. 30 — "Monsieur Hawarden," Netherlands-Belgium; "Death of a Jew," Isreal.

Oct. 31 — "The Bofors Gun," England; "A Nest of Gentry," (USSR).

Nov. 1 — "Ma Nuit Chez Maud," France; "Adalen 31;" (Sweden) directed by Bo Wilderberg.

Nov. 2 — "The Money Order,"(Senegal); "Sympathy for the Devil," (France) directed by Jean-Luc Godard.

Next Year's Plays Chosen For Festival

Productions of "The Tempest," "Henry V," and "As You Like It" have been scheduled for the 10th annual Marin Shakespeare Festival to be presented in San Rafael next year.

More than 15,000 persons attended the recently completed 1969 festival season given at Forest Meadows on the Dominican College campus, directors announced yesterday.

Pottery Display Set

Slab pots, urns, bowls, bottles, and platters by Corte Madera potter Eric Norstad will be exhibited from Tuesday through Nov. 4 at Gallery III in the Marin Co-operative Center, 69 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Maders.

Governor's Talk Gets Crowded Out

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A scheduling complication will prevent Gov. Ronald Reagan from addressing the annual Governor's Traffic Safety Conference in Sacramento next week, Reagan's office acknowledged today.

Paul Beck, Reagan's press secretary, said the governor had planned to deliver opening remarks to the conference as he normally does.

He previously had been scheduled to go to Los Angeles to speak to a fund-raising dinner on behalf of Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., Wednesday night.

Then he would have flown to Sacramento and kicked off the conference the next morning.

But it turned out that Reagan would have to go back to Los Angeles Thursday for a meeting of the University of California regents Thursday and Friday, Beck said.

"So it just wouldn't work into the schedule . . . There's just no way he could work it in," Beck said.

The press aide denied any implication that Reagan was putting political chores ahead of his obligation to the state's traffic safety program.

Beck said he didn't think there should be any criticism of the governor, "not if you look at our record in the field of traffic safety and what we've tried to do."

Reagan is scheduled to address a fund-raising dinner in Washington D.C. Tuesday night to benefit a proposed Eisenhower College to be built in honor of the late general and president. He flies directly to Los Angeles on Wednesday from Washington.

Verne Orr, director of the State Motor Vehicles Department, said the main address would be given by Dr. William Haddon Jr., president of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety Bureau in the U.S. Department of Transportation.

In Mexican cities mail is delivered on Sundays and holidays as well as on weekdays.

School buses are not operated in Russia.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the film report of the Film Estimate Board unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY:

"Camelot" — Humor and depth make this lavish screen version of a Broadway musical impressive. Superb songs and music. Love affair delicately portrayed.

"My Side of the Mountain" — The adventures and experiences of a 13-year-old boy who tries to prove he can live alone in the wilderness of Quebec. Excellent script, artistically and sensitively directed.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Barefoot in the Park" — Spicy, well directed situation comedy about a pair of newlyweds. Dialogue is clever and cast delightful.

"Bullitt" — Melodrama involves gangsters, police and an ambitious politician. Violence goes all-out in blood and gore for its shock effect.

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" — With script based on reputedly true story of two bandits, this western is almost farcical in tone and documentary in presentation. The outlaws take their trade to Bolivia with mixed results. Good dialogue, fine music.

"Lion in Winter" — Rich, explosive drama that makes brilliant reality out of history. Excellent production.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Southern Star" — Based on a novel by Jules Verne this complicated but trite melodrama is set in Africa where the world's largest diamond disappears at a party. The chase throught the beautiful wilds is rather routine.

"True Grit" — Amusing satiric western about a determined 14-year-old girl's attempt to track down her father's murderer. Violence and rough language an integral part of story. Grandeur of scenery is memorable.

BORDERLINE:

(Most sources say Adults only)

"Bonnie and Clyde" — Young man teams with pretty waitress on a grand crime spree. Treating armed robbery and cold-blooded murder as comedy will offend some viewers. Sadistic violence and explicit sex shown.

ADULTS ONLY:

"Belle de Jour" — French film about a beautiful woman who leads two lives, one at home with her husband and one in a brothel.

"Castle Keep" — The eve of Battle of the Bulge eight walking wounded Americans occupy an ancient, treasure-filled Belgian castle directly in the path of the offensive. War satire fraught with symbolism, dark humor and graphically bawdy talk.

"Goodbye Columbus" — A rich and spoiled college-age girls' summer love affair with a young man who is not ready for commitment and their dispute about using contraceptives and their choice of values make a very frank and sophisticated film. Acting and photography good.

"Joanna" — This British "La Dolce Vita" describes a world in which personal license is completely accepted, then urges that life has a meaning beyond self gratification. A startlingly bold film.

"Last Summer" — A thought-provoking drama about growing up, stuns as it moves from youthful activity to depravity with a frightening combination of innocence, thwarted sex drives and destructive impulses in the skillful interplay of these groping, growing personalities.

"Man and A Woman" — A minor masterpiece of mood photography. A tender love story of two people who have known sorrow. Love scenes frankly presented.

"Staircase" — A sad, compassionate yet sordid study of the tragedy of two aging homosexual barbers who fight and bicker, yet are utterly dependent on each other after 30 years of living together. Settings are as bleak and ugly as the story.

More than 200,000 American troops are stationed in West Germany.

SPEED

Speed — methamphetamine — is a very dangerous drug. Widespread abuse of the amphetamines is destroying more young minds in California than any other drug.

Drastic effects

A "speed binge" is one of the most physically and psychologically damaging experiences anyone can have. Overactivation of the nervous system is folowed by acute depression and exhaustion. Impurities in the drug can kill.

Widely available

Speed is obtained from black market dealers. Often it is of poor quality. Contamination is frequent and produces injurious side effects, such as abscesses, blood poisoning and serum hepatitis from dirty needles.

What to do

According to volunteer clinical teams which include former drug users, there are three basic steps in coping with this dangerous drug situation:

First: Get the facts.
Second: Make a stand based on clinical evidence.
Third: Involve yourself, if the trend is to be reversed.

RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY

Today's drizzle failed to dampen the determination of this camera crew to continue filming "Doug Selby, D.A." at the Marin County Courthouse in San Rafael. Huddled under plastic covers, they may not see what's going on, but the camera will. Rainfall varied from .10 of an inch in Tamalpais Valley to a thick mist in Petaluma. In between were Sausalito with .08 of an inch; Woodacre, .07; Terra Linda and San Rafael, .05; Bolinas, .04 and Mill Valley, .03. The weatherman predicted it would clear tomorrow. Lucky Drive Corte Madera Annex Liked

Homes along Lucky Drive in Greenbrae should annex to the Town of Corte Madera if they want service from the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

This was the unanimous decision of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night at the Civic Center.

On a motion by Peter Arrigoni Jr. and a second by Jan Paul Dyk, commissioners approved annexation of 15 acres along Lucky Drive to the sanitary district on condition that they annex to Corte Madera.

The area includes 27 parcels along the south bank of Corte Madera Creek. David Jordan of 22 Lucky Drive, representing residents, argued that they should be allowed to join the sanitary district without being forced to join the town.

John F. Barrows, executive officer, recommended approval of the annexation to the sanitary district on condition that the area join either Corte Madera or Larkspur. Mayor Neil R. Brixon of Larkspur said his city has no interest in taking over the Lucky Drive parcel.

The Local Agency Formation Commission also:

DILLON'S BEACH — Set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Oct. 23 at the Civic Center to discuss Benjamin P. Bonelli's request for annexation of Oceana Marin and Dillon's Beach subdivisions to the North Marin County Water District.

HANNSON ANNEX — Approved the annexation of Victor Z. Hanson's property at 5 Las Huertas Court and seven other properties in East San Rafael to the San Rafael Sanitation District on condition that they annex to the City of San Rafael.

NOVATO BOULEVARD — Approved the annexation of a 1.66-acre lot on Novato Boulevard just west of McClay Road to the Novato Sanitary District.

SAN MARIN — Approved the annexation of the country portion of San Marin Drive to the City of Novato so that all of San Marin Drive can get road maintenance from the city.

CHAIRMAN — Reelected by unanimous vote Hugh G. Marchant as chairman for another year.

Gate Span Directors Lash Fellow Members' Truancy

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors, irritated by the persistent absences of at least three of their members, today proposed fining them unless they start showing up at the twice-a-month board meetings.

The issue was raised by Director John E. Dearman, of San Francisco, who ironically was appointed by the same men who are most often absent. The three are San Francisco Supervisors William C. Blake, Ronald Pelosi andr Peter Tamaras.

Dearman, who later told newsmen his remarks were aimed at all 18 directors, said directors who miss meetings "just don't know what's going on."

The district's attorney, Jerome B. White, noted that the board had no power to fire any director since all of them are appointed by other governing bodies. But he said a fine certainly was within the power of the board.

The board however, temporarily postponed imposing fines after President William Moskovitz said he would talk to the primary offenders.

Blake has missed eight of the last nine board meetings. Pelosi has missed the last 11 meetings and Tamaras has nissed seven of the last eight meetings.

In other business the board approved a request by Director Stephen C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco that a junket be made by district officials to Tacoma, Wash., to inspect a new ferryboat. Leonoudakis, Moskovitz, Director Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley and Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring will make the trip on Monday.

The new boat, which Leonoudakis said used the "latest technology," is 160 feet long and can carry 750 passengers at a speed of 25 knots.

It is powered by four 1,175 horsepower gas turbines and draws only six feet. Construction time is only nine months.

The ship is under construction for the Catalina Island service in Southern California, and may be available next month for a brief visit to the Bay Area, Leonoudakis said.

Leonoudakis estimated the cost of the boat, outfitted for commuted service, at $1.2 million to $1.5 million.

Mother Of Marinites, Husband Found Dead

I-J Special Report

SANTA BARBARA — Elizabeth Dakin Erdman, 65, mother of two Marin County men, was shot to death yesterday in her Montecito mansion by the husband she had divorced the day before.

Mrs. Erdman was the mother of Dr. Richard L. Dakin of Greenbrae, plastic surgeon and president of the Marin Museum Association and John Dakin of Kentfield, a San Francisco stockbroker.

Her body was found at 8 a.m. yesterday by a maid who had entered her room to answer a ringing telephone.

Police reported she had been shot in the head by her ex-husband, C. Pardee Erdman, while she slept.

The body of Erdman, 76, wealthy commodities broker, Presbyterian minister and former professor of religion, was found at the bottom of the swimming pool. He had shot himself through the mouth with a .32-caliber pistol found on a path near the pool, police said.

Mrs. Erdman had planned to return to San Francisco yesterday.

Yesterday would have been the Erdmans sixth wedding anniversary. It was the fourth marriage for Erdman and the second for his wife.

Mrs. Erdman was formerly married to John I. Dakin, senior partner of J. Barth and Co., who died in 1962.

Her brother-in-law, Richard Dakin, his wife and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Dakin and four of their children, all of Tiburon, were killed in the crash of a private plane in Baja California in December of 1966.

Idaho Crash Kills Marin Motorist

MARSING, Idaho — A 55-year-old San Rafael man was killed yesterday in a five-car pileup two miles southwest of Marsing, Idaho State Police said today.

The victim was Lewis Staunch of 108 Trellis Drive. He was alone in his car, according to police.

Staunch's car smashed into the back of a logging truck and was struck from behind by a freight truck. A pickup truck pulling a camper then struck the freight truck and a car smashed into the camper, police said.

Four Nabbed In Southern Heights Raid

Narcotics agents and police yesterday found about $2,000 worth of "high quality" Mexican marijuana in a communal residence in the San Rafael hills which they raided after seeing a large pot plant outside.

Four young persons living at 82 Southern Heights Boulevard were arrested on various drug charges, and agents said they "seemed to be pretty big dealers."

Booked into Marin County jail on charges of possessing marijuana for sale were Lawrence David Johnson and Patricia Maryann O'Neill, both 22. They were held for a court appearance today in lieu of $1,875 bail.

Charged with cultivation of marijuana were Catherine Ann Beard, 19, and John Thomas Dervin, 22. They were released on their own recognizance to appear in Marin Municipal Court today. All except Dervin, who told jailers he lived at Gate 5, near Sausalito, gave the Southern Heights Boulevard address.

Agents said that after noticing a "very large marijuana plant" growing near the house, they obtained a search warrant. "We found more than we expected," they added.

Seized in the search were two kilos of the weed in large bags, 19 lids apparently packaged for sale and a number of plants being grown in buckets.

Agents said the young people each had separate bedrooms and the various charges were made because of where the marijuana was found.

Forgetful Bandit

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. (UPI)—A bandit held up a dairy store for about $75, then leaped into a car with three other men. Police later found the getaway car abandoned. They also found a brown paper bag with the stolen money still inside.

10-Year High School Hopes Ride On Ballot

Voters in the 286-square-mile area that encompasses the Petaluma High School District will be asked on Tuesday to approve a $12.7 million bond and loan election to finance a 10-year building program.

Polls in Petaluma, Rohnert Park, Cotati and rural areas will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the voting. Two propositions will appear on the ballot to seek approval of sale of $3.6 million in bonds and $9.1 million in state loans.

A portion of the funds would be used immediately to build additions to Petaluma Senior High School which already has 400 students over its rated capacity, and for other crowded schools.

A portion of the funds would also be used in the near future to buy sites for future schools before it is too late to reserve land in areas of rapid growth.

On a long range basis, a major portion of the funds would be used to build a junior high school in the Rohnert Park-Cotati area, and a junior high and senior high school on the east side of Petaluma as well as to buy furnishing and equipment.

Supervisor George T. de Long of Petaluma, chairman of the citizen's advisory committee on the bond election, has been speaking to large organizations and small coffee gatherings organized by parent-teacher associations.

"I try to impress the fact on them that approval of this bond issue will not increase taxes," De Long said. "The last bonds were approved in 1959 and passage of this issue would merely extend the payments."

"Whether this bond election passes or fails, the taxes we contribute to the state building fund will be the same, but we wouldn't be getting benefits from it if the issue fails," De Long said. Taxes for the state building fund are at a maximum rate of 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

De Long has also been reminding voters that both propositions on the ballot must be approved.

"It wouldn't do any good to approve just the bonds and not the state loans because bonds would not be a large enough amount to do the task," he said. "Conversely, the state would not approve the loans if the district were not bonded to its capacity"

De Long said that the high school district is proportionately the fastest growing district in the state. "We have to start right this second and plan for numbers of people that no one has ever dreamed of," he said.

No arguments against the bond election were submitted for inclusion on the sample ballot.

Most Will Bypass Extra Holiday For Columbus Day

Columbus Day, long a well-established holiday, this year will receive only scattered observance Monday in Marin and Southern Sonoma, partly because the day actually falls on Sunday and partly because of a growing tendency to give off the day after Thanksgiving.

Stores will be open, as will banks and post offices in both counties. Parking meters will have to be fed.

Marin and Sonoma courts will be closed. Sonoma County offices will be closed, but Marin County offices will be open.

City offices of Belvedere, Corte Madera, Mill Valley, Rohnert Park, San Anselmo and Tiburon will be closed.

City offices of Cotati, Fairfax, Larkspur, Novato, Petaluma, Ross, San Rafael and Sausalito will be open.

College of Marin will be open but Sonoma State College will be closed.

High shools and elementary schools in Marin and Sonoma will be open.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

Edward Vaughn Again Sent To Death Row

Edward Vaugh, sentenced to death for assaulting a correctional officer at Folsom Prison in 1967, has been returned to Death Row at San Quentin after receiving another death penalty at a new trial, prison officials today announced.

Vaughn, who was serving a life sentence for homicide when he attacked the officer, was again given the death penalty by State Superior Court Judge William M. Gallagher. Vaughn will appeal the decision.

An Eskimo igloo hut has a small opening at the top for ventilation.

THE RUSSIANS ARE COMING— WITH WATER

Novato residents who have thought that their water had a bad taste lately, were right.

Eugene Churchill, manager of the North Marin County Water District today reported that the bad taste was traced to Stafford Lake. The district switched entirely over to Russian River water, he said.

The water should steadily improve as Russian River water gets through all of the mains, he said.

The district will continue to use the Russian River water until it finds the cause of the bad taste in Stafford Lake water.

Terra Linda Pool Closing Is Due Soon

The Terra Linda Recreation Center pool may close this weekend if the weather is bad, and will close definitely next Wednesday, the recreation and park district directors announced last night.

Gen. Mgr. Zonwice Mulhaupt announced that the Halloween parade and program for children will be held at the center on the afternoon of Oct. 31.

Free bowling lessons for women will start Oct. 24, at 10 a.m. at Nave Lanes, Ignacio. Nursery care will be provided for children during the lessons, said Mrs. Mulhaupt.

The directors, headed by John A. Colistra, received reports of other activities, and a listing of vandalism during the month of September. Mrs. Mulhaupt said three fires were set in garbage cans during September.

Water Safety Booklet Backed

Bel Marin Keys Community Services District Board last night voted to donate $25 toward the printing and distribution of a water safety booklet to all residents of the area, if it is matched by the Bel Marin Keys Yacht Club and homeowners association.

The booklet was written by Anthony Sarganis and Werner Eisen of Bel Marin Keys. It takes in all aspects of water safety from fishing through swimming and boating.

The board also asked the Marin County Board of supervisors to appoint Benjamin F. Kump and Carl W. Wandt to the board. They are running unopposed for two positions on the board and their appointment would avoid the expense of an election.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

No Definite Proof Uncovered On Resistance To Cold Catching

VAN DELLEN

The average person gets two to three colds a year. We do not know why some have more, others fewer.

There is no definite proof that resistance is influenced by chilling, wet feet, loss of sleep, overwork, improper diet, or vitamin deficiencies. Yet these factors cannot be totally disclaimed.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that some individuals develop respiratory infections when fatigued or chilled. But have they kept a record of how often they did not catch cold in the same circumstances?

Most physicians do not believe that these factors play a role unless the infective agent is present. When colds are rife wear your rubbers, get plenty of sleep, and eat sensibly. These measures should deter the culprits responsible for the common cold.

WOMEN ACQUIRE colds more frequently than men; children are bothered most. Mother may brag about the health of her firstborn until he enters kindergarten, where he is exposed for the first time. The baby of the family is always sniffling because his older sister or brother brings the germs home.

Studies show that susceptibility to colds varied in women with the time of the menstrual cycle. These bouts were more prevalent during the few days before and after the onset of the period. Chilling was a prerequisite and congestion of the nose and other tissues during the height of the cycle may play a role.

WHY DO SO MANY children get fewer colds after the tonsils and adenoids are removed? The improvement may be due to timing.

These youngsters are passing from a period of life in which colds are frequent to one in which the incidence decreases. This is the same age when tonsils and adenoids usually are taken out and the good results may be coincidental.

The exception occurs when tissues harboring the causative agents are eliminated. Allergy also encourages colds.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

HIATUS HERNIA

A. B. R. writes: My doctor tells me that I have a hernia. X-rays show that the upper part of the stomach has pushed its way through the diaphragm and is in the chest. He says surgery is not necessary. Are there any additional recommendations?

REPLY

Eat bland foods, sleep in a semi-recumbent position, and use belladonna after meals. Violent coughing, straining, and tight garments around the abdomen should be avoided because they aggravate hiatus hernia.

INFLAMMATION AFTER SURGERY

M. B. writes: What causes peritonitis after an abdominal operation?

REPLY

The most common cause is the disease for which the operation was performed. If the person had an appendectomy, for example, there is a good possibility that the surgeon found that the appendix had ruptured prior to surgery and pus had escaped into the abdominal cavity.

'CRACKING' DAMAGED KNUCKLES

D. H. writes: If the knuckles are swollen because the person "cracks" them, will they go back to normal if the habit is stopped?

REPLY

Yes, provided the damage is not permanent.

FLOOR PACERS

R. R. F. writes: Does pacing the floor have any exercise value?

REPLY

Yes — same as walking.

Today's Health Hint — Workers should wear protective goggles and safety shoes when needed.

Little Green Book Is Hot Malaysian Seller

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's little green book, which blames Chinese Communists and opposition parties for Malaysia's woes, has kicked up a flurry of controversy and is fast becoming a best-seller.

Critics say the book, titled "May 13—Before and After," is false, tedious and unnecessary. But its publishers say 10,000 copies have been sold since it went on sale last week and that 50,000 have been ordered in English alone. It is to be printed also in Malay, Chinese and Tamil, and Indian dialect.

The book says processions by opposition parties celebrating gains in the May 10 elections sparked the May 13 race riots that lasted a week and caused the deaths of an estimated 1,200 persons. It also says all opposition parties have been influenced by the Communists.

TARGET HITS BACK

The president of the Malaysian People's party, which was singled out by the Rahman for heavy attack, charged the 66-year-old prime minister with "political immaturity or political senility." Prof. Syed Hussein Alatas challenged the Rahman now en route to the United Nations in New York, to ban the party and to arrest its leaders if he believes his own charges.

Dr. Chen Man-hin, president of the left-wing Democratic Action party, also denied that his party's demonstrations helped touch off the Malay-Chinese rioting and challenged Rahman to prove otherwise.

PRO-PEKING PLOT

Rahman levels most of the blame for the riots and the political problems that followed them on an alleged conspiracy of young Communists who owe their allegiance to Peking.

He said these youths, "fanatically Chinese in outlook," can be found in all opposition parties. He said they and the "ambitious and articulate" Chinese in the nation's universities do not accept the doctrine of Malay political dominance and have no faith in the faltering Malaysian Chinese Association, the Chinese branch of the ruling tripartite alliance.

Criticism of the 207-page book has swept Kuala Lumpur since large excerpts began appearing in local newspapers last Wednesday, but not even the most severe critics have implied that Rohman knowingly lied.

OUT OF TOUCH?

"He blames everything on the Communists because he believes they are responsible," said a member of the younger element within the ruling United Malay National Organization, which seeks an end to Rahman's leadership. The spokesman said his sector of the party does not doubt Rahman's sincerity but ascribes his behavior to naivite and to being out of touch with current Malay, as well as Chinese, thinking.

Kaiser Aluminum Profits Rocket

OAKLAND (UPI) Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp., which raised aluminum prices Monday, has announced today third-quarter earnings were up 21 per cent this year.

The earnings amounted to $12,507,000, or 67 cents a common share, on sales of $222,392,000, Kaiser said.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30 Kaiser reported earnings of $42,548,000 or $2.31 a share and sales of $702,883,000.

President T.J. Ready Jr. said the third quarter results were "largely attributable to a high level of aluminum shipments combined with improving prices for aluminum products."

Kaiser raised the price of primary aluminum ingot $20 a ton Monday, citing "an aluminum price level that has consistently failed to keep pace with rising costs. . ."

No Authorization

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Wednesday that the Marin County Board of Supervisors had authorized hiring a consultant on alternate plans for the Corte Madera Creek flood control project through the entire Town of Ross. The study applies only to the portion of the creek from a point just below the Lagunitas Road bridge northward.

Teen Club Alters Rules, Votes Slate

Teen-agers participating in the Petaluma Recreation Department's Roost Club have elected new officers and directors and voted to allow girls to wear slacks to its weekly dances.

New officers chosen were Steve Hing, president; Charmaine Pao vice president; Mary Twieg, secretary and Mary Ann Corda, treasurer.

Named directors were Paul Peterson, Kim Johnson, Bill Barboni, Terra McKenna and Chuck Barbera.

In reviewing rules for the weekly Roost Club dances at the Kenilworth recreation center, the teen-agers voted that girls may wear presentable slacks or capris, but decided that a sign should be posted warning that the group reserves the right to refuse admittance to anyone who is not properly dressed.

Entertaining at the dance at 8 p.m. today will be Tom Altenreuther and the Cultural Complex.

Accused Soldier Denies Charge

Robert Harvey Grimmer, 21, an AWOL soldier from the Presidio of San rancisco pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of marijuana possession, having an open container of liquor in his car and resisting arrest.

A preliminary hearing was set for next Thursday.

Grimmer was arrested Wednesday after his car was observed speeding on Highway 101.

Cross Now

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A local newspaper commentator says "the prophets of gloom forecast that by 1973 there will be so many cars on Johannesburg's streets that pedestrians who want to cross over are advised to do so now."

SUMMONS ON CROSS COMPLAINT TO QUIET TITLE TO REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY
(C.C.P. 738)
No. 53391

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin.

vs.
MERLE D. ECKHARD, as Executrix of the Will and Estate of Ora Davis, also known as Oro P. Davis; MERLE D. ECKHARD, individually, DOE I, DOE II, DOE III, Defendants
MERLE D. ECKHARD, Cross-complainant.
vs.
EDWARD WINSMERE JONES, SR. and all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real and personal property described in the cross-complaint adverse to cross-complainant's ownership, or any cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto, Cross-defendants.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA:

To EDWARD WINSMERE JONES, SR. and to all persons claiming any right, title, estate or interest in or lien upon the real or personal property, or any part or portion thereof herein described, defendants, greeting:

You are hereby notified to appear and answer the cross-complaint of MERLE D. ECKHARD, cross-complainant, filed with the Clerk of the above entitled Court, within three months after the first publication of this Summons, and to set forth what interest, right, title, estate or lien, if any, you have in or upon the following described real and personal property, or any part thereof, particularly described as follows:

(a) 100 shares of Hollywood Turf Club;

(b) Commercial buildings located at 16912-16920 Ventura Boulevard, and 4840 Paso Robles, Encino, California, described as:
That portion of Lot A, Block A of Encino Tract, City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in Book 61, Pages 82 and 83 of Maps in the office of the County Recorder of said County, bounded Easterly by a line that is parallel with the Westerly line of the land described in the deed to K. V. Clifford and wife, recorded as Instrument No. 1 on June 18, 1940 in Book 17637, Page 37, of Official Records of said County, and that passes through a point in the northeasterly line of said Lot "A", 74° 16' 30" West 111.38 feet from the most easterly corner of said Lot "A".

(c) Cash in the sum of $20,000.00.

which said real and personal property constitutes the real and personal property distributed to cross-complainant, MERLE D. DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS
CALIFORNIA STATE PRISON
SAN QUENTIN, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA (W.O. AB06 028 C)

in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor, and such addenda thereto as may be issued prior to bid opening date.

The bidder's attention is directed to a provision in the Proposal by which the bidder certifies relative to obtaining sub-bidder quotations through bid depositories.

In general, this project comprises the construction of a submerged outfall effluent line for an existing sewage treatment plant.

Construction includes furnishing and installing concrete pipe and manholes, excavation and dredging, and other work as indicated.

Bidders may see the plans and specifications at the area Builders' Exchange Offices, and Contracts Service, Room 116, 915 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, and the Office of Architecture and Construction, 1111 Jackson Street, Oakland. Bidders can obtain plans and specifications, Proposal forms, and Bidder's Bond form by requesting them in writing (P.O. Box 1441, Sacramento, Calif. 95807), or in person from Contracts Service in Sacramento.

Plans and specifications may be obtained without charge and are not to be returned.

No bid will be considered unless it is made on a Proposal form furnished by Contracts Service, and is made in accordance with the "Instructions to Bidder". Each bidder must be licensed and also prequalified when required. The Department of General Services reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularity in any bid received.

Bids will be entertained only on a lump sum basis.

..rain Collision Kills 2 Belgians

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—A passenger express from Paris rammed the rear of a freight train in a fog 40 miles southeast of Brussels today and the engine plunged down an embankment into several trackside houses.

The Belgian Railroad said two men were killed and five persons were injured.

The train was bound for Hannover in West Germany, with intervening stops.

The accident occurred near the hamlet of Sclaigneaux between Namur and Huy in the Meuse Valley.

English Dictionary Now Includes Fuzz

LONDON (AP) — You can now find fuzz, meaning police, in an English dictionary.

It's there, along with dropout and hippie, in the edition of the Little Oxford Dictionary published today.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "Ten Blocks on the Camino Real," Tennessee Williams' one-act allegory on which he based his full-length play "Camino Real." Albert Dekker, Lotte Lenya, Janet Margolin, Patricia Neway and Martin Sheen star.

KGO (7), 10 p.m. — Joey Bishop, Roy Rogers, Dale Evans and O. C. Smith are the guests on "Jimmy Durante Presents the Lennon Sisters Hour."

KQED (9), 10 p.m. — "San Francisco International Film Festival" is a one-hour special offering some of the best of the close to 200 entries in the Short Films Division of the 13th Annual San Francisco International Film Festival. These films will not be shown during the festival.

KPIX (5), 11:30 p.m. — Gregory Peck, Richard Basehart and Leo Genn star in the movie drama, "Moby Dick," based on Herman Melville's novel.

International Protest Threat

DETROIT (AP) — Black militant Robert Williams says he will call for an international protest if he is extradited to North Carolina to face an 8-year-old kidnap charge.

Williams, who returned to the United States last month after a self-imposed exile in Cuba, Red China and Tanzania, said he would appeal for demonstrations "at American embassies abroad by people who believe in justice all over the world."

Williams, 44, is free on $11,000 bail after coming to Detroit aboard a Trans World Airlines flight from London on which he and his lawyers were the only passengers. The special flight was arranged when no airline would agree to carry him on a scheduled trip.

Pier Builders Ask Extensions

The Greenbrae Marina Co. and the Laguna Improvement Co. have applied for a time extension of their permit to build piers and floats in Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur, the Army Corps of Engineers has announced.

The piers and floats all serve lots along Riviera Circle. Fourteen structures have already been built, the Army reported.

Objections to the proposed extension should be written in triplicate and should reach the District Office of the Army Corps of Engineers, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco, not later than Nov. 7, the Army said.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

'Myra' Scores Coup By Signing Up Mae

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—As you may have heard, Mae West is going to appear in the movie version of "Myra Breckenridge." She'll play an agent and get star billing.

It is, of course, a stroke of genius to get Miss West for a movie at this time. Long a favorite of the older generation, she has endeared herself to youngsters and young adults as well through the reruns of her incomparable films on television.

Curiously, and apparently because of video, many young persons somehow think of Miss West and W. C. Fields as a team, which of course wasn't the case at all, and was hardly likely. In his biography of Fields, Robert Lewis Taylor wrote:

SIMPLE DUEL

"'My Little Chickadee,' with Mae West, finally resolved itself into a simple duel of ad libbers. The screen play was credited to 'Mae West and W. C. Fields,' but they mostly made it up as they went along. There was a good deal of professional antagonism between the two authors."

Smart people know Miss West's worth. Jim Aubrey, the ddeposed president of CBS-TV, now working on production deals here, apparently hoped to star her in a movie based on her play "Sextet," but nothing has been heard of that plan recently.

TALK OF FEATURE

There also was talk of a television special featuring her. It seems there is always a plan or so along these lines. Some years ago when I interviewed her, there was an idea of having her do a sort of advice-to-the-lovelorn series on video. I still think it's a smashing idea that was ahead of its time.

At that interview, by the way, I inquired if she could cook, and she replied, "Honey, nobody ever asked me."

The lady is news, plain and simple, whatever she does. Some seasons ago, for instance CBS-TV canceled the videotaped "Person to Person" show when she gave a choice reply to a reporter's questions about all the mirrors in her bedroom.

A WEAKNESS

Also in that interview, the reporter changed the subject to foreign affairs, whereupon she observed: "I always had a weakness for foreign affairs."

It is amazing how much Miss West remains a part of this time and place because of television and her rather universal observations. For example: "Virtue has its own reward but has no sale at the boxoffice."

Court To Study Groppi's Jailing

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court has agreed to hear Rev. James E. Groppi's plea to be freed from imprisonment on a charge of contempt of the state legislature.

The 38-year-old Roman Catholic priest has been in jail since Oct. 2 under a legislative contempt citation stemming from his role in welfare demonstrations that have kept the state Capitol in turmoil for the past two weeks.

Father Groppi's request to the state Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus was turned down Wednesday. The Supreme Court agreed yesterday to assume jurisdiction.

The state Assembly voted the contempt citation after Father Groppi led about 2,000 students and welfare demonstrators into its chambers.

Laird Favors Open Reporting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is on the record favoring talking on the record to reporters and being their "reliable source" at the Pentagon.

The defense chief gave no indication on what prompted his remarks yesterday, at his news conference, concerning being quoted, but some reporters got the impression he may have been irritated by some story quoting unnamed "sources" which did not agree with his thinking.

Laird said he does not like the sometimes-used "background-er"—a news meeting in which reporters are free to quote what a man says but not to identify him.

Krips, Baroness Wed In Vienna

VIENNA (UPI) — Austrian conductor Joseph Krips, who heads the San Francisco Symphony, married 29-year-old Baroness Marietta Von Prohaska in Vienna's 15th Century St. Stephens Cathedral yesterday.

Kripps, 68, will spend his honeymoon in Viennna, where he will conduct several times at the state opera.

Krips' wife of 24 years died six months ago.

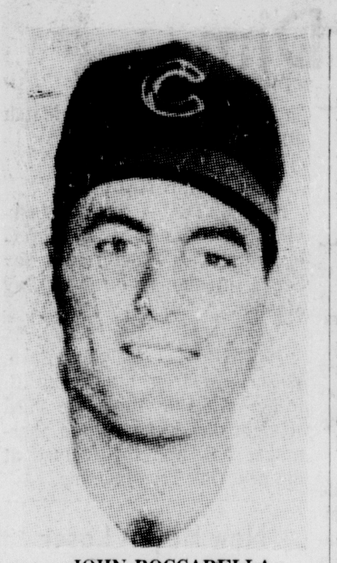
Boccabella, Lee Both Rooting For Mets In 'Series'



JOHN BOCCABELLA

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Two Marin County young men who are playing professional ball in the major leagues — John Boccabella with Montreal and Bill Lee with Boston — have something else in common.

They're both rooting for the Mets in the World Series starting tomorrow.

Boccabella, who has been in professional ball since 1963, played his high school baseball at Marin Catholic, while Lee, signed in 1968 by the Red Sox, did his prep pitching at Terra Linda High.

Boccabella, a graduate of University of Santa Clara, had a bad year this past season, and was No. 3 catcher for the Expos behind John Bateman and Ron Brand. He only had 85 at bats, hit .105 with one homer and six runs batted in, far off his normal long ball batting pace.

The 28-year-old Boccabella didn't play in any of the games against the New York Mets this past season, but did play against the "old" Mets of two years ago when he was with the Chicago Cubs.

"It was a different team then," laughed Johnny, who is staying temporarily at the home of his mother-in-law in San Rafael. "We didn't do too well against the Mets this year. They swept us the last two series, in Montreal and then in New York.

"I didn't think they had a chance earlier this year," Johnny Bocc said about the Mets. "On paper they just don't compare with three or four other teams that are lower than them in the standings. But it's just the year of the Mets."

Continued Boccabella: "Baltimore is really a great club, but I would have to pick the Mets. I don't see how anything can go wrong for them this year. It's just that kind of year for them."

Boccabella is in the process of house hunting for a Marin County home for his wife, Joyce, and one-year-old daughter, Anne. They are temporarily staying at the home of Joyce's parents Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leonardi.

"I had a chance to play early in the season," Boccabella said, "but I wasn't hitting. And then I started pressing. My confidence wasn't there." Because of that bad year, John is leaving Sunday for St. Petersburg, Fla., and two or three weeks play in the Florida Instructional League.

Lee, who make it up to the "bigs" in only a year, was pulled off the Pittsfield, Pa. (Eastern League) roster by the parent Red Sox mid season, last June 24.

"Baltimore was one of the few teams I didn't get to pitch against," Lee said over long distance telephone from Jackson, Miss. He and his wife, Maria, are staying at the home of her mother. They plan to visit his parents in Terra Linda around Oct. 20, for three or four weeks. He then is planning to pick up a needed four units toward his B.A. degree at University of Southern Mississippi. His degree will still be awarded from USC where he spent four years.

Lee said he has more feeling toward the Mets. "I played with (Tom) Seaver at USC and pitched against (Gary) Gentry when he was at University of Arizona, Lee said about two of the Met front line pitchers. "I can associate more with the Mets because it's a young team,

Mets' Pitching Payload Vs. O's Booming Bats

Seaver, Cuellar In Series Opener

BALTIMORE (AP)—The New York Mets have arrived in Baltimore, carrying with them the Tom Seaver-Jerry Koosman pitching payload that will have to stop the Orioles' booming bats when the World Series opens at Memorial Stadium tomorrow.

It'll be Seaver, the Mets' 25-game winner, against Mike Cuellar, the Orioles' 23-game winner, in the opener of the best-of-seven series which carries with it the biggest prize in World Series history—$15,000 to each member of the winning team.

53,000

The battle for that prize at the end of baseball's 100th anniversary season commences at 1 p.m. EDT, before an anticipated sellout crowd of 53,000 and a national television audience that will watch the proceedings via NBC.

The proceedings, in the eyes of Koosman, likely will be different than they were in the National League playoffs against Atlanta when neither of the two Met aces were able to finish what they started.

"I see no reason why we should have the same trouble," said Koosman. "We'll probably both go out and throw shutouts."

That, it would seem, would be a difficult task against a line-up that includes the Robinson boys —Frank and Brooks—and big Boog Powell, but the Mets may have a secret weapon in Manager Gil Hodges.

KNOWS TEAM

"Gil knows that team—he managed in that league," Seaver pointed out, noting Hodges' years at Washington. "He knows the hitters and their strengths and we'll rely on his judgement at least until we feel we have enough knowledge to do anything different."

Some of his knowledge was imparted by Hodges today after the Mets' first workout at Memorial Stadium. The Mets flew in last night, then got their first look at the field after the Orioles had concluded their morning workout.

The Orioles, who whipped Minnesota in three straight to move through the American League playoffs and into the Series, will go with the same line-up they used against the Twins. But the Mets are changing to their right-handed hitting line-up with Cuellar pitching.

That batting order puts Ron

TELEVISION TIME: 9:30

Tomorrow's opening World Series game will be televised in color by NBC, Channels 3 and 4, starting at 9:30 a.m., and broadcast over radio station KNBR, beginning at 9:35. Sunday's TV and radio schedules will be one hour later.

Littler, Charles In Lead

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Gene Littler and Bob Charles captured the lead at the 18-hole mark today as all four semifinalists played brilliantly in the fog-delayed Picadilly world match-play golf tournament.

Littler, of La Jolla, fired a sensational 9-under-par 33-32—65 for a two-hole advantage over defending champion Gary Player of South Africa. Player had a 35-33—68.

Charles, of New Zeland, shot an 8-under-par 31-35—66 but only led Tommy Aaron of Callo

Charles, of New Zeland, shot an 8-under-par 31-35—66 but only led Tommy Aaron of Calloway Gardens, Ga., by one hole.

Fog held up play for three hours over Wentworth's par 36-38—74, 6,997-yard layout. Because of the delayed start there was a strong possibility that the 36-hole semifinals would not be completed today.

If that should happen, players will finish the semi tomorrow and immediately go into the 36-hole final.

Littler piled up his margin on the first nine with five straight threes, including four birdies. Then he bagged two more threes on the 10th and 11th holes. Player, despite his fine performance, could only shake his head over the American's fine shots, including a series of long putts.

JIM GILMARTIN

Hard Working Man, That Number 66

When I tell you today's subject is a man who plays the bassoon, dabbles spiritedly in volleyball and rides a bicycle you'll say, "Oh, oh, Shamus is off on another non-sporty sports column."

But, hold on, This same man also at times acts as if he eats hot rivets for breakfast, can probably tear a metropolitan phone book in two or chop down a karate expert with his little pinky, has a 48-inch chest without silicone and yes, he does ride a two-wheeler, more than halfway up Mount Tamalpais NON-STOP just to keep his legs in shape!

And on Sundays at this time of year our guest for today can be seen cavorting in the violent and quite physical world of professional football. His name is Charles Elmer Collett. He wears No. 66 and plays offensive left guard for the San Francisco 49ers.

He's Hustling All The Time

In 24 years of following pro football I can't ever remember seeing any player who gives more of himself at all times than Collett (pronounced CAWL-et). At 24 (he'll be 25 Nov. 7) and in this third year of pros, the Mill Valley resident is regarded as one of the most promising young guards in the National Football League. He's been a regular since replacing the injured all-pro John Thomas in mid-1967 and the only way to get him out of there is with a bomb.

Elmer combines the rah-rah enthusiasm he acquired while starring at Tam High and San Francisco State with the hard knocks of a veteran. His speed is amazing for a 6-4, 240-pounder. In training camp he ran the mile faster than any of his teammates and on punt coverage he invariably is the first man downfield. At 40 yards he's a sprinter.

A Big Man On Kicking Unit

"One of the main reasons the stop phase of our kicking game has imporved is Collett," said retired 49er linebacker Matt Hazeltine, another Tam alumnus, the other day. "Did you see him cream that Redskin on that punt Sunday"

Elmer is the shy type in public but his reticence belies his visciousness afield; just watch him pull out on sweeps.

The other day Big Elmer, whose hobbies range from the bassoon (Elmer's Tune) to surfing to fishing, volleyball and weightlifting, told the Marin 49er Boosters Club luncheon that he's looking forward to Sunday's game against the L.A. Rams in Kezar. Odd for a youngster who will play opposite a 280-pound gorilla named Roger Brown, of L.A.'s vaunted Fearsome Foursome, but Elmer explained a pro gridder's approach to such a hazardous challenge:

"It's just like Jerry Kramer (Green Bay) said in his book, (Instant Replay), you 'live' with your opponent all week. This week I'm thinking of nothing but Roger Brown. I eat with him, sleep with him; he is constantly on my mind. I think I got the better of him the last two times we met and I think I'll get the best of him agains Sunday."

Bike Rides Up Mount Tam

Collett, a bachelor who spends much of his time at Stinson Beach where he starts his gosh-awful, leg-building bike rides up the side of Mt. Tam, also explained to the Boosters some of the early season calls in which he was guilty of costly holding penalties. He said he was holding his hands on blocking assignments exactly like he was coached to do, but officials kept flagging him down. "We couldn't see anything illegal about it in the films," said the Big E, "so Coach Nolan phoned the head of the officials to protest. I haven't been called (for holding) the last two games and I've been doing the same thing as I was earlier, so I guess we were right and they were wrong."

The appearance of Collett, Hazeltine and special guest Cliff Hall, sophomore halfback of Tam, at Monday's Boosters luncheon offered quite a past, present and possible future picture of pro sports products of the Mill Valley high school that has produced so many stars.

Another guest was quarterback Tom Jackson of Terra Linda High. The Boosters will host Marin prep stars each week in addition to two 49ers. Next Monday it will be Jimmy Johnson and Stan Hindman of the Niners and young Steve Lambert of San Marin High. The Boosters meet at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael at noon each Monday.

GO METS, GO — New York Mets star Cleon Jones will receive a giant good luck message on the eve of the World Series today from members of the Marin City Boys Club, whom he visited in June while the National League champions-to-be were in San Francisco. Here, club counsellor Paul Austin (left) and other members watch Lawrence Foster join the growing list of well-whishers.

Popular Don Hoak Is Dead

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Don Hoak, an immensely popular man in Pittsburgh, hoped to return here to manage the Pirates.

A star on Pittsburgh's last World Series winner in 1960, and later a broadcaster of Pirate games, Hoak was a frequent visitor to Forbes Field in the closing days of the baseball season last month.

Today, Hoak is dead, the victim of a heart attack at the age of 41 and, perhaps also a victim of the heartache that came when he didn't get the job he so coveted.

Danny Murtaugh, the manager of the 1960 championship team who ironically stepped down in 1964 for health reasons and later returned for a half-season in 1967, was named yesterday as the Pirates' manager for 1970.

About two hours later, Hoak's body was found slumped over the steering wheel of his auto in which he had been chasing his brother-in-law's stolen car.

Dr. Ralph J. Stalter, the Allegheny County coroner, said Hoak died of an "acute coronary occlusion." He said there was "strong clinical evidence" of prior heart trouble, although Pirate General Manager Joe Brown said he did not know Hoak was ill.

Hoak is survived by his widow, Jill Corey, a well-known singer, and their 5-year-old daughter.

Tar Harriers Win

College of Marin won its Camino Norte Conference cross-country opener, downing West Valley, 21-34 at College of Marin, behind Don Makela's winning 23:22 effort over a hilly 3.8-mile course.

KEY GRID CLASH

Terra Linda Vs. Drake

Terra Linda High School puts its Marin County Athletic League title ambitions squarely on the line tonight when it hosts Drake High at San Rafael High School's field at 8 p.m. (Stories of other Marin County games on page 41.)

The Pirates don't appear to be as tough as in the past three seasons, and they are hurting, but the game nevertheless could be a title-decider. Drake coach Bob Franceschini certainly thinks so.

"The team that wins this one," he said, "is going to go on to the title."

Franceschini naturally is hoping it will be the Pirates and a win would certainly be a booster. But injuries have left them a little bare, but still potent.

Bob Sutherland, last year's leading league rusher, is out for the year, and kicker-fullback John Loane is nursing a bruise, but will probably be ready. Mark Silverman, a veteran halfback, quarterback Kevin Peak, and ends Jim Forni and Jim Dominguez give the Pirates plenty of offensive weapons. But the defense, despite a fine showing against San Rafael, is still a questionmark.

Trojan coach Don Lucas has plenty of respect for the Pirates, in particular Silverman.

"No question about it," Lucas said. "I think he's the best running back in the league right now."

Terra Linda's big problem is finding a way to punch some versatility in its attack. Lucas doesn't particularly want to live and die by the pass, but the Trojans may have to. In that department, Tom Jackson is the best tosser in the league and he's proven it with five touchdown passes enroute to leading the Trojans to a 21-0 win over Castlemont and a 25-14 upset of Hogan of Vallejo.

The Trojan defense is traditionally strong, especially in the backfield and linebacking department. And Jackson is expected to unload against Drake, which was burned severely by Petaluma and Vallejo before bouncing back against San Rafael.

New Warrior Gambee To Sit This One Out

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Everyone except newcomer Dave Gambee and forward Clyde Lee will see action tonight for the San Francisco Warriors against the Los Angeles Lakers at the Cow Palace.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego and Connie Hawkins of Phoenix will match baskets for their teams in the 7 o'clock opener of the Golden Gate Classic exhibition tournament. The winners and losers will play each other tomorrow night at the Oakland Coliseum Arena to wind up the event.

SIX CLUBS

Gambee, who has played with six clubs during his 11 years in the National Basketball Association, ended a brief retirement yesterday to sign with the Warriors. He had decided to run a lumber business in Portland, Ore., rather than report to the Detroit Pistons.

In return, the Pistons will receive a draft choice of the Warriors.

An Oregon State graduate, Gambee, 32, topped the 1,000 point mark four times in his career while playing with the Pistons, St. Louis Hawks, Cincinnati, the 76ers in Syracuse and Philadelphia, San Diego and Milwaukee. Gambee stands 6-6 and weighs 215.

Lee is nursing an injured ankle but is expected to be ready for the Warriors NBA opener Oct. 18 with San Diego.

JIM MURRAY

The Mystical Mets: Are They Human?

If I were the Baltimore Orioles today, I would not go on and play the World Series against the New York Mets until and unless certain investigations were made and certain specifications met.

I think we're on the trail of the biggest story since Faust.

The first thing I would do, if I were the Orioles, is refuse to play the Mets until everyone of them had been stood in front of a mirror and proved to have a reflection in it.

NEXT, I would make the whole team remove its shoes and stockings. Anyone with a cloven hoof would immediately be barred from the Series.

If even one the the Mets was seen flying over the Empire State Building on a broom, I would disqualify the whole team at once and substitute Atlanta.

I WOULD have a team of doctors taking skin and blood samples. Any one of the Mets not having a pulse would have to turn in his suit and go back to haunting houses or trading in souls. I would check their foreheads for horns. I would shadow the whole infield. If any one of them turned into a bat the minute the sun went down — the kind that flies in your hair, not hits a ball — I would get a net over it and put it in a bottle.

If the Mets won the first three games of the World Series, I would refuse to field a team against them unless they transferred the games to Lourdes.

THE LAST time a championship team had the terrible thing happen to it that happened to Atlanta this past weekend, Arnold Rothstein was still alive.

You all saw waht happened to Atlanta. Guys hit line shots down the third-base line — then fell face down in the batter's box and got thrown out at first from short left field. Pitchers one-handed into the centerfield seats by fooled batters. Even Henry Aaron, who makes one every eclipse of the sun, made a throwing error when he found the cutoff man mysteriously missing from the relay pattern. Even then, I could swear something reached down and throughtfully picked his arm just as he let go of the ball.

ON THE Mets, .218 hitters who were drafted off the Atlanta roster hit game-winning home runs. Exactly doubling their season total in the process. One banjo hitter who had hit two homers all year and had hit only seven in his three years in the big leagues hit two home runs in two days!

IT WAS not only the playoff. The Mets won a game this year in which 19 of their 27 outs were strikeouts, an all-time record for one pitcher. Usually, when only eight batters get a piece of the ball, you expect at least a shutout. Steve Carlton didn't even get a win. Tell HIM the Mets were human!

The Cubs thought they had the Mets safely locked in a closet, 9½ games in front with only a little more than a month to go. But the Mets walked through doors.

METS — or Mephistopheles? I would put a tail on Gil Hodges and make sure he still goes to mass every morning. I would watch those Mets on and off the field, and the first one who lit a cigarette by snapping his fingers would get reported. I would scan the stands with binoculars for a girl named Lola. And if we can just find one who gave a cemetery as his home address!

YOU SEE, all those years, we thought the Devil was a Yankee fan . . .

Anderson New Reds' Manager

CINCINNATI (UPI)—George "Sparky" Anderson is a young man on the move. In a 26-hour period this week he held three different jobs.

The job that mattered, managing the Cincinnati Reds, came as a surprise and he snapped it up.

"I was contacted by the Reds last night (Wednesday)," he said. "And naturally I accepted. But I never even thought about getting the job."

Anderson, who at 35 will be the youngest manager in the majors, replaces Dave Bristol, fired by the Reds front office the day before after two and a half years of guiding the National League team.

Anderson, who lives in Thousand Oaks in Southern California, coached the San Diego Padres the past season and was named just Wednesday as a coach for the California Angels.

Bristol ,who took his firing as no surprise, has been offered a job in the Reds' front office as a special assistant to General Manager Bob Howsam. He has not yet announced his plans. Bristol came to the Reds in the middle of the 1966 season after manging the team's Macon, Ga., farm club.

Smith Stuns Rod Laver; Pancho Wins

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Stan Smith, the steady, hard-serving Davis Cup star, faced aging but still tough Pancho Gonzales today after both scored upsets in the $50,000 Howard Hughes Open Tennis Tournament.

Smith, of Pasadena, played brilliantly in beating the world's No. 1 player, Rod Laver of Australia, 6-2, 6-4, in yesterday's quarterfinals. Gonzales, 41, dropped Ken Rosewall 6-4, 1-6, 6-3 to earn a semifinal berth.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va. beat Cliff Richey, San Angelo, Tex., 6-2, 6-3 without losing his serve and Roy Emerson, Australia, beat Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-3 in other men's singles play. Ahse was to play Emerson today.

Gonzales, at 6-foot-3, used a bouncing service and the 5-7 Rosewall was hitting his return shots from head height.

Smith lost the first two games of the first set against his formidable foe, then won six straight games and roared on the back of a powerful serve to the straight-set victory.

In ladies' play, top-seeded Billie Jean King, Long Beach, Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex., Ann Haydon Jones, England, and Margaret Smith Court, England, all moved into the semifinals.

Mrs. Bailey In Lead At Sonoma

Mrs. Tony Bailey of Boyes Hot Springs, wife of the College of Marin track coach, opened defense of her Sonoma National Golf Club women's championship yesterday with a first roud of 80.

In winning medalist honors, Mrs. Bailey took a one-stroke lead in the 54-hole medal competition over Mrs. Milton Stone of San Francisco while Mrs. Roy Sayles is third with a 90. The tournament continues the next two Thursdays.

Yesterday's madel handicap results (championships determined by gross scores):

Championship Flight — Mesdames Bailey, 80-5 — 75; Stone, 81-8 — 73; Sayles, 90-15 — 75.

First Flight — Mmes. Harry Thomey, 92-90 — 72; Dario Marioni, 93-21 — 72; Charles Vincent, 93-20 — 73.

Second Flight — Mmes. Roland Kruger, 100-25 — 75; B. L. Marsh, 106-27 — 79; Mike Gitti, 105-25—80.

Class C — Mmes. Edgar Stewart, 94-20-74; Robert Sims, 99-24-75; R. E. Bond, 95-20-75.

Drake Cagers In First Loss

And then there were none.

The last of the Marin County Athletic League Class C basketball unbeatens fell yesterday when Redwood High knocked off Drake, 35-32, at Redwood High in Larkspur.

Drake's loss, after three straight wins, created a two-way tie for first in the loop race.

Marin Catholic, which had lost to Drake a week ago, tied for first place by whipping San Rafael, 40-18, at Kentfield, with Tom Fredericks leading a balanced scoring attack with 11 points.

Cal Bears To Host Huskies

Jim Fraser and Jerome Champion have won starting berths on the California Bears football team for the first time this season.

Fraser will start ahead of Stan Murphy at wingback and Champion has nudged Dave Seppi at defensive tackle against the University of Washington tomorrow in their Pacific 8 Conference openers at Berkeley.

Coach Ray Willsey also said defensive guard John Medaris will miss the contest with a knee injured in last Saturday's win over Rice. Starting defensive tackle Steve Schulz will move inside to guard, if necessary, to bolster the interior line.

Biggest Pacific-8 battle of the weekend will be Stanford vs. USC at Los Angeles Coliseum, the winner getting the inside track to the championship. That game is tomorrow night.

In Another Pacific 8 battle, UCLA takes on Washington State at Spokane. Oregon hosts San Jose State, while Oregon State draws a bye.

Another Try For Danny; Cousy's Prospects Dim

COMBINED AP & UPI

PITTSBURGH — Danny Murtaugh, who could not resist the call to compete again, will do a replay as manager of the Pettsburgh Pirates in 1970.

The surprise announcement was made yesterday by General Manager Joe Brown at a news conference on the upper deck of a cruider liner on the Allegheny River.

Murtaugh who led the Pirates in 1960 to their first world championship in 33 years.

BASKETBALL

CINCINNATI — Coach Bob Cousy's prospects of playing for Cincinnati appear even dimmer now as the Royals and Boston Celtics have broken off negotiations concerning his rights.

General manager Joe Axelson traveled to Hartford, Conn., last night to meet with Boston general manager Red Auerbach about a possible deal for Cousy. The session lasted one minute.

GENERAL

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. — Some of the great nemes in professional golf were on hand yesterday as Walter Hagen, one of the pioneers of the sport, was laid to rest in a suburban Detroit cemetery.

"The Haig" died late Sunday at his retirement home in Traverse City, Mich. at the age of 76.

SPORTS SHORTS

AUTO RACING

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Cale Yarborough won the pole position for Sunday's $116,000 National 500 stock car race with a qualifying time of 162.162 miles per hour in a Mercury at the Charlotte Speedway.

GOLF

VIRGINIA WATER, England —Tommy Aaron of Calloway Garden, Ga., upset Tony Jacklin, the British Open champion, 6 and 4 to reach the semifinals in the Piccadilly World Match Play Championship.

HORSE RACING

SAN MATEO — Snappy Nashville, $6, scored by three-quarters of a length over Soy Sauce in the feature at Bay Meadows.

ARCADIA — Talking Barb, $2.60, scored in the Lucky B. Purse at Santa Anita, the third straight day jockey Willie Shoemaker has won the feature at the new Oak Tree meeting.

Now He's A Loser

DENVER (AP) — The basketball team at the University of Denver won only two games against 24 loses in the 1968-69 season. This gave the Pioneers' new coach, Stan Albeck, his first losing season in 13 years of college coaching. He had 11 winning seasons at Northern Michigan and one successful season at Adrian, Mich., College.

It's A Glittering Field For Monterey Races

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Three world driving champions and this year's Indianapolis 500 winner headline a glittering international field as the $80,000 Monterey Grand Prix got under way today at Laguna Seca Raceway.

Former world champions Denis Hulme of New Zealand and Jack Brabham of Australia are on the Bruce McLaren team that has dominated the Canadian-American Challenge Cup race series this year.

Brabham was a late addition to the team. Hulme and McLaren have scored one-two finishes in seven of the eight events on the Can-Am tour and the team shared first place in all eight contests.

England's John Surtees is the other former world titleholder in the event, driving Jim Hall's Chaparral Chevy in the 152-mile race Sunday.

Indy winner Mario Andretti will be in a McLaren Ford for the race. In the most recent Can-Am race, the Road American, Andretti was roaring along until he developed problems.

"We are worried about Mario," McLaren admits. "It was his car, not the engine, that broke down." In trials this week, Andretti was turning in times under McLaren's 112.2 mile an hour track record.

Drivers from Italy, Switzerland, Mexico, Canada and the United States will challenge for the title.

Major foreign competition is expected to come from England's Jack Oliver in a Titanium Special and New Zealand's Chris Amon in a Ferrari. Other top U.S. hopefuls are Chuck Parsons, Lothar Motschenbacher, Dan Gurney and Andretti.

About 35 cars are expected to vie for the prize money Sunday over the tricky 1.9-mile Laguna Seca course. Today and tomorrow are given over to practice and trials.

Sets ABA Record

DENVER (AP) — Larry Jones this season set a record in the American Basketball Association by scoring 30 points or more a game in 23 consecutive contests. The previous high was 16 straight games.

Redwood Meets Tamalpais; Novato Hosts San Rafael

Big And Brawny Giants Vs. Fast, Young Tamites

Big, brawny Redwood High School and young, fast Tamalpais collide in a Marin County Athletic League football battle at Tam's gridiron in Mill Valley tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

It should be a meeting of basically similar offenses — lots of running, weak passing.

Young, untried backs will carry the load for both sides. They're all talented, but making their first go this season.

Redwood's crunching ground game is led by the blocking of Phil Simon and big 245-pound tackle Tom Wickert and the running of Mike Farley, quarterback Pete Cooney, halfback Bob Piper and soph flash Jay Lehman, a big (190 pounds) hard-to-bring-down bruiser.

The Indians also have plenty of big guns in the running department, beginning with juniors Billy Washington and Mark Costello, and aided and abetted by sometimes sensational sophomore Clifford Hall.

BIG GUNS

The Tamalpais passing game is practically non-existent, while Cooney, a rollout specialist, is just a shade better.

"We've been working on our passing all week," Redwood coach Bob Troppmann said. "We'll try to do a little more there."

The Giants are pretty secure defensively, with the likes of Wickert, Simon, Ross Gondak and linebacker Rick Puccinelli going for them. Big defensive man for the Indians is linebacker Bill Rudolph.

REDWOOD (2-1)
Ends — Ross Gondak, Steve Fleishman
Tackles — Tom Wickert, Chris Chapman
Guards — Rick Puccinelli, Brad Belden
Center — Phil Simon
Quarterback — Pete Cooney
Halfbacks — Bob Piper, Mike Farley
Fullback — Bob Fox

TAMALPAIS (1-2)
Ends — Jim Nelson, Steve Miles
Tackles — Bill Rudolph, Rocky Penka
Guards — Bob Clements, Mike Johnson
Center — Paul Ringelman
Quarterback — Mike Brennan
Halfbacks — Clifford Hall, Mark Costell
Fullback — Billy Washington

with young players."

Although the Red Sox southpaw didn't pitch against the Orioles, he saw them in action from the bullpen. "It's a tough team to pitch against. And defensively, Baltimore doesn't make mistakes."

He said he'd have to pick Baltimore because of the overall strength of the team, but said he'll still be rooting for the Mets.

About Frank Robinson, slugging Orioles' outfielder, Lee said "I think he's the best hitter in the league, especially the breaking pitch." About O's pitcher Mike Cuellar: "He's the best pitcher in the American League. He's got a great screwball."

Lee says Seaver, who has developed a great fast ball, "has all the confidence in the world. Bill was a sophomore for USC's Trojans when Seaver was a senior. "If the Mets' pitching is on, they might sweep it. But I think the series will go seven games," Lee said.

Lee ended up the season with a 1-3 record for the Red Sox, and had an earned run average of 4.50 for 52 innings. His one win was against Detroit.

"I feel I was really throwing good the last three weeks of the season. I think I'll even have a good chance to get in the starting rotation next year."

Yanks 15, USC 1

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — In the long history of the New York Yankees, only once did they play against a collegiate team — the University of Southern California in 1951. With such sluggers as Mickey Mantle, Johnny Mize and Joe Di Maggio the Yanks walloped the Trojans 15-1.

Marin High To Host Salesian 11

Marin Catholic High School's Wildcats, who have tasted victory, defeat and a tie in three previous football outings, hope to swing the pendelum in the positive direction tomorrow when they host winless Salesian High at Kentfield starting at 2 p.m.

One of Salesian's three losses was an 18-14 count to Tamalpais so this will be the Richmond school team's second visit to Marin. Marin Catholic had beaten Albany and lost to Piner of Santa Rosa prior to last week's 20-20 tie with Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park.

Marin Catholic's starting offensive lineup tomorrow will be ends Leo Fahy and John Melvin, tackles Rich Rutte and Kevin Meiswinkel, guards Rick Fox and Tom O'Connor, center Steve Thompson, quarterback Matt Hamilton, halfbacks Mark Lewis and Steve Nelson and fullback Dennis Finnegan.

SERIES

Swoboda in right field in place of Art Shamsky, who hit .538 against the Braves; sends Al Weis to second base to replace Ken Boswell, who hit two homers in the playoffs; substitutes veteran Ed Charles for rookie Wayne Garrett at third base, and puts Donn Clendenon on first instead of Ed Kranepool.

Hodges said he might leave Boswell in against the Orioles' scheduled second starter, Dave McNally. Baltimore's third game pitcher against Gary Gentry likely will be Jim Palmer when the team's shift to New York and resume action Tuesday.

Monday will be an off day for travel. All games will start at 1 p.m., EDT, except for Sunday's second game at Baltimore, which has a 2 p.m. start.

While the Mets are undoubtedly the sentimental favorites throughout most of the country because of their sudden rise after so many years of ineptitude, the Orioles have been installed 7-5 favorites for their first World Series since 1966.

In that one, the Orioles were the underdogs, but went on to whip the Los Angeles Dodgers in four straight with many of the same stars who this season helped produce 109 victories as Baltimore raced to the American League East title.

BIG GUNS

The biggest guns are mounted by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell. Robinson hit .308 during the regular season with 32 homers and 100 runs batted in. Powell lashed 37 homers and drove in 121 runs while hitting .304.

Over-all, the Orioles hit .265 as a team compared to .242 for the Mets and out-homered them, 175-109. At the same time, the Orioles' pitching staff, which has not received publicity equal to the Mets', put together a 2.83 earned run average by comparison with New York's 2.99.

Robinson has noted those figures and says, "I think it will be a good Series." Then he adds pointedly, "But no more than five or six games.

Some Questions May Be Answered In Novato Tilt

A few questions may be answered tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when San Rafael and Novato high schools tangle in a Marin County Athletic League football game at Novato High.

Both teams, at least so far, have come up losers. Novato coach Al Scott knows why his Hornets have lost — no offense. But San Rafael is just a bit of a puzzle. Even despite injuries the Bulldogs have the makings of a fine club that may one day jell. So far, they haven't.

The Bulldogs, small as they are, have trouble once they get inside the 10 yard line. The Hornets have trouble getting that far.

Cocah Bob Muster received more bad news this week when he lost top receiver Bruce D'Ambra for the season, out with a torn ligament. He's already lost center Dan Coleman.

GREAT RUNNING

Still, the Bulldogs could be awesome, offensively, with two fine quarterbacks in Lowell Widmer and soph Kirk Gonsloser, great running from Scott Duncan, Bruce Maglione, Leroy Leonhart and Bob Peterson and still good receiving from Peterson and Tom McGrath.

The Hornets have a great defense, mainly linebacker Dave Perron, good passing from soph quarterback Marty Moroski and only fair running.

Both teams lost their league openers last week, the Bulldogs bowing to Drake, 17-7, and the Hornets losing to Redwood, 12-7. They'll have their backs against the wall in this one.

SAN RAFAEL (1-2)

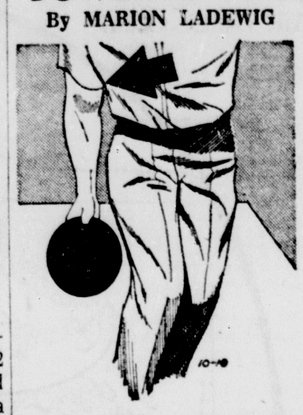
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



The position of the arm during the delivery is not stressed as much as it should be. To develop a more powerful ball, keep the swinging arm so close that not even a sheet of paper can be slipped between your upper arm and your body. The purpose not only is accuracy but a more effective strike ball.

Two Defenses For Raiders

SAN LEANDRO (AP)—Oakland's Raiders are preparing two kinds of defenses as they get ready for Sunday's American Football League game against the Denver Broncos.

Denver's No. 1 quarterback is Steve Tensi, who throws the long bomb. The Broncos' No. 2 quarterback is Pete Liske, who likes to run more with the ball and who pitches shorter passes.

Just which man the Raiders will see the most of depends on injuries Tensi suffered while the Broncs were trimming the New York Jets.

Redwood Runners Pass Biggest Test

Redwood High School has probably wrapped up the Marin County Athletic League cross-country crown, even though the season is not even half over.

The Giants topped Tamalpais High School in a showdown meet at Redwood's Phoenix Lake Course yesterday, 22-33, as Kevin Pusser and Jay Neuhaus of Redwood tied for first place in 16:05.8.

Vian Collier of Tamalpais Finished third, Tim Taylor of Redwood fourth and Mike Arago of Tamalpais, hampered by a leg injury that has already kept him out of one meet, finished fifth.

The Gianrs, unbeaten in varsity competition, have a 6-0 season mark and a 3-0 league record while the Indians dropped to 2-1. Redwood also won the frosh-soph meet, 25-30, with unbeaten freshman Eric Moller taking first place.

In other meets yesterday, San Marin upped its record to 2-1, topping Marin Catholic in Novato, 22-35; Novato whipped Terra Linda, 19-40, at Novato and San Rafael downed Drake, 15-45, in the equivelant of a shutout.

Chakra Chappell remained unbeaten in MCAL competition, winning for the Mustangs in 15.23. Creighton Byer of San Marin was second followed by Marin Catholic's Joe Moulle.

Veteran Ron Elijah led Novato to its second win of the season while brothers Frank and Steve Elias led the San Rafael sweep of Drake, finishing one-two.

Battle With A Trout

DENVER (AP) — It took Gino DiSalle of Denver 15 minutes to subdue a 5½-pound trout in a lake near Kremmling, Colo., but he finally netted his prize. Gino is 6 years old.

Additional Roadholding when cornering

SUPER SPORT IS ORIGINAL EQUIPMENT ON PORSCHE

DO YOU DRIVE A FAST CAR?
Do You Drive For long Distances—at High Speeds up to 135 m.p.h.?
If Your Answer is "YES"
Our Answer is SUPER SPORT! This tire, the latest and greatest by SEMPERIT will give you . . .

FULL SAFETY
Wide Belt tires, made with fast, hard driving in mind—This robust tire is constructed to meet the most severe conditions.

EXTRA-WIDE "HIGH PERFORMANCE" TREAD
Nine "staggered" block bands ensure maximum road-holding when cornering. This profile, with its many angled tread-blocks prevents the collection of water and subsequent aquaplaning when driving on wet roads.

STEPPED SHOULDER
The tread design is extended over the shoulder of the tire thus providing an additional 10% roadholding surface when cornering.

BELTED CONSTRUCTION
The stabilization of the tread results in reduced rolling resistance, permanent road holding at all speeds, cooler running, and higher mileage.

RADIAL CASING
The radial cords in the casing provide for high flexibility in the side walls, giving comfortable driving plus "Sports" performance!

Today is Friday, Oct. 10, the 283rd day of 1969 with 82 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Saturn and Jupiter. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1845 the U.S. Naval Academy was formally opened at Fort Severen, Annapolis.

In 1911 Chinese revolutionaries overthrew the Manchu dynasty.

In 1913 President Woodrow Wilson pressed a button in Washington and blew up the last obstruction in the construction of the Panama Canal.

In 1963 an estimated 3,000 persons drowned when a dam burst in Northern Italy.

A thought for the day—Wilhelm Nietzche said—"In revenge and in love woman is more barbarous than man."

Prolific Finnish Sheep Enter U.S.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—A breed of sheep from Finland, noted for producing multiple births, has been imported by the United States on an experimental basis.

The Finnish Landrace sheep usually produces an average of two to four lambs per lambing in contrast to the one or two born to American domestic sheep.

Dutch Births Off

THE HAGUE (UPI)—The birth rate in Holland has been going down since 1964, and in 1968 it reached 18.6 births per 1,000 persons, compared with 18.9 in 1967. The surplus of births over deaths last year was 132,300, about 6,500 less than in 1967.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes The Ability To Count Not Needed To Score

The ability to count is not limited to bridge players who speak the English language (and in fact may quite possibly be enjoyed by people who have never played bridge). Oddly enough, however, only very good bridge players seem to make use of this ability.

ACTION FAVORED

When Hans Kreyns, of the Netherlands, played today's hand in the 1968 Olympics, he won the first trick in dummy with the ace of clubs and ran three top hearts to get rid of his losing club. Kreyns knew that the odds favored his play about 3 to 2, but the hearts broke unfavorably, and West ruffed with the four of spades.

The best defense was a club return, forcing South to ruff. Now a low spade from the South hand would force West to take the ace of spades and get out safely with a spade to avoid helping declarer.

CLEAR SITUATION

The situation would nevertheless be clear to South. West had clearly started with three spades, two hearts and not more than four clubs. Hence West surely had four or five diamonds to hold his full complement of 13 cards.

On the basis of this count South would take the ace of diamonds and then lead a low diamond with the intention of playing dummy's nine if West played low. The finesse would win, and South would make his contract.

NOT NECESSARY

As it happened, none of this fine counting was necessary. When West ruffed the third round of hearts, he saw that the situation was hopeless unless his partner had the ten of diamonds or a high trump. West therefore returned a low diamond rather than a club.

Declarer won with the ten of diamonds and then had an easy time. "You lost nothing by leading diamonds," Kreyns reassured West. "You were marked with length in diamonds."

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ A 10 4
◇ Q J 4 3
♣ Q 5 3 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three-no-trump.

Your own nine points make the partnership count 25 to 27 points, probably enough for game. Some conservative players would bid only two-no-trump with this hand, allowing partner to pass if he has the bare minimum of 16 points.

Charter Service Switch Is Near

Negotiations are going on between Intermark Investing, Inc. of La Jolla and North Bay Charter Service of Petaluma for the purchase of all assets of North Bay Charter in exhcange for Intermark common stock.

North Bay's operations, which are concentrated in Sonoma and Marin counties, will be integrated with Intermark's Community Enterprises group which now has over 650 school buses in operation in addition to charter and tour services throughout the state.

Keith L. Grimm, owner of North Bay, will join Community's management team.

PACIFIC COAST HOLDINGS, INC. has reported a 36 per cent increase in net income to $109,608 for the six months ended June 30. Earnings per share amounted to 24 cents compared to 18 cents for the comparable period in 1968. Pacific Coast Holdings is the parent company of San Mateo Mutual Savings and Loan Association, with which it is proposed to merge Marin County Savings and Loan Association. Approval from regulatory agencies is pending.

HYATT CORP., Burlingame, has acquired the 350-room Riviera Hotel in Atlanta and has acquired a long-term lease to operate the 310-room Seven Seas (Hyatt) Lodge in San Diego.

PACIFIC INTERMOUNTAIN EXPRESS CO., Oakland, and American Express Co. of New York have agreed in principle to the acquisition of PIE of the international and domestic freight business of American Express and its subsidiaries. Consummation is subject to approval by U. S. regulatory agencies and directors of PIE.

THE RUCKER CO. and Federal Pacific Electric Co. proposed merger has been approved by directors of both companies. Further approval is required by stockholders, along with a review by the Securities and Exchnage Commission. Each shareholder of Federal Pacific will receive one share of Rucker common and one-half of a share of a new series of Rucker convertible preferred.

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS directors have voted to omit the regular dividend for the fourth quarter as a result of low earnings for the first eight months of 1969. Most recent quarterly dividend was 10 cents a share paid in May. Pan Am has paid dividends each year since 1941.

FAIRCHILD CAMERA AND INSTRUMENT CORP., parent company of Fairchild Semiconductor, has reached an agreement in principle for the placement of $30 million in 20-year convertible subordinated notes to retire its currently outstanding bank debt and for investment in capital equipment.

KAISER ALUMINUM AND CHEMICAL CORP. has formed a new exploration company to specialize on finding and developing metals and mineral resources. The new company, Kaiser Exploration and Mining Co., will operate internationally as a wholly owned subsidiary of Kaiser Aluminum.

WESTERN LEAD PRODUCTS, Los Angeles, has completed the acquisition of the Pacific division of the Bunker Hill Co., a subsidiary of Gulf Resources and Chemical Corp. of Houston.

NEW MERCEDES-BENZ MODEL

Biggest change in the 1970 Mercedes-Benz line is the addition of this two-door hardtop, called the 250 Coupe. It is powered by a 157-horsepower overhead camshaft engine and has a top speed of 115 miles per hour. The engine normally is installed only in larger models. Cars are on sale in Marin at Mercedes-Benz (Rossi Motors), San Rafael.

Shortage Of Compact Hornets Is Reported

DETROIT (UPI) — American Motors Corp. has said buyer response to its new compact Hornet has caused shortages in some parts of the country.

William S. Pickett, vice president of sales, said, "These shortages exist despite the fact dealer inventories in advance of public announcement Sept. 25 were higher than for any new car introduced by our company."

The U.S. has a 99 year lease on a naval and air base in the Island of Jamaica.

New Portable

NEW YORK (UPI) — Royal Typewriter Co. has said it will market a new low-priced portable typewriter through its dealer network and department, discount and appliance stores. The model will cost around $100, making it the lowest priced electric portable on the market, the company said.

Weapons Pact

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (UPI) — National Presto Industries Inc., has obtained a $5.326 million order for 8-inch artillery projectiles.

Expensive Jade Taken By Thief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A window-smashing burglar took $80,000 to $100,000 in jade from a Chinatown art shop today, police report.

Although the burglar had only a few moments because of an alarm tripped as he entered the City of Shanghai shop, he still managed to pick 294 of the best pieces of jade from two showcases and vanish before the first officer arrived, police said.

Check System

NEW YORK (UPI) — GBC Closed Circuit TV Corp. has said it has developed a new method for remotely verifying check signatures and balances. The system, Cheque-Vision, provides banks with two-way audio communication between the teller and the accounting department, signal lights and a remote verification stamp, the company said.

Sets Dividend

ATLANTA (UPI) — Cagle's, Inc., a poultry producer and marketer, announced a 50 per cent stock dividend payable Nov. 3, record date Oct. 17, and said the quarterly dividend would be raised to the equivalent of 12 cents a share on present stock from 11 cents. The first payment at the new rate will be 8 cents a share on Dec. 9 record date Nov. 25.

Naptha Plant

MIDLAND, Mich. (UPI) — Dow Chemical Co. will build a second major naphtha cracking plant to make ethylene and other olefins at an undertermined location in Europe. Capacity will be about 400,000 metric tons of ethylene yearly. Dow's first European naptha cracker of about the same size will go into production at Terneuzen in Holland in a few weeks.

Renewed Peace Hopes Helps Boost Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Renewed Vietnam peace hopes and carryover demand from the previous session helped bolster stocks today in stepped up trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 blue chips industrials was up 2.44 at 806.23 near the close.

Turnover of around 11.5 million shares was well ahead of yesterday.

Among the most active issues were CNA Financial, which traded an early block of 58,000 shares at 26¼; Trans-Union, with a block of 149,100 shares at 30; Capital Cities Broadcasting, and City Investmenting.

Electronics generally forged ahead, although softness cropped up in a few instances. IBM closed at 346½ off ½.

Rails attracted some demand.

The nation's railroads are seeking a 6 per cent freight rate hike. Southern Pacific closed at 36⅝ up ⅜.

Conglomerates and chemicals showed scattered strength, while steels and motors traded narrowly. Airlines and aircrafts moved in mixed fashion. U.S. Steel closed 36⅜ off ⅛. Bethlehem was off ¼ at 28⅛.

Gold mining shares, meantime, were on the weak side which is generally the case in a firm market.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading.

Camping Fees

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP — The Kentucky Parks Department has increased fees charged to campers from $2 to $3 a day. Commissioner Robert Cabl said the agency does not want to undercut private rates.

Diversification Adds To Macke Co. Appeal

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I understand that Macke Co. recently took over Bagwell-Neal, a painting specialist. What will this mean to Macke? What does the company's future look like? — R. F.

A. In terms of sales dollars this acquisition is relatively insignificant, adding about $5 million annually to sales that are currently running at a rate in excess of $100 million a year. Of much greater significance is the nature of Bagwell-Neal's business. Offering as it does a maintenance service to industry — contract painting of buildings — the newly acquired company symbolizes the growing emphasis Macke is placing on nonfood services. Inflated food prices and labor costs have created a profit squeeze that Macke is finding difficult to resolve.

Attempts to raise vending machine prices for snack foods and coffee — traditionally 10 cents per item — to 15 cents has met considerable customer resistance. There is little doubt that the 15-year-old 10 cents price will continue to be "selectively" upgraded. Growth of the vending industry — particularly in food items — has far outpaced the economy in the Sixties and Macke has grown at a rate even faster than both. With future expansion aimed toward services such as plant maintenance and protection, uniform rental, laundry and temporary help, Macke should continue to outpace the economy.

Q. I bought 125 shares of Landa Industries at 10¾. It is now under 4. I have no other losses this year. Would you recommend taking the loss? — M. S.

A. Landa Industries, formerly Landa Oil, sold its petroleum properties and is now active in several areas as a result of acquisitions. Its most recent operating report as of Nov. 30, 1968, showed a loss of 69 cents a share, the sixth year of deficit operations. Volume was reported at $8.5 million. In September Landa announced a pending acquisition of Inland Systems for $10 million. At the fiscal year end total current liabilities exceeded total current assets by 1.5 to 1 and long-term debt stood at $7.3 million. Take advantage of the selling opportunity afforded by recent strength in the shares.
